Mission Statement

In keeping with the spirit of the liberal arts, Tennessee Wesleyan University seeks within the framework of the Judeo-Christian tradition to provide for students the highest quality educational experience, to promote personal responsibility, integrity, and purpose, and to prepare students for a life of leadership and service in an ever changing global community.

Statement of Purpose

Tennessee Wesleyan takes pride in its role as a comprehensive church-related college and accepts the challenge of advancing a community of learning on the main campus in Athens as well as additional instructional sites serving allied health and evening students. The university serves a student body comprised of traditional and non-traditional students, non-degree-seeking adult learners and international students. Highly qualified faculty and staff are committed to assisting students in the realization of their full potential by providing appropriate career, pre-professional and professional education and/or requisite preparation for continued study in graduate school. The university offers baccalaureate programs in fine arts, humanities, natural and social sciences as well as business, nursing, other career-related areas and teacher certification. In addition to its undergraduate programs, Tennessee Wesleyan also offers master's programs in business, education, and allied health. The University's curriculum is designed to prepare graduates to be knowledgeable, to think critically and creatively, and to develop a basis for effective judgment.

Definition of a Church-Related Institution

Tennessee Wesleyan has been warmly related to Methodism since its founding in 1857. In this relationship the university has supported the church as a community of learning, service, and growth for its students, faculty, and staff. In turn, the church has supported the university promotionally and financially. However, this relationship goes beyond such forms of support and into the institution's ethos: religion course requirements, support for voluntary campus ministry activities including weekly chapel and other liturgies, the presence of a university pastor, invocations and benedictions at formal events, use of Christian symbolism on campus, and consideration of the moral and vocational dimensions learning offers. TWU makes a concerted effort to point students toward an ethic of servant leadership as a way of life and a worthy culminating purpose to their education. While such leadership may not always be explicitly tied to Christian faith, the faith's gravitas is never far from such discussions and activities. Cultivation of a spirituality of service, critical openness to otherness in all its forms, and a commitment to the integrity of both faith and reason typify campus life.

Tennessee Wesleyan does not require conscription to a faith statement. Followers from a variety of religious traditions or none at all are among its students, faculty, and staff. Chapel and campus ministry activities are voluntary. Religion is taught because the institution, like most church-related schools, believes the student is not liberally educated without such critical knowledge.

History and Setting

The Athens Campus of Tennessee Wesleyan University is a forty-acre, tree-lined campus in downtown Athens, TN two blocks north of the McMinn County Courthouse square providing a serene, tranquil setting for scholars. Athens, the county seat of McMinn County and a community of 15,000, is located near I-75 midway between Chattanooga and Knoxville in the heart of the Sweetwater Valley. The campus is nestled between the Appalachian Mountains to the east, including the Cherokee National Forest and the Great Smoky Mountains, and the Cumberland Plateau to the west.

At the center of the campus, surrounded by buildings that frame the quadrangle, stands historic Old College, built in the early 1850s. This original building, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, served as a hospital during the Civil War and today houses the Office of the President, Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Religion and Philosophy Department, and the Chapel. Lawrence Hall, adjacent to Old College and a one-time women's residence facility, is a beautifully-appointed building used presently for administrative and faculty offices. Across the quadrangle from Lawrence is Townsend Memorial Hall, containing a 600-seat auditorium, the Health and Human Performance Department, and the Bulldog Fitness Complex. At the south end of the quadrangle is Sherman Fine Arts Building which contains the Dining Hall with education and music classrooms and offices in the two adjacent wings. Completing the quadrangle are Fisher Science Building, Banfield-Durham Hall, and the Merner-Pfeiffer Library. Fisher Science Building houses faculty offices, biology, chemistry, physics, and computer laboratories, and lecture and seminar rooms. Banfield-Durham was constructed in 1901, completely renovated in 2001, and features classrooms and faculty offices in English and modern languages, history, and social sciences. The Library, a charming neoclassical structure, holds over 100,000 volumes and serves as a center for student research, collaboration, and learning. Elliott Hall, a completely renovated, state-of-the-art classroom facility houses the Goodfriend School of Business. The newly renovated Reese Hall, which was constructed in 1927 as a post office, houses communications and the visual arts and is the home to the Muriel Mayfield Gallery. A major new addition to the TWU campus is the Colloms Campus Center which serves as a hub for the campus community. The Campus Center houses the offices of Student Life, Student Success Services, Veterans Services, the TWU Bookstore, Burkett's Restaurant, and many spaces for collaborative study and recreation. The most recent addition to the Athens Campus is Miller Hall which includes a state of the art facility for the TWU Dental Hygiene Program as well as an apartment style residence hall for upper-class students. Other campus buildings include Robb Gymnasium, which contains faculty and coaching staff offices; Fowler Hall, a men's residence hall; Keith Hall, a women's residence hall; Nocatula Apartments, which house upper-class students; and Wesley Commons, an apartment style residence hall for upper-class students.

Tennessee Wesleyan University also maintains three instructional sites in Cleveland and Knoxville, TN. The Cleveland site is embedded on the campus of Cleveland State Community College and provides classroom space for the Management Excellence evening program. The West Knoxville site is located off of Pellissippi Parkway in West Knoxville and is home to the TWU-Fort Sanders Nursing program and provides classroom and office space for the Management Excellence evening program. The Downtown Knoxville site is located on the campus of Ft. Sanders Regional Medical Center and houses the Master of Occupational Therapy program.

Nondiscriminatory Policy

In compliance with federal law, including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Tennessee Wesleyan University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital or family status, disability or sexual orientation in the administration of its educational policies, programs, or activities; its admissions policies, or employment. The Student Handbook contains a discussion of accommodations that may be made for qualified students with disabilities.

Veteran Benefits

Any covered individual will be able to attend or participate in the course of education during the period beginning on the date on which the individual provides to the educational institution a certificate of eligibility for entitlement to educational assistance under chapter 31 or 33 (a “certificate of eligibility” can also include a “Statement of Benefits” obtained from the Department of Veterans Affairs’ (VA) website – eBenefits, or a VAF 28-1905 form for chapter 31 authorization purposes) and ending on the earlier of the following dates:

1. The date on which payment from VA is made to the institution.
2. 90 days after the date the institution certified tuition and fees following the receipt of the certificate of eligibility.

Tennessee Wesleyan University will not impose any penalty, including the assessment of late fees, the denial of access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities, or the requirement that a covered individual borrow additional funds, on any covered individual because of the individual’s inability to meet his or her financial obligations to the institution due to the delayed disbursement funding from VA under chapter 31 or 33.

Right To Privacy Under The Public Law 93-380

This law sets out requirements designed to protect the privacy of students. It requires (1) that institutions must obtain the written consent of the student before releasing personally identifiable data from their records to other than a specified list of exceptions, and (2) that students have access to their records and have the right to a hearing to challenge such records on the grounds that they are inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate.

ADMISSION TO TENNESSEE WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Undergraduate Admission

Incoming freshmen students seeking admission to Tennessee Wesleyan University must have graduated from a secondary school approved by a recognized agency. A high school unweighted grade point average of at least 2.25 is required for admission. It is recommended that students planning to attend Tennessee Wesleyan complete course work in the following academic subject areas in high school: 4 units of English, 4 units of mathematics, 3 units of biological/natural science, 3 units including U.S. History and Geography, World History/Geography/U.S. Government/Civics/Economics. Students applying from out of state may be reviewed based on their home states requirement to graduate high school.

Students who have attained a high school equivalency diploma (GED or HiSET) are also considered for admission to the university. These students may be referred to the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee to determine their readiness for enrollment.

The American College Test (ACT) or Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores are required for freshman applicants of 21 years of age or under. Students must hold a minimum super-score of 18 on the ACT or combined score of 950 on the SAT (Evidence-based Reading and Writing + Math) for admission. Note: the minimum SAT required for any administration prior to March 2016 is 870 total for critical reading and math.

No qualified student is ever denied admission because of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital or family status, disability or sexual orientation.

Questions about the curriculum, housing, financial aid and other aspects of University life can be discussed on an individual basis with an Admissions Counselor. Interested parties are advised to contact the Admissions Office about plans to visit the campus so a campus visit can be scheduled. If prospective applicants cannot visit the campus, an Admissions Counselor can arrange to visit students at their request.

If an applicant chooses to delay enrollment after applying to Tennessee Wesleyan, he or she should contact the Admissions Office for information about reapplying or deferring enrollment to another semester.

Freshman Applicants

To apply for admission as a first-time freshman, applicants should provide:

1. A completed undergraduate application for admission
2. An official high school transcript computed on a 4.0 scale
3. An official ACT or SAT score

Official transcripts are also accepted directly from high schools through electronic services (e.g. Parchment, etc.)

Please send all of the required materials to:

Admissions Office
Tennessee Wesleyan University
204 East College Street
Athens, TN 37303

For questions phone: (423) 746-5286 or (423) 745-7504

The Admissions Office contacts applicants within two weeks of receipt of their application.

On notice of acceptance, applicants are required to submit a $200 enrollment deposit and a completed Certificate of Immunization and Insurance Form. Students living on campus are required to submit an additional $100 housing deposit to reserve a room (see the section on advance payments under “Basic Tuition and Fees” for details).

Transfer Student Applicants

For the purpose of admissions, a transfer student is defined as a student who has completed 15 or more semester hours of college credit with at least one full or part time semester post high school graduation. Transfer students must submit a completed application and an official transcript of credits from each college or university attended. The Enrollment and Academic Status Committee reviews all applications received if the student’s TWU cumulative GPA for all accepted transfer credit is below 2.00 and may request the prospective student to appear for an interview. If a student is accepted through this process, he or she will be conditionally accepted and be limited to 14 semester hours during the first term of attendance. TWU transfer cumulative equivalent GPA is determined by the University’s Registrar’s Office.

Transfer credit will be granted for course work, applicable to a Tennessee Wesleyan University baccalaureate degree, taken at institutions accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) and/or other regional accrediting associations. Grades earned at other institutions are used only for admission, course placement, and other academic decisions.

Course work taken at institutions accredited by other than regional associations will be reviewed on an individual basis for possible transfer credit. Tennessee Wesleyan University accepts the recommendations contained in the current issue of Report of Credit Given by Educational Institutions, a publication of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO). Students who transfer from two-year accredited institutions will be granted credit up to 60 semester hours. A maximum of 90 semester hours may be transferred from all institutions. The last 30 hours of course work must be taken at Tennessee Wesleyan University.

All undergraduate students must complete Tennessee Wesleyan University’s Wesleyan Essentials (WE) or the equivalent. Any student who has completed an Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree from a regionally accredited post-secondary institution* will be considered to have met the Wesleyan Essentials (WE) at Tennessee Wesleyan University with the following exceptions:

1. Students will be required to take one religion course unless the requirement is met by an equivalent course at the transfer institution.
2. Students will be required to complete any pre-requisites for upper-division major courses.

3. Students enrolled in Bachelor of Arts (BA) academic programs will be required to complete the Modern Language requirement of two semesters at the intermediate level (200-level) or higher in French or Spanish unless this requirement is met by equivalent modern language courses at the transfer institution.
4. Students enrolled in teacher licensure programs (BA, BS, or BMed) will be required to complete all courses necessary to meet state licensure standards as outlined in the academic catalog, depending on the major of choice, even if some of those courses would otherwise be waived for students who have completed an Associate of Science or Associate of Arts degree.
5. Documentation provided through the advising process and transcript evaluations will verify that students have completed a minimum of 30 hours of general education courses including at least one course from each of the following areas: humanities/ fine arts, social/behavioral sciences, and natural sciences/ mathematics. In the event of a deficiency, the student will be required to complete the necessary coursework.
6. Holders of other types of Associate degrees will be required to fulfill the General Education Requirements as outlined in the academic catalog as appropriate for the degree and major.

Note: Only 60 (non-remedial/developmental) semester hours from a two-year, regionally accredited post-secondary institution can be applied toward graduation requirements at Tennessee Wesleyan University. *For non-regionally accredited institutions, all courses will be evaluated by appropriate Department Chairs on a course-by-course basis. Students who hold A.A. or A.S. degrees from institutions located in non-English speaking countries must demonstrate proof of English proficiency (see International Students, item 4 for requirements).

To apply for admission, transfer students should:

1. submit a completed undergraduate application.
2. submit an official transcript of credits from each college or university attended.
3. for Tennessee high school graduates, submit an official high school transcript.

Send all of the above requested materials to:

Admissions Office
Tennessee Wesleyan University
204 East College Street
Athens, TN 37303

Official transcripts are also accepted directly from colleges, universities and high schools through electronic services (e.g. Parchment, etc.)

For more information, phone (423) 746-5286 or 745-7504.

The Admissions Office contacts applicants within two weeks of receipt of their application. On notice of acceptance, applicants are required to submit a $200 enrollment deposit and a completed Certificate of Immunization Form to move to the next stage of admission. Students living on campus are required to submit an additional $100 housing deposit to reserve a room (see the section on advance payments under “Basic Tuition and Fees” in this catalog for details).

*Admission requirements specific to the ME (Management Excellence) and PLCJ (Professional Leadership in Criminal Justice) program can be located in the ME and PLCJ Student Guides. Copies may be obtained from the Program Directors.

International Students

Students applying for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan who are not citizens of the United States, and who are not classified by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) as residents of the United States are considered international students. To be considered for admission to TWU, international students must provide:

1. The completed international student application for admission
2. If you completed your education outside of the U.S., you must have your credentials evaluated by World Education Services, or InCred which will provide Tennessee Wesleyan University an official record of academic equivalents. Requesting a course by course evaluation is required for university level equivalencies. For more information, go online at www.wes.org for World Education Services, or www.incredevals.org for InCred. NOTE: Students intending to participate in TWU athletics must have transcripts evaluated through InCred. Specific selection requirements are needed by InCred. Please contact the Admissions Office for specific details.
3. Official transcripts from any U.S. educational institutions (high school or post-secondary)
4. English language proficiency is required for all international students. All international applicants whose home country does not have English as an official language must submit one of the following:
 - Official TOEFL, which must be at least 550 (paper-based), 213 (computer based), 79 (Internet based), IELTS minimum band score of 5.5, or Duolingo minimum score of 95.
 - Proof of successful completion of approved ESL English Language program or composition credit with a passing grade
5. If taken please submit official copies of ACT with super-score of at least 18 and/or SAT I with total score (evidence-based reading and writing + math) of at least 950 (for SAT administrations prior to March 2016, a minimum combined score of 870)

Additional items needed to complete application process:

1. Official statement of financial support form (provided by Tennessee Wesleyan University), serving as evidence that you will have the necessary financial support throughout your studies at Tennessee Wesleyan University
2. Copy of current passport
3. If transferring from another college in the United States, submit the appropriate I-20 SEVIS transfer form, copy of I-94 travel document, and meet the University’s transfer admission requirements

Once an international student has been admitted and financial arrangements have been made with the Student Financial Services Office, Tennessee Wesleyan University will file form I-20 with SEVIS. If an international student uses this form I-20 to enter the U.S., the student is obligated to attend Tennessee Wesleyan University. Once the student enrolls at Tennessee Wesleyan University, the student is obligated to stay for at least one year; otherwise the student may be subject to a financial penalty. International students must also maintain a full course of resident study (at least 12 semester hours per term) and declare a major before enrolling.

Applicants to Adult Studies Programs

To be considered for admission to an Adult Studies Program, a candidate must be at least 23 years of age. Candidates who are younger than 23 years of age but who desire to enroll in an Adult Studies Program must meet at least two of the following qualifications which preclude him/her from being able to enroll in the traditional academic programs (adapted from the National Center for Education Statistics definition of a nontraditional student):

1. delayed enrollment to postsecondary study of at least one calendar year after high school graduation,
2. attend college part-time,
3. work full-time,
4. financially independent for financial aid purposes,
5. have dependents other than a spouse.

To apply for admission to an Adult Studies Program, candidates should submit a completed Adult Studies Application online for admission and the required materials to:

Admissions Office
Tennessee Wesleyan University
204 East College Street
Athens, TN 37303

Official transcripts are also accepted directly from colleges and universities through electronic services (e.g. Parchment, National Student Clearinghouse, etc.)

Acceptance to the institution will be determined based on the following:

If the candidate has earned 15 or more college-level transfer hours, then the candidate must meet all admission requirements and acceptance criteria for transfer applicants (see Transfer Student Applicants section), or

If the candidate has earned less than 15 college-level transfer hours, then the candidate must meet all admissions requirements and acceptance criteria for freshman applicants (see Freshman Applicants section).

Specific Adult Studies Programs may have additional admission requirements. Program-specific requirements and information can be found in the Adult Studies Programs section of the Undergraduate Majors section.

Readmit Students

For the purpose of admissions, a readmit student is one who has been separated from TWU for one semester or more or who has attended another institution during a separation from TWU. Readmit students will complete the undergraduate application for admission, provide any official transcripts from any institution attended during the separation, and follow up with the Admissions Office to be reaccepted into the Institution. Nursing students seeking readmission would need to contact the Coordinator and Administrative Assistant of Nursing Student Services.

Students wishing to readmit after serving an academic suspension of either one or two semesters should refer to the Academic Suspension Policy in order to be readmitted.

Non-Degree Students

A non-degree student is one not seeking a degree at Tennessee Wesleyan University at the time of enrollment. Such students are subject to all rules, regulations, and fees governing degree-seeking students. There are three non-degree classifications.

Special Student

A student who does not wish to be a candidate for a degree may be admitted as a special student upon presenting satisfactory evidence that he or she is prepared to study the subjects open to him or her.

Transient Student

A student attending another college or university with permission from that institution to attend Tennessee Wesleyan University for one semester (Fall, Spring, or Summer) with the intention of returning to their home institution.

Dual Enrollment Student

A student still attending high school and classified as a junior or senior may take courses at Tennessee Wesleyan University for college credit. To be admitted, the student must:

- Complete the Tennessee Wesleyan University application for undergraduate admissions. Under "Enrollment Classification" on the application applicants should choose Dual Enrollment.
- Submit an official high school transcript computed on a 4.0 scale demonstrating an unweighted GPA of 3.00 or higher or a super-score ACT score of 21 or higher.
- Submit ACT or SAT scores if taken. Note that to enroll in a Composition course the student must have an ACT English sub score of 19 or higher (SAT ERW - Evidence-Based Reading & Writing score of 520 or higher), to enroll in a College Algebra or Essential Statistics course the student must have an ACT Math sub score of 19 or higher (SAT Math score of 520 or higher), Precalculus and Calculus must have an ACT Mat sub score of 22 or higher (SAT Math score of 540 or Higher) and meet prerequisite requirements.
- Submit course request form with parent or guardian signature

Students who do not meet the prescribed requirements for Dual Enrollment may be referred to the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee by the Director of Admissions.

Non-degree students should contact the Admissions Office at Tennessee Wesleyan University for instructions on how to apply.

Graduate Students

All potential graduate students must meet admission requirements found under the Graduate Programs section of this catalog.

Evaluation of Applications

Every applicant is evaluated by the Admissions Office. This evaluation considers all applicable information, including: OFFICIAL TRANSCRIPTS (high school for freshmen, all post-secondary institutions for transfers, GED/HiSET score reports), GPA, COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAM for freshmen (either ACT or SAT), and CLASS RANK (if available). Students admitted to the University, on average, tend to score at or above the national average on the ACT examination.

Admission Appeals to the Enrollment & Academic Status Committee

Students who do not meet prescribed entrance requirements may be referred to the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee by the Director of Admissions. The committee reviews and may interview incoming freshman students who do not meet one of the two academic admission requirements: grade point average is less than 2.25 and/or whose ACT super-score is less than 18 or whose SAT combined score is less than 950. The committee will review transfers with a GPA under 2.0, and international students who do not meet the international requirements listed. The Enrollment and Academic Status Committee has set forth the following requirements to assist with admissions evaluations:

Admission decision appeal requirements for entering Freshmen who do not meet one of the two academic entrance requirements:

Required: Letter requesting admission addressing the following items:

1. Any circumstances that contributed to subpar entrance scores/GPA
2. Plan for achieving in college
3. Any job experience after high school graduation, if applicable
4. Updated transcripts, if available

Required: Letter of recommendation from a previous teacher/administrator who is familiar with your work.

Recommended: Taking residual ACT exam to complement national scores

Admission decision appeal requirements for entering Freshmen that completed a high school equivalency diploma (GED or HiSET):

Required: Letter requesting admission addressing the following items:

1. Relevant biographical information detailing time before and since completion of GED or HiSET

2. Plan for achieving in college
3. Any work experience between GED/HiSET achievement, if applicable

Required: Taking residual ACT exam to assist with evaluation and proper course placement

Required: Letter of recommendation from a previous teacher/administrator or employer/supervisor who is familiar with your work.

Recommended: Any documentation the student feels is pertinent to their case

Appeal requirements for Transfer Students who do not meet the entrance requirements:

Required: Letter requesting admission addressing the following items:

1. Any circumstances that contributed to poor achievement at previous institutions
2. Academic plan outlining how the student plans to correct mistakes made in the past

Required: Letter of recommendation from a previous teacher/administrator or employer/supervisor who is familiar with your work.

Recommended: High School transcripts

Recommended: Any documentation the student feels is pertinent to their case

Recommended: Evidence of academic work since last full time enrollment (i.e. summer coursework)

Appeal requirements for International Students who do not meet the entrance requirements:

Required: Letter (in English) requesting admission addressing the following items:

1. Any circumstances that contributed to subpar entrance scores/GPA
2. Plan for achieving in college
3. Any work experience between high school graduation, if applicable

Required: Letter of recommendation from a previous teacher/administrator who is familiar with your work

Recommended: Re-taking the SAT, ACT, TOEFL, Duolingo, or IELTS Exams

Students admitted by the committee are conditionally accepted, until they have met the University's current academic catalog published retention standards. Students, admitted conditionally, may enroll in no more than 14 semester hours during their first term of attendance.

Advance Payments and Deposits

Each new, full-time undergraduate student accepted must pay a $200.00 Advance Payment ($300.00 for resident students which includes a $100.00 room deposit) immediately upon acceptance to the University. The Advance Payment will be applied toward first semester tuition and fees. The Advance Payment is fully refundable through May 1 for the summer and fall terms, and October 31 for the spring term. Students who decide to enter the University in a term other than the one for which they were originally accepted will have their Advance Payment moved to the new term, but the original refund date will apply. Requests for refunds must be made in writing to the Director of Admissions.

International students are required to pay the balance for tuition, room, board, and fees (less institutional aid) for the fall semester charges by July 1st and by November 1st for the spring semester charges. An I-20 will be issued and signed by the Designated School Official (DSO) after the installment payment is received. International students are encouraged to apply early to avoid delays. Routing instructions for Electronic Fund Transfers from international banks are available in the University Student Financial Services Office (423) 746-5207. Payments must be made in U.S. dollars. All card types are accepted. Failure to make timely payments will place class schedules in suspended status, which may result in removal of classes.

Books and Supplies

The annual cost of books and supplies for day and nursing students are estimated to range from $700 to $1,400.

Payment of Charges

A signed payment plan or payment in full must be received by the Student Financial Services Office one week prior to classes beginning each semester. Failure to do so will place class schedules in suspended status, which may result in removal of classes. Deferred Payment Plans must also be approved by the Student Financial Services Office. Account balances that must be turned over for collection with an outside agency will have collection costs including court costs and legal fees added to the outstanding balance. Due to the length of the University's summer term, no deferred payment plan is available during the summer. All charges for summer school are due and payable at the start of each summer session, unless arrangements have been made with the Student Financial Services Office. Transcripts and diplomas will be withheld for non-payment of financial obligations. Tennessee Wesleyan University reserves the right to drop or suspend student schedules at any time for any financial issues or cause.

Refunds

Fall and Spring Dropped Course for Part-Time Students

Students dropping a course on or before the second day of the term will be refunded 100% of the charge for the course. Students dropping a course on or before the last day of the first two weeks of the term will be refunded 90% of the charge for the course. For determining the student's entitlement to a refund, the first full day of classes is the beginning of the school term. After two weeks no refund will be given for a dropped course.

Withdrawal

In the event a student withdraws or is administratively dismissed from Tennessee Wesleyan University after registration is completed and prior to the end of a semester of enrollment, the student's eligibility for a refund of appropriate institutional tuition, room and board charges will be prorated as indicated below. Student fees are not refundable.

Any situation in which all classes are dropped is considered to be a withdrawal from the University. All withdrawals must be made through proper channels and must begin with the completion of the Complete Withdrawal Form located in the Student Life Office. Should the student fail to complete this process, all semester charges will become immediately due and payable. Students withdrawing at any point in the term for health reasons, which can be verified by a doctor's statement, may apply for a pro-rated refund of tuition. The request will be reviewed, and a decision made, by a committee of administrative officers.

Applicable institutional charges for fall and spring semesters will be reduced according to the following guidelines. Withdrawals during the first calendar week of the semester will result in a 100% reduction, excluding fees. From the second week of the semester throughout 60% of the term, charges will be pro-rated based on days attended. Students must visit the Student Financial Services Office as part of the withdrawal process to receive the applicable percentage and updated statement. No reduction of institutional charges will be made after 60% of the semester has passed.

Summer and Mini Terms

Students dropping a course on or before the second day of the session in which the course is scheduled will be refunded 100% of the charge for the course. For determining entitlement to a refund, the first day is the beginning of the session in which the course is offered. No other refunds apply.

Management Excellence (ME) Program

A student withdrawing before the start of the first class will receive a 100% refund of tuition.

A 90% refund of tuition may be received up until the start of the second class.

Any student withdrawing after attending the second class of the course will be liable for the course's tuition amount.

The Return of Title IV Funds

The Higher Education Amendments of 1998 regulate how colleges and universities handle Title IV funds when a recipient withdraws from school. This policy is separate from the University's refund of institutional charges. The return of Title IV funds includes Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, PLUS Loans and Direct Loans. The policy states that up through the 60% point in each semester a pro-rata schedule will be used to determine how much Title IV aid the student has earned. After the 60% point in the semester, the student has earned 100% of the aid for which the student was eligible. Additional information on the return of Title IV funds may be obtained from the Student Financial Services Office.

Should the student completely withdraw from school prior to the end of a term of enrollment, the student's eligibility for a refund of federal aid will be calculated in accordance with federal directives. The student will be liable for the difference between the tuition amount and the federal aid refund.

FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

Tennessee Wesleyan University recognizes the problem of constantly increasing educational costs and offers a substantial program of financial aid to assist those needing help. At Tennessee Wesleyan University, we make every effort to assure that qualified students are not barred due to limited resources. The purpose of student financial aid is to provide assistance to qualified students who would find it difficult or impossible to attend Tennessee Wesleyan University without assistance.

Students who apply for federal, state, or institutional grants, loans, or scholarships must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to receive a financial needs assessment. Need is defined as the difference between the cost of attending Tennessee Wesleyan and the Expected Family Contribution (EFC). After the student's need is established, the Financial Aid Office will determine the student's eligibility for the various programs. Financial aid may be awarded in the form of federal or state grants, Tennessee Educational Lottery Scholarships, institutional or endowed scholarships, loans, work-study jobs, work scholarships, or a combination of any of these programs which will best meet the student's needs.

No award for financial assistance can be made until a student has been accepted for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan University and the appropriate application forms (FAFSA) and supporting documents have been completed and filed with the Financial Aid Office. FAFSA application information may be obtained from the Financial Aid Office. Applicants must file the FAFSA each year in which they expect to receive aid.

Students may not receive financial aid if they are:

1. Ineligible for aid due to not meeting satisfactory academic progress standards.
2. In default on student loans or owe a refund or repayment on grants previously received to attend TWU or other institutions.
3. International students (students on F-1 visas) are not eligible for federal or state financial aid programs. There are some limited institutional funds available to international students. The Director of Admissions should be contacted for specific information on institutional aid. Students needing assistance to pay for their education are encouraged to seek financial aid from their country of citizenship or from individual sponsors who might be willing to subsidize some or all of the students' educational expenses. Alternative or private loans are available to International students with U.S. co-signers.

Grants

Federal Pell Grant - Federal Pell Grant is a direct grant from the Federal Government based on financial need and is restricted to undergraduates, U.S. citizens, or those in the U.S. for other than temporary reasons. The Federal Pell Grant program describes an undergraduate as one who has not earned a bachelor's degree. For many students, Federal Pell Grants provide a “foundation” of financial aid, to which aid from other federal and non-federal sources may be added. Unlike loans, grants do not have to be paid back. Students must re-apply each year by filing the FAFSA. The recipient must maintain satisfactory academic progress. As of July 1, 2012 a student may receive the Pell Grant for six (6) years or twelve (12) semesters. The Pell Grant is also available to eligible students during the summer semester. Students should verify their eligibility for a summer Pell Grant with the Financial Aid Office.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG) - SEOG is a federal grant administered by Tennessee Wesleyan University of up to $500 per year. This program is restricted to U.S. citizens or those in the U.S. for other than temporary purposes, who are undergraduates maintaining satisfactory academic progress, with priority given to Pell Grant recipients.

Tennessee Student Assistance Award (TSAA) - The Tennessee Student Assistant Award Program is a state-funded grant program. Students must demonstrate need and be a Tennessee resident attending college in Tennessee. TSAA awards are offered to Federal Pell recipients with a 2100 EFC or below, pending availability of funds from the Tennessee Student Assistance Corporation. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) must be processed by early October of each year in order for the student to receive his or her TSAA funding. Tennessee Educational Lottery Scholarship (TELS) is honored by Tennessee Wesleyan University and administered through the Financial Aid Office. The scholarship is awarded in accordance to the laws passed by the Tennessee General Assembly. NOTE: Tennessee Wesleyan University reserves the right to alter a lottery award at anytime information is presented to the Financial Aid Office that affects the student’s lottery award eligibility.

Work

Federal Work-Study Program (FWSP) - The Federal Work Study Program is a federal program administered by Tennessee Wesleyan University that offers students the opportunity to be employed on campus. The number of hours a student works per week is based on financial need and fund availability. Students earn at least minimum wage and are paid on a monthly basis. Various positions are offered to students to complement their education with practical job experience. This program is restricted to U.S. citizens, or those in the U.S. for other than temporary purposes, who are maintaining satisfactory academic progress.

Tennessee Wesleyan University Work-Study Program - The TWU Work-Study Program is an institutional work program whereby students may work on campus in areas that complement their educational goals. Jobs depend upon availability of work and funds as well as the student’s skills and abilities.

Work Scholarship (need based award) - If accepted, a work scholarship would require a student to work a certain amount of hours each semester. Failure to complete the commitment will result in a balance being placed on your account proportionate to the non-completed hours. Work assignments will be made each fall.

Loans

Prior to any federal loan (DIRECT or PLUS) being certified by Tennessee Wesleyan University, the applicant must complete the financial aid process, including the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Federal Direct Loan Program - The Federal Direct Loan Program is a federal loan program which allows the student to borrow long-term, low-interest loans from the federal government. The loans are available to students attending school and enrolled at least half-time (6 hours).

The Federal Direct Loan Program is intended solely to aid students pursuing a higher education degree. Students should borrow only the amount they feel is necessary to pay for their educational costs. Keeping the amount of a loan at a minimum will ease repayment.

Students who borrow a need-based Federal Direct Loan will not be charged interest on the loan while in school or in deferment. This type of Federal Direct Loan is referred to as “subsidized.” Loan limits per academic year are as follows: freshman (0-27 hours earned): $3500; sophomore (28-59 hours earned): $4500; junior and senior (60+ hours earned): $5500. Repayment begins six months after the student graduates, leaves school, or falls below half-time enrollment.

An “unsubsidized” Federal Direct Loan can be borrowed by students who are not eligible for a need-based Federal Direct Loan. When borrowing the “Unsubsidized” Federal Direct Loan, students will be charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed until it is paid in full.

An additional $2,000.00 per year in unsubsidized Federal Direct Loan is available to students upon request in the Financial Aid Office. For Independent Students an additional $4,000 is available to Freshmen and Sophomores and an additional $5,000 to Juniors and Seniors.

PLUS Loans - The Federal PLUS loan is a non-need based parent loan for dependent students with a variable interest rate not to exceed 10%. Credit checks are conducted by the lender to determine loan approval. Parents may borrow up to the cost of education minus the total of the student’s Expected Family Contribution (EFC) plus the financial aid awarded for each child who is enrolled at least half time.

Private Loans - Private Loans are available to students based on their credit history. These loans are available to help cover any school expense. The interest rate is variable and determined by your credit score. The repayment policy is the same as Direct Loans. Information is available in the Financial Aid Office.

United Methodist Student Loan Program - The United Methodist Student Loan Program is a loan program offered through the United Methodist Church. Applications are available on line at www.gbhem.org.

Tennessee Teaching Scholars Programs - This program was established by the Tennessee General Assembly for students interested in a career in teaching. Beginning in the 1996-1997 academic year, this new program replaced both the Teacher Loan Scholarship Program and the Teacher Loan Program for Disadvantaged Areas of Tennessee.

This forgivable loan of approximately $5,000.00 will be available on a competitive basis for up to four years for college juniors, seniors, and post baccalaureate students, who have been admitted to State-approved teacher education programs in a Tennessee institution of higher education. They must commit to teaching in the Tennessee public schools at the preschool, elementary, or secondary level one year for each year the award is received. Applications are available on-line at www.collegepaystn.com. The deadline is April 15.

Other

The Tennessee Educational Lottery Scholarship (HOPE) will be awarded to incoming freshman who have an ACT score of 21 (SAT 1060) or an overall final high school GPA of 3.0 or better and have met all of the other criteria detailed in the legislation. Transfer students who have met all the requirements to attend and retain the scholarship will be awarded upon acceptance to the University and completion of all the required paperwork.

A student that has first received the HOPE Scholarship in fall 2009 and thereafter is eligible to continue to receive the scholarship up to five (5) years from when they graduated high school or the student has earned a baccalaureate degree.

The Tennessee Educational Lottery (HOPE) is now available in the summer for students who first received an award in the fall of 2009 or later and have maintained their eligibility.

To retain the HOPE Lottery Scholarship a student must meet the following criteria; after 24 and 48 attempted hours a student must have a TELS Grade Point Average (GPA) of 2.75. After 72 attempted hours a student must maintain a TELS Grade Point Average (GPA) of 3.0 until the program is completed.

If a student is notified by the Financial Aid Office that they have lost the HOPE Lottery Scholarship, it is the responsibility of the student to notify the Financial Aid Office that their GPA has reached the eligible TELS GPA necessary to regain the scholarship.

If a student wishes to appeal the non-awarding or loss of the Tennessee Educational HOPE Lottery Scholarship, this should be done in writing before mid-term of the following semester and submitted to the Assistant Vice President of Financial Aid in order for the appeal to be considered by the Institutional Review Panel (IRP).

Veteran's Benefits are available to qualified students. Applicants may check with their local guidance office or the Registrar's Office at Tennessee Wesleyan University for further details regarding this program.

Vocational Rehabilitation Benefits must be applied for by the student at their local Vocational Rehabilitation Office.

Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act must be applied for by the student in their local Career Center Office.

Scholarships

Tennessee Wesleyan University is pleased to offer a variety of scholarship programs designed to assist students who have demonstrated outstanding academic achievement, leadership, and abilities. Students desiring to be considered for these scholarships should submit a completed application for admission, along with transcripts from their high school and any colleges they have attended. Applicants must be enrolled full time in the undergraduate day program and be citizens of the United States. Applicants are eligible for only one major institutional scholarship. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is required for all scholarships.

Freshman Scholarships

The Harriet Reeves Neff Scholarship – is valued at up to $26,100 and is for incoming freshman only. The Harriet Reeves Neff Scholarship is Tennessee Wesleyan’s top academic award. This scholarship is designed to reward high school students who have demonstrated academic leadership. A student who has been awarded a Neff Scholarship is not eligible to receive any additional awards offered by Tennessee Wesleyan University. To be considered for this award students must submit all application materials by December 31.

Applicants must:

1. attain a minimum high school grade point average of 3.75 and a composite ACT score of 30 or an SAT score (critical reading and math) of 1390.
2. maintain a 3.25 GPA for the scholarship to be renewed for subsequent years.

TWU Merit Award - Incoming freshmen only:

This scholarship is based on the student’s high school credentials. The value of this scholarship may vary based on these credentials. This scholarship is renewable provided the student maintains a 2.0 cumulative grade point average.

Transfer Scholarships

Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship – The Phi Theta Kappa Scholarship recognizes academic leadership among transfer students who are active members of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honor society among two-year colleges. The Phi Theta Kappa scholarship is valued at $1,000.00 annually and is awarded to transfer students who hold a 3.50 grade point average. This scholarship is renewable provided the student maintains a 3.25 cumulative grade point average.

TWU Merit Award:

This scholarship is based on the student’s college grade point average. The value of this scholarship may vary based on these credentials. This scholarship is renewable provided the student maintains a 2.0 cumulative grade point average.

Additional Scholarships

How to Apply for Financial Aid

All applicants for financial aid should:

1. Apply and be accepted for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan University.
2. Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), which is available online at www.studentaid.gov beginning October 1 of each year.
3. Provide other supporting documentation as required.

If help is needed in completing these forms, applicants should contact the Financial Aid Office. The deadline for submitting these forms to receive priority consideration is February 1.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards

The Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended by Congress in 1986, mandates institutions of higher education to establish minimum standards of “satisfactory academic progress” for students receiving financial aid. Institutions must establish, publish, and apply reasonable standards for measuring whether a student is maintaining satisfactory academic progress in his or her program of study for each payment period and for each Direct Loan disbursement.

Progress Standards for Title IV Financial Aid

Students must successfully complete their program within the institution's maximum time frame of 12 semesters (pro-rated for part-time students), and maintain satisfactory academic progress in order to remain eligible to receive further funds.

1. Students must successfully complete 67% of the hours they have attempted in order to maintain satisfactory academic progress.
2. Maximum hours: Any student who has attempted 192 hours will become ineligible for financial aid even if he/she did not receive financial aid for prior hours attempted.
3. Transfer students: All transferable credits will be counted toward the maximum.

How the Standards are Applied

1. Satisfactory academic progress will be measured at the end of each term.
2. Grades of "F", "I", "WF" or "WP" will not qualify as successful completion of credit hours attempted.
3. Courses taken after requirements for graduation have been met (as approved by the Registrar's Office) are not eligible for payment.
4. A student who fails to demonstrate satisfactory academic progress as defined will forfeit all financial aid awarded, and disbursements will be terminated.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards (SAP): New guidelines established by the Department of Education starting in the 2011-2012 academic year.

At the completion of each semester, including summer, every student will be reviewed to see if they meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress Standards as outlined in the accompanying chart and to see if they meet the hours attempted to hours earned ratio explained above.

Cumulative Hours Attempted	Minimum GPA Maintained
0-27	1.60
60+	2.00

The following is the policy which will be used to determine each student's status. Since Tennessee Wesleyan reviews each student at the end of each semester, a student that does not meet SAP for the first time will receive a WARNING letter. The warning letter will advise each student that they have one (1) additional semester in which to meet the SAP standard with no penalty or change in their financial aid. If, at the completion of the warning semester a student has not reached the SAP standard then the student will receive an INELIGIBLE FOR AID letter. This letter will be accompanied by an APPEAL FORM. The student has two options at this point, (1) Pay all charges for the next semester out of pocket, or (2) write an appeal to the Financial Aid Committee requesting a semester of PROBATION. If the appeal is granted then the student is awarded a semester of probation. If the student is granted probation then there will be no change to the student's financial aid. At the completion of the probation semester if a student has not reached the SAP standard then another ineligible for aid letter will be sent and the student would have to appeal again. If at the end of the probation semester the student has not reached SAP standards but has a semester GPA of 2.25 or higher, then an additional semester of probation will be awarded.

Financial Aid Appeal

Any student that receives an INELIGIBLE FOR AID letter may appeal to the Assistant Vice President of Financial Aid by submitting the enclosed appeal form or by sending an email briefly explaining any factors that the student feels might have led to a poor academic semester. The AVP of Financial Aid will present the file to the members of the Scholarship Committee. The AVP does not vote on appeals.

Return of Aid Formulas

Courses dropped during the first two weeks of school that change enrollment status are subject to a return of aid formula that calculates the amount of aid that must be returned to the Title IV program(s). Institutional aid is not available if the student's status is less than full-time.

A complete withdrawal from school will result in a pro-rated return of aid through 60 percent of the term.

Financial Aid returned to the Title IV programs is allocated among the programs from which the student received aid with priority to PLUS Loans, Stafford Loans Direct Loans, Federal Pell, and Federal SEOG. State, Vocational Rehabilitation, private, and institutional are prorated equally or according to aid guidelines.

Reduction of Aid Policy

If you are a student who is receiving an institutional scholarship, your institutional aid plus Pell Grant, SEOG, State Grant and Lottery Scholarship may not exceed your direct cost of education. Outside Aid will be included in the Reduction of Aid Policy if the donor specifies the funds can only be applied to direct costs.

Example: if you are a dependent commuter your aid will not exceed tuition, fees and books; if you are a dependent or independent campus resident your aid will not exceed tuition, fees, books, room and board; if necessary your institutional aid will be reduced within the guidelines. If you are an independent commuter your aid will not exceed tuition, fees, and books; however, a refund cannot exceed the amount of your Pell Grant. If necessary your institutional aid will be reduced within the guidelines.

STUDENT LIFE & SERVICES AT TENNESSEE WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Student Life And Services

College years should be memorable ones both inside and outside the classroom. To that end, Tennessee Wesleyan strives to help students find a special place. Opportunities abound for musical, dramatic, athletic, religious, social, and professional activities. A major boon of attending a small university is that the joys of such activities are heightened by that special caring spirit that forms such a part of the Tennessee Wesleyan experience. Descriptions of various student organizations appear below; other groups are continually being formed to serve individual needs.

The Service-Learning Program

All full-time students are required to complete five service hours per academic semester while enrolled at TWU, excluding summer and December mini terms. In a traditional four-year timeline, students will complete 40 hours of service. Students will have the opportunity to participate in a variety of service opportunities on- and off-campus. Hours may be earned through a variety of activities coordinated through the Student Involvement Office, as part of a Service-Learning designated course, or with a student's own philanthropic interests. Courses with the Service-Learning designation are offered in a variety of core curriculum courses and within major-specific areas.

Organizations

Students have the opportunity to participate in over 30 student organizations at TWU. The Organizations are designed to provide students with spiritual, intellectual and social growth. Most organizations have open membership; however, a few are membership by invitation only. A complete list of TWU student organizations can be found on the TWU website under Student Life or from the Director of Student Involvement.

Greek Organizations

TWU has a National Panhellenic Conference sorority, Sigma Kappa, and one international sorority, Kappa Beta Gamma. Additionally, the university has one local fraternity, Delta Zeta Phi. Students are invited to become members through a system of preferential bidding. Each group has on-campus advisors. Responsibility for Greek organizations rests with the Director of Student Involvement.

Students must be enrolled full-time at the university and have a 2.5 GPA before they can be initiated. Full-time students are eligible to receive a bid at any time during the fall and spring semesters except from the first day of fall semester classes to Formal Bid Day. No bids may be distributed and/or accepted when classes or finals are not in session. New members must be initiated by the end of the semester in which they accepted a bid except in certain circumstances where the organization or the student has requested a delayed initiation date.

All Greek organizations are governed by the Greek Council and are expected to adhere to the Constitution and Bylaws of the Greek Council. The Greek Council, working in concert under the jurisdiction of the Vice President for Student Life and the Director of Student Involvement, will formulate recruitment and new member policies as outlined in the Greek Council Bylaws.

Athletics

Tennessee Wesleyan University is a member of the NAIA and the Appalachian Athletic Conference. Students who participate in intercollegiate athletics must meet the eligibility rules of both of these organizations. The university fields intercollegiate athletic teams in men's and women's basketball, baseball, men's and women's bowling, men's and women's cross-country, e-sports, men's and women's golf, men's and women's lacrosse, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis, men's and women's track and field, and men's and women's volleyball. All full-time Tennessee Wesleyan University students are admitted without charge to all athletic events, except tournaments.

The university's recreation sports program promotes wholesome recreation by providing athletic activities for the general student population throughout the school year.

Publications

Students are invited to serve on the staff of The Springs of Helicon, the literary magazine.

Religious and Cultural Programs

The university offers a wide range of opportunities for religious and cultural enrichment. Each semester, a series of events is sponsored through the Chapel/Convocation Program. Weekly chapel services in both traditional and contemporary formats are enhanced by guest ministers, visiting musical groups, the University choir and chorale, and student participation. Convocation programs strive to raise student interest in world and political issues, dramatic and musical achievements, and theological inquiry.

Other religious and cultural activities are offered on a continuing basis for growth and fellowship. By making available current theological school bulletins, meetings with seminary representatives, vocational counseling, and church employment opportunities, the Chaplain serves as a liaison for students interested in church-related vocations.

Convocation Program

Tennessee Wesleyan promotes the philosophy that a liberal education requires more than traditional classroom learning alone. Therefore, to promote a well-rounded education and to enhance cultural, spiritual, and social development, a convocation program is provided by the university.

Full-time students (those enrolled for twelve hours or more) attending classes on the Athens campus are required to attend five convocations and/or chapel per semester. A list of scheduled convocation programs is distributed at the beginning of each semester, posted on myPortal and on the TWU mobile app.

Individuals missing convocations and/or chapel will be fined $10.00 for each missed convocation up to the required number of five. This policy is in effect for all full-time students.

The International Program

In keeping with its mission, Tennessee Wesleyan seeks “to prepare its students for a life of leadership and service in an ever changing global community.” As such, it is committed to international education and the values of cultural diversity. It strives to provide an atmosphere wherein students from all around the world can learn and benefit from one another’s customs and beliefs.

The Study Abroad Program

Intercultural educational experiences such as studying abroad allow students to grow both academically and personally. TWU students are encouraged to engage in Study Abroad programs and Travel Study programs. To ensure this opportunity, scholarships are available, and state and federal financial aid may also be used to help finance study abroad.

Students interested in the Study Abroad program may study in another country for one to two weeks, for a term, or for a year, thereby immersing themselves in the culture of the host country. Individuals may select a program sponsored by one of the Tennessee Wesleyan-affiliated programs: ISEP, CCSA (Cooperative Center for Study Abroad), CC-CS (The Center for Cross-Cultural Studies/Spanish Studies Abroad), CCIS (College Consortium for International Studies), Nagasaki Wesleyan’s Japanese Language and Culture Summer Program or semester- or year-long Exchange Program, and Chez Vous Summer Studies with the Jacques Lefevre Institute. In these programs and others, students’ grades are transferred back to TWU.

In Travel Study Programs, students gain credit in courses offered by TWU faculty on faculty-led trips. These programs combine travel and coursework in any discipline. The associated coursework may take place on campus before leaving, after returning, and/or during the trip itself. TWU instructors and their chairs monitor the content of and credit for these courses. These courses typically carry the 299r or 399r numbers, Study Abroad in (Name of Discipline). See the Course Offerings and Descriptions page of the Catalog.

Interested students are invited to contact the Study Abroad Coordinator in Colloms 218 or faculty in departments relevant to their majors and interests for help in deciding on a study abroad option appropriate for their needs.

Housing and Food Services

All students are considered to be residential and required to take room and board on campus. Exemptions may be made for the following:

1. students living with a parent or guardian who lives within the commuting area (25-mile radius);
2. married students;
3. students with custody of a child;
4. military veterans eligible for benefits under Public Law 358, G.I. bill effective June 1966;

5. financially independent students (as defined by financial aid criteria);
6. seniors, with an approved schedule which will lead to graduation that academic year;
7. students enrolled for less than 12 semester hours for the next semester. (Students may not add hours after registration without being required to live on campus.)
8. international students requesting off-campus must have lived on campus for at least one academic year and be enrolled in their senior year.

To request off-campus living, you must meet one or more of these criteria. Residency Exemption Applications are available in the Student Life Office. To be considered for off campus, students must complete and return a request for exemption form by May 1st for the fall term and November 1st for the spring term. Completion of a Residency Exemption Application is not a guarantee that a student will be granted off-campus status. Students will be notified, in writing, of the Student Life Office's decision regarding their application.

The dining hall features meals seven days a week during the fall and spring semesters and is closed during official university holidays. Personal effects may be left in the rooms during breaks, but must be taken off campus during the summer. The university does not provide storage facilities for personal belongings.

The Merner Pfeiffer Library / Learning Commons

The Merner Pfeiffer Library is here to help with collections of books, e-books, online journal articles, streaming films, laptops and other loanable technology, and other electronic resources. Librarians provide in-class and online instruction and individualized assistance with research. Tutoring Services are located in the library with student tutors in writing, math and science. The Library offers group and quiet study areas and computers. The library's home page (<https://library.tn wesleyan.edu>) provides access to information found in the library as well as online resources.

Student Success

Tennessee Wesleyan University provides several avenues of support to ensure student success. The Mosher Success Center, located on the second floor of the Colloms Campus Center, offers comprehensive support for TWU students. This comprehensive support includes access to student success coaches, career and leadership development, Veteran Services, and more. Students can schedule a meeting with a Success Coach to help with study skills, time management, goal setting, access to peer tutoring, and other academic concerns. Group and individual study spaces are available 24/7 in the Colloms Campus Center.

The Career and Leadership Development Office, located within the Mosher Success Center, provides support to all students to develop their leadership skills and career path. The office is available to discuss future goals and to assist in the investigation of various career opportunities. One-on-one support in resume writing and interview coaching is available throughout the year.

The Office of Veteran Services, located in the Mosher Success Center, provides support to students who have served in any branch of the United States Armed Forces. The office is available to assist veterans with assessment of military experience for credit, transition to campus life, and access to other veteran students. The Colloms Campus Center includes a lounge and study space for veteran students in honor of their service.

One-on-one tutoring is available in the Peer Tutoring Center on the ground floor of the Merner Pfeiffer Library throughout the week in writing, math, science, and other subjects. Specific hours for tutoring are posted online and throughout campus at the beginning of each semester. Online tutoring via Smarthinking is also available.

All students are welcome to use these services at no additional cost.

Office of Disability Services

Tennessee Wesleyan University affirms its intent to comply with federal regulations regarding persons with disabilities, specifically with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. The University does not discriminate based on disability in employment or admissions.

It is the responsibility of the student seeking reasonable accommodations consequent to a documented disability to contact the Office of Disability Services to request services for accommodations. Dr. Patricia Ging, Sherman Hall, 423-746-5237, will meet with the student to discuss the individual's disability and the necessary services required.

Any student with a qualifying disability is eligible for reasonable accommodations as determined by the Office of Disability Services director. The student must provide documentation of a qualifying disability. Students are not required to report their disability but must understand that no services will be rendered without a request and proper documentation. An appropriately licensed professional must provide documentation. This documentation must be completed within the last three years. A simple written statement that a student has a disability will not suffice as evidence that a student needs accommodations. Based on the nature of the disability, a complete psychological evaluation, including aptitude and achievement tests, may be required. An evaluation must provide specific evidence that the disability exists. Current IEPs or 504 Plans and evaluations may be provided for review.

After reviewing the documentation provided by the student, the office will help the student work with the faculty to secure reasonable accommodations.

Modifications or adjustments, including but not limited to the following, may be made for qualified students with disabilities:

1. Classes may be relocated or rescheduled to accommodate students with mobility impairments reasonably.

2. Alternate testing and evaluation methods may be made available for students with disabilities that impair their capacity to be tested in standard formats.
3. A medical evaluation of the disability may be required to assess the student's needs.

The Office of Disability Services director will determine what reasonable accommodations will be made for students with disabilities and will forward accommodations requests to the student's professors. After being accepted to the University, the University requests that the student provide advance notice so that the University may plan to meet the student's needs. Reasonable accommodations may not be made without such advance notice. If a student feels that an instructor has not made accommodations, the Vice President for Academic Affairs becomes the contact for complaint.

Bookstore

The TWU Bookstore is located in the Colloms Campus Center. The bookstore carries all required textbooks and supplies for all TWU classes. Textbooks are available to rent or purchase in new, used and digital format. The TWU Bookstore is your source for official Bulldog apparel and gifts. The bookstore is open Monday through Friday with extended hours for special events. Financial aid, if applicable, can be used in the bookstore. Refunds are accepted with a receipt within seven calendar days from the start of classes or within two days of purchase thereafter. Please shop online at <https://www.bkstr.com/tennesseewesleyanstore/home> or call directly at (423) 746-5227.

Counseling Services

During the school year, students can be faced with a variety of problems such as anxiety, depression, adjustment difficulties, marriage, and family issues. Tennessee Wesleyan University provides a broad range of counseling services to its students. The Vice President for Student Life and the Chaplain can assist with many of these issues. Professional counseling services are available to all Tennessee Wesleyan University students. Information about these services is available in the Student Life Office.

Career Development

The Career Development Office, located in the Colloms Campus Center, is committed to "Building Bulldogs for Success" by providing career services to all interested TWU students, alumni, and employers through Purple Briefcase, an online career network that assists individuals in their search for jobs and internships and that connects them with potential employers. The Career Development Office is available to discuss future goals and to assist in the investigation of various career opportunities. Resume and interview workshops are offered throughout the year as well as individual counseling. Students using the placement service should file all requested materials with the Career Development Office.

It should be understood that services provided by the Career Development Office and the university are not an obligation or a guarantee of employment.

Health Clinic

TWU partners with United Primary Care to provide medical assistance for minor illnesses and injuries. Services include, but not limited to: allergies, coughs/bronchitis, earaches/infections, heartburn/indigestion, mononucleosis, mouth/oral pain, nausea/vomiting/diarrhea, pink eye/sties, sinus infections/congestion, sore throat, upper respiratory infections, bladder/urinary tract infections, bug bites/stings, minor burns, minor cuts/blisters/wounds, splinters, sprains/strains and joint pain, athlete's foot, dermatitis/skin rashes, and lice.

Students are responsible for the costs of certain tests/labs including flu, strep, x-rays, etc. United Primary Care does accept most insurances for these additional services.

Students can utilize United Primary Care offices in Athens, Etowah, and Madisonville. Offices are open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays and 8:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Standards of Conduct

Students and recognized student organizations assume certain obligations of performance and behavior while at Tennessee Wesleyan University. As a result, reasonable policies, procedures, and regulations have been developed to guarantee each student's freedom to learn and to protect the fundamental rights of others.

By registering in the university, the student agrees to abide by the regulations of the university found in the Student Handbook and other decisions of the faculty and the Student Government Association made from time to time.

The use or possession of alcoholic beverages and illegal drugs, gambling in any form, and possession of firearms or explosives are prohibited on the campus or at any university-sponsored event, unless explicit permission is granted by the University. Violations of these regulations will be handled by the University Judicial System, as outlined in the Student Handbook.

ACADEMIC LIFE AT TENNESSEE WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC LIFE

Tennessee Wesleyan University offers challenging ways to pursue an undergraduate liberal arts education, freeing students to discover who they are and how they might best shape their futures. The University recognizes that such discoveries are made in ways unique to the individual and as such, works to ensure that all students actively engage in their own education.

Upon matriculating, students immediately assume the role of decision-makers as they choose their first courses—courses wherein they are asked not simply to memorize facts but to learn how to think creatively and critically, questioning preconceived notions about life in the attempt to form their own views. Tennessee Wesleyan University strongly believes that study in a host of disciplines in the first two years opens students to multiple modes of intellectual inquiry and helps them explore and identify their own interests, talents, and aspirations more fully. Then, as students progress to specialized study, they find a wide variety of choices open to them. Together with their advisors, students plan programs designed to achieve individual educational goals that not only prepare them for the future but also help them understand and appreciate life here and now.

Tennessee Wesleyan University Honor System

The Tennessee Wesleyan University Honor System promotes academic integrity on the Tennessee Wesleyan University campus and increases awareness among different groups within the University community - students, faculty, staff, and administration - of the importance of academic honesty. Each student has the right and duty to pursue his or her academic experience free of dishonesty. The Honor System establishes the higher level of conduct expected and required of all Tennessee Wesleyan University students. Violation of academic integrity, either by plagiarism or by cheating in the classroom or elsewhere, is inconsistent with the philosophy of education of Tennessee Wesleyan University and the moral and ethical prescriptions of the Christian faith.

The basis of the Honor System is the assumption that academic honesty lies at the heart of the academic enterprise. It provides the foundation for the intellectual freedom that is encouraged and shared by all members of the academic community, and it embodies the belief that true academic freedom and discourse can exist only within a framework of honesty, integrity, and responsibility - values essential to the life of an engaged citizenry.

The success of the Honor System depends upon the co-operation of the entire community. Students, faculty, and university employees are equally involved in matters of academic integrity.

Steps in the Disciplinary Process

When an instructor suspects a student has violated the Honor Code the instructor must notify the student within five (5) business days of the alleged violation or within five (5) business days of the date upon which the instructor became aware of the alleged violation. The instructor also shall attempt to schedule a meeting with the student to present evidence of the alleged violation and to provide the student an opportunity to respond to the accusation. It is the student's responsibility to schedule this meeting within five (5) business days of the student's receipt of the instructor's request. If the student fails to respond the instructor may proceed as follows.

Plagiarism: If an instructor determines that a student has committed an act of plagiarism, including self-plagiarism, on a graded assignment the student shall receive a zero for the assignment.

The instructor will notify the student of the penalty in writing and copy his/her Department Chair and the Vice President for Academic Affairs (VPAA). The VPAA will then notify the student that he/she is required to complete a plagiarism tutorial and submit a Certificate of Completion to the VPAA within two weeks of the date of the VPAA's notification. Failure to do so will result in the student's final grade in the course being reduced by one full letter grade. Upon receipt of the Certificate of Completion the VPAA will forward this information to the instructor and the Department Chair.

If a student commits an act of plagiarism with less than two weeks left in the term the student will be given an incomplete and still must complete the plagiarism tutorial and submit a Certificate of Completion within two weeks of the VPAA's notification. Failure to do so will result in the student's final grade in the course being reduced by one full letter grade when the incomplete is subsequently changed to a final grade for the course.

If an instructor determines that a student has committed a second act of plagiarism in the course on a graded assignment the student shall receive a zero for the course.

Other Violations: If an instructor determines that a student has committed another type of Honor Code violation (e.g. cheating), the student shall receive a zero on the assignment in question for the first offense and a failing grade for the course upon the commission of a second offense. Upon making either determination the instructor must notify the student in writing of the penalty to be imposed and copy his/her Department Chair and the VPAA.

Suspension: The VPAA will maintain the institutional record of all Honor Code violations. When a student has committed three violations of the Honor Code the VPAA will notify the student, in writing, that he/she will be placed on academic suspension for one calendar year beginning at the end of the current term. During this time the student will not be permitted to attend classes at the University or apply credit earned at other institutions toward completion of his/her degree at TWU.

To be reinstated, the student must submit a letter to the VPAA formally requesting readmission to the University. The letter must be submitted at least 45 days prior to the end of the suspension period and must include an acknowledgment of the student's past Honor Code violations, a reaffirmation of his/her commitment to abide by the Honor Code if readmitted to the institution, and any other documentation which the student feels is pertinent to his/her case.

Academic Advising

New students meet with an academic advisor before registering for their first semester in order to discuss their academic and professional ambitions, to acquaint themselves with the University's academic requirements, and to plan an effective curriculum. Tennessee Wesleyan University strongly recommends that all students take full advantage of the knowledge, counsel and—above all—personal concern available from their academic advisor.

Students retain the same advisor throughout their entire freshman year and beyond until they have declared a major. When a major has been declared at the Registrar's Office, a faculty advisor in the department of the major will be assigned.

Tennessee Wesleyan University students are considered adults and therefore responsible for being familiar with academic regulations and degree requirements. Students should take the initiative for seeing their advisor.

Major/Advisor Change

Students who wish to change their major should complete the Change of Major/Advisor Form located in the Registrar's Office or myPortal and submit to the Registrar's Office for processing. Advisor changes are made when necessitated by a major change or when a request from a student is deemed appropriate.

Registration

All students are expected to make an appointment with their academic advisor and to complete registration at the time and date designated each fall and spring term for advisement and registration. No student will receive credit for a course in which he or she is not properly registered or checked-in.

Students must verify their financial aid and payment status with the Student Financial Services Office prior to classes beginning each semester. Failure to do so will place class schedules in suspended status, which may result in removal of classes.

Late Registration

Students who miss regular registration for a legitimate reason may register late for classes up to within seven calendar days after the first day of classes. A fee of $50.00 is assessed for late registration. The period for late registration varies for summer terms. Please refer to the summer schedule for these dates.

Late Check-In

Students who miss their Check-In appointment or cannot make Check-In for a legitimate reason may check-in late for classes on the first day of classes. A fee of $50.00 is assessed for late registration unless prior approval has been given by the Registrar's Office or the Student Life Office. If Check-In is missed students will incur a $100.00 reinstatement fee for Financial Aid.

Add/Drop Procedure

After consulting with their advisors, students may drop or add a course under the following guidelines: Fall and Spring term courses may be added through the fifth calendar day from the first day of classes. Courses dropped on or before the last day of the first two weeks of school receive no statement on record of having been dropped. A student may withdraw from one or more courses up to exactly one month before the last day of class with a grade of W. After that date, a grade of WP or WF will be assigned by the instructor of the course unless the withdrawal is due to substantiated illness or emergency in which case a W may be assigned by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Grades of W, WP, and WF do not count in the computation of the student grade point average. Students who fail to withdraw officially from a course will receive a grade of F for the course work. Students must submit the signed Add/Drop form to the Registrar's Office to complete the process. If a student stops attending class without officially dropping the class, a grade of F will be assigned. Students enrolled in graduate or accelerated programs must refer to the academic calendar or program handbook for withdrawal periods.

Withdrawal

Students finding it necessary to completely withdraw (completely separate) from the university must do so officially to maintain good standing and to assure readmission. Students intending to completely withdrawal must have the approval of the Vice President for Student Life and clearance from all designated offices. Complete Withdrawal forms are available in the Student Life Office.

A student may withdraw up to exactly one month before the last day of class with a grade of W. After that date, a grade of WP or WF will be assigned by the instructor of the course unless the withdrawal is due to substantiated illness or emergency in which case a W may be assigned by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Grades of W, WP, and WF do not count in the computation of the student grade point average. Students who fail to withdraw officially from a course will receive a grade of F for the course work. Students enrolled in graduate or accelerated programs must refer to the academic calendar or program handbook for withdrawal periods.

Disciplinary Suspension

All disciplinary suspensions are handled through the Vice President for Student Life and the appropriate university committees. When a disciplinary suspension occurs during the course of a term, the following rule regarding withdrawal from classes shall apply: If the student is suspended prior to the last day to drop with a grade of W and completes the proper paperwork in the Student Life Office, he or she will receive Ws for the term. If a student is suspended after the last day to drop for the term, no withdrawal will be processed. The student must simply accept the grades that result from his or her absence from classes.

Class Load

A full-time undergraduate student is one who carries at least 12 credits per semester. A student who carries fewer than 12 credits is classified as a part-time student. Students may not register for more than 18 credits per regular semester (fall and spring) without prior permission from their advisor and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. An absolute maximum of 21 hours can be carried in any regular semester. All hours over 18 are charged at the regular hourly tuition charge (in addition to the full-time tuition charge).

Students on academic probation are limited to 14 credits per semester. Only one course may be taken during any mini-term offered by the University. During the summer term, students may register for a maximum of 9 hours per short session and a total of 18 hours for all summer terms combined. The Vice President for Academic Affairs, in advance of registration, must approve any exceptions to the class load policies.

Grading Information

The Grading System

Grades are recorded as follows:

A (–) Indicates work of distinction.

B (+ –) Indicates better than average work.

F Indicates a failing grade.

I Indicates an incomplete grade. Counts as F in computing GPA.

P Indicates a passing grade. Does not compute in GPA.

AU Indicates a course taken for audit only.

NG Indicates that there was no grade for the course received from the instructor.
Does not compute in GPA.

W Indicates that the student withdrew without penalty from the course.

WP Indicates that the student withdrew without penalty from the course.

WF Indicates that the student withdrew from the course failing.
Does not count in the computation of the student's GPA.

Note: For students who are receiving educational benefits from the Veterans Administration, the period during which a WP or WF may be granted is limited to the thirty (30) days immediately following registration for the semester.

Quality Points

4.00 quality points per hour of A

3.67 quality points per hour of A–

3.33 quality points per hour of B+

3.00 quality points per hour of B

2.67 quality points per hour of B–

2.33 quality points per hour of C+

2.00 quality points per hour of C

1.67 quality points per hour of C–

1.33 quality points per hour of D+

1.00 quality points per hour of D

0.67 quality points per hour of D–

Note: Grades of P, W, WF, WP, NG and AU do not count in the computation of the student grade point average.

Recognition of Exceptional Grades

To encourage outstanding scholastic achievement, the University issues two lists each semester, the Honors List and the Dean's List. To be eligible for the Honors List, a student must earn 12 or more non-remedial hours and attain a grade point average of at least 3.70 with no grade below B. To be eligible for the Dean's List, a student must earn 12 or more non-remedial hours and attain a grade-point average of at least 3.40 with no grade below C.

Incomplete Grades

A student may receive a grade of incomplete ("I") if for some reason there is a failure to complete a small portion of the work in a course. In all cases the student must show that the work cannot be completed due to circumstances beyond the student's control.

A grade of "I" must be removed by mid-term of the succeeding term after the student has taken the course. Otherwise the grade will automatically be changed to an "F". Students are to make up examinations at the convenience of the instructors. In computing the student's average, an incomplete will be considered as an "F" until such time as the incomplete is removed.

Grade Appeals

A student who feels the final grade assigned in a course is incorrect or has been awarded unfairly may appeal the grade utilizing the following procedure. Students must initiate the grade appeal process by no later than midterm of the following semester. A student should first contact his/her instructor to resolve a grade dispute. If the dispute cannot be satisfactorily resolved at this level, the student should contact his/her Department Chair. If the dispute cannot be satisfactorily resolved at this level, the student should submit a written grade appeal to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Students must use the Grade Appeal form for this purpose; the form is available through the Registrar's Office. Upon receipt of the appeal, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will notify the student of his/her decision, in writing, within five (5) business days. The decision of the Vice President for Academic Affairs is not subject to appeal.

Repeating Courses

Students may repeat undergraduate courses twice (three total attempts) regardless of the prior grade in the course. The last grade received will be used in computing the cumulative grade-point average. A retaken course will count only once toward graduation requirements. The student's permanent record will show both the original grade for the course and the grade earned when the course was repeated.

If a student is repeating a Tennessee Wesleyan University course for credit for the purpose of erasing the earlier grade under this provision, the repeat must be with a course in class at Tennessee Wesleyan University; it may not be by correspondence, proficiency, special arrangement, or by study at another institution. A grade that was earned by a student at another institution will be honored and not erased.

A course in nursing may be repeated only once if a failing grade is obtained. No more than one nursing course may be repeated. A grade of WF (withdraw failing) shall count as a course failure. A student majoring in nursing must successfully repeat a failed course before taking other nursing courses.

Social Work students earning a D+ or less are required to repeat the course. A social work major course may be repeated only once.

Note: Students are reminded that other educational institutions, to which the students might transfer, either for additional undergraduate study or for graduate or professional study, are not obligated to calculate the GPA in accord with the manner described above.

Auditing a Course

Auditing a course is attending class without being required to take examinations and without receiving college credit. A student enrolled in a course for credit who withdraws from the course during the regular withdrawal period may audit the remainder of the course if the instructor agrees to the arrangement and if the student records the intent to audit at the Registrar's Office when dropping the course.

Special Arrangement Courses

A Special Arrangement course is an approved course listed in the University catalog which a student may be permitted to take even though it is not available to the student in a given term. To arrange a Special Arrangement course a student must submit a petition to the appropriate instructor and department chair indicating why he/she will be unable to take the class as a regularly scheduled course. Permission to enroll in a Special Arrangement course must be granted by the instructor, the instructor's department chair and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Generally permission is granted only in cases where 1) denial would significantly interfere with the student's academic progress and 2) an appropriate course substitution is not available. Special Arrangement courses typically are offered in a tutorial-style format featuring regularly scheduled student-faculty meetings and individualized instruction.

Service Learning Courses

Courses designated as Service-Learning (SL) include a service-learning project during the semester that either employs skills or knowledge learned in the course or teaches new skills or knowledge related to course objectives. Students will be involved in the planning and implementation of the project(s) and will spend time outside of the classroom completing the service portion. Courses with the SL designation meet the 10 hour service requirement of the Service-Learning Track and are counted toward the graduation service requirement.

Academic Fresh Start

Academic Fresh Start is a program provided to serious re-entry students whose previous academic work was below average. It allows for the elimination of previous college credit for the calculation of grade point average and credit toward graduation. Requirements to be met by a student requesting an Academic Fresh Start toward a baccalaureate degree are:

1. The student must have been separated from all academic institutions for at least five years.
2. After returning to college, the student must complete at least 12 semester hours of earned graded course work at Tennessee Wesleyan University prior to applying for Academic Fresh Start.
3. The student must hold a GPA of 2.5 or better on all work attempted after returning to college.
4. The student must submit a formal letter of application to the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee requesting that an Academic Fresh Start be granted and describing an academic plan, including the declaration of a major.

Upon the approval of the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee, the student will be granted an Academic Fresh Start. It may be granted only once, and once granted, may not be revoked. The student's permanent record will remain a record of all work; however, the student will forfeit any college or university credit earned prior to the five-year separation for the use for degree purposes at Tennessee Wesleyan University. The permanent record will show that an Academic Fresh Start was granted and indicate the date of the Academic Fresh Start. The record will also carry the notation "GPA and credit totals are based only on work beginning with that date."

Academic Policies

Institutional Definition of Semester or Credit Hour

In accordance with requirements established by the U.S. Department of Education and SACSCOC, Tennessee Wesleyan University defines a semester credit hour as approximately 1 hour of class time and 2 hours of out-of-class student work per week for 15 weeks. A 3 credit course typically will meet for 150 minutes per week for a total of 37.5 hours of direct instruction per semester.

For courses where direct instruction is not the exclusive mode of learning, credit is awarded on the basis of students completing a body of academically engaged work which reasonably approximates the learning that would occur in a classroom setting. This applies to online and hybrid courses, laboratory work, independent study, internships, research projects, studio work, service-learning and other forms of experiential learning.

Academically engaged work include activities that are directly related to intended course learning objectives, measurable for purposes of assessing student achievement, subject to regular and substantive interaction with an instructor and equivalent to the amount of work required of students to achieve learning outcomes in a classroom setting.

Regardless of the learning modality, credit-bearing courses are expected to be essentially equivalent in terms of rigor, quality, learning outcomes, requirements and assessment.

Transfer Credit

Transfer credit will be granted for course work, applicable to a Tennessee Wesleyan University baccalaureate degree, taken at institutions accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) and/or other regional accrediting associations. Grades earned at other institutions are used only for admission, course placement, and other academic decisions.

Course work taken at institutions accredited by other than regional associations will be reviewed on an individual basis for possible transfer credit. Tennessee Wesleyan University accepts the recommendations contained in the current issue of Report of Credit Given by Educational Institutions, a publication of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO). Students who transfer from two-year accredited institutions will be granted credit up to 60 semester hours. A maximum of 90 semester hours may be transferred from all institutions.

All students must complete Tennessee Wesleyan University's Wesleyan Essentials (WE) or equivalent. Any student who has completed an Associate of Arts, Associate of Science, Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree from a regionally accredited post-secondary institution* will be considered to have met the General Wesleyan Essentials at Tennessee Wesleyan University with the following exceptions:

1. Students will be required to take one religion course unless the requirement is met by an equivalent course at the transfer institution.
2. Students will be required to complete any pre-requisites for upper-division major courses.
3. Students enrolled in Bachelor of Arts (BA) academic programs will be required to complete the Foreign Language requirement of two semesters at the intermediate level or higher. The intermediate level is the 200-level for French or Spanish unless this requirement is met by equivalent foreign language courses at the transfer institution.
4. Students enrolled in teacher licensure programs (BA, BS, or BME) will be required to complete all courses necessary to meet state licensure standards as outlined in the TWU Academic Catalog depending on the major of choice, even if some of those courses would otherwise be waived for students who have completed an Associate of Science or Associate of Arts degree.
5. Documentation provided through the advising process and transcript evaluations will verify that students have completed a minimum of 30 hours of general education courses from the WE drawn from and to include at least one course from each of the following areas: humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral sciences, and natural sciences/mathematics. In the event of a deficiency, the student will be required to complete the necessary coursework.
6. Holders of other types of Associate degrees will be required to fulfill the General Education Requirements as outlined in the academic catalog as appropriate for the degree and major.

Note: Only 60 (non-remedial/developmental) semester hours from a two-year, regionally accredited post-secondary institution can be applied toward graduation requirements at Tennessee Wesleyan University. Management Excellence, RN-BSN and Professional Leadership in Criminal Justice students may apply 76 (non-remedial/developmental) semester hours.

For non-regionally accredited institutions, all courses will be evaluated by the appropriate Department Chair on a course-by-course basis. Students who hold AA or AS degrees from institutions located in non-English Speaking countries must demonstrate a TOEFL score of at least 550 (paper-based), 213 (computer-based), 79 (internet-based), IELTS minimum band score of 5.5 or Duolingo minimum score of 95 in order to gain admission to the university.*

Attendance Policy

Tennessee Wesleyan University considers regular class attendance an essential element of the instructional process and expects students to undertake all courses with this in mind. The University recognizes two distinct categories of absences, excused absences and unexcused absences. Given these categories and the definitions below, instructors will publish and abide by their course policy in the course syllabus.

Excused Absences:

Excused absences include absences due to university-related activities, absences due to medical and family emergencies, and absences due to military service obligations. University-related activities include but are not limited to: athletic travel and competition, fine arts travel and performances, travel and presentations at professional meetings, administration approved activities to promote the college. Professors are to consider these absences as a student and/or university responsibility and therefore will excuse the absence, requiring whatever make-up work is necessary.

Students have the responsibility to notify their instructors as far in advance as possible. If a student fails to notify and make arrangements with their instructors ahead of time, the absence may be considered by the faculty member to be unexcused. Excused absences also include medical or family emergencies. These must be documented and the instructor must be notified in advance if possible and as soon as possible if the absence was of an emergency nature. If the absence is not emergency in nature and the student fails to notify and make arrangements with their instructors ahead of time, the absence may be considered by the faculty member to be unexcused. Assuming the absences can be documented and notification was given, instructors will excuse the absence, requiring whatever make-up work is necessary.

Absences for military service obligations are also considered excused absences. Students have the responsibility to notify their instructors as far in advance as possible. If a student fails to notify and make arrangements with their instructors ahead of time, the absence may be considered by the faculty member to be unexcused.

If students will miss graded work (including quizzes or tests) due to a non-emergency excused absence, they must notify their instructor one week or more in advance if possible and arrange to make up these items prior to their absence. If the absence was unforeseen, the student must notify the instructor as soon as possible and arrange to make up the work (including make-up quizzes or tests) within one week of return to class. If students miss a final examination, immediate notification and explanation are imperative. Alternative arrangements must then be made within three days of the missed examination.

Unexcused absences:

Unexcused absences will be dealt with by individual instructors according to their published policy in the course syllabus. Depending on the published policy in the syllabus, instructors may deduct points, disallow make-up work, disallow make-up tests or quizzes, etc. for unexcused absences.

Cancellation of Scheduled Classes

The University reserves the right to cancel any class when the number of students enrolled is deemed insufficient. If cancellation of a class occurs, every attempt will be made to promptly inform the students involved so that they may add another class if desired.

Temporary Attendance at Other Colleges

Tennessee Wesleyan recommends the kind of intellectual growth that can best occur when students engage in study with the same group of faculty and peers in various courses over a period of time. However, it also recognizes that curricular and other limitations may warrant that a student take some courses elsewhere after matriculating at Tennessee Wesleyan University.

Students who wish to attend another college after initial enrollment at Tennessee Wesleyan University and count that credit toward their graduation at Tennessee Wesleyan University must meet the following guidelines:

1. Students must obtain approval prior to the term in which they wish to enroll in the course. Permission forms may be obtained in the Registrar's Office or on the website. An explanation as to why the course is being requested and the signature of the student's advisor and the Vice President for Academic Affairs or Registrar is required. This approval must be secured before registration in the course.
 - a. Approval for transfer coursework will not be granted if the student is enrolled in 18 or more semester hours for the requested semester.
 - b. Transfer coursework may not count toward a student's major or the WE if the course is offered at TWU during the requested semester.
 - c. Approval for transfer coursework is generally not granted if the student is within the last 30 hours toward meeting graduation requirements.
 - d. A maximum of 90 semester hours may be transferred from all institutions.

For any exception to the above stated policies, a student must obtain prior approval from the appropriate Department Chair and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Students violating this process must appeal in writing to the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee.

2. The student must request an official transcript of courses taken elsewhere. Transcript(s) must be received by the Registrar's Office in time to be processed prior to graduation or the diploma will be withheld.

Reminder: Courses taken to repeat Tennessee Wesleyan University courses must be taken at Tennessee Wesleyan University. For more details, see the Repeat section of this catalog.

Transcripts

Transcript requests must be made through the Registrar's Office or the online ordering system. All requests must be approved with the student's signature. Transcripts are processed after receipt of $10.00 processing fee. If an order is made for more than one copy, the processing fee for all subsequent copies is $10.00 each. The University reserves the right to refuse to release to any student a transcript, grade report, or diploma for failure to return University property, pay any accounts due the University, or for being in default on school loans.

Credit by Examination/Non-Collegiate/Military

Credit and Placement by Examination

Students may earn up to 12 semester hours of college credit (but no more than 24 hours total when combined with non-collegiate credit) through the following testing programs:

1. Advanced Placement—credit given for scores of three (3) or better, semester hours determined by the test.
2. College-Level Examination (CLEP)—scores above the 50th percentile in subject area tests appropriate to a Bachelor's degree at Tennessee Wesleyan University. Students who have completed Advanced Placement and/or CLEP examinations prior to enrolling at Tennessee Wesleyan University should submit official test scores to the Admissions Office for evaluation of credit. Currently enrolled students interested in taking a CLEP Exam(s) should consult their advisor and obtain the approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs before doing so.
3. Proficiency Examination Program—credit awarded is determined by recommendations of the American Council on Education.
4. Proficiency Examination—credit given for grades of B or better. Subjects are limited to those which lend themselves to the examination/evaluation process. When applying for a proficiency examination, the student must present evidence of having developed the abilities, knowledge, and attitudes expected of those who have taken the course. All examinations must be developed and administered by appropriate faculty and approved by the relevant Department Chair and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. A student may take the proficiency examination only once. The cost of the examination is the same as the part-time Athens day tuition charge.
5. RN Challenge Exam—RN students may challenge three specified nursing courses by proficiency examination which reflect abilities and knowledge expected of students taking the course. All examinations are administered by nursing faculty. Grades are issued on a pass-fail basis according to the nursing department grading scale. A student must achieve an 80% or better grade on the examination to receive credit. A challenge examination may be taken only once.

The cost of the exams are as follows:

Nursing 301	Pharmacology	4 s.h.	$175 per credit hour
Nursing 303	Health Assessment	4 s.h.	$175 per credit hour
Nursing 431	Advanced Nursing	4 s.h.	$175 per credit hour

A challenge form must be completed for each exam.

Policy for Placement and Proficiency Testing for Language Classes

Modern Languages (Spanish and French) Placement and Proficiency

(Credit by Examination).

TWU offers two kinds of language exams. The placement exam (WebCAPE) determines appropriate placement by skill level in Tennessee Wesleyan University classes. The proficiency exams (the ACTFL [OPIc] or the CLEP) are used to give WE credit to those students who can prove they are above the intermediate level of a language.

Placement exam:

TWU offers the use of WebCAPE for appropriate placement of students in existing classes. This examination was developed by Brigham Young University's Perpetual Technology Group. Information about this exam can be found on this website: <http://www.perpetualworks.com>. Used by over 600 institutions and offering a wide range of languages, WebCAPE is a computer adaptive placement exam useful in determining what semester/class the students should enroll in after receiving a score on the exam. Tennessee Wesleyan University students who want to take this exam may contact the French or Spanish teacher to set up a time to take it. Once they take it, they will receive feedback about their language level in reference to the respective language. No credit will be given for the test. Students may take this test at Tennessee Wesleyan only once without paying a fee.

Proficiency exam:

In contrast to the Placement Exam, students can take a Proficiency Exam to receive academic credit. The ACTFL (OPIc) and the CLEP proficiency exams are accepted by Tennessee Wesleyan University. Students should consult with the language faculty which exam may serve their purposes best.

Depending on their scores, students may be allowed up to six hours' credit to fulfill the language portion of the WE. Credit earned through a proficiency exam will be recorded with a grade of "P," which will not affect the student's GPA.

Students interested in proficiency credit may, in consultation with the language faculty, choose one of the options given, register, and pay for the exam. If taking the ACTFL (OPIc), students will set up a time with the French or Spanish faculty, who will monitor the exam. If taking the CLEP, students will contact the nearest testing center in order to take the exam. Official documentation of their scores will be sent to the Registrar for inclusion in their permanent record. The university charges no fee for processing proficiency tests. The exam may be administered only during the first four weeks of any given semester.

The following is a more detailed explanation of the proficiency exams:

ACTFL

The ACTFL Oral Proficiency Interview - Computer (OPIc) is one of the most accurate tools to evaluate proficiency in a foreign language. Students who are interested in taking this exam may find more information on the following website: <https://www.languageTesting.com/oral-proficiency-interview-by-computer-opic>.

ACTFL OPIc proficiency ratings:

Intermediate Mid, earn 6 semester hours -

French (FRE 101 and FRE 102) or Spanish (SPA 101 and SPA 102)

Intermediate High/Advanced Low, earn 6 semester hours -

French (FRE 201 and FRE 202) or Spanish (SPA 201 and SPA 202).

CLEP

The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) is another proficiency exam accepted by Tennessee Wesleyan University to give credit for the knowledge of a modern language. Students who are interested in taking this exam may find more information on the following website: <http://clep.collegeboard.org/register/exam>.

For French, a score of 50+ earns credit for FRE 101 and FRE 102 for 6 semester hours. A score of 59+ earns credit for FRE 201 and FRE 202 for 6 semester hours.

For Spanish, a score of 50+ earns credit for SPA 101 and SPA 102 for 6 semester hours. A score of 63+ earns credit for SPA 201 and SPA 202 for 6 semester hours.

Credit for Non-Collegiate Instruction

There are instances in which formal classroom instruction occurs outside the college setting. Tennessee Wesleyan University will consider granting up to 12 semester hours of credit for such work providing:

1. Formal enrollment and completion documents are presented which include course length and content.
2. The course work is applicable to a Bachelor's degree at Tennessee Wesleyan University.
3. The total credit awarded when combined with correspondence work and credit by examination does not exceed 24 semester hours.
4. The non-collegiate work may not apply toward fulfillment of the WE.

Publications such as "College Credit Recommendations" will be used in determining the awarding of credit for non-collegiate instruction. All credit awarded for non-collegiate instruction must be approved by the appropriate Department Chair as equivalent to Tennessee Wesleyan University course work.

Military Credit

Four semester hours credit in General Physical Education is granted for a minimum of two years service in the Armed Forces of the United States. Credit may also be awarded for formal service schools based on recommendations from the Office of Education Credit of the American Council on Education. A copy of the DD214 and service school records will be required before credit can be granted.

Academic Status

For the purposes of determining academic and financial aid status, students are assigned to a class according to the following number of hours they have earned:

Classification

Freshman	0-27 semester hours
Sophomore	28-59 semester hours
Junior	60-89 semester hours
Senior	90-above semester hours

Retention Standards

In order to be eligible for continued enrollment, a student must earn the minimum grade point average on all Tennessee Wesleyan University course work set forth below for the cumulative number of semester hours attempted from all course work.

Attempted Hours	Minimum GPA
0-27	1.60
28-59	1.80
60+	2.00

Academic Warning

A student who meets retention standards but fails to make 2.00 grade point average for the current term will be notified with an academic warning.

Academic Probation

A student who fails to meet retention standards during any semester or who has a grade point average of below 1.00 for the current semester will be placed on probation for the subsequent semester. A letter indicating the probationary status will be sent to the student, and an indication of the status will be placed on the student transcript. Students placed on probation will be limited to 14 semester hours and required to attend mandatory coaching coordinated with the Student Success Center.

In order to regain good academic standing, a student must bring his or her Tennessee Wesleyan University GPA up to retention standards by the end of the probationary semester. Students who fail to reach retention standards but do obtain a minimum 2.25 semester GPA for the probationary semester will be continued on probation for the next semester.

Academic Suspension

Students placed on probation who fail to bring their Tennessee Wesleyan University GPA up to retention standards and fail to obtain a minimum GPA of 2.25 for the probationary term will be suspended from the university. Students suspended for the first time may not attend for one semester, though they may attend summer school at Tennessee Wesleyan University, or online through the Online Consortium of Independent Colleges and Universities (OCICU), to attempt to raise their GPA. A second suspension requires the student to separate from Tennessee Wesleyan University for one academic year, with the exception of summer school at Tennessee Wesleyan University, or through the OCICU. A third suspension results in dismissal from the university. Tennessee Wesleyan University will accept transfer course work completed at other institutions during a period of academic suspension from the University, but will not replace a failing course taken previously at Tennessee Wesleyan University.

Once a student has served the suspension period, he or she can reapply to the university by submitting the material detailed below - no fewer than 45 days in advance of the start of the semester in which they wish to return - to the Vice President for Academic Affairs requesting reinstatement. All students reinstated to the university after a suspension period are reinstated on probation and limited to 14 semester hours and required to attend mandatory coaching coordinated with the Student Success Center.

Appeals

A student may appeal a suspension by submitting the material detailed in the list below to the Registrar's Office for review by the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee within two weeks of the suspension notification. The decision of the Enrollment and Academic Status Committee is final.

Appeal Requirements for Suspension Appeals or Reinstatement:

Required: Letter requesting appeal or readmission and addressing the following items:

1. Any circumstances that contributed to poor achievement
2. Academic plan outlining how the student plans to correct mistakes made in the past
3. Answers to the following questions:
 - a. Has the student attended mandatory coaching coordinated with the Student Success Center?
 - b. Has the student received any disciplinary actions from the Office of Student Life?

Required: Academic Suspension Allowance Form if the student is enrolling in course work at another institution during the suspension period (available through the Registrar's Office)

Required: Evidence of academic work since last full time enrollment (i.e. summer coursework)

Recommended: Any documentation the student feels is pertinent to their case

Tennessee Wesleyan University Undergraduate Degree Requirements

To receive a baccalaureate degree from Tennessee Wesleyan University, a student must:

1. Complete at least 120 semester hours of academic work, of which 30 hours must be at the 300-400 level. Some majors require more than 120 hours to complete. See major listings for details.
2. Transfer no more than a total of 60 (non-remedial/developmental) semester hours from all two-year institutions attended and a maximum of 90 semester hours combined from all two-year and four-year institutions attended.
3. Earn at least 25% (30 semester hours) of the credit hours required for the degree at TWU. For information regarding the requirement for transfer students in regard to the last 30 semester hours, please see the "Temporary Attendance At Other Colleges" section in this catalog.
4. Complete the Wesleyan Essentials or equivalent.
5. Maintain a 2.00 Tennessee Wesleyan University grade point average.
6. Complete a major area of study, as described in this catalog, with a minimum grade point average of 2.00. In calculating the grade-point average in the major, all courses taken at Tennessee Wesleyan in the major field are included.
7. To receive a second major within the same degree program, complete all the requirements for both majors. One diploma will be issued, but both majors will be noted on the permanent record.
8. For two majors that will require two degrees, students will complete all requirements for both degrees and complete a total of 148 semester hours.
9. If holding a bachelor's degree, either from another college or from Tennessee Wesleyan University, students will complete the requirements for a second degree or major as stated in the current catalog and in the case of a second degree, complete the total of 148 semester hours.
10. Choose to graduate by the requirements of the current catalog or the catalog under which the student entered provided 1) he or she has not dropped out or been suspended and 2) no more than five calendar years have elapsed.
11. File an Intent to Graduate form in the Registrar's Office at least one semester prior to the term he or she intends to graduate, and preferably the spring semester of his or her junior year.
12. Submit incomplete work by the last day of senior finals or graduation will be delayed until the next commencement.
13. Take applicable general education achievement tests and/or achievement tests in major areas.
14. Complete service requirement. This is for all full time students.

Additional Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts

For the Bachelor of Arts degree, the student must demonstrate knowledge of at least one modern language other than English at the intermediate level.* This requirement is fulfilled by completing a language course at the University numbered 202 or above or by passing a proficiency examination at the appropriate level. Students with little or no formal training in a language should note that this requirement typically entails 12 hours of a language (e.g. 101, 102, 201, 202) at the university level.

A student whose native language is not English and who is pursuing a B.A. degree may fulfill the language requirement by completing E 101, E 102, and two courses in English Literature.*

Graduating with Honors

The following cumulative averages are required for graduation with honors:

Summa Cum Laude	3.80
Magna Cum Laude	3.60
Cum Laude	3.40

Transfer students are eligible for honors provided that they meet the University's residency regulations. They must also maintain the average required for the expected honor on all work attempted at Tennessee Wesleyan University.

Students with a D or F on record (even if repeated with a higher grade or forgiven) are not eligible for Summa or Magna Cum Laude. Those students with a GPA of 3.60 or higher who have a D or F on record will graduate Cum Laude.

Graduation Ceremony/Fee

Tennessee Wesleyan University holds three commencement exercises per year at the end of the spring, summer, and fall semesters. All graduates for that academic year are expected to participate in the ceremony unless a written excuse is received by the Registrar's Office prior to the graduation ceremony. A graduation fee is assessed all graduates whether they participate in the ceremony or graduate in absentia. The University reserves the right to hold all diplomas and transcripts of students who have obligations of any kind to the University.

Assessment

Assessment Day

In order to facilitate an organized system of assessment, each fall an Assessment Day is held. On Assessment Day, all classes are cancelled between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on the main campus. The CLA+ Exam is administered throughout the day. Students are assigned test times and locations based on their credit hours completed. Additional assessments and activities may be planned for Assessment Day on an as needed basis.

Academic Achievement

At Tennessee Wesleyan University we pride ourselves on offering "the highest quality educational experience." To help ensure that we are meeting our goals, we require students to participate in a minimum of two assessments as prerequisites for graduation.

A. CLA+ (Collegiate Learning Assessment)

a. Purpose

- i. Created and administered by the Council for Aid to Education, students participate in real-world, problem-solving performance tasks to measure critical thinking. The results help the institution better understand how well students are learning these skills, providing a snapshot of proficiency, growth, and program efficacy.

b. Assessment Components

i. The Performance Task asks students to craft responses to an open-ended question about a hypothetical but realistic scenario using a library of relevant documents.

ii. 25 selected-response questions ask students to choose the best response to questions in Critical Reading and Evaluation, Scientific and Quantitative Reasoning, and Critiquing-an-Argument.

c. Participants

i. All entering, full-time freshmen must take the assessment during their first fall semester. The assessment takes approximately 90 minutes.

ii. Students also take the assessment on Assessment day when they have completed at least 76 hours of coursework. The assessment is approximately 90 minutes.

B. Testing in the Major

Each department, in conjunction with the Office of Institutional Effectiveness and the Vice President of Academic Affairs, decides the best method of assessment for the respective department. Accordingly, there are multiple measures of assessment depending on the major.

a. Major Field Test

The majority of departments at TWU administer the Major Field Test from ETS. The test is a 2 hour, computerized, multiple choice test. The test is typically given in the capstone course for each major.

b. Licensure Exams

Education

Licensure Exams are taken primarily by education and allied health majors. Education majors participate in PRAXIS exams relative to the area of concentration prior to student teaching. Additionally, all education majors are required to successfully pass the edTPA® assessment during the semester of student teaching.

Nursing

Nursing majors are required to take the NCLEX-RN that is administered by the National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN).

Dental Hygiene

Dental Hygiene majors are required to pass two boards for licensure, a written and a clinical. The National Board Dental Hygiene Exam (DBDHE) is the written board administered through the American Dental Association (ADA). Clinical exams are administered in Tennessee by the Southern Regional Testing Agency.

Occupational Therapy

Graduate-level Occupational Therapy students are required to sit for the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy Examination, which is required for state licensure to practice.

c. GRE subject tests and graduate school admissions

Some departments have opted to use GRE subject tests and graduate school admissions as an assessment of their major.

d. Internal Measures

TWU utilizes a vast array of internal measures that consist of direct and indirect data to assess student achievement. Academic departments employ traditional testing methods such as exams, presentations, and portfolios that incorporate rubric systems designed for the program. Additionally, various student surveys, such as course evaluations, senior exit surveys, and student perceptions of the university are administered and analyzed for qualitative value.

Satisfaction Surveys

Tennessee Wesleyan University is committed to improving the quality of our campus and the educational experience offered. As a result, students are strongly encouraged to participate in the following surveys when requested. Participation allows faculty and staff leaders to make informed decisions in regard to funding new projects and initiatives as well as to make positive changes based upon these data.

A. Senior Exit Survey

All students are given the opportunity to complete the Senior Exit Survey during the Grad Finale event. This survey asks students to evaluate their time at TWU and addresses topics ranging from admissions, to parking, and the Student Financial Services Office. Questions regarding individual majors are also included.

B. Alumni Survey

After graduating from the university, alumni are asked to participate in the online Alumni Survey at regular intervals. This survey allows graduates to reflect on the university experience after having spent time in graduate school or in the workforce.

C. End-of-Course Evaluations

Each semester students are asked to evaluate their current courses. This information is used by individual faculty to improve courses. Additionally the Vice President for Academic Affairs uses the results (along with other forms of evaluation) to monitor faculty instruction and aid in decisions for promotion and tenure.

D. National Survey of Student Engagement (NSSE)

Each spring, the NSSE is administered to incoming first-year and seniors in order to assess the degree to which students are engaging in and being offered effective educational practices. Data inform strategic initiatives and departmental assessment plans.

Wesleyan Essentials for Undergraduates (WE)

It is essential that all students, to become truly educated, engage in a breadth of learning experiences. Tennessee Wesleyan University's Wesleyan Essentials (WE) help to provide this breadth, as well the foundation for more specialized study in the various disciplines. The critical and creative thinking skills acquired in these courses prove invaluable not only to every major, but to every profession.

These "core" courses are required of all graduates of the University with the following stipulations:

1. Students seeking the B.A. or B.S. degree at Tennessee Wesleyan University must complete Tennessee Wesleyan University's WE or its equivalent.
2. Students who wish to be licensed to teach, regardless of major, must complete the prescribed WE requirements as detailed for the major for licensing certification. Please refer to the majors for complete details.
3. Students seeking the B.S.N. Degree at Tennessee Wesleyan University must complete the distinctive B.S.N. Degree WE.
4. Students may be required to take basic courses in mathematics and writing. Math 100 and English 100 courses count toward hours needed for full-time enrollment and as credit toward graduation but will not count toward WE credit.

Entering freshmen and transfers who have not completed the WE requirements for math must submit an ACT math sub score of 19 or better (an SAT score of 520 is equivalent) in order to enroll in college-level math courses. Students with an ACT math sub score below 19 will be placed in Essential Math (MAT 100). Successful completion of Essential Math (MAT 100) with a C grade or better will demonstrate proficiency in mathematics to allow such a student to enroll in a WE math course. Students who are required to take Essential Math should enroll in M 100 in their first semester.

Entering freshmen and transfers who have not completed the WE requirements for Composition I must submit an ACT English sub score or SAT Critical Reading score in order to enroll in Composition I (ENG 101). Students with an ACT English sub score of 18 and below or an SAT sub score below 510 in ERW - Evidence-Based Reading & Writing will enroll in English 100. To complete E 100 successfully, students must pass the class with a grade of C- or better. To ensure readiness for ENG 101, in addition to the course work, students are required to take and pass an essay exam evaluated by the department at the end of the semester. Students who are required to take Essential Composition should enroll in ENG 100 in their first semester.

All new first year and transfer students with less than 15 semester hours are required to enroll in a two-credit hour course as part of their general orientation to the academic, social and spiritual life of the university. TWU 101 provides information about available resources and will help students develop skills essential to enhancing the successful university experience. The course also provides students with an introduction to the tradition of service and leadership at the university and provides opportunities for students to participate in community engagement projects.

*Adult Education Program

Major Undergraduate Programs of Study

Each student is required to choose a major field of concentration and to complete the requirements of that major as indicated in the catalog. Students officially declare their major by completing the prescribed form in the Registrar's Office. Students should allow at least two academic years to complete the work for a major. The student who waits until the junior year to declare or change a major should expect to spend extra time satisfying the requirements.

Areas of Teacher Licensure

After obtaining a baccalaureate degree with successful completion of the university's education preparation program, initial practitioner teacher licensure is available with the following major in the following endorsement categories:

Early Childhood Education (Grades PreK-3)
Elementary Education (Grades K-5)
Secondary English (English Grades 6-12)
Secondary Biology (General Science/Biology Grades 6-12)
Secondary Chemistry (General Science/Chemistry Grades 6-12)
Secondary History (History Grades 6-12)
Secondary Mathematics (Mathematics Grades 6-12)
Music Education (Vocal/General Grades K-12)
Physical Education (Physical Education Grades K-12)
Special Education (Interventionist K-8)

Dental Hygiene Licensure

After obtaining a baccalaureate degree in dental hygiene, dental hygiene licensure is acquired upon successful completion of the written National Board Dental Hygiene Exam, a state or regional clinical board, and application for licensure in the state where licensure is sought. A felony conviction or citizenship/residency status may preclude obtaining licensure as a dental hygienist. Advice should be sought prior to application.

Nursing Licensure

After obtaining a baccalaureate degree in nursing, registered nurse (RN) licensure is acquired upon application for licensure in the state where licensure is sought and successful completion of the written National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN). A felony conviction or citizenship/residency status may preclude obtaining licensure as an RN. Advice should be sought prior to application.

Social Work Licensure

Upon graduation, students are eligible to apply for a state exam through each state's regulatory board and accrediting agencies. Upon the successful completion of the exam a student will become a Licensed Bachelor Social Worker (LBSW).

School Social Work Licensure

The Tennessee Wesleyan University Social Work Program offers the opportunity for State of Tennessee School Social Work Licensure to currently enrolled social work students as well as persons who currently hold a bachelor's degree in Social Work from a program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE).

The requirements to be certified for licensure through the Tennessee Wesleyan University Social Work Program include the completion of the required SWK 321 School Social Work class, 400 hours of field hours in a school setting OR two years post-graduate work with children and families and hold a BSW from a CSWE accredited Social Work Program. In collaboration with the Tennessee Wesleyan University's Education Department, the Social Work Program will certify applicants for the State of Tennessee School Social Work License.

Contact socialwork@tnwesleyan.edu for more information on the Social Work licensures.

Pre-Professional Studies

Tennessee Wesleyan University offers programs of study for students interested in attending professional school following graduation in medicine, pharmacy, dentistry, veterinary medicine, etc. Because undergraduate requirements for admission to various medically related programs differ according to the program and to the professional school, the student and the advisor will determine whether to adopt a single-area major (for example, Chemistry or Biology) with a pre-professional emphasis or design one especially for the student. Thus, a student planning a career in one of the professions should identify his or her goal as early as possible to their academic advisor. Specific degree programs in Pre-Occupational Therapy and Pre-Physical Therapy are available through the Health and Human Performance Department at TWU.

TWU Honors Program: Citizenship and the Common Good

In the best tradition of the liberal arts, the TWU Honors Program will prepare students to transform the best of their educational experience to live out a positive role in the global community. The program is designed to challenge high performing students with questions such as: What is the responsibility implicit in being a citizen in your local, national, and global community? Should those who have the benefit of higher education be expected to be special contributors to making their communities and world a better, more humane place? Do the ideas surrounding the common good in communities and nations differ, and have they even evolved over the course of human history? Are they shaped by citizens' ethnicity and cultural context? Hence, the Honors Program will include a particular interest in diversity in our increasingly complex and globalized world.

The Program of Study:

HON 101	The Problems and Promises of Citizenship	3 s.h.
HON 102	The Common Good	3 s.h.

Major Problems in Citizenship and The Common Good Electives 6 s.h.

Honors Elective: Choose one of the following: 3 s.h.

FRE 304	Introduction to French and Francophone Literature
HIS 266	Civil Rights Movement Biography
ENG 237	Discovering Post-Colonial Literature
HIS 249	The Holocaust
SOC 301	Race and Ethnicity

HON 451 Honors Capstone Seminar 3 s.h.

Honors students are selected via competitive application from incoming or current freshman students who have a high school GPA of 3.25 or higher with demonstrated interest in Citizenship and the Common Good. Applications are available from the TWU Admissions Office or the Honors Program Director.

THE MAJORS

BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE

This major enables students to gain a general understanding of human behavior along with a significant academic exposure to two selected areas of concentration in behavioral science disciplines. The major serves as pre-professional preparation and allows students to gain competence through study of subjects which complement their personal educational goals.

The design for this major allows students to elect either a B.A. or B.S. degree format. Both degrees share common Core Requirements. A unique feature of this major program is the options available to the student in the choice of two areas of emphasis from a group of six. A student's academic advisor will assist in the evaluation of the respective areas of emphasis, which include Criminal Justice, Social Work, Interdisciplinary Gender Studies, Legal Studies, Psychology, and Sociology.

Requirements for the Major in Behavioral Science, B.A. or B.S. degree option:
(49-51 s.h.)

Core (18 s.h. consisting of the following)

PSY 101	Introduction to Psychology	3 s.h.
SOC 101	Introduction to Sociology	3 s.h.
CJS 211	Introduction to Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
SWK 231	Introduction to Social Work	3 s.h.
SOC 204	Social Problems or
PSY/SOC 261	Social Psychology	3 s.h.
PSY/SOC 270	Social Research Methods or
PSY 412	Advanced Research Methods (note prerequisite PSY/SOC 270)	3 s.h.

Degree Option

For a B.A. degree, student must demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language at the intermediate (202) level.

For a B.S. degree, student must take two (2) of the following courses

BUS 218	Introduction to Microcomputer Applications	3 s.h.
POL 101	Introduction to Political Science	3 s.h.
POL 102	American Government & Politics	3 s.h.

Areas of Emphasis (Must complete two areas with a minimum of 12 s.h. in each area)

Criminal Justice

CJS 321	Ethics in Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 331	Criminology	3 s.h.
CJS Electives	in Criminal Justice	6 s.h.

Interdisciplinary Gender Studies

CJS 341	Women and Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
SWK 341	Family Systems	3 s.h.
SOC 312	Gender and Society	3 s.h.
Topics Course	related to Gender	3 s.h.

Legal Studies

LAW 200 Legal Administration	3 s.h.
LAW 210 Legal Research and Writing	3 s.h.
LAW 300 Law of Torts	3 s.h.
LAW 400 Law of Contracts	3 s.h.

Psychology

PSY 311 Abnormal Psychology	3 s.h.
PSY 321 Theories of Personality	3 s.h.
PSY Upper-Division Electives	6 s.h.

Social Work

SWK 333 Interviewing Skills and the Helping Relationship	3 s.h.
SWK 434 Social Work Practice I: Individuals and Families	3 s.h.
SWK Electives	6 s.h.

Sociology

SOC 301 Racial Ethnicity	3 s.h.
SOC 321 Social Movements and Change	3 s.h.
SOC Electives (at least 3 hours of which must be upper division)	6 s.h.

BIOLOGY

The major in Biology is designed to increase the students' appreciation of the diversity and complexity of life; increase their understanding of the unifying principles and subject content of Biology; and introduce them to Biology's personal, social, and ethical aspects. The Department of Natural Sciences, which administers the major in Biology, strives to develop students' basic skills in critical thinking, problem solving, and communications.

The emphasis in General Biology is designed to prepare students for graduate education in the biological sciences or employment in government, industry, or education. Students may also select the curriculum because its broad approach can result in an educated view of the structure and function of living things and, from that, the world at large.

The emphasis in Pre-Professional Studies is designed to provide students with a foundation in the sciences that should prepare them to apply to a professional school in the health field (dentistry, medicine, optometry, pharmacy, veterinary medicine, etc.)

The Environmental Science emphasis focuses on the application of biological, chemical, and physical concepts to the study of the environment and solutions to environmental problems. It prepares students for employment in the field for graduate education in areas such as environmental studies, environmental management, and sustainability.

Tennessee Wesleyan University is affiliated with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory of the University of Southern Mississippi located in Ocean Springs, Mississippi. This program allows students to enroll for credit in summer or January courses offered by GCRL. Students who may be interested in this program should speak to their advisor for more information.

Students may pursue either the B.A. or B.S. in the General Biology emphasis. In addition to the required courses in Biology, the B.A. requires the student to demonstrate knowledge of at least one modern language at the intermediate level. The B.S. is offered in the Pre-Professional Studies and Environmental Science emphases.

The core requirements for the B.A. or B.S. in Biology:

BIO 180, 181	General Biology I: The Unity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 182, 183	General Biology II: The Diversity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.

Choose two of the following:

BIO 230, 231	General Botany with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 236, 237	General Zoology with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 264, 265	General Microbiology with Laboratory	4 s.h.

BIO 276, 277	Principles of Genetics with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 360, 361	Principles of Ecology with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 481	Seminar in Biology I	1 s.h.
BIO 482	Seminar in Biology II	2 s.h.
CHE 150, 151, CHE 152, 153	General Chemistry I and II with Laboratory	8 s.h.
CHE 220, 221,	Organic Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
PHY 232, 233	General Physics I with Laboratory or
PHY 262, 263	University Physics I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
MAT 141 and MAT 142	Precalculus Mathematics I and II or
MAT 181	Calculus I	4-6 s.h.

Requirements for the General Biology Emphasis:

BIO 308, 309	Plant Anatomy and Taxonomy with Laboratory or
BIO 410, 411	Plant Physiology with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 382, 383	Vertebrate Anatomy and Development with Laboratory or
BIO 472, 473	Animal Physiology with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 450	Evolutionary Biology	3 s.h.
BIO 460, 461	Advanced Cell Biology with Laboratory or

CHE 222, 223	Organic Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
PHY 234, 235	General Physics II with Laboratory or
PHY 264, 265	University Physics II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
Natural Science Elective at the 300-400 level*
*(this may be satisfied with KNS 370/371, PSY 331, or courses taken at GCRL)		2-5 s.h.

Requirements for the Pre-Professional Emphasis:

BIO/CHE 280	Seminar in Pre-Professional Studies	1 s.h.
BIO 450	Evolutionary Biology	3 s.h.
BIO 460, 461	Advanced Cell Biology with Laboratory or
BIO 464, 465	Molecular Biology with Laboratory	4 s.h.

Choose two of the following:

BIO 382, 383	Vertebrate Anatomy and Development with Laboratory	4 s.h.

PHY 234, 235	General Physics with Laboratory or
PHY 264, 265	University Physics II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
Natural Science Elective at the 300-400 level*
*(this may be satisfied with KNS 370/371, PSY 331 or courses taken at GCRL)		2-4 s.h.

Requirements for the Environmental Science Emphasis:

Biology Electives at the 300-400 level	6-8 s.h.
ENV 150, 151 Environmental Science with Laboratory	4 s.h.
ENV 250 Water Resources	3 s.h.
ENV 350 Land Use and Environment	3 s.h.
ENV 450 Environmental Toxicology	3 s.h.
ENV 490 Research/Internship	3 s.h.

BIOLOGY MINOR

A minor is a student's secondary academic discipline. As such, a minor in Biology would allow a student some specific specialization in the field to prepare for graduate or professional schools or for employment. Or this minor can allow a student to pursue a personal interest in Biology.

Requirements for the Minor in Biology (20 s.h.)

BIO 180, 181 General Biology I: The Unity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 182, 183 General Biology II: The Diversity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
Any additional 12 s.h. in Biology at or above the 200 level	12 s.h.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

This program is designed to provide an intensive exposure to the fundamentals of business administration within a liberal arts environment. All students are required to complete the core of 36 semester hours and at least one emphasis. Additional areas of emphasis, while broadening the student's exposure, may result in hours in excess of the 120 hours required to graduate.

Minors in Business Administration, Business Administration (Pre-MBA track), and Entrepreneurship are available to majors outside the Business Administration area. The Entrepreneurship minor is also available to business majors.

Requirements for the B.S. in Business Administration Core Requirements (36 s.h.):

BUS 201, 202	Principles of Accounting I, II	6 s.h.
BUS 218	Introduction to Microcomputer Applications	3 s.h.
BUS 221	Legal Environment of Business	3 s.h.
BUS 251	Principles of Macroeconomics	3 s.h.
BUS 252	Principles of Microeconomics	3 s.h.
BUS 300	Business Statistics	3 s.h.
BUS 315	Business Communications	3 s.h.

Management Excellence Adult Studies Program

The Bachelor of Science program in Management provides educational opportunities for working adult students who desire to study management with a relevant application link to their working environments.

For information pertaining to class requirements, please view the Management Excellence section in this catalog under the Adult Studies section.

Pre-MBA 4+1 program:

Current TWU students are eligible to apply for an accelerated MBA 4+1 program. This program will allow students to enroll in MBA coursework before completion of their TWU bachelor's degree. No MBA courses will apply to the 120 undergraduate hours needed for graduation with a bachelor's degree.

For more information pertaining to this program, please view the MBA graduate section of this catalog.

CHEMISTRY

As a major in Chemistry a student is afforded an education that attempts to impart scientific competence, knowledge of scientific methodology and an understanding of the relationship of science to society. The Department of Natural Sciences, which administers the Chemistry major, strives to develop the students' basic skills in critical thinking, problem solving, and communications.

The General Chemistry emphasis prepares a student for a wide variety of options such as graduate education in the fields of chemistry, biology, chemical engineering, or environmental science; or employment in government, industry, research, or education.

The Pre-Professional emphasis is designed to provide students with a foundation in the sciences that should prepare them to apply to a professional school in the health field (dentistry, medicine, optometry, pharmacy, veterinary, etc.).

The Environmental Science emphasis focuses on the application of chemical and physical concepts to the study of the environment and solutions to environmental problems. It prepares students for employment in the field or for graduate education in areas such as environmental studies, environmental management, and sustainability.

The major in Chemistry requires the successful completion of 42 to 43 semester hours in Chemistry, 8 semester hours in Physics, and 8 semester hours in Calculus. The B.A. requires the student to demonstrate knowledge of at least one foreign language at the intermediate level. The B.S. is also offered with a Pre-Professional Studies and Environmental Science emphases.

The core requirements for the B.A. or B.S. in Chemistry: (48 s.h.)

CHE 150, 151	General Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 152, 153	General Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 220, 221	Organic Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 222, 223	Organic Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 330, 331	Quantitative Analysis with Laboratory	5 s.h.
CHE 332, 333	Instrumental Analysis with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 362, 363	Biochemistry with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 481	Seminar in Chemistry I	1 s.h.
CHE 482	Seminar in Chemistry II	2 s.h.
PHY 262, 263, PHY 264, 265	University Physics I and II with Laboratory	8 s.h.
MAT 181, MAT 182	Calculus I and II	8 s.h.

Requirements for the General Chemistry Emphasis: (11 s.h.)

CHE 350	Inorganic Chemistry	3 s.h.
CHE 430, 431	Physical Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 432, 433	Physical Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.

Requirements for the Pre-Professional Emphasis (20 s.h.):

Choose two of the following:

CHE 350	Inorganic Chemistry	3 s.h.
CHE 430, 431	Physical Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 432, 433	Physical Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 180, 181	General Biology I: The Unity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 182, 183	General Biology II: The Diversity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO/CHE 280	Seminar in Pre-Professional Studies	1 s.h.

Requirements for the Environmental Science Emphasis: (28 s.h.)

CHE 430 / 431	Physical Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 180, 181	General Biology I: The Unity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
BIO 182, 183	General Biology II: The Diversity of Life with Laboratory	4 s.h.
ENV 150, 151	Environmental Science with Laboratory	4 s.h.
ENV 250	Water Resources	3 s.h.
ENV 350	Land Use and Environment	3 s.h.
ENV 450	Environmental Toxicology	3 s.h.
ENV 498	Research/Internship	3 s.h.

CHEMISTRY MINOR (20 s.h.)

A minor in Chemistry would allow a student some specific specialization in the field to prepare for graduate or professional schools or for employment. Or this minor can allow a student to pursue a personal interest in Chemistry.

Requirements for the Minor in Chemistry

CHE 150, 151	General Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 152, 153	General Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
Any additional 12 s.h. in Chemistry at or above the 200 level		12 s.h.

PHYSICS MINOR (21 s.h.)

A minor in Physics would allow a student some specific specialization in the field to prepare for graduate or professional schools or for employment. Or this minor can allow a student to pursue a personal interest in Physics.

Requirements for the Minor in Physics

PHY 262, 263	University Physics I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
PHY 264, 265	University Physics II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
PHY 362	Modern Physics	4 s.h.
Plus at least 9 s.h. from:
CHE 430, 431	Physical Chemistry I with Laboratory	4 s.h.
CHE 432, 433	Physical Chemistry II with Laboratory	4 s.h.
ENR 201	Statistics	3 s.h.
ENR 202	Dynamics	3 s.h.
MAT 371	Ordinary Differential Equations	3 s.h.
MAT 431	Numerical Analysis	3 s.h.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES

The Communication Studies major provides a broad range of academic courses as well as practical experiences that address the skills and knowledge needed to succeed in a rapidly changing, dynamic field. Students choose between two emphases: Communication Studies and Digital Marketing. The program features instruction in disciplines including public relations, journalism, media production, digital marketing, and more, providing an excellent foundation for continued graduate studies.

Focal points of the program include a variety of communication-media outcomes such as written, spoken, visual, audio, print, photographic, electronic, graphic design, digital, broadcast, social, web-based, narrative-film and emerging applications. Practical application courses as well as internships allow students to gain valuable, first-hand experiences while engaging in supervised workplace settings.

Upon Graduation students will be able to: 1) achieve a higher degree of media literacy, 2) become more proficient in adapting and applying communication-related skills and technologies, 3) develop and produce communication media in current as well as newer, emerging forms, 4) enable students to research, analyze and apply the outcomes of communication knowledge, media and skills to better understand and have an impact on society.

Core Requirements (28 s.h.):

COM 100	Understanding Human Communication	3 s.h.
COM 200	Intro to Digital Media	3 s.h.
COM 260	Copy Writing for Media	3 s.h.
COM 300	Communication Practicum	1 s.h.

COM 440	Communication Law	3 s.h.
COM 460	Communication Internship	3 s.h.
COM 480	Communication Senior Seminar	3 s.h.

Requirements for the emphasis in Communication Studies (15 s.h.):

COM 220	Intro to Journalism	3 s.h.
COM 240	Prin. of Public Relations	3 s.h.
COM 360	Basic Audio	3 s.h.
COM 380	Basic TV Production	3 s.h.
COM 420	Multi-Media Journalism	3 s.h.

Requirements for the emphasis in Digital Marketing (18 s.h.):

ART 106	Introduction to Graphic Design	3 s.h.
BUS 341	Integrated Marketing Communications	3 s.h.
BUS 481	Retail and E-Marketing	3 s.h.
BUS 488	Web Analytics	3 s.h.
COM 350	Social Media and Communication	3 s.h.
COM 375	Web Content Design	3 s.h.

Requirements for a minor in Communication Studies (18 hours total):

COM 100, COM 200 for 6 s.h. and select 12 s.h. from the following:

ART 106	Introduction to Graphic Design	3 s.h.
COM 220	Intro to Journalism	3 s.h.
COM 240	Prin. of Public Relations	3 s.h.
COM 320	Basic Digital Photography	3 s.h.
COM 340	Understanding Film	3 s.h.
COM 360	Basic Audio	3 s.h.
COM 380	Basic TV Production	3 s.h.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The Criminal Justice major is designed to provide students with a curriculum grounded in a foundation of liberal arts, behavioral science, and a broad knowledge of criminal justice with a strong emphasis on ethical decision-making. The degree prepares students for entry-level positions in criminal justice and for graduate study in many criminal justice-related fields. Academic study is complemented by a criminal justice internship opportunity that provides practical experience in, and knowledge of, criminal justice agencies and organizations in the community.

Requirements for the major in Criminal Justice (42 s.h.):

CJS 211	Introduction to Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 321	Ethics in Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 331	Criminology	3 s.h.
CJS 333	Corrections in America or
CJS 341	Women and Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 421	Theory of Criminal Law	3 s.h.
CJS 431	Constitutional Law	3 s.h.
CJS 460r	Internship in Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 471	Criminal Justice Senior Seminar	3 s.h.
PSY 101	Introduction to Psychology	3 s.h.
SOC 101	Introduction to Sociology	3 s.h.

PSY/SOC 270	Social Research Methods	3 s.h.
SOC 301	Race and Ethnicity	3 s.h.
SOC/PSY 261	Social Psychology or
SWK 333	Interviewing Skills	3 s.h.

Forensic Science Emphasis (9 s.h.):

CJS 371	Crime Scene Forensics	3 s.h.
CJS 375	Drugs and Crime	3 s.h.
CJS 441	Trial Practice and Evidence	3 s.h.

Requirements for a minor in Criminal Justice (18 s.h.) distributed as follows:

CJS 211	Introduction to Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 321	Ethics in Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 331	Criminology	3 s.h.
CJS Electives		9 s.h.

Requirements for a minor in Legal Studies (18 s.h.):

CJS 211	Introduction to Criminal Justice	3 s.h.
CJS 441	Trial Practice and Evidence	3 s.h.
LAW 200	Legal Administration	3 s.h.
LAW 210	Legal Research and Writing	3 s.h.
LAW 300	Law of Torts	3 s.h.

Professional Leadership in Criminal Justice

The Bachelor of Science program for Professional Leadership in Criminal Justice provides educational opportunities for working adult students who desire to study a program with a relevant application link to their working environment.

For information pertaining to class requirements, please view the Professional Leadership in Criminal Justice section in this catalog under the Adult Studies section.

DENTAL HYGIENE

The TWU Dental Hygiene program is designed for graduates to receive an entry level Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene upon completion of two years of pre-professional general education and two years of the dental hygiene curriculum. Two years of pre-professional course work must be completed prior to admission into the dental hygiene program. Prerequisite science courses must be completed within 5 years prior to admission into the program. The dental hygiene program consists of (8) 16-week semesters and (1) 8-week summer term.

Requirements for Admission:

Applicants to the TWU Dental Hygiene program must:

Apply to the Dental Hygiene program via the Dental Hygiene Central Application Service (DHCAS).

Complete all prerequisite course work with a grade of “C” or better.

Meet the minimum GPA of 2.5 (a 3.0 or higher in prerequisite courses is considered competitive).

Applicant Selection:

Admission to the Dental Hygiene program is selective. It is Tennessee Wesleyan University’s goal to prepare graduates who are highly competent, ethical hygienists who exhibit high standards of professionalism with patients. In order to achieve our program goals, admission criteria have been established to evaluate applicants as to their suitability for a career in dental hygiene.

Points will be awarded to applicants for successful completion of college coursework and GPA.

Applicants are scored and ranked according to cumulative points.

Students who are enrolled in the general education program at Tennessee Wesleyan University will be given priority, assuming they meet academic qualifications.

The top applicants are invited to interview with the Dental Hygiene Admissions Committee.

Alternate status does not guarantee a position in the next entering class.

Students who are not admitted must reapply each year.

Program Information

The dental hygiene curriculum is competency-based clinically. The student must maintain a satisfactory clinical performance and at least a 75% in each DH course. Any grade below a 74.4 is recorded as an F. A student who withdraws from the program for any reason must apply for readmission. The student applying for readmission is NOT guaranteed a position in the next entering class. Except for the most extenuating circumstances, the student can apply for readmission only once. Upon the successful completion of the dental hygiene program with a GPA of 2.5 or better, the student will be awarded the degree Bachelor of Science in dental hygiene. The student must then take the National Board Dental Hygiene Examination, the state or regional board, and apply for licensure in the state where she/he will practice. Graduation from the dental hygiene program and receipt of the degree do not guarantee the student will successfully pass the national board and/or state/regional board.

Program Outcomes

1. The dental hygiene graduate will be competent in applying ethical, legal and regulatory concepts in the provision and/or support of oral health care services.
2. The dental hygiene graduate will be competent in critical thinking and problem solving related to comprehensive care and management of patients.
3. The dental hygiene graduate will be competent in interpersonal and communication skills to effectively interact with diverse population groups.
4. The dental hygiene graduate will be competent in assessing, planning, implementing and evaluating community based oral health programs including health promotion and disease prevention activities.
5. The dental hygiene graduate will be competent in providing oral health care to individuals at all stages of life and for all periodontal classifications.
6. The dental hygiene graduate will demonstrate competent knowledge and self-assessment skills necessary for life-long learning.

The TWU Dental Hygiene Program holds full accreditation status from the Commission on Dental Accreditation (CODA) of the American Dental Association –a specialized accrediting body recognized by the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation of the U. S. Department of Education. The Commission on Dental Accreditation can be contacted at (312) 440-4653 or at 211 East Chicago Ave., Chicago, IL 60611.

EDUCATION

The Bachelor of Science in Education (BS) degree provides initial practitioner teacher licensure through undergraduate-level study. The BS is offered with a semester-long student teaching pathway. The BS concentrations are Early Childhood Education (PreK-3), Elementary Education (K-5), Music Education (Vocal/General K-12), Physical Education (K-12), Secondary Biology (6-12), Secondary Chemistry (6-12), Secondary English (6-12), Secondary History (6-12), Secondary Math (6-12), and Special Education (Interventionist K-8).

TWU Department of Education Theoretical Framework

The Tennessee Wesleyan University Department of Education aims to promote and instill teaching as a mission, profession, and craft. Teaching is a mission of service and leadership with knowledge, skills, and dispositions. Teaching is a profession of collaboration with learning communities and reflection with systematic practice. Teaching is a craft of planning with a commitment to students and learning, of instruction with subject knowledge and subject skills, and assessment with management and monitoring of learning. The Bachelor of Science in Education (BS) program at Tennessee Wesleyan University is consistent with the mission of the Tennessee Wesleyan Education Department and the university.

The BS follows the TWU Department of Education Program Learning Outcomes. Program Learning Outcomes are used to track candidate performance across three levels of BS coursework. The Program Learning Outcomes are aligned to the Five Core Propositions of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. BS graduates will be able to Plan, Instruct, Assess, Collaborate, and Reflect. The Five BS Program Learning Outcomes are:

- I. Planning: Candidates Demonstrate a Commit to Students and Their Learning
- II. Instruction: Candidates Articulate Knowledge in the Subjects They Teach and Demonstrate How to Teach Those Subjects to Students
- III. Assessment: Candidates Demonstrate Responsibility for Managing and Monitoring Student Learning
- IV. Collaboration: Candidates Demonstrate Participation as Members of Learning Communities
- V. Reflection: Candidates Demonstrate Reflective Practices and Identify Learning from Experience.

Admission Requirements for the Three Levels of the Bachelor of Science in Education (BS)

Level I: Pre-Teacher Education Program

The student must be approved for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan University. To gain formal admission to Level II, the student will need to meet the following requirements.

The student will enroll in Introduction to Psychology (PSY101) and Introduction to Teaching (ED110). At the start of Introduction to Teaching (EDU110) each student must complete a satisfactory background check or complete a satisfactory background check through advising for transfer students. As part of Introduction to Teaching (EDU110), the student will begin a portfolio of the Departmental PLO's. A key assessment for PLO V (Reflection) is included in Introduction to Teaching (EDU110). The student will successfully complete Cultural Geography for Teachers (EDU225), a key assessment for PLO I (Planning) and PLO IV (Collaboration) are included Cultural Geogropahy for Teachers (EDU225). Following completion of Introduction to Teaching (EDU110), the student will successfully complete Instructional Technology (EDU230), a key assessment for PLO I (Planning) is included in Instructional Technology (EDU230). Following completion of Introduction to Teaching (EDU110) and Introduction to Psychology (PSY101), the student will enroll in Educational Psychology (EDU201), a key assessment for PLO II (Instruction) and PLO III (Assessment) are included in Educational Psychology (EDU201). Key assessments may also be completed through advising for transfer students. All of these courses must be taken prior to admissions to Level II. The student must meet the admissions required grade point averages of a minimum 2.75 GPA or above overall grade point average, a minimum 2.50 or above major grade point average, and a minimum 2.75 or above professional grade point average.

The student must have met one of the following test requirements. Passing scores on all three sections of the Core Academic Skills for Educators test (current passing scores: Reading-156, Mathematics-150, and writing-162), or have an Enhanced ACT composite score of 21 or above, or have a combined verbal or math score of 1080 or above on the Enhanced SAT. The student is exempt from the Core Academic Skills for Educators test if a composite score of 21 or above was achieved on the Enhanced ACT or a combined verbal and mathematics score of 1080 was attained on the Enhanced SAT. The Core Academics Skills Test for Educators, or the ACT or the SAT must be taken while the student is enrolled in Educational Psychology (EDU 201) when the student has not taken or not passed one of the required tests. Transfer students who have not taken and passed the exam prior to transferring should take one of these tests their first semester at Tennessee Wesleyan University.

The student must meet the admissions required grade point averages of a minimum 2.75 or above overall grade point average, a minimum 2.50 or above major grade point average, and a minimum 2.75 or above professional grade point average. The student must receive three positive recommendations from Tennessee Wesleyan University faculty. One member will be the student's advisor. One member will be familiar with the most recent academic performance in Level I education courses. And one member will be familiar the most recent academic performance in non-education courses. These members of the faculty will serve as the applicant's Level II recommendation committee. In order to meet the recommendation requirement for admission to Level II, the student must receive a total of three positive recommendations from the recommendation committee. These members of the faculty will serve as the applicant's Teacher Education Program recommendation committee. The Teacher Education Program will request that each member of the recommendation committee complete a written recommendation (form) on behalf of the applicant.

An interview committee composed of Tennessee Wesleyan faculty will interview the candidate. A Local Educator Association (LEA) partner will participate in the admissions interviews. In order to meet the interview requirement for admission to Level II, the student must receive a total of three positive recommendations from the interview committee. After the interview, the student will receive written notice informing them of the results of their interview regarding their admissions status.

A Summary of the Level II Admission Requirements:

- Complete Introduction to Teaching (ED110)
- Complete a satisfactory background check
- Begin a professional portfolio using Departmental PLO's
- Complete a satisfactory key assessment for PLO V (Reflection)
- Complete Educational Psychology (ED201)
- Complete satisfactory key assessments for PLO II (Instruction) and PLO III (Assessment)
- Complete Cultural Geography for Teachers (ED225)
- Complete satisfactory key assessments for PLO I (Planning) and PLO IV (Collaboration)
- Complete Instructional Technology (ED230)
- Complete a satisfactory key assessment for PLO I (Planning)
- Obtain TN State Dept. of Education qualifying scores on one of the required tests (ACT, SAT, or CASE)
- Complete major coursework maintaining a GPA of 2.5, professional coursework maintaining a GPA of 2.75, and an overall GPA of 2.75.
- Obtain three faculty recommendations for Level II: Teacher Education Program
- Complete an application for Level II: Teacher Education Program
- Complete an Interview for Level II: Teacher Education Program

Disposition Policy

Dispositions are positive attitudes, values, ethics, and behaviors which support student learning. Education course work, field experience and student teaching provide an important opportunity for the candidate to demonstrate their dispositions. Tennessee Wesleyan University education candidates will become aware of the expectations associated with the dispositions from the start of their initial education course (EDU110 Introduction to Teaching) or through advising for transfer students to completion of the program.

A deficiency disposition form should be completed if a situation or pattern of situations arise where a teacher candidate fails to meet one or more dispositions. This form may be completed by a TWU education instructor, mentoring teacher, a student teaching supervisor, principal, or school administrator.

A meeting will be held with the candidate in order to inform them of the deficiency. The deficiency will be documented along with a plan for remediation and follow-up. The reporting party and the candidate will sign and date this form. The candidate will receive a signed copy of this form. A copy of the dispositional deficiency form will be placed in the candidate's Teacher Education Program file. A student who receives three dispositions will be placed on probation for a semester or removed from Levels II and III.

Level II: Teacher Education Program

To gain formal admission to Level III: Student Teaching, the student will need to meet the following requirements.

- Complete major coursework maintaining a GPA of 2.50, professional coursework maintaining a GPA of 2.75, and an overall GPA of 2.75.
- Complete clinical experiences with satisfactory recommendations from both cooperating teachers and university supervisors.
- Complete key assessments in professional coursework for PLO's I-V in the professional portfolio.
- Pass required PRAXIS content area examination(s) for the candidate's content area.
- Obtain three faculty recommendations for Level III: Student Teaching
- Complete an application for Level III: Student Teaching.

Provisional Enroll to Level II Courses

Policy- for Provisional enrollment in professional education courses:

- The candidate must have met the Tennessee qualifying scores on at least two sections of the Core Academics Skills Test for Educators.
- The test section not passed must be taken twice before requesting a provisional enrollment.
- The candidate's overall grade point average must be a minimum 3.0.
- The candidate is required to participate in peer tutoring in the tutoring center.
- All other TEP admissions requirements must be met.
- The course provisional enrollment must be filed before the last day to add a course.

Process- for Provisional Enrollment in professional education courses:

- In a typewritten letter, the candidate should explain why he or she should be provisionally enrolled. The candidate must present evidence of academic ability, teaching capability, and a plan outlining corrective action to meet the Tennessee qualifying test score requirement.

- A faculty committee will review the candidate's plan and make the final determination. The candidate will receive a written copy of the committee's approved Plan of Corrective Action.
- The candidate must meet all requirements set forth in the approved Plan of Corrective Action prior to student teaching.
- The candidate will apply to the Teacher Education Program upon meeting the Tennessee qualifying scores for all three sections of the Core Academics Skills Test, or ACT, or SAT.

Level III: Clinical Practice - Student Teaching

An Intent to Graduate should be filed, by the student, in the Registrar's Office by the last semester of his or her junior year. Clinical practice applications should be submitted no later than the first week of classes and one semester prior to his or her anticipated student teaching. Placement will be made by the end of November for spring student teachers and by the end of April for fall student teachers. Prospective student teachers will attend a mandatory meeting one semester prior to their clinical practice. Placements will not be made for any students who do not meet all student teaching requirements.

In order to student teach, the student must be admitted to the Teacher Education Program and be in good standing. The student must have a 2.75 minimum or above overall grade point average, a 2.5 minimum or above grade point average in the major(s), and a 2.75 minimum or above grade point average in the professional education core. The student must have passed all the Praxis exams for his or her area of certification as well as passed ED 474 Student Teaching Seminar I prior to clinical practice. The student teacher must be enrolled in Student Teaching Seminar (EDU 475) along with one of the appropriate directed teaching course EDU 440, EDU 445, EDU 447, EDU 455, or EDU 460.

All other courses should be completed prior to clinical practice. The student may enroll in one non-education course while student teaching. The course cannot be during placement school hours since it cannot interfere with the student teaching experience.

The clinical practice experience will include two teaching assignments at two different grade levels and two different schools. Student teachers will report to their school on the first day of the assigned school term and will have a minimum fifteen-week, full-day classroom experience in the two schools. The student teacher will be assigned to a clinical mentor (classroom teacher) and a Clinical Practice Supervisor who will serve as supervisory personnel at each student teaching site. The Clinical Practice Supervisor will visit the candidate on a regular basis throughout the student teaching experience. The student will be observed in accordance with the TN State Dept. of Education teacher evaluation system.

The student teacher will receive an electronic copy of their Clinical Practice Handbook via their Tennessee Wesleyan student email account. The handbook provides information needed to successfully complete the student teaching experience. It will be the student's responsibility to provide the cooperating teacher with an electronic copy of the Clinical Practice Handbook. All student teachers must attend a weekly seminar.

Teacher Portfolio Requirement

Each student in the teacher certification programs at Tennessee Wesleyan University will develop an electronic professional portfolio which documents growth as a teacher candidate with the five departmental PLO's. The portfolio will serve as one of the forms for assessing progress in and successful completion of teacher licensure. Students are expected to take responsibility for developing and maintaining the portfolio, which will be reviewed for acceptance to Level II, Level III, and teacher licensure. Students will be given assignments in each professional education course that may be used to demonstrate the knowledge, skills, and dispositions that have been acquired. The portfolios will provide a record of qualitative and quantitative growth during the student's university experience. Student teaching will present their portfolios as part of the capstone seminar. Students may also present their work during mock interviews and to faculty and peers.

Students are also expected to reflect on those artifacts and the work represented. Student teaching supervisors will review the final portfolios as part of the capstone seminar. Students may also present their work during mock interviews and to faculty and peers.

Policy for edTPA®

Successful completion of edTPA® is a Tennessee Department of Education Office of Teacher Licensure requirement. TWU requires a passing score of 42 or above for successful completion of EDU 475 Student Teaching Seminar, which is required for graduation. The TDOE requires a passing score for teacher licensure. A passing score is a composite of three tasks (planning, instruction, and assessment). In the event a TWU teacher candidate receives a composite score below passing, one of the following steps will be taken:

1. All teacher candidates will schedule a meeting with the edTPA® coordinator to view their score report and decide a course of action.
2. If appropriate, the teacher candidate will complete immediate revisions and resubmission to Pearson within a timeframe established by the edTPA® coordinator. The coordinator will resubmit the portfolio by Pearson's designated window for returns prior to graduation. If the scores do not come back prior to graduation, the student will receive a grade of incomplete for EDU 475 Seminar. If this occurs, the student will not graduate. The grade will remain an incomplete until the student receives the new score. If the return score is received after graduation and is a passing score, the certification officer will notify all appropriate offices for the student indicating the student has successfully completed the course and met the graduation requirement as well as the state required assessments. The student would have his/her diploma issued for the original term in which he/she planned to graduate but would not have participated in the commencement ceremony.

Note: This is only if the revisions were submitted during the expected graduation term.

3. If it is determined that the edTPA® portfolio is in need of significant revisions or must be done completely anew:

- Students will be given the opportunity to graduate without licensure and not seek TWU's additional support for resubmission. Students will be required to sign an official document of this decision. This decision will involve graduation without obtaining licensure while under TWU's supervision.
- Students may choose to enroll in EDU 475 Seminar and the appropriate education student teaching course again for the following semester and repeat the edTPA® portfolio process. Any student who chooses this option must be aware of financial aid regulations for courses in which he/she enrolls.

Situations and various influences may necessitate the need to specifically address individual candidate's unique circumstances and the edTPA® requirements. The Teacher Education Program retains the right to consider each situation in a manner best suited to support the teacher candidate.

Licensure

Teacher candidates will be recommended by the University for licensure in Tennessee upon successful completion of all degree requirements, submission of official PRAXIS test scores (institutional) which meet the State Department of Education's minimum score requirements for the core battery and specialty areas, edTPA®, and submission of official transcripts from any other colleges or universities that the student has previously attended. (These official transcripts must be submitted in addition to the official copies that must also be submitted to the Registrar's Office.)

Post-Baccalaureate Program

The Post-Baccalaureate Program provides a means of obtaining licensure in education for those who have already completed a baccalaureate degree. For each prospective student in the post-baccalaureate program, past academic records are reviewed and a program is established that addresses deficiencies in required knowledge and skills in undergraduate general education, in the major area, and in the professional education core for the teacher licensure that the student wishes to obtain. The duration of the program is determined by the results of the review of the records and the number of deficiencies that must be addressed. The program does include a full semester enhanced student teaching experience.

Admission requirements for the post-baccalaureate program are the same as for the undergraduate program. Please see that listing for details. Graduates of baccalaureate programs who did not complete teacher preparation as part of their degree, including the University's own graduates, are eligible to apply. Minority candidates and residents of rural counties who may return to their counties to teach are encouraged to apply. Additional information about this program may be found in the TEP Office on campus.

Add-On Endorsement Program

Add-on endorsements are available in early childhood education PK-3 certification; elementary education K-5 certification; in secondary education (6-12 certification) in history, English, mathematics, biology, and chemistry; in K-12 for physical education; and in special education interventionist K-8. Interested persons should contact the Department of Education for additional information. Please see the Chair of the Education Department for more information.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (PRE-K-3 LICENSURE)

The Early Childhood Education major contains education related content areas that include coursework in the arts and sciences disciplines. Early Childhood Education is an interdisciplinary major that includes English, mathematics, science and social studies. Teacher Licensure in grades PreK-3 is available with this major. SECONDARY EDUCATION (6-12 LICENSURE)

The Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education is designed to prepare students for initial certification to teach grades 6-12 in Tennessee. The program requires students to complete 45 semester hours of professional education courses and the prescribed WE for each major. To satisfy Department of Education certification requirements, students also are required to co-major in an academic content area. Options for the co-major include: Biology, Chemistry, English, History and Mathematics.

The professional education course requirements are as follows. Co-major requirements for the B.S. in Secondary Education are listed separately in the catalog under each academic content area.

ENG 336, 337	British Literature I, II	6 s.h.
ENG 241, 242	American Literature and Culture I, II	6 s.h.
ENG 351	Readings in Shakespeare	3 s.h.
ENG 405	English Seminar	1 s.h.
ENG 408r	English Practicum: Tutoring	1 s.h.
ENG	Elective at 400 level (except E 405/E 408)	3 s.h.

Students must have a minimum of 2.5 grade point average in English to take this course as well as permission from the instructor.

Note: For the 300-400 level Professional Education courses the student must be admitted to the TEP or have conditional enrollment. See Secondary Education page for a list of 300-400 level Professional Education courses.

HISTORY (6-12)

This major requires the completion of the prescribed Wesleyan Essentials listed below and the following for the major requirements as well as the professional education core for grades 6-12 certification:

Wesleyan Essentials

TWU 101	First Year Experience	2 s.h.
TWU 102	First Year Seminar	1 s.h.

The Written Word:

ENG 101	English Composition I	3 s.h.
ENG 102	English Composition II	3 s.h.

The Spoken Word:

Select one of the following:

French or

Spanish or

BUS 315	Business Communications or
ENG 321	History of the English Language or
SPE 101	Introduction to Speech	3 s.h.

ENG 322	English Grammar and Usage	3 s.h.
---------	---------------------------	--------

The Artist's Expression:

Art / Music / Literature / Theater	(select one area)	3 s.h.
COM 200	Introduction to Digital Media	3 s.h.

Western Heritage:

Religion		3 s.h.
History		3 s.h.
History / Philosophy / Religion		3 s.h.

Cultural Diversity: Complete courses from two separate disciplines:

EDU 225	Cultural Geography for Teachers	3 s.h.
Any academic discipline that meets the Cultural Diversity criteria		3 s.h.

Scientific Perspectives:

Mathematics / Statistics		3 s.h.
Biology / Chemistry / Physics		4 s.h.
Mathematics / Statistics / Biology / Chemistry / Physics		3-4 s.h.

Societal Perspectives:

PSY 101	Introduction to Psychology	3 s.h.
Any academic discipline that meets the Societal Perspectives criteria		3 s.h.

Note: Multiple Use Rule - Students are not permitted to use the same course to fulfill requirements in multiple WE categories.

Core for Education Licensure (39 s.h.)

HIS 101, 102	Western Heritage I, II	6 s.h.
HIS 151, 152	History of the United States I, II	6 s.h.
HIS 461r	Two Seminars in History	6 s.h.
HIS Elective in non-Western History (220-249, 320-349, or 420-449)		3 s.h.
HIS Upper Division Elective in European History (300-319, or 400-419)		3 s.h.
HIS Upper Division Elective in U.S. History (350-389, or 450-489)		3 s.h.
HIS Elective in any 200-400 level		3 s.h.
HIS Upper Division Electives (300-400 level)		6 s.h.
POL 102	American Government and Politics	3 s.h.

History electives will be selected in consultation with the faculty of the department. History majors may elect to stress United States or European History. Those students planning to attend graduate school will be strongly urged to demonstrate a proficiency at the intermediate level in a modern language (other than English) or the introductory level in statistics.

Note: For the 300-400 level Professional Education courses the student must be admitted to the TEP or have conditional enrollment. See Secondary Education page for a list of 300-400 level Professional Education courses.

MATHEMATICS (6-12)

Students seeking licensure must complete the prescribed Wesleyan Essentials and 45 semester hours of professional education courses.

Wesleyan Essentials:

TWU 101	First Year Experience	2 s.h.
TWU 102	First Year Seminar	1 s.h.

ENGINEERING SCIENCE

The Engineering Science program is designed to provide students with a foundation which will then allow them to obtain a professional engineering degree from one of our partner institutions (Tennessee Technological University or The University of Tennessee-Knoxville). The first two years will be an intensive program of mathematics and science that will serve as the basis of an engineering career. During these two years, Tennessee Wesleyan will strive to develop students' basic skills in critical thinking and problem solving while enhancing their appreciation for the arts, humanities, social and behavioral sciences.

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in engineering from one of our partner schools, the student will be awarded a Bachelor of Science in Engineering Science from Tennessee Wesleyan University.

Every engineering school determines the admission requirements for each of its engineering programs. Because admissions requirements vary and because admission into an engineering program is highly competitive, students interested in the program should consult with the Engineering Science advisor as early as possible in their college career. The Engineering Science advisor will guide the student through the process of selecting an appropriate engineering field and scheduling the correct curriculum. The program is highly structured, and many of the courses are part of a sequence. For that reason, the course of study must be carefully planned to ensure that all general education and major requirements are met.

Core Requirements for the B.S. in Engineering Science from Tennessee Technological University:

ENGLISH AND MODERN LANGUAGES

The Department of English and Modern Languages encourages students to pursue the study of language and written texts, a unique intellectual activity that requires familiarity with the disciplines of history, theology, philosophy, psychology, and the arts as well as others. Because of the fundamentally interdisciplinary nature of English studies, students in the Department gain a versatile and valuable base of knowledge and skills that are useful in a variety of settings both intellectual and practical. The Department offers a wide range of courses in literature and writing that emphasize the importance of the study of language and writing to both academic study and professional life. Students who study in the Department of English and Modern Languages are able to put this broad base of knowledge and skills to use in graduate school as well as careers in law, business, journalism, publishing, education, and many other professions.

The B.A. in English requires students to take a wide range of literature and writing courses and to demonstrate competency in a modern language at the intermediate level (S/F 202). The B.S. in English provides a route to licensure for those students seeking to teach at the high school level. Those students wishing to be licensed to teach must also complete 38 semester hours of professional education courses.

English B.A. and B.S. students must take E 405 English Seminar and make a senior presentation.

English majors are encouraged to minor in French or in Spanish as well as spend a summer or semester studying abroad.

Requirements for the B.A. in English

The major requires the completion of the Wesleyan Essentials and the following:

ENG 101, 102	Composition I, II	6 s.h.
ENG 201, 202	World Literature I, II	6 s.h.
ENG 241, 242	American Literature and Culture I, II	6 s.h.
ENG 321	History of the English Language	3 s.h.
ENG 336, 337	British Literature I, II	6 s.h.
ENG 351	Readings in Shakespeare	3 s.h.
ENG 405	English Seminar	1 s.h.
ENG	English Electives (except E 308, E 312, E 313)	6 s.h.
ENG	Electives at 400 level (except E 405/E 408)	6 s.h.

*Plus a modern language other than English through the intermediate (202) level.

Students seeking the English B.A., the English B.S., and minors in English must have a minimum of 2.5 grade point average in English to take this course.

Requirements for the B.S. in English

FINE ARTS

A vital part of the Tennessee Wesleyan University community, the Department of Fine Arts and Communication serves as a cultural agency for the campus, community, and surrounding area. The baccalaureate programs in fine arts and music prepare the student in the areas of performance and teaching and provide the necessary background for further study. Minors in art, music, and theatre offer the student majoring in other areas an opportunity to develop a talent or passion that may give a lifetime of pleasure and community involvement. Art, music or theatre may be combined with another curricular area to create a Fine Arts major. These interdisciplinary Fine Arts Majors are created to meet the needs of the student.

For the student not interested in a major or a minor in one of the arts, many opportunities are available for dramatic and musical performance; improvement of acting, listening, and artistic skills; or initiation to music fundamentals and art and theater history. Art exhibits, concerts, plays, musicals, and recitals are presented by the department throughout the academic year. The ensembles perform frequently both on and off campus and tour each spring.

Special Information for Students with a Major in Music

1. Admission to the Department of Fine Arts

The student is encouraged to declare his/her major in music at the earliest possible time because of the professional aspects of the music curriculum. In addition to the general requirement for admission to the university, the student must meet the following requirements of the Department of Fine Arts and Communication.

Each student will perform an audition in his or her major medium, either in person or by recording; audition in person is strongly encouraged. This audition will be used to ascertain the student's level of performance and to make recommendations concerning the student's placement in applied music. Only on the basis of the audition will he or she be recommended for acceptance as a music major. Students are encouraged to audition the semester prior to their enrollment. Audition appointments may be made by contacting the Chair of the Department of Fine Arts and Communication.

Each student will take a music theory placement test to determine his or her musical knowledge and aptitude.

2. Piano and Voice Proficiency

All students majoring in music or with music as a significant component of the major must meet a prescribed level of proficiency in voice and piano or register for piano and voice until the requirement is met. These majors include the Bachelor of Art in Music, the Bachelor of Music Education, the Bachelor of Art in Fine Arts with music as a primary or secondary emphasis and any individualized major with music as a component. This requirement should be met by the beginning of the junior year. The proficiency examinations test the student's ability to use the piano and voice as tools within the framework of his or her future professional activities. The tests are given at the end of each semester and are taken with the consent of the student's instructor in each area. Entering students who are prepared to take the examinations may do so before their first semester of registration.

3. Applied Music Lessons

All students enrolled in a music curriculum receive applied music training in voice, piano, organ or guitar. The following formulas are used to credit the study of applied music:

- One semester hour of credit: one half-hour of instruction per week and a minimum of one-hour of practice per day.
- Two semester hours of credit: one hour of instruction per week and a minimum of two hours of practice per day. (This is considered the normal load for a music major.)
- Three semester hours of credit: one hour of instruction per week and a minimum of three hours of practice per day. (This is considered the normal load in preparation for recital.)

4. Juries

Applied music evaluations, more commonly known as juries, by a committee comprised of the student's instructor and at least two other members of the music faculty, will be held at the conclusion of each semester of applied music study. The committee will decide the grade for the examination. The instructor's and the committee's grades, together, determine the final grade. The student may not register for 300-level applied music without the consent of the committee; this consent normally comes about at the conclusion of two years (four semesters) of applied study.

5. Music Ensembles

All music majors are required to earn 7-8 semester hours of credit through participation in ensembles. The purpose of this requirement is to acquaint the student with the best music literature in the ensemble medium through actual performance. Auditions are held each semester before registration. Assignment to Concert Choir is made at the discretion of the director.

6. Outside Performances

Permission to take part in musical activities apart from the regularly scheduled offerings of the Department of Fine Arts and Communication must be obtained from the student's applied music instructor. The music faculty reserve the right to limit and prohibit student participation in music ensembles or solo performance outside the Department of Fine Arts and Communication if such participation impedes desired musical growth.

7. Student Recitals

Students pursuing a course of study leading to a Bachelor of Music Education degree will present a graduation recital (normally 30 minutes) during the senior year. Students pursuing a course of study leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in music will present a recital in the junior year (normally 30 minutes) and a graduation recital in the senior year (normally one hour).

A committee hearing is required of all students for degree recitals, in partial fulfillment of academic requirements. All recitals must be presented to the music faculty and approved at least two weeks prior to the date of the recital.

8. Fulfillment of Graduation Requirements

- a. All music majors are required to maintain a grade point average of C or better in the theory course sequence; this is in addition to scholarship and/or ensemble grade point average requirements.
- b. The student must give any required recitals during a term in which he or she is enrolled in the applied area of study.
- c. All other department requirements for graduation must be completed while the student is enrolled in the university.
- d. The student must take at least three hours of credit at the 300 level in his or her primary applied area.
- e. All B.A. degree candidates must demonstrate proficiency in a modern language other than English at the intermediate level.

Should the student not be proficient in the secondary area (voice for keyboard principles or piano for voice principles), he or she will be required to enroll in MUS 116r Voice Class and/or MUS 100r Applied Voice (keyboard principles) or MUS 100r Applied Piano (voice principles). As many as four semester hours may be required for the student to develop proficiency in the secondary applied area.

 The senior recital must be given before the student teaching semester for those seeking licensure.

HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE

The Department of Health and Human Performance at Tennessee Wesleyan University prepares students to serve others by pursuing careers and/or continuing education in athletics, recreation, fitness, health and wellness, exercise physiology, physical education, physical therapy, occupational therapy, public health and sport management. Those wishing to be licensed to teach Physical Education in grades K-12 must also be accepted into the Teacher Education Program (TEP). There are six program areas in the Health and Human Performance Department: Exercise Science, Pre-Physical Therapy, Physical Education, Public Health, Pre-Occupational Therapy and Sport Management. Each of these programs results in the completion of a B.S. degree providing students with the requisite knowledge and understanding to enter into a career path or graduate study; however, the curriculum does not guarantee acceptance into graduate programs. Each curriculum is designed to increase students' basic skills in critical thinking, problem solving, and communication in their specialty areas.

HISTORY

The study of history does not present the past merely as a source of ideas to be copied, but as an index of what humanity can achieve despite physical and cultural limitations. An understanding of history is vital to any broad liberal education. A major in history provides a background appropriate for such diverse occupations as archival work, government service, law, library science, theology, and secondary and college teaching.

MATHEMATICS

The purpose of the Department of Mathematics is to provide an understanding of and training in the use of mathematics as:

- a language to facilitate reasoning and to aid the communication of ideas;
- a tool which furnishes methods and techniques of problem solving in areas ranging from daily experiences to advanced research in both pure and applied science;
- an art characterized by form, pattern, and beauty, exhibited in and influencing such tangible creative areas as painting, architecture, and music;
- and as a science, independent of, yet related to, all other sciences.

The B.A. or B.S. in Mathematics is available. Required mathematics courses are identical for both programs, but the B.A. requires the additional courses detailed elsewhere under "Additional Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts." Teacher licensure in mathematics grades 6-12 is available with either program. Students seeking licensure must complete the prescribed Wesleyan Essentials and 41 semester hours of professional education courses under the Secondary Education section of the catalog. All courses in mathematics must have a grade of C- or above to meet graduation requirements. A grade below C- must be repeated.

Requirements for the B.A. or B.S. in Mathematics (51 s.h.)

MAT 132	Essential Statistics	3 s.h.
MAT 181, 182	Calculus I, II	8 s.h.

NURSING

The Fort Sanders Nursing Department at Tennessee Wesleyan University prepares individuals at the baccalaureate level to assume professional roles and responsibilities in health care as registered nurses. A broad foundation of science and humanities provides a basis for nursing theory and clinical practice. The curriculum is organized into eight semesters (4 semesters for general education and 4 semesters for upper division nursing courses) for a minimum of 120 semester hours.

Requirements for Guaranteed Admission to Nursing

Qualified high school graduates who are admitted to TWU as a Pre-Nursing student for the fall semester following their spring high school graduation may earn guaranteed admission to the BSN program that begins in the fall semester of their junior year if they meet the following criteria:

1. High school cumulative weighted grade point average (GPA) of 3.25 or higher.
2. Completion of the pre-requisite requirements, including AP credits, with grades of "C" or better prior to starting the upper-division nursing courses.
3. Cumulative overall college GPA of 3.0 or higher.
4. Combined GPA of 3.0 in pre-requisite science and math courses (nutrition, chemistry with lab, microbiology, anatomy and physiology I and II, math/college algebra, and statistics).
5. Meet additional Requirements for Admission to Nursing as outlined below.

Requirements for Admission to Nursing

1. A student must complete the designated application for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan University Nursing Department.
2. Applications will be accepted to the upper-level nursing program beginning in August and reviewed on a rolling basis.
3. An overall college grade point average (GPA) of 2.75 for pre-requisite general education courses is required for consideration of admission into the upper-division nursing program.
 - A transfer student who has received a "D" or "F" for a nursing course taken at another school, must be approved by the TWU Nursing Admissions and Promotions Committee.
 - TWU policy for repeating general education courses: Students may repeat courses twice (three total attempts) regardless of the prior grade in the course. The last grade received will be used in computing the cumulative GPA.
4. A combined GPA of 2.67 in pre-requisite science and math courses (nutrition, chemistry with lab, microbiology, anatomy and physiology I and II, math/college algebra, and statistics) is required.
 - A student must earn no less than a "C" (2.0) on any pre-requisite math or science course.
 - Nursing Department policy for repeating pre-requisite science and math courses: Students may only repeat courses one time (two total attempts)

- regardless of the prior grade in the course. The last grade received will be used in computing the science/math GPA.
5. Of the 64 general education credit hours, six credit hours may be held over and must be taken prior to the beginning of the senior year. However, students must complete all prerequisite science and math courses before beginning upper-division nursing courses in the fall semester. Failure to maintain a minimum GPA of 2.75 for the remaining hours may disqualify a student from progressing in the nursing program.
 6. Additional criteria used to assist in the selection process may include:
 - Number of science and math courses completed, course withdrawals and repetitions
 - Science courses completed within five years of application
 - Grade improvement over time

Requirements Related to Nursing Curriculum

1. Students must earn a grade of “C” (80%) or above in all upper-division nursing courses. A grade of “D” in any nursing course or an unsatisfactory clinical grade is considered failure of a nursing course.
2. Students who fail or withdraw from an upper-division nursing course but desire to continue in the program shall meet with their advisor and complete an Individualized Progression Plan. Students may only withdraw from upper-division nursing courses during one semester.
3. An upper-division nursing course may be repeated only once if a failing grade is obtained. A student must successfully complete all pre-requisite clinical courses to advance in the clinical courses. A student failing two or more nursing courses is not eligible for readmission to the nursing major.
4. Students must pass a drug-dosage calculation exam each semester while in the nursing program. A student will not be allowed to administer medications until passing the exam. Medication administration is a required skill for all clinical courses.
5. Prior to clinical coursework, all students must provide validation of the following:
 - a. Current CPR certification - Basic Life Support for Healthcare Providers (adult, child, infant, and AED).
 - b. Physical examination, including a tuberculin skin test and urine drug screen.
 - c. Immunizations: Hepatitis B vaccine series, acceptable titer levels, or signed waiver; Rubella and Rubeola titers or MMR if no immunity; Varicella titer or documented history of chicken pox disease; Tetanus immunization within past ten years; annual influenza vaccinations are required of all students while enrolled in the nursing program. COVID-19 vaccination series or an approved waiver may be required for clinical placement.
 - d. Criminal background check.
6. Students will incur additional out of pocket expenses for uniforms, lab coats, shoes, stethoscope, scissors, lab supplies, and a personal laptop computer.

Nursing Admission Appeals

Students who do not meet prescribed entrance requirements may be referred to the Nursing Admissions & Promotions Committee by the Nursing Admissions Coordinator. The committee reviews and may interview those students whose cumulative grade point average is less than 2.75. The Nursing Admissions & Promotions Committee has set forth the following requirements to assist with admissions evaluations:

Appeal requirements for pre-nursing students who do not meet the entrance requirements:

Required: Letter requesting admission addressing the following items:

1. Any circumstances that contributed to poor achievement at previous institutions
2. Academic plan outlining how the student plans to correct mistakes made in the past

Recommended: Any documentation the student feels is pertinent to their case

Nursing Student Handbook

The Nursing Department publishes a student handbook detailing policies and procedures for students within the nursing major. The regulations contained in the manual, as well as the University Catalog and Student Handbook, apply to each student enrolled in the nursing program.

RN to BSN COMPLETION PROGRAM (Online)

Tennessee Wesleyan University offers an online program for working Registered Nurses, RNs, returning for a BSN. See the Adult Education Studies section of this catalog for more information.

Licensure

After obtaining a baccalaureate degree in nursing, registered nurse (RN) licensure is granted when the state board of nursing examination (NCLEX-RN) is successfully completed. A felony conviction may preclude obtaining licensure as a registered nurse; therefore advice should be sought prior to application. All students shall be subject to a criminal background check in order to determine eligibility to enter the nursing major. A Declaration of Citizenship must accompany all applications for initial licensure through the Tennessee Board of Nursing. Approved documents may be found on the following website: <https://www.tn.gov/health/health-program-areas/health-professional-boards/nursing-board/nursing-board/applications.html>

PSYCHOLOGY

Psychology is concerned with all aspects of behavior, from brain functioning to social interaction. The Psychology major is centered around a variety of these topics and involves appropriate course work and laboratory experiences, including independent study. The major is for students considering advanced training in psychology and related human sciences as well as for those planning to enter psychology-based occupations immediately upon graduation.

RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY

The Department of Religion and Philosophy believes the study of religion and philosophy can free the student from a superficial view of self and society. It can help the student become more aware of limits and possibilities and may even assist in gaining insights that may change his or her life. Departmental members encourage students to feel sensitively and to think carefully with others, past and present, who can aid in learning what it means to live as a human being today, with careful attention to the life and teachings of Christ.

To assist those who want to make these discoveries and to meet vocational needs, the Department offers basic, intermediate, and advanced courses on a wide range of topics. Through flexible and individualized studies, the student can pursue his or her own interests. Through practice, the student can become increasingly able to put to work in concrete situations the knowledge and skills that he or she is gaining. The Department offers majors in Christian Ministry, Pre-Seminary, and Religion and Philosophy.

SOCIAL WORK

The Tennessee Wesleyan Social Work Program provides the foundation for students to become empathic, competent generalist social work practitioners who adhere to the values and ethics promoted by the profession of social work. Students will cultivate a sense of responsibility to improve the lives of their fellow person, respecting their dignity, diversity, and right to self-determination, while advancing social and economic justice on a local and global level. Through study of the person-in-environment framework, scientific inquiry, and mentoring, our students are prepared to be active listeners, critical thinkers and lifelong learners who are willing to examine their own values and beliefs, grow in self-awareness, and maintain a balance between a subjective/objective view of the people they serve while respecting their dignity, diversity, and right to self-determination.

The major is intended for students who will seek employment in a social work-related profession upon completion of the undergraduate degree and/or continue as a graduate student in social work or related field. The academic study of social work is complemented by field practicum opportunities which provide practical experience and networking opportunities with service agencies in the community.

Accreditation: The BSW degree is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education's (CSWE) Commission on Accreditation, 333 John Carlyle Street, Suite 400, Alexandria, VA 22314. Phone: 703-683-8080. Upon graduation, students are eligible to apply for the state exam through each state's regulatory board and accrediting agencies. Upon the successful completion of the exam students will become Licensed Bachelor Social Workers (LBSW). Advanced standing graduates have the potential to complete graduate school in just one year following graduation from TWU.

Requirements for Admission and Grading Policy:

1. A student must first be approved for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan University before applying to the Social Work Program.
2. Students may choose the Bachelor of Social Work major at any point in their undergraduate career; however, the students must apply for entry into the Social Work Program. Program admittance determines eligibility to graduate with a BSW.
3. Open Application Period: August 1st - February 15th.
4. Minimum requirements to apply to the Social Work Program include:
 - Students entering the program must carry a 2.25 GPA in their general education courses and a 2.50 GPA in Social Work major courses.
 - Completion of Social Work major courses Introduction to Social Work, Introduction to Psychology and Introduction to Sociology or equivalent courses with a C- or better in each course.
 - Completion of Personal Statement
 - Must have completed 40 credit hours of Wesleyan Essentials.

- Completion of BSW Social Work Program application

5. BSW students may not take Social Work Practice or Practicum courses without program admittance. They must also have a 2.5 in their major courses and a 2.25 in their general education courses (Wesleyan Essentials) to be eligible to begin their Field Practicum and to remain in the program. If terminated from the program the student will have to reapply once academic performance meets the required GPA.
 6. Grading Policy for the Social Work Program: Students may remain in the Social Work Program with grades of C- or better within the Social Work major courses. Social Work major students earning a D+ or less are required to repeat the course. A Social Work major course may be repeated only once.
 7. Recommendations: Two recommendations from past instructors, or one may be from a supervisor from a social service agency, are required. Recommendations must speak to the applicant's ability in the following areas:
 1. Dependability
 2. Trustworthiness
 3. Academic ability
 4. Potential to perform Social Work

Send the BSW Administrative Assistant at socialwork@tnwesleyan.edu the following information:

Name of person providing the recommendation

Title

Phone Number

Email address

The administrative assistant will send a form to the recommender to be filled out electronically.

8. Personal Statement- The student will answer the following questions designed to provide qualitative information. Student will be asked to respond honestly and submit on the electronic form provided.

To progress as a social work major all BSW students must complete a 2-3 page, typed, double-spaced, personal essay. The content and writing style will provide important information about the student's understanding of the social work profession.

- Section 1: Work/Volunteer Experience: Both paid and volunteer (include dates). What did you learn about yourself from these experiences?
- Section 2: Motivation for career in Social Work: Why choose Social Work as compared to other helping professions? Include a discussion of your career goals and specific areas of interest in Social Work.

- Section 3: Personal Characteristics/Strengths: How will these help you have a successful career as a Social Worker? Areas for improvement? (For example, academic deficits and confidence level).
 - Section 4: Challenges of time and resource commitments to Social Work education? (For example, class prep time, field placement hours [200 hours per semester senior year], and work schedule).
 - Section 5: Personal Values and Beliefs: Discuss how your personal values and beliefs are compatible or not with the Social Work Program Standards of Professional Conduct. Discuss what population you would find most difficult to work with and why.
9. Official Transcripts- Official evidence of academic record is found on college transcripts. The student must forward all transcripts from schools attended at the baccalaureate level, including TWU. The Social Work Program Admissions Committee utilizes the transcripts to obtain evidence of GPA in addition to course equivalencies.

10. Application Process

The Social Work Program Application is open from August 1 - February 15 for admittance the following fall semester. Applications will be reviewed as received. Applications received before February 15 will receive priority consideration. After that date acceptance into the program will be determined by space available in the program.

Students may choose to be a Social Work major at any point in their undergraduate career. However, the students must apply for entry into the Social Work Program. Program admittance determines eligibility to graduate with a BSW.

11. The Social Work Admissions committee consisting of the Social Work Program Director, the Field Education Director, and the Department Chair of the Social Sciences Department will meet within 10 days of the close of the application date to complete a final review of the BSW Social Work Program applications to verify that all requirements have been met.
12. Provisional Acceptance: Occasionally, a student may need extra time to complete program requirements prior to full acceptance. On such occasions, the student may be granted provisional acceptance when circumstances warrant it. The decision to grant provisional acceptance is made by the Social Work Program Committee based on documentation submitted and Social Work Program Progress Evaluations. A rating of less than 3 on the evaluation may result in delaying entry into the program. Once the provisional student meets the entry requirements for the Social Work Program, they move from Provisional Status to Full Status.

If the committee determines that documentation is not sufficient, the Social Work Program Director will notify the student by email and the student will have 30 days to complete the requirements for program admission. The student will schedule an appointment with their academic advisor to devise a plan to complete admissions requirements to the program. The student will provide documentation of the plan to the Social Work Program Director. Once the required documentation of plan completion is submitted, the Social Work Program Committee will reconvene to review the updated student application. After the committee review, the student will be notified by email of their admission status by the Social Work Program Director. Students will be expected to reapply to the TWU Social Work Program if deficits are not corrected within the 30-day period.

13. Students desiring of Advanced Standing opportunities for graduate study at other institutions need to pass courses with grades of B or better. However, the admission requirements of master's programs offering Advanced Standing vary, so achieving a B or better does not guarantee admission into advanced standing programs.
14. Students who have passed the Tennessee Specific Industry Certification (TSIC) for Human Services and Social Sciences exam and received a certificate for successfully passing the certification exam will receive three credit hours of Social Work Lower Division Elective Credit once verified by the State Department of Education.
15. School Social Work: The State of Tennessee School Social Work Licensure is offered to currently enrolled social work students. The requirements to be certified for licensure through the Tennessee Wesleyan University Social Work Program, in collaboration with Tennessee Wesleyan University Education Program include the completion of the required SWK 321 School Social Work class, 400 hours of field hours in a school setting OR two years post-graduate work with children and families and a BSW from a CSWE accredited Social Work Program. The Licensure Application must be completed and documentation of having met the six State of Tennessee School Social Work Licensure Standards is necessary in order to obtain the license in school social work in Tennessee. The TWU Social Work Program will review these materials and assess the extent to which an applicant meets each of the six standards before recommending the applicant for state licensure.

Social Work Student Handbook and Field Placement Manual

The Social Work Department publishes a student handbook and field placement manual detailing policies and procedures for students within the social work major. The regulations contained in the manuals, as well as the University Catalog and Student Handbook, apply to each student enrolled in the social work program.

UNDERGRADUATE ADULT EDUCATION STUDIES

MANAGEMENT EXCELLENCE PROGRAM (in seat and online)

The Bachelor of Science program in Management provides educational opportunities for working adult students who desire a career-focused approach to study management and a relevant application link to their working environments. Management Excellence (ME) signifies its appropriateness for those working in any facet of society (i.e. industry, education, and government) by providing management knowledge that advances a community of learning and seeks to gain the full potential of the working adult. With a focus on management excellence, the program provides education that strengthens abilities in students and communities.

The ME Program is designed to assist adult learners age 23 and over, who have 60 hours of college credit or an associate's degree from a post-secondary institution as evidenced by official transcripts sent directly from the college or university to the TWU admissions office. Tennessee Wesleyan University offers opportunities for working adults to pursue a college degree in the evening in either Athens or online. The program offers known start and finish program dates, relevant education with links to the work environment, andragogical instructional methodology, and a progression of coursework toward the minimum 120 hours required for a TWU baccalaureate degree. Students are also required to complete at least 30 hours of course work in the Wesleyan Essentials (WE) Curriculum or its equivalent.

The ME program is completed over a 16-month period consisting of 12 core courses totaling 36 hours of study. Students have the opportunity to gain additional credit hours by completing an emphasis or documentation for assessment of prior learning (e.g. additional coursework, non-collegiate instruction, portfolio, or credit by examination). Emphasis options include Accounting, Healthcare Management, Human Resources Management, and Industrial Management. With a restrictive sequence of completion required, the ME program encompasses the foundations of TWU and provides a sound management-emphasized business core.

Students who desire entry into this program should contact the Admissions Office. Specific guidelines for admission to the program, program requirements, costs/financial information, and more are all listed in the ME Student Guide. Federal and State financial aid are available to ME students on the same basis as day students. Please refer to the Financial Aid section of this catalog for specific details or call the Tennessee Wesleyan University Financial Aid Office to speak with a counselor.

The ME Student Guide can be located at <https://www.tnwesleyan.edu/admissions/adult-and-online-admissions/business-management.php> and hard copies of the ME Student Guide are available in the Goodfriend School of Business.

All students must take four prerequisites for courses in the program, BUS 201, 218, 251 or 252 and MAT 132.

PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE (online)

The Bachelor of Science degree in Professional Leadership in Criminal Justice (PLCJ) opens doors for advancement to adult students by providing the opportunity to learn administration and leadership skills for many law enforcement professions. THE PLCJ major includes 30 s.h. of core courses plus a total of 30 s.h. selected from both Administration of Justice (15 s.h.) and Behavioral Science (15 s.h.) concentrations; the concentrations promote current knowledge foundations supporting upward professional mobility. Students must complete a minimum of 30 credit hours of general education courses, which includes one course from each of the following areas: humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral sciences, and natural sciences/mathematics, plus the institutional requirement of one religion course. The PLCJ adult degree completion program accepts A.A., A.S., and A.A.S. (in criminal Justice) degrees in addition the one 3 s.h. religion course to meet the general education requirements.

Students with significant criminal justice experience and who bring non-typical academic content into the program may choose to engage in Credit for Prior Learning (CPL). CPL is designed to align non-collegiate learning and work experiences to existing course Student Learning Outcome's (SLO's) within the PLCJ program. The process may produce up to 15 s.h. of academic credit toward the PLCJ course requirements. Interested students should contact the PLCJ Program Director for details.

NURSING: RN to BSN COMPLETION PROGRAM (online)

The requirements for admission to Tennessee Wesleyan and application to the Nursing Department are the same as for the traditional student, with the following additional requirements. Qualified applicants must:

1. Be a graduate of a regionally accredited Associate of Applied Science in Nursing (AAS) or Associate of Science in Nursing (ASN) Program. (For the purpose of admission into the RN to BSN Program, the AAS degree will be considered equivalent to the ASN degree.)
2. Have an overall cumulative GPA of 2.75.
3. Provide evidence of a non-restricted RN license.

RNs who have graduated from a non-NLNAC/CCNE accredited school will be required to validate prior learning by ACT-PEP nursing exams. A conditional acceptance will be granted to RN applicants awaiting NCLEX-RN results. Applicants conditionally admitted to the RN to BSN program may complete 3 semester hours of course work (NU 305 Transition to Professional Nursing) and Challenge Exams (Health Assessment, Pharmacology, and Advanced Nursing). This conditional acceptance will be removed upon receipt of an active RN license. RN licensure is required for program progression.

Providing that the above admission criteria have been met, applicants will be exempt from University adult studies admission requirements as outlined in the admission section of this catalog. Further exceptions to these requirements will be subject to individual reviews by the Nursing Admissions Review Committee.

RN to BSN Prerequisite Requirements

1. RN applicants will be required to take one religion course unless the requirement is met by an equivalent course at the transfer institution.
2. RN applicants will be required to complete any prerequisites for upper-division major courses. (i.e., College Algebra or Statistics, Nutrition, Microbiology, Anatomy & Physiology I & II; Chemistry is waived)
3. Documentation provided through the advising process and transcript evaluations will verify that applicants have completed a minimum of 30 hours of general education courses including a least one course from each of the following areas: humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral science, and natural sciences/mathematics. In the event of a deficiency, the students will be required to complete the necessary coursework.

RN to BSN Curriculum Plan (33 s.h.)

NUR 301	Pharmacology*	4 s.h.
NUR 303	Health Assessment*	4 s.h.
NUR 305	Transition to Professional Nursing	3 s.h.
NUR 315	Professional Issues	2 s.h.
NUR 405	Research in Nursing	2 s.h.
NUR 413	Community Health for the Registered Nurse	2 s.h.
NUR 416	Community Health Clinical Capstone for the RN	3 s.h.
NUR 431	Advanced Nursing*	4 s.h.
NUR 443	Nursing Synthesis for the RN	4 s.h.
NUR 442	Leadership & Management for the Registered Nurse	2 s.h.
NUR 451	Leadership & Management Clinical Capstone for the RN	3 s.h.

May be challenged*

The RN-BSN program is designed for completion in three semesters. Other part-time options are available for students who prefer to complete course requirements at a slower pace. A student who has been separated from TWU for more than one semester must adhere to the University's "Readmit Students" policy. Also, students may challenge Pharmacology, Health Assessment, and Advanced Nursing; see the "Credit by Examination" policy for the RN Challenge Exams.

RNs entering the program will have previous course work placed in escrow until they have demonstrated competency in the following courses: Transition to Professional Nursing, Pharmacology, and Health Assessment. Upon demonstrating competency in the identified courses, the RN's coursework will be removed from escrow and assigned 31 semester credit hours bringing the RN's total credit hours to 64, which is equal to those required for the traditional student.

Nursing Accreditation

The Nursing Department is fully approved by the Tennessee Board of Nursing and is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE).

UNDERGRADUATE COURSE OFFERINGS & DESCRIPTIONS AT TENNESSEE WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

COURSE OFFERINGS AND DESCRIPTIONS

In the following pages, course offerings and descriptive information are listed alphabetically by discipline. The credit value of each course in semester hours is indicated by a number in parentheses after the title. One semester hour of credit represents one faculty-student contact period per week, or two or more hours of regularly scheduled laboratory, practice, directed individual study, or other formal course activity per week.

Course Symbols:

- r Courses which may be repeated for credit are designated by “r” immediately following the course number.

-  An asterisk following the course number indicates that the course is offered only upon sufficient demand—usually in alternate years.

COURSES AVAILABLE IN EVERY DEPARTMENT

The following represent models for courses created for one-time-only or exploratory purposes. They may be interdisciplinary in nature and designed via collaboration between two or more faculty members or between faculty and students. They thus offer opportunities for investigation of special topics that are not necessarily confined to a single discipline, department, or major.

290r TOPICS IN (Name of Discipline)

Topics of current interest in (name of discipline). The topic for study will be of a general nature and will be announced prior to registration.

299r STUDY ABROAD IN (Name of Course)

This number designation will be used for courses taught in conjunction with the University’s study abroad programs.

390r TOPICS IN (Name of Discipline)

Topics of current interest in (name of discipline). This topics course will address special issues within a discipline and assume a more advanced level than 290 Topics courses.

399r STUDY ABROAD IN (Name of Course)

This number will be used for more advanced study abroad courses.

490r INDEPENDENT STUDY

Individual project including library research, conferences with the instructor, oral and written reports on independent work. Subject matter may complement, but not duplicate, material in regular courses. Arrangements must be made with a department member prior to registration. Prerequisite: Approval of the departmental chairperson and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

ARTART 101 DRAWING I (3)

A beginning drawing class open to students at all levels. Students will learn the basic techniques of drawing using a variety of dry media. Emphasis will be on developing creativity and individual styles. Students will be responsible for providing their own materials for out of class assignments. (Fall)

ART 103 PAINTING I (3)

A studio class providing experience in painting oil or acrylic media on canvas or other surfaces. Emphasis will be on composition and individual creativity. (Fall)

ART 106 INTRODUCTION TO GRAPHIC DESIGN

Students learn and apply fundamentals of various software applications (such as Illustrator and Photoshop), web design, image editing, drawing and graphic animation.

ART 111 ART APPRECIATION (3)

An introduction to the wide range of styles, materials, and techniques in art with desired focus on appreciation. The course will investigate the flow of art and cultural ideas throughout western civilization. (Spring)

ART 201 DRAWING II (3)

A continuation of Art 101, with increased difficulty in terms of complexity, content, and expectations. Students will experiment with advanced techniques of drawing using a variety of dry media. Emphasis will be on developing creativity and personal styles. Individual projects and independent studies will be assigned based on students' interests and goals. Prerequisite: ART 101 (Spring)

ART 203 PAINTING II (3)

A continuation of A 103 with an emphasis on the development of a particular theme explored throughout the course. Prerequisite: ART 103 (Spring)

ART 211 RELIEF PRINTMAKING (3)

An introduction to the printmaking process with emphasis on relief techniques, collography, and photomontage. Lab fee. (Fall, alternate years)

ART 212 SCREEN PRINTING (3)

This course is an exploration of basic screen printing techniques with emphasis on preparing screen-process stencils, drawing fluid, color registration, and photo emulsion processes. Students will develop a series of single, and multiple colored-run edition prints. Students are encouraged to investigate their own interests using critical thinking through image making.

ART 215 THE ART OF RECYCLING (3)

Students will be required to use recycled materials for their medium. The artworks created must be made from at least 70% recycled or reused materials. These works must be well crafted, with their "past lives" taken into consideration. (Spring, alternate years)

ART 216 2-DIMENSIONAL DESIGN (3)

A fundamental, non-computer studio course designed to introduce students to the basic visual concepts necessary in creating graphic designs on a two-dimensional surface. Includes color theory and composition. (Spring, alternate years)

ART 286 INDEPENDENT/INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDY (3)

Students pursue topics of their choice in a variety of areas such as design, history, film, special medium, etc. or a specific medium under the guidance of the instructor. Each student will submit a proposal to the appropriate department and faculty member for approval prior to registering for the class. Prerequisites: 12 visual art credit hours. (Fall, Spring)

ART 300 ART SINCE 1900 (3)

Art styles and artists of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries will be studied. Four research papers will be written on individually chosen topics. (Spring, alternate years)

ART 308 SKETCHBOOK TRANSFORMATION (3)

This course will examine the transformation possibilities inherent in books. Sketchbooks/ journals will be created (varying themes) with consideration given to the book's shape, construction, and history. Prerequisite: 3 credit hours in visual art. (Spring, alternate years)

ART 311 INTERMEDIATE STUDIO METHODS (3)

Individual studio work concentrating on investigation in artistic medium, ideas, and format. Self, peer, and instructor's evaluation of goals, artistic achievement, and defense of work. Prerequisite: 9 credit hours in visual art. (Fall, Spring)

ART 312 INTERMEDIATE STUDIO CRITIQUE (3)

Individualized instruction in practical fine art studio operations aimed at enhancement of the student's artistic production and quality craftsmanship. Prerequisite: 9 credit hours in visual art. (Fall, Spring)

ART 317 3-D DESIGN (3)

An overview and exploration of the principles of design common to both aesthetic and utilitarian objects. (Fall, alternate years)

ART 318 SCULPTURE (3)

Students will explore various "low-tech" methods of creating three-dimensional art including technique, form, and content in successful sculpture, both traditional and contemporary. (Fall, alternate years)

ART 320 CULTURAL DIVERSITY IN CONTEMPORARY ART (3)

Art styles and artists of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries will be studied including the examination of ethnic bias and colonial complicity of the contemporary art world. Artists from cultures sometimes ignored by the art market from Africa, Latin America, Asia and Australia will be explored.

ART 370 ADVANCED STUDIO METHODS (3)

A continuation of Intermediate Studio Methods with an advanced focus on the conceptualization of individual art projects. Prerequisite: ART 311 (Fall, Spring)

ART 371 ADVANCED STUDIO CRITIQUE (3)

A continuation of Intermediate Studio Critique with individual studio space provided for developing advanced art projects in a medium of the student's choice. Prerequisite: ART 312 (Fall, Spring)

ART 380 RESEARCH IN ART (3)

Significant literary research on a topic chosen in consultation with the instructor. Review and evaluation include colloquy with departmental faculty and/or essay. Offered on demand as an independent study. Prerequisite: 9 credit hours in visual art and permission of the instructor. (Spring, alternate years)

ART 391 ART PRACTICUM (1-3)

Practical experience in design, advertising, manufacturing, and other commercial applications. In settings both on and off campus the student will become familiar with the use of art to create a product or provide a service. Open to junior and senior level students only. Offered on demand. Prerequisite: 9 visual art credit hours and permission of the instructor. (Fall, Spring)

ART 495 SENIOR PROJECT (3)

The preparation of a permanent portfolio of college level works of art and exhibition along with the artist's statement of purpose of selected works for general public viewing. Prerequisites: Senior status and 21 visual art credit hours. (Fall)

ART 496 SENIOR THESIS (3)

Each graduating senior's art work will be displayed in a public exhibition during the final month prior to graduation. Faculty reviews will be given to each artist, and a written statement concerning the body of work will be required of each student. Prerequisite: 21 visual art credit hours. (Spring)

BIOLOGY

Courses numbered below 170 are designed as general education courses and will not satisfy the major or minor in Biology. BIO 224 is a general education course but can be used to satisfy the Biology minor.

BIO 110 FUNDAMENTALS OF BIOLOGY (3)

The most important generalizations of biology and the phenomena upon which they are based with particular emphasis on the universal phenomena characteristic of all living things; the fundamentals of plant and animal structure, nutrition, genetics, reproduction, and the integration of the organism as a whole. Three hours of lecture per week. (Fall)

BIO 111 FUNDAMENTALS OF BIOLOGY LABORATORY (1)

Laboratory investigations into the important generalizations of biology and the phenomena upon which they are based. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 110. (Fall)

BIO 118 PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY (3)

This course will introduce students to the complex interactions of Earth's life-sustaining physical systems. Physical geography provides a comprehensive perspective of earth's physical systems that allows students to make connections between local and global physical phenomena within the context of human-environment interaction. Topics will include Earth-Sun relationships, atmospheric processes, elements and controls of climate and weather, climate change, geomorphic processes, soils, natural vegetation and habitats, hydrologic processes and water resources, natural hazards, and human-environment interactions. This course is designed to provide experience that will enable non-science majors to participate in more meaningful ways in their chosen profession and in civic affairs. Three hours of lecture per week. (On demand)

BIO 120 HUMAN BIOLOGY (3)

This course will examine the normal processes and interactions that occur within human biology beginning with a basic understanding of life and the scientific method and progress to chemical, cellular, and tissue levels before moving to organ systems and a larger view of how humans fit into the world ecologically. The study will consider the relationship between form and function as well as homeostasis. Three hours of lecture per week. (Fall 2022, Spring 2024)

BIO 140 ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY I (4)

An introduction to the structure and functions of the mammalian body; includes discussions of general and biochemistry; cell biology; histology; and studies of the skeletal, muscular and nervous systems. Two hours of lecture per week. Corequisite: BIO 141 (Fall)

BIO 141 ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY I LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of histology and the anatomy of the mammalian skeletal, muscular, and nervous systems. Two 1.5 hour laboratories per week. Corequisite: BIO 140. (Fall)

BIO 142 ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY II (4)

A continuation of BIO 141. The autonomic nervous, endocrine, reproductive, cardiovascular, respiratory, excretory, and digestive systems of the mammalian body are studied. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: BIO 140; co-requisite: BIO 143 (Spring)

BIO 143 ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY II LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of the integumentary, endocrine, reproductive, cardiovascular, respiratory, excretory, and digestive systems of the mammalian body. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 142. (Spring)

BIO 164 FUNDAMENTALS OF MICROBIOLOGY (4)

An introduction to the importance of bacteria, viruses, fungi, and multicellular parasites in human health and disease; classification, morphology, physiology, and interactions between microbes and their human hosts and microbes and the environment are examined. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 110 or CHE 110 or permission of instructor; corequisite: BIO 165. (Spring)

BIO 165 FUNDAMENTALS OF MICROBIOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of bacteria, including culturing and staining techniques. Two 1.5 hour laboratories per week. Corequisite: BIO 164. (Spring)

BIO 180 GENERAL BIOLOGY I: THE UNITY OF LIFE (4)

A study of cell structure and function common to life, emphasizing cell chemistry, energy transformations, reproduction, genetic mechanisms, and life's origins. Three lectures per week. Corequisite: BIO 181. (Fall)

BIO 181 GENERAL BIOLOGY I LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory studies of cell structure and functions common to life. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 180. (Fall)

BIO 182 GENERAL BIOLOGY II: THE DIVERSITY OF LIFE (4)

A study of the diverse life forms including protists, fungi, plants, and animals; how these organisms interact; and the environment in which these organisms evolved and live. Three lectures per week. Prerequisite: BIO 180; corequisite: BIO 183. (Spring)

BIO 183 GENERAL BIOLOGY II LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of diverse forms of life. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 182. (Spring)

BIO 220 MEDICAL TERMINOLOGY (3)

An introduction to the medical terminology through the study of root words, prefixes, and suffixes commonly used in medical fields. The course will emphasize etymology, definitions, pronunciations, and correct utilization of medical terms, which enable the student to develop a vocabulary essential to the understanding of and communication with the various health areas in which allied health professionals will serve. (On demand)

BIO 224 CULTURAL DIVERSITY - VOICES FROM SCIENCE (3)

This course explores the relationship between cultural diversity and science. Students critically examine readings from major non-fiction science works as they study the impact of issues such as social class, gender, sexuality, and race from predominately non-Western cultural perspectives. Three hours of lecture per week. (On demand)

BIO 230 GENERAL BOTANY (4)

An introduction to the study of the structure, development, life cycles, physiology, and evolutionary and ecological relationships of the major groups of photosynthetic protists; fungi; and non-vascular and vascular plants. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182; corequisite: BIO 231. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 231 GENERAL BOTANY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of photosynthetic protists; fungi; and non-vascular and vascular plants. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 230. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 236 GENERAL ZOOLOGY (4)

An introduction to the study of the anatomy, physiology, phylogeny, and evolutionary and ecological relationships of animal-like protists and representatives of the major animal phyla. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182; corequisite: BIO 237. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 237 GENERAL ZOOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of animal-like protists and the major animal phyla. One two-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 236. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 264 GENERAL MICROBIOLOGY (4)

An introduction to the classification, morphology, and physiology of protists, yeasts, bacteria, and viruses. Emphasis is on the bacteria. Three lectures per week. Prerequisite: BIO180; corequisite: BIO 265. (Spring)

BIO 265 GENERAL MICROBIOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory studies of unicellular eukaryotes, yeasts, bacteria, and viruses. Two 1.5 hour laboratories per week. Corequisite: BIO 264. (Spring)

BIO 276 PRINCIPLES OF GENETICS (4)

A study of the physical and chemical basis of heredity; the structure and function of the gene; the patterns of heredity in the individual and the population; and the kinds and sources of hereditary variation. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: BIO 180; corequisite: BIO 277. (Fall)

BIO 277 PRINCIPLES OF GENETICS LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory studies in genetics. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 276. (Fall)

BIO 280 SEMINAR IN PRE-PROFESSIONAL STUDIES (1)

Designed to aid students in the application process to professional schools (dental, medical, optometry, physical therapy, pharmacy, veterinary), including the selection, application, and interview processes. One hour of lecture per week. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Also listed as CHE 280. (Spring)

BIO 308 PLANT ANATOMY AND TAXONOMY (4)

A study of the morphology and evolution of the major taxa of vascular plants emphasizing how the various taxa of plant life affect humans and the environment; with a study of the systems of classification used to categorize flowering plants. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: BIO 180, BIO 182; corequisite: BIO 309. (Fall 2022 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 309 PLANT ANATOMY AND TAXONOMY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of plant anatomy and taxonomy. One three-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 308. (Fall 2022 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 320 BIODIVERSITY (3)

An emphasis of the fundamental evolutionary and ecological concepts with respect to the diversity of life. Topics include the origin of life; systematic; prokaryotic and eukaryotic life forms; conservation of biodiversity. Special emphasis will be placed on plants and animals. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182. (On demand)

BIO 356 IMMUNOLOGY (3)

An introduction to the immune system focusing primarily on vertebrates, especially humans. Humoral and cellular mechanisms of innate and acquired immunity are covered. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: BIO 264. (On demand)

BIO 360 PRINCIPLES OF ECOLOGY (4)

A field-oriented course in environmental biology including a study of plant and animal communities. Emphasis is on interactions of organisms in nature. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182; corequisite: BIO 361. (Spring)

BIO 361 PRINCIPLES OF ECOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory and field studies in ecology. One three-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 360. (Spring)

BIO 382 VERTEBRATE ANATOMY AND DEVELOPMENT (4)

A comparative study of the anatomy and embryonic development of the vertebrates from both an evolutionary and functional perspective. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182; corequisite: BIO 383. (Fall 2023 and alternate years)

BIO 383 VERTEBRATE ANATOMY AND DEVELOPMENT LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of vertebrate anatomy with dissection of cats and dogfish sharks and a study of vertebrate development using chick embryos. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 382. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 410 PLANT PHYSIOLOGY (4)

Chemical and physical activities of the plant: absorption; transpiration; mineral nutrition; photosynthesis; translocation; growth processes; discussions on the pharmaceutical uses of plants. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182, CHE 150, CHE 152; corequisite: BIO 411. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 411 PLANT PHYSIOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of the chemical and physical activities of plants. One three-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 410. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 450 EVOLUTIONARY BIOLOGY (3)

An introduction to the processes of evolution. Topics include: population genetics, speciation, the origin of life, systematics, paleontology, history of life, and the origins of man. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 276, BIO 360; restricted to 3rd and 4th year students. (Spring)

BIO 460 ADVANCED CELL BIOLOGY (4)

A detailed discussion of the molecular basis of cell structure and function including energy flow, metabolic pathways, cellular communication, and reproduction. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182, CHE 150, CHE 152. Recommended: CHE 220, CHE 222; corequisite: BIO 461. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 461 ADVANCED CELL BIOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study in cell biology. One 3-hour lab per week. Corequisite: BIO 460. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 464 MOLECULAR BIOLOGY (4)

A detailed discussion of the molecular mechanisms controlling cellular function with emphasis given to maintenance of DNA, information flow, genetic control mechanisms, DNA alteration and manipulation. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182, CHE 150, CHE 152 Recommended: CHE 220, CHE 222; corequisite: BIO 465. (Spring 2024 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 465 MOLECULAR BIOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of molecular biology. One 3-hour lab per week. Corequisite: BIO 464. (Spring 2024 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 472 ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY (4)

Examines physiological processes common to all animal species with special emphasis on the vertebrates. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 180, BIO 182, CHE 150, CHE 152; corequisite: BIO 473. (Fall 2022 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 473 ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of physiological processes of animals. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: BIO 472. (Fall 2022 and alternate years thereafter)

BIO 479 VERTEBRATE ENDOCRINOLOGY (3)

The topics discussed include the morphology of endocrine glands and endocrine mechanisms in the regulation of homeostasis, morphogenesis, and functional integration in vertebrates. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: BIO 382 and/or BIO 472; CHE 150, CHE 152. (On demand)

BIO 481 SEMINAR IN BIOLOGY I (1)

A capstone course for the biology major. Students will select an area of interest in the biological sciences and review the current research on that topic. A student's own research or another investigator's published research will be presented in a poster forum. Restricted to 4th year students. (Fall)

BIO 482 SEMINAR IN BIOLOGY II (2)

A capstone course for the biology major. Students will select an area of interest in the biological sciences and review the current research on that topic. A student's own research or another investigator's published research will be presented in both written (review paper) and oral (scientific presentation) form. Prerequisite: BIO 481. (Spring)

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

BUS 100 INNOVATION (1)

This course will engage students in collaborative human design thinking methods to enhance critical thinking and problem solving skills. These skills will enable students to solve complex real-world problems. Interdisciplinary faculty lecturers and entrepreneurs will expose students to a wide array of innovative ideas.

BUS 110 BUSINESS CALCULATIONS (3)

This course is a study of business calculations to solve business problems. Topics include introductory statistics, retail applications, banking, insurance, taxes, investments, and consumer credit.

BUS 201 PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING I (3)

An introductory course in general accounting. Topics covered include financial statements, the accounting information system, accrual accounting concepts, accounting for a merchandising enterprise and the multiple-step income statement, reporting and analyzing inventory, fraud, internal control and cash management, reporting and analyzing receivables, fixed assets, liabilities, and stockholders' equity. Prerequisite: BUS 110

BUS 202 PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING II (3)

A continuation of BUS 201 to include accounting topics related to the statement of cash flows, the big picture of financial analysis, managerial accounting, job order costing, process costing, activity-based costing, cost-volume-profit costing and analysis, incremental analysis, budgetary planning and control, standard costs and balanced scorecard, and planning for capital investments. Prerequisite: BUS 201

BUS 218 INTRODUCTION TO MICROCOMPUTER APPLICATIONS (3)

An introduction to the use of computers in business, including operating systems, database, word processing, spreadsheets, and graphics. (formerly CA 218)

BUS 221 LEGAL ENVIRONMENT OF BUSINESS (3)

A comprehensive study of the legal environment concentrating on business, contracts, personal and real property law, sales, creditors' rights, agency, business organization and estates. The Uniform Commercial Code, Corporations and Partnerships Acts and case studies will also form an integral part of the course.

BUS 251 PRINCIPLES OF MACROECONOMICS (3)

An introduction to macroeconomics with emphasis on applying basic macroeconomic models to recent economic events. Special consideration is given to the determinants of unemployment, inflation, and economic growth.

BUS 252 PRINCIPLES OF MICROECONOMICS (3)

An introduction to Microeconomics with emphasis on applying basic microeconomic analysis to consumer and firm decisions. Special consideration is given to price determination and the various market structures.

BUS 255 PERSONAL FINANCIAL PLANNING (3)

This course is designed to help the individual and family make intelligent, informed decisions regarding financial management.

BUS 300 BUSINESS STATISTICS (3)

This course uses Excel to address an array of statistical tests and analytical techniques central to all business areas. The core topics include confidence estimates and hypothesis testing with Excel, single variable regression, multiple variable linear regression, time series models, quality control, and probability distributions key to risk management. Prerequisite: BUS 218 and MAT 132.

BUS 301 INTERMEDIATE ACCOUNTING I (3)

A continuation of BUS 202. Topics include financial accounting concepts and standards; the accounting information systems; the financial statements including the income statement and related information, balance sheet and statement of cash flows; the time value of money; cash and receivables; inventories; property, plant and equipment; depreciation, impairments, depletion; intangible assets. Prerequisite: BUS 202

BUS 302 INTERMEDIATE ACCOUNTING II (3)

A continuation of BUS 301. Topics include current liabilities and contingencies; long-term liabilities; stockholders' equity; dilutive securities and earnings per share; investments; revenue recognition; accounting for income taxes; accounting for pension and postretirement benefits; accounting for leases; accounting changes and error analysis; statement of cash flows; full disclosure in financial reporting. Prerequisite: BUS 301

BUS 309 MANAGERIAL ACCOUNTING (3)

This course is concerned with cost accounting concepts and objectives; cost information systems, product costing methodologies, and cost accumulation procedures; planning and control of factory overhead, materials and labor; planning of profits, costs and sales; and in cost and profit analysis budgeting, capital investment and financial statement analysis. Prerequisite: BUS 202

BUS 315 BUSINESS COMMUNICATIONS (3)

An introduction to communication in business, including speaking, listening, writing, reading, nonverbal messages, and technologies. A formal business report, business letters, and oral presentations will be required. Prerequisite: ENG 102, SPE 101

BUS 320 COMPLIANCE, ETHICS, AND HEALTHCARE LAW (3)

A study of the legislation, regulations, and legal issues affecting healthcare organizations. Topics include healthcare law, compliance with federal and state guidelines, ethical decision making, conflicts of interest, fraud and abuse, risk management, medical malpractice, patient privacy, and tort law. Emphasis is placed on the role of the healthcare manager in organizational compliance, including licensing and accreditation agencies.

BUS 321 PRINCIPLES OF MANAGEMENT (3)

An examination of the functions of management: planning, organizing, leading, and controlling. Topics include the history of management thought, strategic planning, decision making, managerial ethics, organizational structure, supervising teams, and managing change.

BUS 322 PROJECT MANAGEMENT (3)

An examination of the theories and concepts of project management, including the topics of project life cycles, working with stakeholder groups, developing schedules, work sequencing, work breakdown structures, project costs and budgets, managing project constraints, and risk management. A specific emphasis will be placed on developing and responding to Requests for Proposals (RPFs), and global project management.

BUS 335 CORPORATE FINANCE (3)

This course focuses on basic financial concepts. It acquaints students with the basic issues facing financial managers such as capital budgeting, capital structure, and working capital management. It provides students with an understanding of time value of money, financial statements and cash flow, valuation of stock and bonds, capital investment decisions, risk and return, and long-term and short-term financing. Prerequisites: BUS 202.

BUS 340 INTRODUCTION TO HEALTHCARE MANAGEMENT (3)

A survey of health care systems in the United States, including hospitals and health networks, ambulatory care organizations, managed care organizations, long term care networks, and public health systems. The course includes an overview of organizational structures, delivery systems, public policy, and issues related to access to healthcare.

BUS 341 INTEGRATED MARKETING COMMUNICATIONS (3)

This course focuses on marketing communication through the use of the promotion mix: advertising, personal selling, sales promotion, public relations, and direct marketing. Utilizing fundamental marketing principles, students will prepare an integrated marketing communications plan for reaching target markets. Other topics include: targeting, positioning, budgeting, effective promotion messages, media planning, sponsorships, and sales promotion management. Prerequisite: BUS 351

BUS 343 BUYER BEHAVIOR (3)

This course examines the buying decision making processes for both consumers and businesses from a marketing perspective. Internal and external influences are examined for their influence on the buying behavior model. Prerequisite: BUS 351

BUS 345 BUSINESS ETHICS (3)

Designed to help students make ethical business decisions and analyze the implications of these decisions in an ever-changing business world. Topics covered include social responsibility, office ethics, corporate ethics, technology and ethics, communication and ethics, and business relationships and ethics. The case method of study will be used extensively.

BUS 350 MARKETING FOR HEALTHCARE ORGANIZATIONS (3)

A study of the marketing concepts of products and services, distribution, promotion, and pricing for healthcare organizations. Topics include marketing planning, conducting marketing research, publicity, public relations, healthcare advertising, marketing communications, influencing healthcare consumer behavior, and customer relationship management.

BUS 351 PRINCIPLES OF MARKETING (3)

This course examines the marketing mix of product, place, promotion, and price in the movement of goods and services from producers to consumers. Topics include market segmentation, consumer behavior, advertising, public relations, marketing research, e-marketing, and ethical decision-making in marketing.

BUS 352 INTERNATIONAL MANAGEMENT (3)

Analysis of operating policies, procedures, and managerial problems of multinational companies along with the various cultural diversities will be emphasized.

BUS 355 CONCEPTS OF ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR (3)

An examination of theory and research dealing with the behaviors of people in organizations. Topics covered include organizational culture, the socialization process, theories of motivation, communication, group dynamics, leadership, stress, personal power and politics. Prerequisite: BUS 321. Also listed as PSY 355.

BUS 362 FINANCIAL MARKETS AND INSTITUTIONS (3)

This course covers the fundamentals of financial markets and institutions. It examines the structure of the financial system, financial intermediation, financial products, the role of central banks and their policies, and banking regulation. Special emphasis is placed on current banking and regulatory issues, and financial integration at the global level. Prerequisites: BUS 251 and BUS 252.

BUS 365 PRINCIPLES OF REAL ESTATE (3)

This course is designed to provide a basic overview of the use and sale of real estate. Major topics include: appraisals, title and property insurance, real estate contracts, duties of sales agents and brokers, financing, investing, and government involvement in the real estate sector. A special emphasis will be given to Tennessee laws, licensing, and procedures.

BUS 367 RISK AND INSURANCE (3)

The major purpose of the course is to help students understand the nature of risk, risk management concepts and the theory and practice of insurance; to familiarize students with the major insurance policies used by individuals and families; and finally to introduce students to insurance used in business firms. The emphasis of the course is on the consumers of insurance.

BUS 380 AUDITING (3)

The course is an introductory course that provides an overview of auditing concepts, theories, objectives, methods, and techniques. It focuses on providing a common body of knowledge applicable to both internal and external auditing. Study includes audit engagement planning, internal control, risk assessment, audit tests, work papers, and reports for audits and other services provided. Prerequisite: BUS 302 (Students may take concurrently with BUS 302 with permission of the instructor.)

BUS 386 INTERNATIONAL MARKETING (3)

An emphasis on designing marketing strategies for the international and global arena. The impact on marketing mix decisions from international diversities such as culture, economics, political/legal, and financial will be the focus of the course.

BUS 391 CROSS-CULTURAL MANAGEMENT AND TRAVEL (3)

The impact of culture and management will be major components in this course. Emphasis on communication skills, leadership traits, cultural diversity, decision making, and negotiation skills needed to conduct business globally will be examined. Opportunities for travel will be available in this course.

BUS 397r INTERNSHIP IN BUSINESS (3, 6)

On-the-job experience directed by a member of the Business Administration faculty. Students may earn up to 6 semester hours. Prerequisites: Approval of Business Administration Chair and Junior/Senior standing

BUS 404 TAX ACCOUNTING I (3)

Taxation theory, tax law, and technical applications of the Federal Revenue Act are examined with a focus on the taxation of individual and business income. The structure of the individual income tax return is examined, to include proper use of forms and application of appropriate procedures. Returns are prepared using tax preparation software, supported by Internal Revenue Internet access and other online resources. Prerequisite: BUS 202

BUS 408 ACCOUNTING SYSTEMS (3)

A study of gathering, organizing and presenting accounting data in support of operations, as well as to provide information for external reporting. The interrelationship of accounting systems with auditing, internal control, and management information systems is emphasized. Quickbooks is used to represent and reflect an accounting system in practice. Prerequisite: 12 hours of accounting.

BUS 410 BUSINESS STRATEGY (3)

A capstone course required of all Business Administration Majors. Management problem solving, problem analysis, and design-making procedures will be presented. The case method of study is used extensively. Prerequisites: Senior standing and completion of business core requirements.

BUS 415 LONG TERM CARE ADMINISTRATION (3)

Covers socioeconomic, cultural, and demographic trends affecting health and medical care for older persons; political and legal developments; healthcare facilities and alternatives to institutionalization; geriatrics and gerontology for the administrator.

BUS 421 HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT (3)

A study of the theory and practices related to attracting, motivating, rewarding and retaining people. Topics covered include job analysis and design, interviewing and selection, equal employment opportunity, managing a diverse workforce, performance appraisal, compensation, benefits, and labor relations.

BUS 425 ENTREPRENEURSHIP (3)

This course will emphasize identifying, evaluating, and developing new venture ideas. Students will study entrepreneurs throughout history in addition to classroom lectures from regional entrepreneurs. A business plan will be created.

BUS 426 NEW VENTURE PLANNING (3)

This course involves the many facets of planning, establishing, and operating a business. Creating prototypes and implementing a business plan will be a part of this course. A formal pitch presentation will be required. Prerequisites: BUS 100 and BUS 425

BUS 430 HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT FOR HEALTHCARE ORG. (3)

A comprehensive study of the theories and practice regarding attracting, rewarding, developing and retaining human resources in healthcare organizations. Topics include recruitment, selection, compensation, evaluation, motivation, benefits administration, labor relations, and personnel law unique to healthcare occupations.

BUS 431 TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT (3)

An examination of theories and research concerning the assessment, design, development, implementation and evaluation of training and development programs. Topics covered include adult education theory, instructional methods, on-the-job training, e-learning and training technology, management development and program evaluation.

BUS 440 ADVANCED ACCOUNTING (3)

The first one-third of the course introduces the student to business combinations, mergers and consolidations. Worksheet procedures are learned which facilitate preparation of consolidated financial statements. The middle part of the course covers accounting for partnerships, accounting for foreign currency transactions and translations of foreign financial statements, and selected industry-specific accounting procedures. The last one-third is comprised of accounting for governments and fiduciary accounting. Prerequisite: BUS 302

BUS 445 HEALTHCARE FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT (3)

Provides an overview of both short-term and long-term issues in healthcare financial management. Topics include cash forecasting and management, collection and disbursement techniques, financial planning and budgeting, receivables management, capital budgeting, and the role of financial intermediaries and government agencies in reimbursing healthcare providers.

BUS 450 MANAGED HEALTHCARE (3)

A comprehensive review of the various types of managed healthcare organizations. The course will be presented from the perspective of healthcare providers as well as the managed care organizations. The theory and strategy of managed care, as a cost control in healthcare will be studied.

BUS 451 INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND FINANCE (3)

A study of international trade theory and policy, with emphasis on trade barriers and international economic integration, plus a study of international financial economics, with emphasis on exchange rate determination and international macroeconomic policies. Prerequisites: BUS 251, 252.

BUS 457 FINANCIAL INVESTMENTS (3)

The course provides a basic overview of key investment concepts and the investment environment. The course will acquaint students with the fundamental principles of investing in the securities market, various investment conceptual tools and managing an investment portfolio. A special emphasis will be placed on investing in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and other securities. Prerequisites: BUS 201, 202, BUS 251, 252, BUS 300 and BUS 335.

BUS 458 FINANCIAL ANALYSIS (3)

A study of the analysis and interpretation of financial statements. Emphasis is placed on the calculation of horizontal, vertical and ratio analysis. Topics include analysis of comparative financial statements, creation of common-size statements, vertical statement analysis as well as various ratio analysis. Ratio analysis is organized into liquidity and efficiency, solvency, profitability, and market related items intended to assist in the financial review of an organization. Prerequisites: BUS 335.

BUS 461r BUSINESS SEMINAR (1-3)

A study of selected current topics in the field of business. Open to senior business majors only.

BUS 470 EMPLOYMENT LAW (3)

Historical and philosophical background of employment law and its impact in the workplace. Topics covered include collective bargaining and the labor movement, civil rights legislation, anti-discrimination laws, wrongful discharge, workplace safety and health, and employee welfare plans.

BUS 475 CURRENT ISSUES AND TOPICS IN HEALTHCARE (3)

This course will focus on current trends and new strategies relating to healthcare management.

BUS 478 STAFFING ORGANIZATIONS (3)

A study of the principles, practices and issues related to the acquisition and flow of talent in and through organizations. The concepts of workforce planning, internal and external recruitment techniques, measurements of staffing models, and retention of employees will be examined.

BUS 480 COMPENSATION (3)

An examination of salary and benefit practices used by organizations to attract, reward, motivate and retain employees. Topics include pay models, internal alignment, external competitiveness, designing pay structures, pay-for-performance, team rewards, benefits design and administration, union role in compensation, and international pay.

BUS 481 RETAIL AND E-MARKETING (3)

This course will extend beyond the basic principles of the marketing mix to extensive marketing plan development founded on marketing research that includes marketing opportunity analysis, demand forecasting, and application/problem solving for both domestic and international markets. Emphasis is on market planning for changing market conditions and competitive advantage. Prerequisite: BUS 351

BUS 486 LOGISTICS AND SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT (3)

Focuses on components of the supply chain and decision making needs within the channel and their influence on the logistic management process. Emphasis is on developing a logistics strategy. Prerequisite: BUS 351

BUS488 WEB ANALYTICS (3)

This course connects students to web analytics strategy, platforms, and tactics to develop business intelligence for growth objectives. This course will extend beyond the basic principles of the marketing mix to discuss website optimization, define key metrics used in digital analytics, explores various tools and software used to track analytics, such as Google Analytics. Prerequisite: BUS 351

BUS 491 MARKETING MANAGEMENT (3)

This course will extend beyond the basic principles of the marketing mix to extensive marketing plan development founded on marketing research that includes marketing opportunity analysis, demand forecasting, and application/problem solving for both domestic and international markets. Emphasis is on market planning for changing market conditions and competitive advantage. Prerequisite: BUS 351

CHEMISTRY

CHE 110 INTRODUCTION TO CHEMISTRY (4)

A study of three major areas of chemistry: general, organic, and biochemistry. Selected topics include nomenclature; chemical safety and handling; and chemical reactions. (Does not prepare a student for General Chemistry.) Three hours of lecture per week. Corequisite: CHE 111 (Fall)

CHE 111 INTRODUCTION TO CHEMISTRY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory exercises in general, organic, and biochemistry. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 110. (Fall)

CHE 150 GENERAL CHEMISTRY I (4)

A study of the fundamental concepts of atoms and molecules, periodic relationships, stoichiometry and chemical bonding with associated laboratory experiments. (This is the appropriate entering course for students interested in pre-professional health.) Knowledge of algebra is strongly encouraged before enrolling in this course. Three hours of lecture per week. Corequisite: CHE 151. (Fall)

CHE 151 GENERAL CHEMISTRY I LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of the fundamental concepts of chemistry. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 150. (Fall)

CHE 152 GENERAL CHEMISTRY II (4)

A study of solutions, acids and bases, equilibrium, kinetics, thermodynamics and electrochemistry. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 150; corequisite: CHE 153. (Spring)

CHE 153 GENERAL CHEMISTRY II Laboratory (0)

Laboratory study of the fundamental concepts of chemistry with some qualitative analysis. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 152. (Spring)

CHE 220 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I (4)

A study of the compounds of carbon. Properties and reactions of organic compounds and functional groups are discussed in terms of modern structural theory. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 150, CHE 152; corequisite: CHE 221. (Fall)

CHE 221 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I LABORATORY (0)

The laboratory is a study of reactions of typical carbon compounds with some instrumental methods of determination of structure and properties. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 220. (Fall)

CHE 222 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II (4)

A continuation of CHE 220. Multi-step reactions and synthesis will be discussed. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 220; corequisite: CHE 223. (Spring)

CHE 223 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II LABORATORY (0)

The laboratory consists multi-step synthesis, isolation, and identification techniques using infrared and nuclear magnetic spectroscopy. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 222. (Spring)

CHE 280 SEMINAR IN PRE-PROFESSIONAL STUDIES (1)

Designed to aid students in the application process to professional schools (dental, medical, optometry, physical therapy, pharmacy, veterinary), including the selection, application, and interview processes. One hour of lecture per week. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. Also listed as BIO 280. (Spring)

CHE 330 QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS (5)

Gravimetric and volumetric determinations, stoichiometry of analytical chemistry and separations. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 220, CHE 222; corequisite: CHE 331. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 331 QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of quantitative analysis. One 4-hours of laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 330. (Fall 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 332 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS (4)

Consideration is given to instrumental design, theory and applications to chemical problems in potentiometric, electrogravimetric, coulometric, polarographic, and amperometric methods and optical and atomic spectroscopy and chromatographic separations. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 330; prerequisite/corequisite MAT 182; corequisite: CHE 333. (Spring 2024 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 333 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of instrumental analysis. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 332. (Spring 2024 and alternate years thereafter.)

CHE 350 INORGANIC CHEMISTRY (3)

This course is designed to provide an advanced approach to the properties of inorganic chemical systems beyond the quintessential biological species (C, H, O, etc.) including studies of chemical bonding theories, molecular structure, solid state structures, and molecular symmetries. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: CHE 222. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 362 BIOCHEMISTRY (4)

A study of fundamental biological processes in the context of chemical principles. Topics include: the foundations of biochemistry; structure and catalysis of water, amino acids, and peptides; the structure of proteins; functions of proteins, enzymes; carbohydrates; lipids; and nucleic acids. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 220, CHE 222; corequisite: CHE 363. (Spring)

CHE 363 BIOCHEMISTRY LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of biochemical principles. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: CHE 362. (Spring)

CHE 430 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY I (4)

This course teaches the quantum mechanical properties of matter and includes the study of Schrödinger equations, the quantum mechanical postulates, the vibration and rotation of molecules, the hydrogen atom and many electron atoms, and electronic spectroscopy. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: CHE 222, PHY 262, MAT 182; co-requisite: CHE 431, PHY 264. (Fall 2022 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 431 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY I LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study will include experiments in physical chemistry that emphasize the concepts of quantum mechanics. One three-hour lab per week. Co-requisite: CHE 430 and PHY 264 (Fall 2022 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 432 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY II (4)

This course includes the study of statistical mechanics, the properties of gases, the laws of thermodynamics, phase equilibria, and chemical kinetics. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: PHY 264, CHE 430; Corequisite: CHE 433. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 433 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY II LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study will include experiments in physical chemistry that emphasize the concepts of statistical mechanics, thermodynamics, and kinetics. One three-hour lab per week. Corequisite: CHE 432. (Spring 2023 and alternate years thereafter)

CHE 481 SEMINAR IN CHEMISTRY I (1)

A capstone course for the chemistry major. Students will select an area of interest in the biological sciences and review the current research on that topic. A student's own research or another investigator's published research will be presented in a poster forum. Restricted to 4th year students. (Fall)

CHE 482 SEMINAR IN CHEMISTRY II (2)

A capstone course for the chemistry major. Students will select an area of interest in the biological sciences and review the current research on that topic. A student's own research or another investigator's published research will be presented in both written (review paper) and oral (scientific presentation) form. Prerequisite: CHE 481. (Spring)

CHRISTIAN MINISTRY (formerly CVO prefix codes)CHM 225 INTRODUCTION TO CHRISTIAN MINISTRY (3)

An introduction to opportunities for Christian ministry and service vocations as an ordained deacon or as a Christian lay person. Includes study of the meaning of ministry for both the ordained and the laity and opportunities and requirements for positions in church-related fields. Also includes a look at the church in the twenty-first century and its role in society. Guest speakers share their experience in ministry. (Fall, alternate years)

CHM 227 MINISTRY SETTINGS AND ISSUES (3)

This course builds on Christian Ministry I, preparing students for the tasks and practice of (lay) ministry, with attention given to worship, proclamation of the word, educational ministries, nurture and outreach programming, etc. Leadership in the church is a primary focus, with specific attention paid to the various roles and functions of the ministry, though the course might, on occasion, focus also on faith formation and approach leadership more theoretically. Prerequisite: CHM 225 (Spring, alternate years)

CHM 320 CHRISTIAN SPIRITUAL FORMATION I (3)

This course examines the topic of spiritual formation from a Christian perspective, building on the premise that knowledge of time-tested spiritual formation practices best grounds appropriate communal and individual practice in the present. The classic Christian spiritual disciplines serve as the core element in this course, so emphasis is given to the historical development of these disciplines, as well as significant characters and trends in Christian history. Several books are required, serving initially as the basic reading for the course, and later as the foundation of the library that students will use in their vocational practice. This course features intensive journaling.

CHM 321 CHRISTIAN SPIRITUAL FORMATION II (3)

This course examines the topic of Christian spirituality from a psychological standpoint, building around the assumption that “if we know who we are and how we are ‘wired,’ we will also have a better idea of which spiritual practices best match our personality.” Evaluative tools, such as the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, are used, as well as inventories focusing on spiritual gifts, spiritual streams, and spiritual types. Several books are required, serving initially as the basic reading for the course, and later as the foundation of the library that students will use in their vocational practice. Extensive journaling culminates in the composition of a spiritual autobiography at the end of the course.

CHM 325, CHM 327 CHRISTIAN MINISTRY PRACTICUM I, II (3, 3)

On-site work in and study of a local congregation or church institution, jointly supervised by university and congregational or institutional personnel. Each course requires 15 12-hour weeks or 4-1/2 40-hour weeks at the church or institution. Prerequisites: Six hours of Religious Studies, and permission of the instructor. (Alternate years)

COMMUNICATION STUDIES

COM 100 UNDERSTANDING HUMAN COMMUNICATION (3)

A survey of the discipline of communication and its many-faceted fields. The course will examine the origins and history as well as core concepts, theories and practices at work in both mediated and non-mediated human communicative behaviors.

COM 200 INTRO TO DIGITAL MEDIA (3)

An overview of the origins and practices of digital media. Topics will include the legal, social, ethical and commercial implications in television, radio, movies, the internet, music recording and other newer emerging media.

COM 220 INTRO TO JOURNALISM (3)

A survey of the history and theories of journalism and contemporary journalistic practices. Students will learn about the function, applications and operations of print, electronic and online news media. The emergence of “New Media” and its impact upon the field will also be explored.

COM 240 PRINCIPLES OF PUBLIC RELATIONS (3)

This course is an examination of the field of public relations in both profit and nonprofit settings. Topics will focus on the history, underlying principles, theory, practices, as well as planning and research within the field of public relations.

COM 260 COPY WRITING FOR MEDIA (3)

An exploration of the fundamentals of radio, TV and film writing processes and techniques. The course will focus on excellence in storytelling for media presentations through an examination of texts, screenplays, narratives and scripts. Prerequisites: COM 100, COM 200

COM 300r COMMUNICATION PRACTICUM (1)

Practical, hand-on experience enables students to learn by doing in multiple areas of the field of Communication. Skills are developed in audio and video production as well as in writing, editing, planning, researching, planning and managing by working on campus communication-related events, in a lab setting or through assignment to area clients. This course can be repeated up to 3 times.

COM 310 INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION (3)

People who were once considered isolated and distant can now connect instantaneously using digital communication technologies. The massive global redistribution of people across a myriad of cultures has created complex challenges of interacting with those who differ geographically, socially, culturally and or economically. This course is designed to introduce students to the processes of developing and improving effective intercultural communication skills in relational contexts by exploring interpersonal, small group, and organizational communication settings. Global cultures will be examined, to include Asian, African, Middle Eastern, and Latin American cultures.

COM 320 BASIC DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY (3)

An introduction to the basic principles and procedures of the art of digital photography as a communication medium. Topics will include techniques as well as aesthetics and composition.

COM 330 PR WRITING (3)

Public Relations Writing builds on students' fundamental knowledge of public relations while providing practical, real-world writing experiences. This advanced, writing-intensive course will improve upon baseline skills by focusing on a variety of formats for a wide range of audiences. It will expose students to professional-level PR writing styles, techniques, objectives and mechanics.

COM 340 UNDERSTANDING FILM (3)

This course surveys film as a societal force as well as an artistic medium. Studies will focus on the importance of film historically, as well as film technology, genre, style, narrative, aesthetics and ideology. Emphasis is also placed upon films that have impacted the culture and notable filmmakers.

COM 350 SOCIAL MEDIA AND COMMUNICATION (3)

An examination of social media, both in personal and professional use. Topics will include social media history and evolution, theoretical framework, critical reflection of personal use, and specific uses in the business and communication environments.

COM 360 BASIC AUDIO (3)

This course focuses on basic broadcast audio production skills, practices and equipment necessary for creating audio-based media for both converged and broadcast radio and television commercials, web-based media, news, recordings and dramas. Prerequisites: COM 100, COM 200

COM 370 PR CASES (3)

Preparation and analysis of PR case studies in all sectors; analysis based on the Research, Objectives, Programming and Evaluation (ROPE) paradigm; problem-analysis and problem-solving skill development. Prerequisite: 18 hours in Communication Studies, COM 220 and COM 240.

COM 375 WEB CONTENT DESIGN (3)

Web Content Design will introduce students to the concepts of web design and web content. The course will explore as basic HTML coding as well as basic web-design concepts, including layout, navigation, graphics, and color scheme through practical application through Wordpress and other web-access platforms for training.

COM 380 BASIC TV PRODUCTION (3)

This course provides an overview of basic television broadcast production information, skills and equipment to provide a working knowledge of techniques necessary for creating visual content in radio and television programming, magazine shows, news, digital media, webcasts and documentaries. Prerequisites: COM 100, COM 200

COM 400 COMMUNICATION THEORY & RESEARCH (3)

An introduction to research methodologies used in the field of communication. Topics include theoretical approaches to research, its value as a basis for studying research design, addressing qualitative and quantitative methods, data collection, and statistical and data analysis. Particular focus is placed upon research functions in the academic world and how they contribute to communication-related fields. Prerequisite: 21 hours in COM

COM 420 MULTI-MEDIA JOURNALISM (3)

This course emphasized the political, social, and economic aspects of writing and multi-media journalistic reporting at the local, national and international levels. It stresses techniques of the reporting of complex events written in language that can be understood by the average news consumer. Topics also address issues of writing and story-telling techniques that reflect the changing nature of “new media” in the digital age. Prerequisite: COM 260

COM 430 ADVANCED PUBLIC RELATIONS (3)

Advanced Public Relations seeks to prepare those entering the field of Public Relations by first examining significant Public Relations Crises and looking at strategies used to successfully navigate them in the best interests of the Organization as well as for the public good. The course will then provide an overview in PR campaigns, culminating in selected PR Event planning, preparation and management. Prerequisites: COM 240, COM 330, COM 350 and a minimum of 25 hours in the COM major Core).

COM 440 COMMUNICATION LAW (3)

An examination of the statutory law and judicial precedents affecting communication media, including publishing, broadcast, the internet, libel, obscenity, contempt of court, invasions of privacy, and copyright laws. Prerequisite: 21 hours in COM

COM 460r COMMUNICATION INTERNSHIP (3)

This course is designed to enable students to acquire practical knowledge and experience by gaining access to professional communication-related work environments (i.e. newspaper, radio station, television station, production houses). This course is limited to junior and senior majors who have completed all required 200-level courses in Communication. It is repeatable up to 2 times to give a broader range of experiences for those who want to pursue additional areas in the Communication field. Prerequisite: 21 hours in COM

COM 480 COMMUNICATION SENIOR SEMINAR (3)

This is a Capstone Course that draws upon the prior learning of students majoring in Communication Studies. The course is individualized so that students will be able to more effectively synthesize and integrate theories, knowledge and skills they have acquired. This experience culminates in a final senior experience project. This provides a means to examine, assess and utilize the student’s competencies in order to better prepare for a career in their respective areas of Communication emphasis. Prerequisite: 21 hours in COM; Senior status

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

CJS 201 SPEECH FOR THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE PROFESSIONAL (3)

This course is designed to examine the practical application of oral communication in criminal justice. A few objectives of this course include: proper techniques when speaking to media, criminal justice job interviewing strategies and techniques, individual and group presentation strategies, presentation strategies to colleagues, presentation strategies to community members, thesis or oral comprehensive exam strategies, marketing your presentations using visual aids.

CJS 202 WRITING FOR THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE PROFESSIONAL (3)

Writing for Criminal Justice Professionals focuses on the unique types of writing required in the criminal justice field, including but not limited to research papers, press releases, search warrants and probation reports. Emphasis will be placed on clear and effective writing. As part of the learning process, students will critique the writing of others. Students will learn to use the American Psychological Association (APA) citation style.

CJS 211 INTRODUCTION TO CRIMINAL JUSTICE (3)

A comprehensive examination of the criminal justice system including law enforcement, courts, and corrections; analysis of the problems and needs of the agencies involved in the criminal justice process; a survey of professional career opportunities. (Fall, Spring)

CJS 221 CITIZENS POLICE ACADEMY (3)

This class is taught in conjunction with the Athens law enforcement agencies and provides insight into the policies and operations of this criminal justice agency. It is designed to allow the student to share ideas related to improving the quality of life for the citizens of our community. (Fall)

CJS 231 THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM (3)

The issues of youth crime and juvenile delinquency with emphasis on the history and role of the juvenile justice system, the police and juvenile court's role. A study of the methods of rehabilitation and correction of the delinquent.

CJS 241 TERRORISM AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE (3)

A study of the history, reasoning, and incidents of terrorism. Emphasis on the role of law enforcement in the prevention, investigation, and prosecution of terrorism crimes. Unique constitutional and legal issues are examined.

CJS 321 ETHICS IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE (3)

An examination of critical issues encountered within the criminal justice system, including codes of professional ethics, criteria for ethical decision-making, and perspectives of legal and judicial ethics. (Athens Day Students - Spring)

CJS 331 CRIMINOLOGY (3)

An analysis of the concepts of crime, law, and criminology; theories of crime causation to include types of crime and offenders; a study of ethical issues in criminology. Prerequisite: CJS 211 (Fall)

CJS 333 CORRECTIONS IN AMERICA (3)

A study of the development of corrections in Western societies; considerations of the functions of corrections in America; analysis of current conditions and operations of jails and prisons; examination of correctional options, including pre-release, probation, and parole. (Spring, alternate/even years)

CJS 337 ALTERNATIVES TO INCARCERATION (3)

A study of the history, reasoning, and application of alternative methods of incarceration in criminal justice.

CJS 339 THE DEATH PENALTY (3)

An examination of the problems and issues related to the death penalty in the United States, including the history of capital punishment, important Supreme Court decisions, how the various jurisdictions (state, federal and military) deal with capital cases, the comparative costs of incarceration and execution, miscarriages of justice in capital cases and how the criminal justice system responds to these issues.

CJS 341 WOMEN AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE (3)

Explores the experience of women in the criminal justice system as victims of violence, as employees (in law enforcement, courts, and prisons), and as prisoners. Focuses on gender-based differences in the experience of criminal justice from historical, economic, and professional perspectives. (Spring, alternate/odd years)

CJS 342 MULTICULTURALISM & DIVERSITY IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE ADMINISTRATION (3)

The purpose of this course is to present a conceptual framework to provide understanding of the special conditions of minorities in the context of the criminal justice system and encourage the development of culturally and gender specific compatible skills and practical approaches to more adequately meet the challenges presented by working with minority population concerns, problems and needs. Identifies and explores ethics and values in the criminal justice system, paying special attention to issues of social diversity. Discusses strategies and behavior relating to unethical behavior from an individual or group.

CJS 350 ORGANIZATIONAL THEORY (3)

An overview of the fundamental concepts of organizational theory and design in the context of an increasingly global society. The study of organizations encompasses several key knowledge areas essential to today's criminal justice administrator: the impact of technological and workforce changes on society, organizational ethics and social responsibility, national and global issues, history of management thought and its relevance for managers today, and systems thinking and the challenges of managing in today's complex and rapidly changing environment.

CJS 352 THEORY AND PRACTICE OF LAW ENFORCEMENT (3)

This course examines the development and function of policing in contemporary American society. The impact of social, economic, and political forces on the structure and definition of contemporary police agencies are employed through a review of classical and contemporary literature on policing. Contemporary problems and issues in law enforcement are analyzed within the context of recent research.

CJS 355 TERRORISM AND HOMELAND SECURITY (3)

This course focuses on the consolidation of responsibilities and functions across agencies at various jurisdictional levels that have the charge of mitigating hostilities, threats, hazards, and consequences. Further, this course incorporates the pillars of robust response systems. This course is designed to develop analytical skills that will prepare students to identify, evaluate and resolve complex policy issues and initiate practical actions. Though the range of relevant issues extends from local matters to national security, this course will concentrate on preparedness strategies for state, urban and local areas.

CJS 357 COMPUTER CRIMES (3)

This course is designed to help students understand and apply the nature of computer crime in the criminal justice field. Students will see how major theories have been developed to be applied to computer crime, and by using these theories, students will both develop and explore different strategies for future law enforcement. Students will be presented with common types of fraudulent schemes, as well as several laws that have been enacted and developed specifically for computer crime. In addition, causes, victimization, legal issues, control strategies, and societal cost regarding the “computer-crime” problem will be explored and evaluated.

CJS 371 CRIME SCENE FORENSICS (3)

This course will introduce the student to the basics of practical crime scene investigation procedures and techniques. Covering the history of forensic investigation from the ancient Chinese culture to the phenomena known today as the “CSI-Effect” on the general population, this course explains the methods and protocol involved in the crime scene investigator’s two prime directives: protect and preserve the evidence. This course will also introduce the student to the basics of the relationship of forensics and the law. historical as well as practical applications of forensic science will be discussed, as well as the various applications of forensic evidence within the legal system.

CJS 375 DRUGS AND CRIME (3)

This class is designed to introduce students to the several illicit substances available, as well as the legal, yet often abused, ones. The course will also specifically focus on the extent of the drug abuse problem and examine the relationship between drug use and crime. Ultimately, the course is intended to provide students with a proper grounding in the pharmacological, sociological, and criminal dimensions of the drug problem, including the history of drug legislation in the United States.

CJS 412 ADMINISTRATION & MANAGEMENT OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE ORGANIZATIONS (3)

An examination of selected criminal justice system management issues and problems focusing specifically on law enforcement, agency management including policy planning, forecasting, human resource management and project implementation. The course provides students with a conceptual and theoretical basis on which to not only manage complex entities, but also practical approaches to organizational effectiveness, integrity, and innovation.

CJS 421 THEORY OF CRIMINAL LAW (3)

A study of the history, purpose, and theory of criminal law. An examination of crime classification, the nature of criminal liability, and contradictions in public expectations. Prerequisite: CJS 211 (Fall)

CJS 422 ISSUES IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE LEADERSHIP (3)

An analysis of the various characteristics and leadership styles that have proven most effective in the criminal justice profession. Various theories, models, historical examples, and practical applications are reviewed. Topics include ethics and virtue in criminal justice; navigating the political environment; staff development; labor relations, media relations, and working effectively with various advocacy and community groups.

CJS 431 CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND CRIMINAL PROCESS (3)

An introduction to the impact of constitutional and criminal law on managerial responsibilities within the criminal justice system. Topics include historic and current legal cases and their application to methods of prevention, as well as reaction to crime in the United States.

CJS 441r TRIAL PRACTICE AND EVIDENCE (3)

A study of the history, purpose, and theory of trial procedure and evidence. An examination of the history, purpose, and function of trials within the legal system. Participation by students in mock trial scenarios and competition. This course may be repeated due to the fact that the trial scenario changes with each spring semester. Students participate as teams, either on the prosecution or the defense team. If the student enrolls a second time, they will be assigned to the opposite team. This provides the student with a separate skill set as to analytical reasoning and legal techniques.

CJS 460r INTERNSHIP IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE (3)

Supervised internship in a criminal justice agency employing a project-centered approach. Requires written application filed with the internship coordinator two months prior to the term of enrollment and an interview with the coordinator. Prerequisite: Open to Junior and Senior students after completion of CJS 321 and a minimum of an additional 3 semester hours of upper division coursework in criminal justice. Permission of instructor is required. (Fall, Spring, Summer)

CJS 467 PRACTICUM IN LAW ENFORCEMENT (8)

This course is accredited by attending and graduating from a POST (Police Officer Standards and Training) approved law enforcement academy. Students are responsible for the cost of tuition at the academy. Criminal Justice and PLCJ majors only, senior status required or permission of instructor. Note: Any student who has graduated from POST (Police Officer Standards and Training) approved law enforcement academy may receive eight (8) hours credit in lieu of CJS 460r and CJS 467. (Summer)

CJS 471 CRIMINAL JUSTICE SENIOR SEMINAR (3)

Capstone course. Senior students will develop and complete in an approved major research project on a selected criminal justice topic. This project will be an integration of subject knowledge acquired in previous criminal justice courses. Final paper will be presented in a formal research seminar. For Criminal Justice and PLCJ majors only. Prerequisites: PSY/SOC 270, CJS 211, 321, 331 and senior status. (Fall, Spring)

DENTAL HYGIENE

The dental hygiene curriculum consists of courses containing didactic, laboratory, and/or clinical instruction. Each course description is followed in parentheses by an indication of the number of didactic instruction, laboratory and clinical hours in the course.

DHY 301 DENTAL HYGIENE PRE-CLINIC W/ LAB (5)

This course is designed to provide evidence-based knowledge in the area of dental hygiene theory and practice. The student will learn the basic fundamental skills of dental hygiene. During this course, emphasis is placed on the dental hygiene process of care. Students will become competent in adhering to infection control procedures, taking and reviewing medical and dental histories, properly taking and recording vital signs, recognizing medical emergencies, performing patient risk assessments for disease, as well as thorough intraoral and extra oral exams, assessing and recording periodontal pocket depths, and dental charting. Students will also properly administer the appropriate fluoride and other preventive agents. This course consists of 3 lecture hours and 4 clinical hours per week. (3-0-4)

DHY 311 DENTAL ANATOMY AND TOOTH HISTOLOGY (3)

This course is designed to develop a working vocabulary as well as an understanding of dental terminology that will consistently be used in the dental hygiene program. This intense study will uncover the foundational embryonic structure and functions of body cells and tissues as they relate to health and disease. The focus is on the head, neck, and the soft and hard tissues of the oral cavity. The student will also learn the basic facts of the tooth anatomy and morphology. Exercises of waxing, carving, and identification of teeth will also be used. This course consists of 3 hours of lecture per week. (3-0-0)

DHY 321 DENTAL RADIOGRAPHY W/ LAB (4)

Developing radiographic skills is essential to the dental health care profession. Topics in this course include understanding x-ray properties, how x-rays are produced, the processing of x-ray film, digital radiography, quality control, infection control and intra and extra oral radiographic techniques. In the lab portion, students will have hands on opportunity to develop radiographic skills for diagnostic purposes. Lab activities include manikin and student-partner experiences. This course consists of 3 lecture hours and two laboratory hours each week. (3-2-0)

DHY 331 BEGINNING INSTRUMENTATION (1)

This course develops an understanding of instrument design and utilization of the instruments in the detection and removal of hard and soft deposits. Students will develop proper operator positioning and utilize proper instrument grasp, adaptation, angulation, and instrument strokes. The student will also be able to demonstrate proper instrument sharpening. This course consists of 2 laboratory hours per week. (0-2-0)

DHY 341 DENTAL HYGIENE CLINICAL PRACTICE I (4)

In this clinical course, the student continues to develop the instrumentation skills and the assessment skills need to provide comprehensive dental hygiene care to a variety of patients. There is continued emphasis placed on the dental hygiene process of care. Students will become competent in adhering to infection control procedures, taking and reviewing medical and dental histories, properly taking and recording vital signs, recognizing medical emergencies, performing patient risk assessments for disease, as well as thorough intraoral and extra oral exams, assessing and recording periodontal pocket depths, and dental charting. Students will competently deliver prophylaxis, non-surgical periodontal therapy, as well as administer the appropriate fluoride and other preventive agents. This course consists of 8 hours of clinical experience per week. Prerequisite: DHY 311. (0-0-8)

DHY 342 DENTAL HYGIENE SEMINAR I (1)

This seminar course is offered in conjunction with DH 341, Dental Hygiene Clinic I and is part of the clinical education continuum. Emphasis will be placed on developing advanced clinical techniques, adjunctive dental hygiene treatment and increased case based learning and problem solving in the clinical setting. One hour lecture per week. (1-0-0)

DHY 346 THE SPECIAL NEEDS PATIENT (3)

This course will provide the opportunity for the student to learn to identify and appropriately deliver treatment to patients with special needs, including the medically compromised patient. The student will learn to distinguish between developmental, acquired and age-associated disabilities and develop a dental hygiene care plan that is modified to meet each patient's needs. (3-0-0)

DHY 351 FOUNDATIONS OF PERIODONTOLOGY (3)

This course is designed to teach the dental hygiene student how to identify periodontal health and diseases. Topics discussed are chronic periodontal disease, advanced periodontal disease, refractory periodontal disease, systemic disease and the relation to patient health, and periodontal treatment options. Information is delivered through detailed case studies, periodontal specialist and evaluation of research. Prerequisites: Successful completion of subsequent numbered DHY courses as outlined in the clinic manual. This course consists of 3 lecture hours per week. (3-0-0)

DHY 361 HEAD AND NECK ANATOMY (3)

This course is designed to develop a working vocabulary as well as an understanding of dental terminology that will consistently be used in the dental hygiene program. This intense study will uncover the foundational embryonic structure and functions of body cells and tissues as they relate to health and disease. The focus is on the head, neck, and the soft and hard tissues of the oral cavity. Upon completion of this course the students should readily be able to identify, locate, and discuss the anatomical structures of the head and neck region and the soft and hard structures of the oral cavity. This course consists of 3 hours of lecture per week. (3-0-0)

DHY 376 DENTAL PHARMACOLOGY (3)

This course is designed to introduce pharmacology to the dental hygiene student as it relates to dental and dental hygiene procedures. The students will learn drug interactions and how they can affect dental care of the patient. Students will become familiar with the most common drugs used in dentistry as well as the most common drugs that will be seen in the dental practice. Students will learn prescription writing, dosage, routes of administration, and side effects of common drugs. Emphasis will be placed in understanding the patient's medical histories and necessary treatment modifications. This course consists of 3 lecture hours per week. (3-0-0)

DHY 381 DENTAL HYGIENE CLINICAL PRACTICE II (4)

In this clinical course, the student continues to develop skills acquired in DH 341. The students continue to develop instrumentation and assessment skills needed to provide thorough dental hygiene care to a diverse population of patients. There is continued emphasis placed on the dental hygiene process of care. Students will become competent in adhering to infection control procedures, taking and reviewing medical and dental histories, properly taking and recording vital signs, recognizing medical emergencies, performing patient risk assessments for disease, as well as thorough intraoral and extra oral exams, assessing and recording periodontal pocket depths, and dental charting. Students will competently deliver prophylaxis, non-surgical periodontal therapy, as well as administer the appropriate fluoride and other preventive agents. The course consists of 8 hours of clinical experiences per week. Prerequisites: DHY 311, DHY 331, DHY 346 (0-0-8)

DHY 382 DENTAL HYGIENE SEMINAR II (1)

This seminar course is offered in conjunction with DH 381, Dental Hygiene Clinic II and is part of the clinical education continuum. Emphasis will be placed on developing advanced clinical techniques, adjunctive dental hygiene treatment and increased case based learning and problem solving in the clinical setting. One hour lecture per week. (1-0-0)

DHY 384 DENTAL MATERIALS W/ LAB (3)

This course is designed to acquaint the student to the mechanical, physical and chemical properties of dental materials commonly used in the dental office. The students will learn how to differentiate between dental materials and how to safely handle and make decisions on the use of these materials in the clinical setting. During the laboratory sessions, the students will learn to take impressions, prepare study models, whitening trays and occlusal night guards, and apply sealant materials. Students will also experience off-site rotations to observe the use of dental materials in the dental office or lab. This course consists of 2 lecture hours and 2 laboratory hours per week. (2-2-0)

DHY 387 LOCAL ANESTHESIA AND PAIN CONTROL W/ LAB (5)

In this didactic course, students study pain control management to effectively learn the techniques of safely delivering local anesthesia and nitrous oxide sedation for pain control management in the dental practice. This course focuses on the safety, preparation, technique, complications, documentation and legal consideration of delivering local anesthesia and nitrous oxide sedation. Students experience hands-on practice of nitrous sedation and local anesthesia while in the laboratory setting. Successful completion of this course licenses the student after graduation to administer local anesthesia and nitrous oxide in the state of Tennessee. This course consists of 3 lecture hours and 4 laboratory hours per week. (3-4-0)

DHY 388 NUTRITIONAL FUNDAMENTALS FOR THE DENTAL HYGIENIST (2)

This course provides a basic introduction to organic chemistry and biochemistry. It is designed to prepare dental hygiene students to incorporate diet and nutrition principles and practices relative to oral health into dental practice. The fundamental principles of nutrition and diet are built upon and further addressed in management of individuals with local, systemic and chronic disease. Clinically focused discussions on nutrition risk screening, diet evaluation and education for diseases of the oral cavity, and chronic and systemic diseases are included along with weight management, fitness, nutrition misinformation and eating disorders. This course is in a hybrid format that consists of 2 hours per week. (2-0-0)

DHY 407 ADVANCED INSTRUMENTATION (1)

This course is designed to advance the student's clinical skills by reinforcing clinical instrumentation in a small group setting. Student will begin with review of the basic techniques to reinforce instrument skills. Students will learn advanced instrumentation skills needed to deliver treatment to patients with advanced cases of periodontal disease. Topics will include air polishing, ultrasonic instrumentation and delivery of chemotherapeutic agents. Case studies will also be used to apply knowledge to clinical situations. The students will be instructed in small group and one-on-one sessions by their clinical instructor. This course consists of 2 laboratory hours per week. (0-2-0)

DHY 411 DENTAL HYGIENE CLINICAL PRACTICE III (6)

This clinical course allows the students to continue to develop their advanced hygiene clinical skills that were developing in DH 341 and DH 381. Focus also continues on the dental hygiene process of care. Upon completion of this course, students should be able to provide comprehensive treatment for the periodontally involved patient. This course consists of 12 hours of clinical experience per week. Prerequisites: DHY 311, DHY 341, DHY 381. (0-0-12)

DHY 412 DENTAL HYGIENE SEMINAR III (1)

This seminar course is offered in conjunction with DH 411, Dental Hygiene Clinic III and is part of the clinical education continuum. Emphasis will be placed on developing advanced clinical techniques, adjunctive dental hygiene treatment and increased case based learning and problem solving in the clinical setting. This course consists of one hour lecture per week. (1-0-0)

DHY 414 DENTAL PUBLIC HEALTH AND RESEARCH (3)

This course is designed to instill the importance and relevance of community oral health. The Community Health curriculum gives students the information needed to provide community oral health care as a student and as a future health care professional. This course correlates oral health as an entity of one's overall health as illuminated in The Healthy People initiative adopted by the Federal Government. Upon completion of this course, the dental hygiene student will be able to identify career options for the dental hygienist and be able to promote disease prevention through hands on development of community health projects through assessing, planning, implementing and evaluating a target population. This course consists of 3 lecture hours per week. (3-0-0)

DHY 435 SUPPORTIVE PERIODONTOLOGY THERAPY (2)

This course continues to teach the dental hygiene student successfully how to use the disease interpretation skills they have learned and expound upon them further with treatment modalities such as irrigation, chemical agents, and host modulation therapy. The student hygienist will also become familiar with surgical concepts, periodontal emergencies, dental implants, the perio-systemic link and patient cases. Emphasis will be placed on current research and the importance of practicing evidence based dentistry. Prerequisites: Successful completion of subsequent numbered DH courses as outlined in the clinic manual. This course consists of 3 lecture hours per week. (2-0-0)

DHY 438 GENERAL AND ORAL PATHOLOGY (3)

This course is designed to assist the dental hygiene student to recognize, understand, evaluate and document diseases and conditions of the oral cavity. Student will learn to use dental photography and dental radiography to determine normal and disease status as well as identify abnormalities. Upon completion of this course, student should be able to identify diseases of the oral cavity, discuss its etiology, the clinical features, as well as prognosis and treatment. This course consists of 3 lecture hours per week. (3-0-0)

DHY 441 CAPSTONE PREP (1)

This course is designed to mentor students as they develop their senior Capstone presentation. Faculty will mentor students as they assimilate the knowledge they have acquired in the dental hygiene courses within the Bachelor of Science degree. This course is offered as a hybrid course. (1-0-0)

DHY 456 DENTAL ETHICS AND PRACTICE MANAGEMENT (1)

This course is designed to give students real-world situations they may encounter in the dental hygiene profession. Students will develop a framework to make ethical decisions based on actual case studies. Students will also study the Tennessee Practice Act to prepare them for legal or ethical dilemmas they may face. A review of the ADHA Code of Ethics and the ADA Principles of Ethics and Code of Professional conduct will also be evaluated during this course. Upon completion of this course, students should be equipped to make sound ethical and legal decisions they might encounter. This course consists of one hour of lecture each week. (1-0-0)

DHY 457 COMMUNITY DENTAL HEALTH PRACTICUM (2)

This course is the continuation of the fall Dental Public Health and Research course in which students apply public health/health education principles through implementing individual community oral health education projects. Emphasis is on health promotion, communication, collaboration, development and delivery of educational presentations. This course consists of 2 hours of practicum time per week. (2-0-0)

DHY 461 DENTAL HYGIENE CLINICAL PRACTICE IV (6)

This course is designed to provide the student with the opportunity to deliver and evaluate advanced clinical hygiene treatment to periodontal patients. Students will develop skills in air polishing, placement of chemotherapeutic agents, ultrasonic scaling, root planning, and soft tissue curettage. Students will continue to develop patients and time management skills. Upon completion of this course, students will be able to provide non-surgical periodontal therapy, evaluate effectiveness of treatment, and help patient progress to optimum oral health. This course consists of 12 clinical hours per week. Prerequisites: DHY 311, DHY 341, DHY 381, DHY 411 (0-0-12)

DHY 462 DENTAL HYGIENE SEMINAR IV (2)

This seminar course is offered in conjunction with DH 461, Dental Hygiene Clinic IV and is part of the clinical education continuum. Emphasis will be placed on developing advanced clinical techniques, adjunctive dental hygiene treatment and increased case based learning and problem solving in the clinical setting. This course consists of one hour lecture per week. (2-0-0)

DHY 491 DENTAL HYGIENE SENIOR CAPSTONE (2)

This capstone course is designed to provide students an opportunity to apply into practice the knowledge and principles learned in the dental hygiene courses within the Bachelor of Science degree. This course provides students with the opportunity to synthesize, analyze, and develop solutions for a periodontally involved patient. This course is offered as a hybrid course. (2-0-0)

EDUCATION

EDU 110 INTRODUCTION TO TEACHING (3)

Required of all students seeking teacher licensure. This course is designed to provide entry-level experiences into the work of the schools, the role of the teacher, and the school environment. Students will study the teaching profession itself and its influences, including political and legal aspects, as well as historical and sociological factors. Students will examine how these factors have shaped, and continue to shape, American education. Students will also study national and state curriculum development in grades K-12 and study curriculum implementation in real classroom settings. Field experience will consist of 20 hours in local public schools. An observational/reflection journal will be documented and maintained by the student. (Fall, Spring.)

EDU 140 CHILD, FAMILY, AND COMMUNITY STUDIES (2)

The purpose of this course is to assist the student in understanding the community relationship to the school. Nurturing parent and family relationships is essential to the classroom teacher. Methods and procedures for organizing and providing public school relations will be emphasized. This course is designed to support the NAEYC Program Standards. This course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 201 EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how human behavior in educational situations is operationalized through various approaches to teaching in grades K-12. The various approaches to teaching will be focused on instruction and assessment. The course theory aims to develop students' understanding of theories of psychosocial development, cognitive development, and motivation. The course practice aims to develop students' ability to make instructional and assessment decisions based on application of learning theories. Education majors must have a 21 or above on the Enhanced ACT or 1080 on the Enhanced SAT (combined verbal and mathematics score) or retake the ACT or SAT or take all sections of the Core Academic Skills for Educators test before completion of EDU 201 or no credit will be given for the course. Prerequisites: EDU 110 and PSY 101 (Fall, Spring)

EDU 225 CULTURAL GEOGRAPHY FOR TEACHERS (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to develop cultural knowledge and skills to enhance understanding of the cultural world in the context of schools. The course is designed to support the TWU College Wide Learning Outcomes and the InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards. This course is a Wesleyan Essential course in the category of Cultural Diversity. Theory: The course develops students' knowledge of cultural geography: local and national. Practice: The course develops students' practice of culturally relevant teaching through self-study and community-study of identity, diversity, justice, and action. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 230 INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY (1)

Instructional Technology introduces prospective teachers to various computer hardware and software that may be used in the classroom to augment resources, enhance learning, and better meet the individual needs of students. Prerequisites: In order to register for this course, the student must have completed the following course: EDU 110. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 320 SURVEY OF EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN (3)

Includes the study of the developmentally delayed, behaviorally-disordered, communication disordered, learning-disabled, physically impaired, and health impaired, visually impaired, and gifted as these affect the teacher in the classroom setting. Students will explore strategies for differentiating lessons to meet the needs of their students. Essential methods for working with students who exhibit behaviors as a result of complex trauma will be included. This course meets INTASC Standards and TN EPP Literacy Standards. Prerequisites: EDU 201,  (Fall, Spring)

EDU 340 LITERACY INSTRUCTION IN GRADES 3-5 (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide ELA instruction for students in grades 3-5. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, the NAEYC Program Standards, CAEP Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards, and The TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation. The course theory aims to develop students' knowledge of effective literacy instruction in grades 3-5. The content of Vocabulary, Fluency, Comprehension, and Writing are introduced and reinforced in multiple ways. The course practice aims to develop students' practice of effective literacy instruction in grades 3-5. The content of Vocabulary, Fluency, Comprehension, and Writing are integrated in multiple ways. The course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. Corequisite: EDU 350; Prerequisite:  (Fall, Spring)

EDU 350 LITERACY INSTRUCTION IN GRADES PreK-2 (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide ELA instruction for students in grades PreK-2. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, NAEYC Program Standards, CAEP Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards, and The TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation. The course theory aims to develop knowledge necessary to understand language acquisition and literacy awareness, beginning with infants and progressing through pre-school and elementary levels of language development. The course skills aim to develop students' practice of effective literacy instruction in grades PreK-2. The content of Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Vocabulary, Fluency, Comprehension, and Writing are integrated in multiple ways. The course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. Corequisite: EDU 340; Prerequisite: **

EDU 355 LITERACY IN THE CONTENT AREA FOR 6-12 SECONDARY AND K-12 PE (NON-ELA MAJORS) (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide literacy instruction for students in grades 6-12, as well as K-12 PE. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, the NCSS Standards (History), FFK12SE/NGSS standards (Biology/Chemistry), the NCTM CAEP standards (Mathematics), the SHAPE standards (PE), and The TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation. The course theory aims to develop students' knowledge of effective literacy instruction. The content of Vocabulary, Fluency, Comprehension, and Writing are introduced and reinforced in multiple ways. This course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. Prerequisite:  (Spring)

EDU 357 LITERACY IN THE CONTENT AREA FOR SECONDARY ENGLISH MAJORS (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide ELA instruction for students in grades 6-12. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, the NCTE Program Standards, the NCATE Program Standards, and The TN State Board of Literacy Standards for ELA Preparation. The course theory aims to develop students' knowledge of effective literacy instruction in grades 6-12. The content of Vocabulary, Fluency, Comprehension, and Writing are introduced and reinforced in multiple ways. This course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. Prerequisite:  (as needed)

EDU 370 MATHEMATICS IN GRADES PreK-5 (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide Mathematics instruction for all students. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, CAEP Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards, TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation and the NAEYC Program Standards. The course theory aims to develop candidates' knowledge of why, what, and how of elementary Mathematics: why teach Mathematics (past, present, and future), what to teach in Mathematics (disciplines & standards), and how to teach Mathematics (skills & thinking). The course skills aim to develop students' practice of planning Mathematics instruction, instructing and engaging students with Mathematics, and Mathematics assessing learning in various ways. The course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. Prerequisite:  (Fall)

EDU 385 METHODS OF TEACHING SECONDARY EDUCATION (3)

The goal of EDU 385 is to assist you in developing a personal understanding of general and specific methods for teaching in middle or secondary school. The course will include a close study of teaching practices and procedures appropriate to your specific subject area. You will put the methods into practice at a local middle or secondary school as you teach your lessons. Emphases will include instructional plans aligned with state curriculum standards and EPP Literacy Standards. TEAM evaluation system will be closely incorporated with the InTASC standards. Fifteen (15) hours of field experience is required accompanied by four after teaching feedback forms and the disposition form. Prerequisite:  (Fall, Spring)

EDU 410 SOCIAL STUDIES AND SCIENCE IN GRADES PreK-5 (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide Social Studies and Science instruction for all students. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, NAEYC Program Standards, CAEP Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards, and The TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation. The course theory aims to develop students' knowledge of why, how, and what of elementary Social Studies & Science: why teach social studies & science (past & present), how to teach Social Studies & Science (skills), and what to teach in Social Studies & Science (disciplines & standards).

The course skills aim to develop students' practice of planning for social studies & science instruction, instructing and engaging students, and assessing learning in various ways. This course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 419 CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT (3)

Classroom management strategies are explored to enable students to provide an effective learning environment, prevent misbehaviors, and deal with problem situations as they occur. Case studies are explored and dissected to prepare students for the development of their Classroom Management Plan (see rubric) as well as implementation of their management plan during their 10 hours of field experience. EPP Literacy Standards as they apply to Trauma Informed will also be a focus of this course. This course will also provide a study of the laws related to public K-12 education and special education that govern the operation and conduct of their organizations as they face a litigious society. This course requires 10 hours of field experience/observations. Prerequisite:  (Fall, Spring)

EDU 420 CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT FOR THE EARLY CHILDHOOD AND ELEMENTARY CLASSROOM (3)

Classroom management strategies to support all learners in an effective learning environment are explored. Topics of study include trauma informed instructional and discipline practices, the effects of adverse childhood experiences on instruction, restorative practices, behavior interventions that work, and procedures/protocols of the successfully organized classroom. Ten (10) hours of field experience are required. This class is for early childhood and elementary majors. Prerequisite:  (Fall, Spring)

EDU 423 MEASUREMENT AND EVALUATION (3)

This course will provide future teachers with the foundation and understanding of the assessment process and its evolution over the past six decades. TWU students will focus on the educational assessment methods and procedures used in decision making and program planning for all students, including those with exceptional learning needs. TWU students will learn the aspects of the assessment process that represents commitment, integrity, intellectual acuity, justice, and stewardship for all students. The TWU students will familiarize themselves with all current reliable, valid, formal, and informal assessment instruments including TVAAS and TEAM evaluation data and the EPP Literacy Standards. Prerequisite:  (Fall)

EDU 430 PLANNING ASSESSMENT IN GRADES PreK-5 (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to plan for and assess instruction for all students in grades PreK-5. The course is designed to support the The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, NAEYC Program Standards, CAEP Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards, and The TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation. The course theory aims to develop students' knowledge of assessment with a formal & informal methods and formative & summative methods. The course skills aim to develop students' practice of planning and assessment by exploring current methods in the field. The course requires 10 hours of clinical experiences. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 433 PRACTICUM IN GRADES PreK-5 (3)

The purpose of this course is for students to learn how to provide Literacy & Mathematics instruction for all students. The course is designed to support The InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, NAEYC Program Standards, CAEP Elementary Teacher Preparation Standards, and The TN State Board of Education Literacy Standards for Education Preparation. The course theory aims to develop candidates' knowledge of Collaboration (colleagues and school professionals) & Reflection (professional learning and ethical practice). The course skills aim to develop students' practice of planning Literacy & Mathematics instruction, instructing and engaging students with Literacy & Mathematics, Literacy & and Mathematics assessing learning in collaboration with colleagues and school professionals and through application of professional learning. The course requires 20 hours of clinical experiences.  Prerequisites: EDU 340 and EDU 350 (Fall, Spring)

EDU 435 POLICIES/LAW (3)

This course will provide a study of the laws related to general education and IDEA (Individuals with Disabilities Education Act) that govern the operation and conduct of their organizations as they face a highly litigious society. The legal principles that affect the operation, organization, and administration of school systems will be discussed. Future teachers in regular or special education will gain knowledge about legal issues that help them in effectively performing their professional duties within the boundaries of current case law while acting en loco parentis (in lieu of the parent) for students. Students will be familiarized with the EPP Literacy Standards as they pertain to special education. No field service requirement for this class. Prerequisites:  (Fall)

EDU 440 STUDENT TEACHING IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (12)

The practicum is designed to aid the prospective pre-school teacher in development of methods and skills for guiding children in the learning process. Practical experience at two grade levels will be provided. Mentors and TWU supervisors will guide and assist the pre-service teacher toward success in the classroom. Prerequisites: Approval of the Teacher Education Committee, , Documentation that the student has passed all required PRAXIS exams. Must be taken concurrently with EDU 475. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 445 STUDENT TEACHING IN ELEMENTARY EDUCATION (12)

Designed to aid the prospective kindergarten, elementary, or middle school teacher in the development of skills and techniques necessary for guiding children in the learning process through practical experience in actual teaching. Experience will be required in kindergarten and a middle grade. Prerequisites: Approval of the Teacher Education Committee, , Documentation that the student has passed all required PRAXIS exams. Must be taken concurrently with EDU 475. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 447 STUDENT TEACHING K-8 (12)

This course is designed to aid the prospective special education teacher in elementary or middle school in the development of skills, methods, and intervention techniques necessary for guiding students in the learning process through practical experience. Experience will be required in both elementary and middle grades. Prerequisites:

Approval of the Teacher Education Committee, documentation that the teacher candidate has passed all required Praxis exams. Must be taken concurrently with EDU 475. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 451 PRACTICUM IN SECONDARY EDUCATION (3)

This course will provide the student with pre-student teaching experiences in the student's subject area on the middle and secondary level. Class lectures, activities, and readings will provide background knowledge that will enable students to help plan, implement, and evaluate their service-learning experiences. In the supervised field experience, students will observe teachers and learners at work and should assist the mentoring teacher as needed. Students will document and reflect on their field experiences and how they learned through these service experiences. Emphases will include instructional plans aligned with state curriculum standards and EPP Literacy Standards. Students will be in the classroom of their perspective schools for the first seven weeks of the semester. School law will be a major focus of discussion for the second half of the semester. (Must be TEP admitted). Twenty hours of field experience is required accompanied by four after teaching feedback forms and the disposition form. Prerequisite:  (Fall, Spring)

EDU 455 STUDENT TEACHING IN SECONDARY EDUCATION (12)

Designed to aid the prospective secondary teacher in the development of skills and techniques necessary for guiding secondary students in the learning process through practical experience in actual teaching in his or her major area. Experience will be required in two classroom settings. Prerequisites: Approval of the Teacher Education Committee, , Documentation that the student has passed all required PRAXIS exams. Must be taken concurrently with EDU 475. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 460 STUDENT TEACHING IN GRADES K-12 (12)

Designed to aid the prospective teacher in the development of skills and techniques necessary for guiding K-12 students in the learning process through practical experience in actual teaching in his or her major field. Experience will be required in two classroom settings. Attendance is required at a weekly campus seminar. Prerequisites: Approval of the Teacher Education Committee, . Documentation that the student has passed all required PRAXIS exams. Must be taken concurrently with EDU 475. (Fall, Spring)

EDU 474 STUDENT TEACHING SEMINAR I (2)

Student Teaching Seminar I is designed to support students through a problem-based assessment (edTPA®) which includes planning, instruction, and assessment, as well as, the state approved evaluation (TEAM). It also encompasses creating a positive learning environment, communication, collaboration, and development of a reflective teaching practice. This course must be taken the semester prior to EDU 475 (Student Teaching Seminar II). Prerequisite: All students must be admitted to the TEP.

EDU 475 STUDENT TEACHING SEMINAR II (3)

This capstone seminar is designed to accompany and enhance the student teaching experience. Seminar topics and discussions are directly related to these experiences. Candidates will be working to complete the edTPA® portfolio for licensure while student teaching and attending Seminar II. Candidates will also be required to complete the Educator Electronic Portfolio. Seminar II meets once per week on campus. Seminar II must be taken concurrently with either EDU 440, 445, 447, 455, or 460. Prerequisite: Approval of the candidate's teacher Education Committee and admission to the Teacher Education Program. (Fall, Spring)

 In order to register for this course, a student must be accepted into the Levels II or III of the Teacher Education Program, have completed EDU 201, and maintained a minimum 2.75 GPA on all education courses attempted. New transfer students who have not had an opportunity to apply to the Teacher Education Program may receive approval from the Education Department for an exemption to this prerequisite following a transcript review. Certification of students' eligibility to take Education courses above EDU 201 will be evaluated on an individual basis.

ENGINEERING SCIENCE

ENR 201 STATICS (3)

An engineering mechanics course that covers the following topics: vector mathematics, equations of equilibrium of free body diagrams, forces in trusses, frames, and machine, shear force and bending moments, frictional forces, and moments on inertia. Prerequisite: PHY 262, PHY 263 (Fall)

ENR 202 DYNAMICS (3)

An engineering mechanics course that covers the following topics: kinematics in Cartesian and Polar coordinates, kinematics in rigid bodies, Newton/Euler, work/energy, and impulse/momentum methods to kinetics. Prerequisite: ENR 201 (Spring)

ENGLISH

ENG 100 ESSENTIAL COMPOSITION (3)

This course is designed for students whose writing skills need to be strengthened before they are ready to enroll in Composition I (E 101). Students are taught how to formulate a thesis and construct a well-organized, well-supported, and grammatically-proficient essay. This course will be composed of online study aids and classroom work. Satisfactory classroom performance, awarded as C- or above, and passing the final exam, as evaluated by a committee of English faculty, enable the student to qualify for E 101. Students who do not make a C- or above will receive the grade of NG and may sign up for the class again, up to three times, until they achieve a passing grade and can receive credit. (Fall, Spring)

ENG 101 COMPOSITION I (3)

This course involves the reading of essays from disciplines across the curriculum and emphasizes the writing process. Students write papers in various rhetorical modes. A documented paper is required. Prerequisite: ENG 100 or an English sub score of 19 on the ACT or 520 on the ERW - Evidence-Based Reading & Writing portion of the SAT. (Fall, Spring)

ENG 102 COMPOSITION II (3)

Continuation of ENG 101 and an introduction to writing about literature: fiction, drama, and poetry. Research techniques are introduced, and the completion of a research paper is one of the requirements of the course. Prerequisites: ENG 101. (Fall, Spring)

ENG 170 INTRODUCTION TO CREATIVE WRITING (3)

Students will compose original stories, poems, and/or other creative works. Fulfills the "Artist's Expression" category of the Wesleyan Essentials.

ENG 201 MASTERPIECES OF WORLD LITERATURE I (3)

A study of literature from the Classical, Medieval, and Renaissance periods. Extensive reading of primary works. (Fall)

ENG 202 MASTERPIECES OF WORLD LITERATURE II (3)

A study of literature from the Neoclassical, Romantic, Realistic, and Modern periods. Extensive reading of primary works.(Spring)

ENG 237 DISCOVERING POST-COLONIAL LITERATURE (3)

This course introduces students to a range of postcolonial literatures focusing on the Anglophone literatures of India, Africa, and the Caribbean with an emphasis on the effects of colonialism on these cultures and the literatures they produce. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (On demand)

ENG 241 AMERICAN LITERATURE AND CULTURE I: BEGINNINGS TO 1865 (3)

Reading of texts of American literature in the context of parallel developments in art, architecture, music, and social and intellectual history.

ENG 242 AMERICAN LITERATURE AND CULTURE II: 1865 TO PRESENT (3)

Reading of texts of American literature in the context of parallel developments in art, architecture, music, and social and intellectual history. (Spring of even years)

ENG 243 MULTICULTURAL AMERICAN LITERATURE (3)

The course is focused on Multicultural American literature from a diverse group of American writers. Where other American literature courses feature multicultural writers in a cursory way, this course is focused solely on the underrepresented writers in America. Explored is a body of literature that is often marginalized, but reflects a truer representation of the variety of cultures and beliefs in which this country is composed. Prerequisite: ENG 102

ENG 260 CULTURAL DIVERSITY AND NARRATIVE FORM (3)

This course introduces students to the formal characteristics of a variety of narrative forms including short stories, novels, memoir, and graphic narrative. It also studies the way in which narrative forms have been employed by authors from a range of culturally diverse backgrounds. It will fulfill a Wesleyan Essentials Cultural Diversity requirement. Prerequisite: ENG 102. (On demand)

ENG 301 DRAMATIC LITERATURE (3)

Analytical and critical study of dramatic literature, with attention paid to genre, literary movements, and historical context. Extensive reading of primary works will be required. (On demand)

ENG 308r LITERARY MAGAZINE (1)

The student enrolled in this course gains practical experience in writing, editing, and layout through work for the literary magazine. No prerequisite. Maximum credit: 3 hours. Does not fulfill a general education WE requirement. (Fall, Spring)

ENG 312 BOOKS AND RELATED MATERIALS FOR CHILDREN (3)

This course promotes knowledge and use of books for children. Attention is given to choosing books and related materials (internet resources, magazines, films) for different age and ability levels as well as to integrating trade books into the curriculum. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Does not fulfill a requirement for the WE. Also listed as LSC 312. (Spring)

ENG 313 BOOKS AND RELATED MATERIALS FOR ADOLESCENTS (3)

This course provides knowledge and use of books and related materials (films and magazines) for adolescents. Emphasis is placed on critical judgment in the evaluation, selection, and promotion of reading material for this age group. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Does not fulfill a requirement for the WE. Also listed as LSC 313. (Fall)

ENG 321 HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE (3)

A consideration of the historical development of the English language from the Anglo-Saxon period to the present. Prerequisite: E 102. May be applied to the Spoken Word category of the Wesleyan Essentials. (Spring)

ENG 322 ENGLISH GRAMMAR AND USAGE (3)

This course seeks to promote an awareness of the nature of language and its various aspects. Emphasis will be placed on a thorough review of traditional grammar, with some attention given to such areas as structural and transformational grammar, regional dialects, semantics, etymology, and phonology. Extensive reading of masterpieces of British Literature from the Anglo-Saxon through the Neoclassical periods. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (Fall)

ENG 337 SURVEY OF BRITISH LITERATURE II (3)

Involves extensive reading of masterpieces of British Literature from the Romantic through the Contemporary periods. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (Spring)

ENG 351r READINGS IN SHAKESPEARE (3)

Analytical and critical study of selected dramas by Shakespeare. May be repeated in consecutive years since different plays will be selected for study. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (Spring)

ENG 360 THE SHORT STORY AS GENRE (3)

This class offers a critical analysis of a wide variety of classic and contemporary short stories, from the roots of the genre in the U.S. in the 19th Century, through its growth and development in the U.S. and Europe, to its flowering across the globe in the late 20th Century and early 21st Centuries. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (Spring, even years)

ENG 361 FORMS OF POETRY (3)

This course involves a study of poetic forms in English from the Middle Ages to the present, as well as practice in the composition of original poetry making use of several of those forms. Open to all English majors and others with consent of the instructor. Will fulfill WE in Artist's Expression. (On demand)

ENG 370r WRITING FICTION AND POETRY (3)

Students will analyze literary models in the two genres as a basis for composing original stories and poems. Fulfills the "Artist's Expression" category of the Wesleyan Essentials.

ENG 375 SCIENCE FICTION (3)

This course explores the genre of science fiction. The nature of science fiction and its reading protocols will be examined—what sets it apart from other types of literature. The readings, which are mostly short stories, will also trace the development of science fiction in the 20th century. A medium-length term paper is required. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (On demand)

ENG 405 ENGLISH SEMINAR (1)

This class functions as a capstone experience for all senior English majors seeking the B.A. and the B.S. This course serves to synthesize the knowledge the majors have gained throughout their course work since it will link formal elements of literature with historical contexts and history of genres. Writing and class discussion will apply overarching concepts, such as period, genre, form, and style, to particular literary passages, thus honing students' analytical ability to connect the general to the particular. Permission of the instructor is required prior to enrollment, and a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in English classes is required. Does not fulfill a general education WE requirement. (Fall, Spring, on demand)

ENG 408r ENGLISH PRACTICUM (TUTORING) (1)

Under the supervision of a faculty member and using a variety of materials, the student will tutor in the Writing Center or in composition classes, helping other students needing remedial work. Maximum credit: 3 hours. Permission of the instructor is required prior to enrollment, and a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in English classes is required. Does not fulfill a general education WE requirement. (Fall, Spring)

ENG 410r READINGS IN THE NOVEL (3)

Analytical and critical study of selected classics in the genre of the novel. May be repeated in consecutive years since different novels will be selected for study. Writing-intensive: seminar paper required. Open to English majors and minors with a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in English classes, Elementary Education majors, and others only with consent of the instructor. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (On demand)

ENG 420r SPECIAL TOPICS IN LITERATURE (3)

An advanced course of in-depth reading in one or more authors or particular periods of English, American, or World Literature. Includes substantial reading of primary texts supplemented by secondary texts. Writing-intensive: seminar paper required. Open to English majors and minors with a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in English classes, Elementary Education majors, and others only with consent of the instructor. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (Fall and/or Spring annually)

ENG 421 ADVANCED STUDIES IN CREATIVE WRITING (3)

Students will compose a substantial body of work in a particular genre, such as fiction, poetry, or non-fiction. The focus will vary from semester to semester, in response to current students' needs and inclinations. Open to creative writing majors, English majors, and others with consent of the instructor. (On demand)

ENG 422 SENIOR PROJECT IN CREATIVE WRITING (3)

In this course, students will compose a substantial body of work in one or more genres, such as fiction, poetry, non-fiction (including travel writing and memoir). The focus will vary from semester to semester, in response to current students' needs and inclinations; but this project is intended as a culmination of the student's efforts throughout the B.F.A. program in English. Open to students in the B.F.A. program only. Will not fulfill a category in WE. (On demand)

ENG 450 ARTHURIAN LEGENDS (3)

This course traces the development of Arthurian literature in the Middle Ages, from Celtic myth, folktales, and legends, to Latin chronicles, French and German romances centered on individual knights, and finally the great compilations of the French Vulgate cycle and Malory's Morte D'Arthur. A research paper of substantial length is required. Open to English majors and minors with a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in English classes, Elementary Education majors, and others only with consent of the instructor. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (On demand)

ENG 475 TOLKIEN AND CRITICAL THEORY (3)

The course is both a reading of J.R.R. Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings and an introduction to 20th century theories of interpretation. Over the course of the semester, we will read Tolkien's novel and subject it to various methods of interpretation: formalist, psychoanalytic, feminist, etc. A research paper of substantial length is required. Open to English majors and minors with a minimum grade point average of 2.5 in English classes, Elementary Education majors, and others only with consent of the instructor. Prerequisite: ENG 102 (On demand)

ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

ENV 150 INTRO TO ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE (3)

Students are introduced to the concept of ecosystem goods and services, as well as sustainable development principles for conserving and maximizing those goods and services. The course is an overview of the impacts of past and current land use practices, water resource management, air pollution sources and effects, solid waste management options, and environmental toxicology. Conventional and renewable energy sources are discussed in the context of global climate change, and the importance of maintaining biological diversity is emphasized. This course is appropriate for both science and non-science majors and is the prerequisite for higher-level environmental science courses. (Fall, Spring; formerly ENV 116 and ENV 117)

ENV 151 INTRO TO ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE LABORATORY (1)

Laboratory and field studies in environmental science. One three-hour laboratory per week. Co-requisite: ENV 150 (Fall, Spring; formerly ENV 117)

ENV 250 WATER RESOURCES (3)

This course expands on the fundamental and pervasive role of water in sustaining life and human societies and economies. It begins with a historical overview of human cultural dependence on waterways for transportation, irrigation, livestock, and water supply. The consequences of hydrological modifications such as damming, channelization, and filling of wetlands are explored. The effects of agriculture, industrial development, and urbanization on surface water and groundwater are examined. The integrated effects of all these human endeavors on aquatic communities are detailed. Best management practices for minimizing adverse impacts and enhancing the benefits of water resources are identified. Legal, regulatory, and technological approaches to water management and allocation are discussed. Three hours of lecture per week. (Alternating spring terms)

ENV 350 LAND USE AND THE ENVIRONMENT (3)

The environmental impacts of various land use practices including agriculture, forestry, mining and other resource extraction, waste disposal, and residential, commercial, and industrial development are examined in detail. The development and use of different energy sources are compared with regard to their environmental and economic impacts. Principles of “designing with nature,” which identifies opportunities and constraints posed by existing environmental conditions, are presented. Strategies for better adapting land use practices to reduce their adverse impacts and improve efficiency and sustainability are explored. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: ENV 150, 151 (Alternating fall terms)

ENV 450 ENVIRONMENTAL TOXICOLOGY (3)

This course focuses on the generation, transport, and transformation of various chemical, biological, and radiological contaminants through the environmental media of air, surface water, groundwater, soil, biota, food and other materials used by human. Current risk assessment methodologies for quantifying human exposure and health effects are presented. Technological remedies for reducing human health and ecological risks from air emissions, wastewater discharges, land disposal of wastes, and energy development are examined. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: ENV 150, 151 (Alternating spring terms)

ENV 498 ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE INTERNSHIP (3)

On the job experience or internship at Kilbride Nature Sanctuary under the supervision of the Director of Kilbride Nature Sanctuary. Prerequisites: approval of the Director of KNS and junior or senior standing.

HEALTH

HLT 161 ENVIRONMENTAL AND PUBLIC HEALTH (3)

A study of health problems of community living with emphasis on environmental concerns, prevention and control of communicable disease, available health services, consumer health concerns, aging, and dying. (Spring)

HLT 162 PERSONAL HEALTH AND DRUG ABUSE (3)

This course provides study of the historical, sociological, pharmacological, and health perspectives of living in a global society. Discussions will provide a foundation for understanding through a survey of factors related to personal health and wellness: anatomy and physiological bodily functions; nutrition; physical and mental fitness; substance use and abuse. (Fall)

HLT 263 NUTRITION (3)

This course examines basic nutritional principles and the effects on the human body. Emphasis is on diets, analysis of diets, and practical application for physical fitness, health, and altered states of health throughout the life-cycle. (Fall, Spring)

HLT 264 SAFETY EDUCATION AND FIRST AID (3)

Emphasis is on first-aid methods, techniques, and skills needed for emergency management and home and environmental safety. Certification in American Red Cross and Responding to Emergencies (including adult CPR). (Fall)

HLT 360 BIOETHICS (3)

The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to research and research findings from significant studies, professional reports, books, etc. related to current bioethical issues in health. Dilemmas created by civil liberties and rights of the population will be studied in depth. The dimensions and societal complexities involved in bioethical and health issues such as poverty, diverse cultures, social economic status, and aging will be examined from local, national and international perspectives. (Fall)

HLT 361 SCHOOL HEALTH (3)

This course will deal with the scope of the school health program, a healthful school environment, school safety, identification of the well child, and departures from normal. (Spring)

HLT 362 HEALTH AND AGING (3)

This course is designed to introduce and familiarize students with the basics concerning the aging process and its impact on health in the later years. The course provides fundamentals about health in aging and focuses on: 1) facts and myths of aging; 2) biological theories of aging; 3) physiological changes in aging; 4) mental health in aging; 5) caregiving and long-term care; 6) sexuality; 7) chronic and acute illness; 8) medical care and medication use; 9) lifestyle behaviors affecting health (nutrition, physical activity); 10) death, dying, and bereavement; and 11) prevention and health promotion for aging. The course is taught through lecture, video presentations, facilitated discussion and experiential learning opportunities, readings, and examinations. (Spring)

HLT 370 CHRONIC AND COMMUNICABLE DISEASES (3)

Examination of etiology of diseases from a body systems approach, with special emphasis on sexually-transmitted diseases, cancer, and cardiovascular disease. Prerequisite: HLT 161 (Spring)

HLT 372 HEALTH DISPARITIES (3)

This course examines health disparities in both health and healthcare at the individual, institutional, and systemic levels in the U.S. Traditionally health disparities occur in marginalized racial, ethnic and immigrant communities and emerging groups, based upon gender, age, sexual preference and self-identity, disability, physical and mental health, geography, and environment. Culture, socioeconomic status, health literacy, and social and community networks all play a role. Students will discover solutions for health equity through vehicles of advocacy, cultural competency, and social justice. Discussions and activities will explore the variety of strategies and techniques to effect change for improving health and well-being at the community level and beyond. (Fall)

HLT 375 HEALTH SCIENCE (3)

A general survey course designed to provide a broad foundation in health science. Topics covered include wellness, nutrition, personal health practices, use and abuse of drugs, environmental health, hazards, health appraisal, and first aid. (Fall)

HLT 400 HEALTH PROMOTION (3)

The course is designed to help prepare health educators in the field of health promotion. Students will explore models of health promotion across the life span, challenges and barriers to improving the health of a various populations, and will explore the value of community health promotion to the individual and the community. Students will learn how to use public health data sets to assess and populations, exploring theories and factors that influence personal health decisions of individuals and populations with a community, and will learn how to design a health promotion activity and how to evaluate outcomes for effectiveness. Prerequisite: MAT 132 (Fall)

HLT 495 SEMINAR IN PUBLIC HEALTH (3)

Seminar topics and discussion are directly related to activities for career development in Public Health.

HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCEHHP 498 HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE INTERNSHIP (1-12)

Supervised experience in a fitness, wellness, health, sport management, or major-specific setting. This is a culminating experience toward the end of the student's required program of study. See major for number of hours required to graduate. (Fall, Winter, Spring, Summer)

HISTORY

HIS 101, 102 THE WESTERN HERITAGE I, II (3, 3)

A survey of Western, essentially European, institutions, culture, religions, and ideologies from the Paleolithic era until the end of twentieth century. The course also attempts to show how history is not simply a body of knowledge but also a way of thinking. The first semester covers the topic from the Paleolithic era until the sixteenth century, and the second from the sixteenth century until approximately 1991.

HIS 107, 108 WORLD GEOGRAPHY: A HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE (3, 3)

This course is a two-semester survey of world historical geography designed to demonstrate how history has often turned on geographic circumstances and to show how history and geography have interacted to help determine present-day ways of life.

HIS 107 concentrates on developed nations, while HIS 108 is given over to an analysis of undeveloped and developing areas. While emphasizing historical development within geographic contexts, the course also includes the economic, cultural, and geologic forces that make geography an essential discipline for understanding human potential and limitations. As it shows how humanity has exploited and often damaged its environment, the course also tries to show the necessity of worldwide ecological responsibility.

HIS 151 HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES I (to 1877) (3)

A broad survey of the United States from colonial times to Reconstruction, including aspects of American political, economic, social, and cultural development. Familiarity with and understanding of the major and conflicting interpretations of American history is also expected.

HIS 152 HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES II (since 1877) (3)

A broad survey of the United States from the Gilded Age to the present, including aspects of American political, economic, social, and cultural development. Familiarity with and understanding of the major and conflicting interpretations of American history is also expected.

HIS 219 TOPICS IN EUROPEAN HISTORY (3)

These courses will examine a variety of topics in the history of the European world, including cultural, political, social, and environmental issues among others.

HIS 223 HISTORY OF MODERN CHINA (3)

This course is an introduction to modern Chinese history from approximately 1800 to the present. Since the 1600s China has been transformed from a traditional agricultural empire into a modern nation-state with a developing industrial economy. During this time, China has faced many external challenges and internal disruptions. The course will explore major themes including changes in the form of government, the impact of the West and Japan, the transformations of urban and rural society, the political and military struggles for power in the 20th century, recent political and economic trends, and China's determination to return to the heights of its glory as the "Middle Kingdom."

HIS 241 THE MAKING OF THE ISLAMIC WORLD (3)

The goal of this course is to acquaint students with one of the world's great civilizations and to connect pre-modern historical processes to modern social and political realities. Mecca is still the center of the Islamic world, but Muslim civilization stretches around the globe. This course will prepare students with a sound basis for understanding the history of Islam and Islamic expansion, and will be beneficial to anyone whose interests touch on any aspect of the Islamic world.

HIS 242 HISTORY OF THE MODERN MIDDLE EAST (3)

This course surveys the history of the Middle East and neighboring regions of the Islamic world from the fifteenth century to the end of the twentieth century. We will examine the rise and decline of the Islamic gunpowder empires (the Ottomans, Safavids, and Mughals); the expansion of European economic dominance, culture influence, and political control in the Islamic world; the ways in which Islamic states and societies responded to and were affected by European imperialism and Western culture; and the rise of modern political movements in the Middle East such as nationalism and pan-Islamism. A major theme of this course is the evolving relationship between Islam and modernity. This course will provide vital context for understanding the challenges and conflicts facing the Middle East and the wider Islamic world today.

HIS 245 THE TWENTIETH-CENTURY WORLD (3)

This course surveys the twentieth century's major global, political, social, economic, cultural and technological developments, with particular attention paid to their impact on the non-Western world. It provides vital context for understanding the challenges we now face in the twenty-first century. We will explore the forces that have made our world more interdependent and interrelated than ever before. We will also examine the forces that have resisted transformations brought on by globalization.

HIS 249 TOPICS IN NON-WESTERN HISTORY (3)

These courses will examine a variety of topics in the history of the world outside of Europe, Canada, and the United States (the so-called "Non-Western" world), including cultural, political, and social issues among others.

HIS 266 CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT BIOGRAPHY (3)

One of the most extraordinary stories of the American twentieth century (quite possibly of American history overall), the Civil Rights Movement largely turned southern society-- and America in general-- upside down. Southern history might still be marked (in much the same way as the Civil War itself) as "before and after" the revolution in civil rights of the 1950s and 1960s. This course will tell the story of the movement largely through the biographies of the extraordinary people who made it happen -- African American and white, male and female, journalist and activist, politician and foot soldier.

HIS 289 TOPICS IN AMERICAN HISTORY (3)

These courses will examine a variety of topics in the history of the United States, including cultural, political, and social issues among others.

HIS 301 IMPERIAL RUSSIA (3)

This course surveys the fundamental events and changes in Russian politics, economics, intellectual thought, culture, and society from the reign of Peter the Great (1696-1725) to the February and October Revolutions of 1917. We will pay particular attention to tsarist Russia as a multi-ethnic and multi-confessional empire and examine how tsarist officials and policymakers managed and transformed Russia's diverse cultures, peoples, and religious communities. This course will enable students to understand how Russians and other tsarist subjects lived and gave meaning to their lives during these years. Prerequisite: HIS 102

HIS 302 THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION AND THE SOVIET UNION (3)

As the world's first officially socialist state, the Soviet Union was one of the most important and tragic experiments in social transformation in modern history. From its revolutionary beginnings, the Soviet Union represented a threat to the dominant liberal-democratic order and an inspiring political model for many oppressed colonial peoples and, later, post-colonial developing nations. The legacies of the Soviet experiment continue to impact culture, society, and politics throughout Eurasia. Cold War-era views of the Soviet Union continues to shape how many Americans understand Marxism, socialism, and communism. This survey of Soviet history focuses particularly on how Soviet citizens of all nationalities (half of the Soviet population were non-Russians) lived, gave meaning to their lives, understood themselves, and experienced Soviet policies. Some of the course's central themes include the tension between ideology and pragmatic concerns in shaping Soviet policies, the fate of the Russian revolution, the nature of Joseph Stalin's dictatorship, the Soviet Union's troubled relationship with the West, and the quest to form a "new Soviet man" and "new Soviet woman." Prerequisite: HIS 102

HIS 319 TOPICS IN EUROPEAN HISTORY (3)

These courses will examine a variety of topics in the history of the European world, including cultural, political, social, and environmental issues among others.

HIS 349 TOPICS IN NON-WESTERN HISTORY (3)

These courses will examine a variety of topics in the history of the world outside of Europe, Canada, and the United States (the so-called "Non-Western" world), including cultural, political, and social issues among others.

HIS 361 US HISTORY, 1914-1945 (3)

The years 1914-1945 formed one of the most pivotal and fascinating periods of American history. The United States emerged from World War I as both an enormous economic power on the world stage, and an extremely important military power as well. The nation entered the post-WWII era as the preeminent world power in both areas, and ushered in an era that the journalist Henry Luce entitled "The American Century." Interestingly, however, the years that fell between the two world wars were among the most tumultuous in our history. The 1920s brought dizzying change that shook American traditions to their core, and frightened many in the national heartland. The decade which preceded World War II, of course, left many Americans asking fundamental questions about the wisdom of its economic and governmental systems. As President Franklin Roosevelt came into office in the dark days of 1933, he told the people quite bluntly, "I see millions of families trying to live on incomes so meager that the pall of family disaster hangs over them day by day...I see one third of a nation ill-housed, ill-clad, ill-nourished." Over the course of the semester, we will examine how Americans came to grips with these tremendous national challenges, and how they emerged with a nation which not only recovered, but ushered in an era of unprecedented American prosperity and power.

HIS 362 US HISTORY, 1945-1960 (3)

In his best-selling book, Tom Brokaw has called them "The Greatest Generation": Americans who had conquered the brutal, racist Nazi regime, and now set about conquering the world with their juggernaut economy and unflagging commitment to contain the Communist threat. We built the world's premier economy while rebuilding war-torn Europe at the same time through unprecedented generosity. The journalist William Luce declared post-war times "The American Century." But 1945-1960 was full of undeniable contradictions. While wholesome entertainment such as "Father Knows Best" and "Leave it to Beaver" prevailed on the airwaves, many Americans feared a dreadful national moral decay: from the emergence of Marilyn Monroe and Playboy magazine to the Kinsey report on sexual habits to the rising concerns over juvenile delinquency. While most Americans celebrated the massive growth of the suburbs and middle class life, others saw a crushing conformity imposed on themselves and rebelled: from Beatniks to Rock and Roll artists. While we emerged from WWII as the undeniable dominant military power in the world, a sinking dread also prevailed that Communists were in our midst and at our heels. That fear led to one of the most controversial episodes in American history as Sen. Joe McCarthy and others emerged to root out Communism from within. We will also examine the apparently dramatic shift from the conformist, more conservative 1950s to the explosion of the liberal reform in the next decade.

HIS 363 US SOCIAL AND CULTURAL HISTORY, 1960-1980 (3)

This course will focus on a pivotal period of American history: 1960-1980. It was a time of tremendous change beginning with President Kennedy's declaration that "we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe, in order to assure the survival and the success of liberty" around the world, and ending with the national disgrace of South Vietnam's collapse and the Iran hostage crisis. It began with high hopes of a nation that seemed so endlessly prosperous that it planned a "Great Society" and ended with a crippling gasoline shortage, rising unemployment, and skyrocketing inflation. If the 1960s was the culmination of liberalism that had emerged in the New Deal era, then the 1970s would pave the way for the conservative revolution of the 1980s and beyond. We will examine this remarkable transformation by exploring such topics as the Civil Rights Movement and many of the resulting movements for change (the Student Movement, the Counterculture, the Chicano Movement, Red Power, Black Power, the Women's movement, Gay Power, etc.), the Vietnam War and its implications for American society, the Watergate crisis, the rise of Christian fundamentalism and alternative religious movements in the 1970s, the emergence of musical forms such as Disco and Punk rock and what they say about 1970s culture, and the national "crisis of confidence" which President Carter claimed plagued the nation by the end of the 1970s.

HIS 364 THE REAGAN REVOLUTION, 1964-PRESENT (3)

Ronald Reagan may just be the most influential political figure of a generation, catapulting his conservative political philosophy to great success in late 20th and early 21st century. So much so, that— as many analysts have noted— he forced even his Democratic opposition to change so significantly that Bill Clinton announced the "era of big government is over." But at the center of all this may have also been one of the most enigmatic of our presidents. Sharp debates over Ronald Reagan began during his administration and have by no means lessened in continuing years. Was he a genius who engineered a decisive shift in governmental direction and policy attitudes, or a spokesman for far craftier advisors and public relations specialists who surrounded him? Was he man of great moral principles and "family values," or a mischievous mastermind behind the Iran-Contra scandal? Did he produce a generation of young people today who revere American greatness with his infectious optimism, or a generation who have grown deeply cynical about their democratically elected leaders and government through his largely anti-government stance? We will address not only these concerns, but look backward to understand the context which helped create the enormous popularity of Reagan, and forward to see his legacies.

HIS 369 HISTORY OF AMERICAN CINEMA (3)

From its earliest years, motion pictures have been widely recognized as a powerful and influential cultural force in American society. As such, films have been scrutinized by public and civic officials and endured official and unofficial censorship campaigns; many have used films to generate sympathy for cherished causes; many others have rallied to protect alleged moral or patriotic threats against controversial films. This course will closely examine the history of cinema by viewing a select number of motion pictures. This course will analyze and discuss these films as primary documents, and ask what those films reveal about the times in which they were created. Cinema will be used as an important prism to view the changing social landscape of the United States in the Twentieth Century. Prerequisite: HIS 152

HIS 370, 371 HISTORY OF THE SOUTH I, II (3, 3)

A study of the economic, cultural, social, and political development of the American South from the Jamestown settlement to the present, with particular emphasis on the origin and continuity of Southern distinctiveness, slavery, the plantation economy and society of the Old South, the Civil War and Reconstruction, and the origin and progress of the New South.

HIS 389 TOPICS IN AMERICAN HISTORY (3)

These courses will examine a variety of topics in the history of the United States, including cultural, political, and social issues among others.

HIS 461r SEMINAR IN HISTORY (3)

An intensive study of selected topics in history, including research in the materials of history and the writing of analytical reports. May be repeated for credit. At least one seminar is offered each semester. Topics change on a rotating schedule and include Nations and Nationalism, Race and Justice in Twentieth Century America, American Populism, and the New South.

HONORS

HON 101 THE PROBLEMS AND PROMISES OF CITIZENSHIP (3)

In its original ancient Greek conception, citizenship (politeia) denoted membership in a political community - the city-state (polis) - and implied a set of privileges and responsibilities. Being a citizen of a city-state was the primary marker of identity and form of belonging in the ancient Greek world. Over the millennia, citizenship has been redefined and reimagined, often through contentious and violent processes. Currently, there is no universal definition of citizenship. Rather, there is a general recognition of the importance of understanding it in its diverse cultural contexts. Yet citizenship, however defined and situated, has functioned as an important category of identity and has retained an essential connection to membership in a political community extending above the level of kinship or tribe. Given this complicated history, students in this course will consider the concept of citizenship as it has developed in different historical and cultural contexts through historical, literary, and sociological texts. A seminar-style class, the course will rely on engaged and regular discussion to develop students' understanding of citizenship and its meaning today.

HON 102 THE COMMON GOOD (3)

An exploration of how human societies have conceived and attempted to build community and the broader social good. Particular attention is paid to the intersections and tensions that arise between individual and communal good.

HON 451 HONORS PROGRAM CAPSTONE SEMINAR (3)

This course is a capstone experience for the Honors Program. Students will complete a substantial project of their interest relating to the Honors Program theme of Citizenship and the Common Good. The student will select a professor to serve as the advisor for the project. That professor may be either a member of the Honors Faculty or not. Two other Honors Program faculty will complete a broader committee to oversee the student's project. The course reading and the nature of the research will be determined by that Honors Capstone Committee.

KINESIOLOGY

KNS 210 LEADERSHIP IN HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE (3)

This course provides an overview of the scope, history, principles, research issues, professional organizations, and other current information important to professionals interested in the field of health and human performance. Skills necessary for the assessment of health-related physical fitness will also be introduced. (Fall, Spring)

KNS 350 CARE AND PREVENTION OF ATHLETIC INJURIES (3)

This course introduces students to injuries commonly experienced by competitive athletes, discusses conditioning and evaluation methods used to identify injuries, and the basic management approaches used to treat injuries. This course also provides clinical experience and laboratory learning. Prerequisites: BIO 140, BIO 142. (Fall)

KNS 360 KINESIOLOGY (3)

A study of fundamental anatomical, mechanical, and neuromuscular principles as they apply to human movement. Prerequisite: BIO 140 or permission of the instructor. (Spring)

KNS 370 PHYSIOLOGY OF EXERCISE (3)

This course is designed to provide students with an understanding of human physiological responses to physical activity and exercise. Emphasis is placed on metabolism, cardiorespiratory function, neuromuscular and endocrine system responses to exercise. Prerequisites: BIO 140/141, BIO 142/143; co-requisite: KNS 371 (Fall, Spring)

KNS 371 PHYSIOLOGY OF EXERCISE LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory experiences related to exercise physiology, including a variety of fitness assessments. One 1.5 hour laboratory per week. Co-requisite: KNS 370 (Fall, Spring)

KNS 380 RESEARCH PRINCIPLES & TECHNIQUES IN HHP (3)

This course examines the fundamentals of applied research and evaluation methods with respect to fields within health and human performance. Opportunities for hands-on research experience may occur. (Fall, Spring)

KNS 411 EXERCISE TESTING (3)

A study of the various methods and procedures utilized to screen and test individuals for their level of health-related and skill-related fitness. Field tests and laboratory assessments will be utilized with an emphasis on evaluation techniques. The appropriateness of various evaluation tools for persons with differing levels of fitness and special conditions will also be considered. Prerequisites: KNS 370/371 (Fall)

KNS 422 EXERCISE PRESCRIPTION (3)

This course is designed to introduce the concepts and procedures necessary to develop appropriate exercise prescriptions for various populations and fitness levels. Compliance, risk of injury and other specific programming issues will also be addressed. Students are required to interpret case studies and, subsequently, develop an exercise prescription for the client/patient. Prerequisites: KNS 411 (Spring)

KNS 436 THERAPEUTIC EXERCISE (3)

This course will introduce students to basic theories and the clinical basis for the use of therapeutic exercise in rehabilitation settings. Basic biomechanics, indications and contraindications, and proper application procedures of therapeutic exercise associated with orthopedic injury rehabilitation will be introduced. Prerequisites: BIO 140/141, BIO 142/143, KNS 370/371. (Spring)

KNS 460 REVIEW FOR CERTIFICATION (3)

This course is designed to provide theoretical knowledge and practical skills in preparation for a national certification exam in health and human performance. Restricted to 4th year students. (Spring)

KNS 480 EPIDEMIOLOGY (3)

This course examines the fundamentals of the foundation of epidemiology with respect to public health, physical activity and exercise, and epidemiological research and study designs (descriptive and analytical). (Spring)

LAW

LAW 200 LEGAL ADMINISTRATION (3)

This course focuses on the organization, function, practices and procedures of the various venues for the practice of law. Emphasis is placed on basic management including data systems, scheduling and docket control; as well as the creation, preparation, organization and processing of pleadings, forms, briefs and other legal documents.

LAW 210 LEGAL RESEARCH AND WRITING (3)

This course is designed to strengthen the student's writing, analysis, and critical thinking skills. The course looks at crucial issues of writing in the context of the legal assistant within a law environment. By defining an effective writing process, and examining how to write for the appropriate audience, students will learn how to apply principles of plain English, logical analysis and proper planning, organizing, and drafting to a variety of legal documents.

LAW 300 THE LAW OF TORTS (3)

This course is an examination of the laws governing torts and personal injury. Special emphasis is placed on negligence, defense to negligence, intentional torts with injuries to persons and property, defenses to intentional torts, strict liability, products liability, special tort actions and tort immunities. The course also discusses the critical role paralegals play in bringing and defending tort actions.

LAW 400 THE LAW OF CONTRACTS (3)

This course is an in-depth discussion of the law of contracts and the role of the legal assistant in the area of law, particular attention is given to the six basic requirements for every valid contract: offer, acceptance, consideration, legality of the subject matter, contract capacity, and contractual intent. Discussions also center upon the various classifications into which all contracts fall. Additional topics include the Statute of Frauds, the Uniform Commercial Code, third party contracts, and legal remedies for breach of contract. Students will learn how to draft and interpret different types of contracts, and will analyze case law involving contract disputes.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

LSC 312 BOOKS AND RELATED MATERIALS FOR CHILDREN (3)

This course promotes knowledge of and use of books for children. Attention is given to choosing books and related materials (videos, magazines, etc.) for different age and ability levels as well as to integrating trade books into the curriculum. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Does not fulfill the literature requirements of the WE. Also listed as ENG 312.

LSC 313 BOOKS AND RELATED MATERIALS FOR ADOLESCENTS (3)

This course provides knowledge and use of books and related materials (movies, magazines, etc.) for adolescents. Emphasis is placed on critical judgment in the evaluation, selection, and promotion of reading material for this age group. Prerequisite: ENG 102. Does not fulfill the literature requirements of the WE. Also listed as ENG 313.

MANAGEMENT EXCELLENCE ADULT STUDIES PROGRAMMGT 300 LEADERSHIP (3)

This course examines the theories of leadership and the impact of ethical leadership in the workplace. Skills and techniques used by effective leaders will be analyzed. Team building, group dynamics and servant leadership will be studied.

MGT 301 INFORMATION AND TECHNOLOGY MANAGEMENT (3)

This course studies the important uses of information technology in organizations. Topics include study of the analysis, design, and implementation of spreadsheet applications; information requirements and flow; system design and analysis methodologies; the generation and accumulation of data for decision making; and the implementation and control of information systems. Prerequisite: BUS 218

MGT 302 ACCOUNTING PERSPECTIVES FOR MANAGEMENT (3)

An analysis and interpretation of financial accounting information focusing on the preparation of financial statements and managerial decision making. Prerequisite: BUS 201

MGT 303 COMMUNICATIONS FOR MANAGEMENT (3)

This course provides tools for appropriate and professional communications in organizational settings. Reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills will be emphasized for formal and informal business and managerial settings. A professional managerial report will be required.

MGT 310 MANAGERIAL ECONOMICS (3)

This course will help students apply economic theory to managerial decision making and will develop students' managerial skills as they relate to economic concepts. Topics will include production and cost analysis, market structure, optimal pricing, and profit maximization. Prerequisite: BUS 251 or BUS 252

MGT 320 LEGAL ISSUES IN MANAGEMENT (3)

A study of legal issues and appropriate legal decision making as it relates to the management field. Topics include: Business laws, rights, and regulations regarding business commerce, i.e. contracts, corporations, and partnerships.

MGT 330 ESSENTIALS OF MANAGEMENT (3)

The course is designed to integrate basic management theories and functions to current managerial practices for an understanding of the appropriate knowledge and skills needed in managerial positions. Students will be expected to apply management theories and functions for improving managerial problems.

MGT 340 STATISTICS FOR MANAGEMENT (3)

This course will introduce basic statistical and quantitative methods for managerial problem solving. Microsoft Excel will be utilized for technology exposure to making quantitative managerial decisions. Prerequisite: MAT 132 or equivalent

MGT 341 ESSENTIALS OF MARKETING (3)

The course is designed to integrate basic marketing theories and functions to current managerial practices for an understanding of the appropriate knowledge and skills needed in managerial positions. Students will be expected to utilize marketing theories and functions for improving managerial problems.

MGT 342 FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT (3)

This course provides basic skills and knowledge for making financial related managerial decisions. Topics include: Time value of money, calculating bond value, capital budgeting, and stock evaluation.

MGT 343 HUMAN RESOURCE STRATEGY & EEO MANAGEMENT (3)

An examination of the management of human resources as a strategic process while emphasizing Equal Opportunity Employment requirements and initiatives. From a management perspective, issues in job analysis, recruitment, selection, training and development, compensation, and evaluation processes will be discussed.

MGT 400 MANAGEMENT STRATEGY (3)

As a capstone course, all business functions are addressed for their role in the comprehensive nature of strategic management. Developing an all-inclusive perspective and plan of selecting/creating and executing strategy for problem solving is a major outcome of the course. In conjunction with strategic management principles, students will participate in a web-based simulation and/or case studies that will promote strategic thinking and reasoning and give opportunity for strategic decision making.

MATHEMATICS

MAT 100 ESSENTIAL MATHEMATICS (3)

This course is designed to provide the student with the basic skills, competencies, and problem solving opportunities required for successful entry into college level mathematics courses. Topics include elementary operations performed on, relationships between, and properties of the integers, rationals, and real numbers; algebraic operations on polynomial and rational expressions; exponentiation; linear, rational, and quadratic equations and inequalities; an introduction to functions; and order of operations with an emphasis on problem analysis and problem solving. Students placed in this course must demonstrate mastery of this content prior to enrolling in or receiving credit for any math course numbered MAT 110 or above. This course does not satisfy any WE math requirement and is not open to any student that has completed any higher level math course. (Fall and Spring)

MAT 110 MATHEMATICS FOR THE ARTS (3)

A survey of contemporary and classical mathematical topics including financial mathematics, voting theory, counting, graph theory, and geometry. Prerequisites: ACT math sub-score of 19 or satisfactory completion of MAT 100. (Spring of even numbered years)

MAT 131 COLLEGE ALGEBRA (3)

This course focuses on functions. Problem solving is emphasized. Mathematical modeling through the solution of word problems is also introduced. Not open to students who have completed MAT 141 or MAT 181. Prerequisites: ACT math-sub-score of 19 or satisfactory completion of MAT 100. (Fall and Spring)

MAT 132 ESSENTIALS OF STATISTICS (3)

This course provides an introduction to elementary probability theory, descriptive statistics and inferential statistics. Discrete and continuous distributions, including the binomial and normal distributions, are treated, as are the topics of linear regression, hypothesis testing, confidence intervals. Prerequisites: ACT math-sub score of 19 or satisfactory completion of MAT 100. (Fall and Spring)

MAT 141 PRECALCULUS MATHEMATICS I (3)

This course includes topics on solving higher order polynomial and rational equations and inequalities, logarithmic as well as exponential equations. Graphs and zeros of functions, operations on functions, graph transformation, graphing and understanding the properties of polynomial, rational, inverse, logarithmic and exponential functions. Prerequisites: ACT math sub-score of 22 or satisfactory completion of MAT 131. Not open to students who have completed MAT 181. (Fall)

MAT 142 PRECALCULUS MATHEMATICS II (3)

Topics include trigonometric functions, trigonometric identities and equations, the laws of sines and cosines, polar coordinates, conic sections and the binomial theorem. Prerequisite: MAT 141 (Spring)

MAT 181 CALCULUS I (4)

This course treats differential calculus and introduces integral calculus. Topics include limits, continuity, the derivative, applications of differentiation, antiderivatives, the definite integral, and the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus. Prerequisite: ACT math sub-score greater than 22 (25 is recommended), successful completion of MAT 142. (Fall)

MAT 182 CALCULUS II (4)

This course focuses on techniques of integration, applications of integration, and Taylor and Maclaurin series. Prerequisite: MAT 181 (Spring)

MAT 221 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS (3)

This course provides an introduction to discrete mathematical structures. Topics include modular arithmetic, congruences, RSA Codes, counting, recursive relations, and graph theory. Prerequisite: MAT 181 (Spring of even numbered years)

MAT 241 HISTORY OF MATHEMATICS (3)

This course focuses on a small sampling of the important ideas and events in the history of Mathematics from the clay tablets of the Babylonians to the beginnings of calculus. Prerequisite: MAT 131 (Spring of odd numbered years)

MAT 283 MULTI-VARIABLE CALCULUS (4)

This course continues the study of calculus, with emphasis on functions of two or more variables. Topics covered include polar coordinates, vectors, three-dimensional spaces, partial derivatives, and multiple integrals. Prerequisite: MAT 182 (Fall)

MAT 299 TRANSITION TO ADVANCED MATHEMATICS (3)

An introduction to proof course covering proof techniques and designed to prepare students for upper-division proof-based mathematics courses. Topics include logic, number theory, sets, relations, and functions. Prerequisite: MAT 182 (Fall)

MAT 311 MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS I (3)

Calculus based introductory/intermediate course in probability and statistical methods. Both single variable and joint distributions are studied. Basic probability, conditional probability, expected value, and variance are covered. Discrete probability distributions include binomial and Poisson distributions. Continuous probability distributions include exponential and normal distributions. Statistical methods covered are z-tests, t-tests, tests of proportions, difference of means tests, and ANOVA. Prerequisites: MAT 132 and MAT 283 (Spring)

MAT 351 LINEAR ALGEBRA (3)

This course includes the study of systems of linear equations, matrices, determinants, vector spaces and eigenvalues and eigenvectors. Corequisite: MAT 283 (Fall)

MAT 355 MATH FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS (3)

Develop advanced perspective on concepts, structures and algorithms of math constituting the core of K-5 math curriculum: the real number system, number theory; algebra and functions, mathematical reasoning. Prerequisites: MAT 131, and MAT 132 or equivalent (Fall)

MAT 356 MATHEMATICS FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS II (3)

Develop advanced perspective on concepts, structures, and algorithms of math constituting the core of K-5 math curriculum: geometry and measurement; probability and statistics; mathematical reasoning. Prerequisites: MAT 131 and MAT 132, or equivalent (Spring)

MAT 361 INTRODUCTION TO GEOMETRY (3)

The course focuses on providing a thorough background in geometry, introduces proof, congruent triangles, similar polygons, right triangles, circles, constructions, loci, and areas and volumes of solids, and will include some exploration of Non-Euclidean geometry. Prerequisite: MAT 299 (Spring)

MAT 371 ORDINARY DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS (3)

A study of ordinary differential equations and their solutions. A number of methods used to solve such equations will be studied. A selection of practical problems drawn from topics such as physics, engineering, biology, economics, sociology and chemistry are solved. This course will help the student integrate calculus, analytic geometry, algebra, and trigonometry. Prerequisite: MAT 283 (Spring)

MAT 411 INTRODUCTION TO MODERN ALGEBRA (3)

The course focuses on: groups, equivalence, congruence, and rings. Prerequisites: MAT 283 and MAT 299 (Fall)

MAT 431 NUMERICAL ANALYSIS (3)

Numerical Analysis is a computational course that uses programming in MATLAB to solve numerical problems. Topics include error analysis, algorithms and convergence, solutions of equations in one variable, interpolation and polynomial approximations, numerical differentiation and integration, and initial value problems for ordinary differential equations. Prerequisites: MAT 371 may be taken concurrently (Spring)

MAT 441 ANALYSIS (3)

This course is designed to continue the study of calculus and analysis. The topics covered will have more of a theoretical approach than some of the same topics discussed in more elementary mathematics. Proof is emphasized. Prerequisites: MAT 283 and MAT 299 (Fall)

MAT 464r MATHEMATICS SEMINAR (1)

This course is designed to prepare students for their research assignment in MAT 465 - Senior Paper. The students will research topics and do a literature search on research ideas. In addition, they will learn how to write up assignments and papers in LaTeX and give appropriate technology supported presentations. Mathematics Education majors will also prepare for the Mathematics Content Knowledge Praxis II exam, Math majors will prepare for the comprehensive exam offered by the department. Prerequisite: Students must be of junior or senior status.

MAT 465 SENIOR PAPER (1)

This course is designed for students to write a research or review paper on a mathematical topic of choice in LaTeX. Students will write a research/review paper and present the paper to the class instructors and other students will be invited to attend. Prerequisite: MAT 464

MODERN LANGUAGES

FRENCH (Courses must be taken sequentially.)

FRE 101 ELEMENTARY FRENCH I (3)

This course is a proficiency-based course designed to provide a functional elementary foundation in the basic skills speaking, listening, reading, and writing in French as well as an integrated study of French culture. (Fall, Summer on demand)

FRE 102 ELEMENTARY FRENCH II (3)

This course is a continuation of French 101. Prerequisite: FRE 101 or the equivalent. (Spring, Summer on demand)

FRE 201 INTERMEDIATE FRENCH I (3)

This course is a proficiency-based course designed to review essential structures in further detail and to improve the student's ability in speaking, listening, reading, and writing in French. Prerequisite: FRE 102 or the equivalent. (Fall, Summer on demand)

FRE 202 INTERMEDIATE FRENCH II (3)

This course is a continuation of F 201 and is a proficiency-based course designed to review essential structures in further detail and to improve the student's ability in speaking, listening, reading and writing in French. Prerequisite: FRE 201 or the equivalent. (Spring, Summer on demand)

FRE 301 ADVANCED FRENCH GRAMMAR AND CONVERSATION (3)

This course is designed to develop advanced oral comprehension skills and intermediate-to-high-level speaking proficiency in French. This course follows the 1999 ACTFL Speaking Proficiency Guidelines, using "post-intermediate lexicon building in addition to review and expansion of oral grammar elements that support conversation at the advanced level." Prerequisite: FRE 202 or the equivalent. This class is conducted in French. (Fall)

FRE 302 FRENCH COMPOSITION (3)

This course is a study and practicum of French composition, with a review and expansion of supporting grammatical structure. With the focus on writing for varied audiences and tasks, students will also practice oral French and structure as needed to enhance advanced-level writing tasks. This class is conducted in French. Prerequisite: FRE 301 or the equivalent. (Spring)

FRE 304 INTRODUCTION TO FRENCH AND FRANCOPHONE LITERATURE (3)

This is an introduction to the major literary periods and movements in France and the Francophone world. The course covers excerpts of texts taken from works of various authors from the major literary movements and periods in France and the Francophone world, such as medieval, renaissance, classicisme, romantisme, realisme, surrealisme, negritude, and nouvelle generation. This course will focus on excerpts from novels, poems, and dramatic works, through which we will study the forms and specifics of writing during those literary periods. The course, taught completely in French, will introduce the student not only to different aspects of literature, but also to literary analysis and criticism. Prerequisites: FRE 202 or the equivalent. This course will fulfill the literature requirement in the WE.

FRE 305 THE FRANCOPHONE WORLD OUTSIDE OF FRANCE (3)

This course introduces students to the social institutions and ways of life in the present-day French-speaking world in Africa and the Caribbean, focusing on cultural and linguistic identity as well as changing family structures, customs, and the challenges within increasingly multi-ethnic societies. Discussions are based on a variety of authentic sources: novels, internet, books, reviews, recordings, and interviews. This course is taught in English and fulfills a Cultural Diversity requirement of the WE. Prerequisite: ENG 102

JAPANESE

JPN 299 STUDY ABROAD IN JAPANESE (3-6)

With 60 hours of in-class instruction complemented by nine hours of social and cultural experiences as well as field trips, this month-long course offers the student valuable knowledge of and insight into Japan, its language, and its people. (Summer)

SPANISH (Spanish classes will be conducted entirely in Spanish from the first day of class. Courses must be taken sequentially.)

SPA 101 ELEMENTARY SPANISH I (3)

This course is a proficiency-based course designed to provide a functional elementary foundation in basic communication skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing in Spanish, as well as an introduction to the Hispanic cultures. (Fall, Summer)

SPA 102 ELEMENTARY SPANISH II (3)

This course is a continuation of SPA 101 and is a proficiency-based course designed to develop basic communication skills in both oral and written Spanish. Prerequisite: SPA 101 or the equivalent. (Spring, Summer)

SPA 201 INTERMEDIATE SPANISH I (3)

This course is a proficiency-based course designed to review essential structures in further detail and to improve the student's ability in speaking, listening, reading, and writing in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPA 102 or the equivalent. (Fall, Summer on demand)

SPA 202 INTERMEDIATE SPANISH II (3)

This course is a continuation of SPA 201 and is a proficiency-based course designed to review essential structures in further detail and to improve the student's ability in speaking, listening, reading and writing in Spanish. Prerequisite: SPA 201 or the equivalent. (Spring, Summer on demand)

SPA 301 SPANISH GRAMMAR AND CONVERSATION (3)

This course is designed to develop advanced oral comprehension skills and intermediate-to-high-level speaking proficiency in Spanish through readings and discussion on social and cultural topics as well as contribute to the conversation on topics related to daily life, as stated in the 2012 ACTFL Speaking Proficiency Guidelines. Prerequisite: SPA 202 or the equivalent. (Fall, Summer on demand)

SPA 302 SPANISH COMPOSITION (3)

This course provides preparation in writing skills and exercise in key elements of grammar through the development of reading comprehension, vocabulary acquisition, and compositions on assigned topics. A review of basics covered in previous courses and the introduction of more challenging grammatical structures in Spanish will lead to practical application in composition assignments. Writing-emphasis course. Prerequisite: SPA 301

SPA 304 HISPANIC CULTURE THROUGH LITERATURE AND FILM (3)

This course is intended for students who want to broaden their understanding of the Hispanic culture. Students will be exposed to selected films, short stories, and other artistic works that cover topics concerning life and culture, as well as social and political issues that are relevant to the Hispanic community in the United States. This course is taught in English and fulfills a Cultural Diversity requirement for the WE. Students pursuing the minor in Spanish will meet with the instructor for additional sessions of discussions conducted in Spanish and will be required to write blogs and final paper in Spanish. Prerequisite: ENG 102

SPA 306 LITERATURE IN SPANISH (3)

This course focuses on the main writers, trends, stylistic periods, and artistic movements in Spain and in Spanish America set against a broad background of cultural, socio-political, and historical developments since 1600. Among the selections are works from Siglo de oro español, colonial literature, neo-classicism, the romantics, the modernistas, the avant-garde of the 1920s and 1930s, post-war Spain, and the Latin American boom and post-boom. Writing-emphasis course. Prerequisite: SPA 302

MUSIC

MUS 100 APPLIED MUSIC (1-3)

Private instruction for beginning students interested in developing applied performance skills. Students will learn the basic psychomotor skills and cognitive thought processes necessary for performance in their medium. Entry level will be assessed and the degree of progress carefully monitored to determine whether the student should be allowed to register for the course the following term. The course is open to all students with permission of the instructor. MU 100r may satisfy requirements as the secondary applied area for the music major. However, it may not be used to satisfy any requirements for the principle performance area. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 103r APPLIED MUSIC (1-3)

Applied instruction in voice, piano, organ, guitar, and orchestral instruments with emphasis on learning appropriate techniques and literature for the voice or instrument being studied. Music majors may apply no more than 12 hours of credit in any one applied area toward a degree. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 108 INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC FUNDAMENTALS (3)

A study of the rudiments of musical theory. Credit may not be used toward a major in music. (Fall)

MUS 111 MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC I (3)

A study of the four-part harmony and harmonic progression techniques used in the eighteenth century and an introduction to seventh chords and modulation. Part writing and analysis are stressed.

MUS 111L MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC I LAB (1)

An introduction to singing and hearing simple rhythms, scales, intervals, and triads. (Spring)

MUS 112 MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC II (3)

A continuation of MUS 111 with emphasis on secondary dominants, two-part and three-part forms, American popular songs, and jazz forms. Prerequisite: Proficiency in the content of MUS 111. (Fall)

MUS 112L MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC II LAB (1)

A continuation of MUS 111L. Prerequisite: Proficiency in the content of MUS 111L. (Fall)

MUS 116 CLASS VOICE (1)

Repeatable for up to four hours of credit. Class and private instruction for beginning and other students interested in functional and applied singing skills. Entry level will be assessed and the degree of progress carefully monitored to determine whether the student should be allowed to register for the course the following term. Open to all students with the permission of the instructor. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 161 COLLEGE BAND (1)

An organization open to all qualified students in the University on the approval of the director. Literature may include all styles of music, including jazz and popular. Music majors who have a wind or percussion instrument as their applied area may receive no more than six hours of credit toward their degree. (Fall and Spring as enrollment permits)

MUS 171 CHORALE (1)

A small vocal ensemble open to all qualified students through audition and approval of the director. Literature is primarily focused on chamber music of the Renaissance and early Baroque, but also may include popular, jazz, folk, and other classical styles. Several public performances will be given each year both on and off the campus, with tours usually taken every year. Instrumentalists who wish to accompany this group may apply. Music majors who have selected piano or voice as their applied area may receive no more than six hours of credit toward their degree. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 181 VOX HUMANA (1)

Open to all qualified students in the University on the approval of the instructor. Ensembles could be composed of various voice, keyboard, guitar, or orchestral instrument groups. Music majors may receive no more than six hours of credit toward their degree. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 191 CONCERT CHOIR (1)

The Concert Choir is a select group of men and women admitted through audition. In addition to concerts performed at the University and in the community, the choir tours extensively, appearing in churches, schools, and on radio and television. Open to all students. Music majors who have selected piano or voice as their applied area may receive no more than six hours of credit in this course toward their degree. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 207 MUSIC APPRECIATION (3)

For the student interested in developing an appreciation of music from the structural and historical points of view. The course includes an examination of the elements of music, repetition, form, mediums, and style characteristics from 1450 to the present. Credit may not be used toward a major in music. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 208 THE CREATIVE PROCESS IN ART AND MUSIC (3)

A study to develop an appreciation for and understanding of the creative process in art and music. The emphasis is on expressing ideas through the use of art and music, relating the arts to each other and other subjects, and involvement in the creative process. This course is recommended for licensure seeking students. (Fall)

MUS 209 WORLD MUSIC (3)

This course is a survey of the musics and music cultures of the world, focusing on those distinct from the Western European tradition. The course will serve as an introduction to the discipline of ethnomusicology, the study of music in the context of culture as it exists anywhere in the world. By investigating the music of a variety of the world's cultures, and how it reflects and shapes the cultures of which they are a part, students will have opportunities to reflect upon views of the world that may be different than their own.

MUS 211 MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC III (3)

A study of counterpoint; the fugue; variation techniques; borrowed chords; ninth, eleventh, and thirteenth chords; and altered chords. Prerequisite: Proficiency in the content of MUS 112. (Spring)

MUS 211L MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC III LAB (1)

A continuation of MUS 112L, with emphasis on triads, seventh chords, melodic dictation, and harmonic dictation. Prerequisite: Proficiency in the content of MUS 112L. (Spring)

MUS 212 MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC IV (3)

A continuation of MUS 211, with emphasis on altered chords, sonata allegro form, rondo form, and other late nineteenth and twentieth-century compositional techniques. Prerequisite: Proficiency in the content of MUS 211. (Fall)

MUS 212L MATERIALS AND STRUCTURES OF MUSIC IV LAB (1)

A continuation of MUS 211L, with emphasis on melodic and harmonic dictation, altered chords, chromaticism, and other twentieth-century techniques. Prerequisite: Proficiency in the content of MUS 211L. (Fall)

MUS 214 MUSIC LITERATURE I (3)

The student will be introduced to the basic elements of music and terminology used in examining and conversing about music. Performance media, including vocal and instrumental, will be studied as they relate to history and the present day. Beginning with the Middle Ages and progressing through the Classical Period the student will study composers, major musical works, and compositional forms. The study of musical works will be both visual and aural. (Fall)

MUS 215 MUSIC LITERATURE II (3)

This course is a continuation of MUS 214, Music Literature I. Beginning with the Romantic Period and progressing through the Twentieth Century the student will study composers, major musical works, and compositional forms. Both visual and aural study will be incorporated in the examination of musical works. Jazz, the American Musical, Rock and Nonwestern Music will be components of the course. (Spring)

MUS 219 PERFORMANCE AND INSTRUMENTATION FOR PERCUSSION AND BRASS (2)

A study of instruments in the percussion family. The snare drum will be the main instrument of study, and emphasis will be placed on strengthening the student's reading and performance of rhythmic notation. Students will discover through analysis how composers have scored for percussion instruments and how to apply basic principles of instrumentation. A study of instruments in the brass family. The trumpet and trombone will be the main instruments of study. Students will discover through analysis how composers have scored for brass instruments and how to apply basic principles of instrumentation. (Spring)

MUS 220 PERFORMANCE AND INSTRUMENTATION FOR STRING/WOODWINDS (2)

A study of instruments in the string family. The violin and cello will be the main instruments of study. Students will discover through analysis how composers have scored for string instruments and how to apply basic principles of instrumentation. A study of instruments in the woodwind family. The flute and clarinet will be the main instruments of study. Students will discover through analysis how composers have scored for woodwind instruments and how to apply basic principles of instrumentation. (Fall)

MUS 303 APPLIED MUSIC (1-3)

Applied instruction in voice, piano, organ, guitar, and orchestral instruments, with emphasis on learning appropriate techniques and literature for the voice or instrument being studied. Music majors must earn at least three hours in this course toward their degree. Prerequisite: Proficiency audition. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 309 THE CHURCH MUSICIAN AS WORSHIP LEADER (2)

This course is a study of the philosophy of music in Christian worship. It will examine the biblical roots, historical development commensurate with artistic style periods, and the practice of worship today. The course will also enable students to articulate and defend the use of music in worship based on biblical and theological perspectives.

MUS 310 MUSIC IN THE CHURCH (2)

A study of the philosophy and objectives of the church music program. Topics will include personnel involved in the program, the music budget, the music library, the rehearsal room, instrumental music, and acoustics. (On demand)

MUS 312 COUNTERPOINT (3)

This is an upper-level music theory class focusing on the technique and skill of musical counterpoint. The course takes a topic which is introduced in the music theory sequence of courses and gives upper-level historical context as well as advanced score study. Prerequisites: MUS 212, MUS 212 L.

MUS 313 CLASSICAL FORM (3)

This course will examine different manifestation of form and formal principles in music, and their relationship to harmony and tonality. Starting with contrapuntal tonal music (Bach), the course will concentrate mainly on the "classical" repertoire of Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven. Formal and tonal principle in the nineteenth-century music will be the final section of the course. Pre-requisites: MUS 212, MUS 212 L.

MUS 314, 315 HISTORY OF MUSIC I, II (3, 3)

A survey of stylistic periods in music history from the primitive origins to the developments of the twentieth century. Analysis of the formal elements of style, especially as they relate to the performance of music, will be a major emphasis. Special attention will be given to the aural comprehension of stylistic characteristics.

Prerequisites for MUS 314: MUS 214 and MUS 215; Prerequisite for MUS 315: MUS 314 (MUS 314 Fall, MUS 315 Spring)

MUS 324 BEGINNING CONDUCTING (3)

A study of the basic techniques of conducting, including use of the baton, expressive gestures, clefs and transposition, and principles of orchestral, band, and choral score reading. Prerequisite: MUS 112 or permission of the instructor (Fall)

MUS 325 ADVANCED CONDUCTING AND CHORAL TECHNIQUES (3)

A study of more advanced conducting techniques, including recitative and operatic conducting, with an emphasis on choral ensembles. The choral topics will include intonation, tone production, balance, diction, style, repertory, rehearsal techniques, and organization as they apply to school, church, and civic choral organizations. Prerequisite: MUS 324 (Spring)

MUS 329 METHODS AND MATERIALS FOR TEACHING MUSIC IN THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (2)

The study of music teaching methods and materials and the role of the music teacher in the elementary school. Twenty hours of field experience required. Prerequisite: EDU 201 (Spring)

MUS 332 METHODS AND MATERIALS FOR TEACHING GENERAL MUSIC IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (2)

A study of the principles, procedures, and materials for teaching general music and other non-performing music classes in the middle or secondary school. Special emphasis is placed on the methods and materials for teaching the changing voice, and the role of the music teacher in grades 6-12. Twenty hours of field experience required. Prerequisite: EDU 201 (Spring)

MUS 361 COLLEGE BAND (1)

An organization open to all qualified students in the University on the approval of the director. Literature may include all styles of music, including jazz and popular. Music majors who select a wind or percussion instrument as their applied area must earn at least two hours of credit. Prerequisite: At least four hours of MUS 161r (Fall and Spring as enrollment permits)

MUS 371 CHORALE (1)

A small vocal ensemble open to all qualified students through audition and approval of the director. Literature is primarily focused on chamber music of the Renaissance and early Baroque, but also may include popular, jazz, folk, and other classical styles. Several public performances will be given each year both on and off the campus, with tours usually taken every year. Instrumentalists who wish to accompany this group may apply. Music majors who have selected piano or voice as their applied area may receive no more than six hours of credit toward their degree. (Fall, Spring)

MUS 381 VOX HUMANA (1)

Open to all qualified students in the University on the approval of the instructor. Ensembles could be composed of various voice, keyboard, guitar, or orchestral instrument groups. Prerequisite: At least four hours of MUS 181r (Fall, Spring)

MUS 391 CONCERT CHOIR (1)

The Concert Choir is a select group of men and women admitted through audition. In addition to concerts performed at the university and in the community, the choir tours extensively, appearing in churches, schools, and on radio and television. Music majors who select piano or voice as their applied area must earn at least two hours of credit. Prerequisite: At least four hours of MUS 191r (Fall, Spring)

MUS 404 RECITAL (2-3)

Advanced applied instruction in voice, piano, organ, guitar, and orchestral instruments, with emphasis on developing appropriate techniques for literature being prepared for public performance. The course is an extension of MU 303r, Applied Music, in the student's principle area of performance. Music majors seeking the BA degree must earn five hours of credit. Music majors seeking the BME degree must earn two hours of credit. Prerequisite: Proficiency audition (Fall, Spring)

MUS 410 MUSIC COMPOSITION & ARRANGING (3)

This course is an upper-level music theory course designed to give students first-hand experience creating music for diverse ensembles in both historic and contemporary styles. Pre-requisite courses: MUS 212, MUS 220 (It is recommended but not required that students take Music Counterpoint before Composition & Arranging.)

MUS 430 INTRO TO MUSIC TEACHING AND LEARNING (2)

The study of the history of music education in the United States and its philosophical and psychological foundations. Students examine the psychology of learning, curriculum development, measurement and evaluation, research, and classroom management styles in the field of music education. They also examine music teaching as a profession and the special learner in the classroom. Twenty hours of field experience required. Prerequisites: EDU 110, EDU 201 (Fall)

MUS 440 MUSIC SEMINAR (1)

This course functions as a capstone experience for all senior music majors. A substantial portion of the course consists of an integrated review of music theory and music history. For students preparing to teach, music education and conducting techniques are included. Specific topics and learning methods are structured for the individual student. (Fall, Spring)

NURSING

NUR 200 INTRODUCTION TO NURSING(2)

This elective introductory course focuses on preparing future nursing students for the testing style, study requirements, and learning strategies utilized within the nursing program. Course content will include a review of pathophysiology and medical terminology that is essential for developing an understanding of disease processes and nursing interventions, an introduction to medication math, basic nursing aide skills, and an overview of available resources. (Summer only)

NUR 300 FOUNDATIONS OF NURSING (6) (4-2)*

Introduces the philosophy, objectives, and framework of the baccalaureate nursing education program, the history and contemporary roles of nursing, and trends in nursing practice. Addresses basic principles, concepts, and therapeutic interventions necessary in the care of individuals with common health problems. Corequisites or prerequisites: NUR 301, NUR 303 (Fall)

NUR 301 PHARMACOLOGY (4)

Introduces principles of basic pharmacology for nursing care. Emphasis is placed on drug action and therapeutic applications of major pharmacological classifications of drugs. Nursing implications of drugs and drug therapy are examined. May be challenged by RN students. (Fall)

NUR 303 HEALTH ASSESSMENT (4) (3-1)*

Systematic study of skills used in data collection and healthcare assessment of individuals across the lifespan. These skills are basic to the provision and management of nursing care in all practice settings. This course is required of all nursing majors but may be challenged by RN students. (Fall)

NUR 305 TRANSITION TO PROFESSIONAL NURSING (3)

An introduction to the philosophy of baccalaureate nursing education, the concepts and theories of professional nursing, and current professional issues. Students will also engage in activities designed to promote professional communication skills and to develop an appreciation for the language of professional nursing practice. RN Prerequisites: None

NUR 306 ROLE PREPARATION (2)

This course introduces students to the nursing profession and the health care environment using a computerized learning platform. Students utilize computer software that specializes in nursing content as an introduction to the concepts of professionalism, caring, communication, group dynamics, and critical thinking. Students will learn to navigate products, review tutorials, take practice and proctored assessments, retrieve reports, and understand the process of remediation in preparation for the national licensure exam for registered nurses (NCLEX_RN). Prerequisites or corequisites: NUR 300, NUR 301, NUR 303, or approval of the BSN program director. (Fall)

NUR 310 PSYCHIATRIC/MENTAL HEALTH NURSING (4) (2-2)*

Emphasis is placed on nursing care for individuals or groups in psychiatric/mental health settings with emotional, behavioral, or communication alterations acquired from changes in personality structure or neurological physiology. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303, 306 (Spring)

NUR 312 MATERNAL/NEWBORN NURSING (5) (3-2)*

Presents theories and principles used in caring for the childbearing family. Focuses on the care of families preceding, during, and following childbirth, including conditions that impact reproduction. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303, 306

NUR 315 PROFESSIONAL ISSUES (2)

Provides a study of the social, political, professional, and ethical issues influencing the practice of professional nursing. Students will analyze current public policy issues related to nursing, healthcare, and the social and political arenas.

NUR 320 ADULT HEALTH NURSING I (5) (3-2)*

Explores the nursing problems associated with the pathophysiological aspects of oxygenation, perfusion, cellular function, and structural integrity. Clinical practice focuses on the application of theory to the nursing process for the care of adults with acute or chronic health problems. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303. (Spring)

NUR 350 NURSE EXTERNSHIP (2)

This elective nurse externship is a practicum experience consisting of a preceptor-supervised and faculty-led clinical experience for nursing students transitioning from junior to senior year, with an emphasis on building confidence through real life, hospital-based patient care experiences. Prerequisites: NUR 300, NUR 301, NUR 303 (Summer only)

NUR 405 RESEARCH IN NURSING (2)

Emphasizes critical thinking skills through review of the language of research, the research process and critique of research studies to synthesize research concepts and findings into nursing practice.

NUR 412 PEDIATRIC NURSING (5) (3-2)*

Presents theories and principles used in caring for the childrearing family. Emphasizes the care of families with children from infancy through adolescence, during wellness and altered health states. Theories of growth and development pertaining to the infant, child, and family provide the framework for the course content. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303

NUR 413 COMMUNITY HEALTH FOR THE REGISTERED NURSE (2)

This course examines the theories and principles of community health nursing and public health issues of adults, adolescents, and children. Focuses on prevention of illness, promotion of health, and provision of care to individuals and groups. RN Prerequisites: NUR 301, 303. Corequisites: NUR 416 (OL) Community Health Clinical Capstone - RN

NUR 415 COMMUNITY HEALTH (4) (2-2)*

Examines the theories and principles of community health nursing and public health issues of adults, adolescents, and children. Focuses on prevention of illness, promotion of health, and provision of care to individuals and groups. Clinical experiences occur in a variety of community agencies to address services for diverse populations and communities within the current healthcare environment. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303

NUR 416 COMMUNITY HEALTH CLINICAL CAPSTONE (RN) (3)

This course focuses on the care of the community as client. Experiences focus on the role of the nurse to address preventable health needs of populations at risk and other community groups in a variety of community health settings. Current trends in public health, health care delivery, and community resources are examined. Students will apply their understanding of socio-economical/cultural issues, health care policy, ethical and environmental concerns through the implementation of clinical activities addressing specific community needs. RN Prerequisites: NUR 301, 303; Corequisites: NUR 413 (OL), or may be taken after successful completion of NUR 413 (OL).

NUR 420 ADULT HEALTH NURSING II (5) (3-2)*

Explores the nursing problems associated with the pathophysiological aspects of neurosensory and immunological function, metabolism, alimentation, and elimination. Clinical practice focuses on the application of theory to nursing care of adults with acute or chronic health problems. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303, 306

NUR 430 ADVANCED NURSING (6) (4-2)*

Emphasizes nursing problems associated with complex health alterations. Clinical practice focuses on the assimilation and application of knowledge for the care of adults with complex and multiple physiological and psychosocial needs. Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303, 320, 420. Corequisites: NU 440, 441 (must be taken semester of graduation for prelicensure students). (Spring)

NUR 431 ADVANCED NURSING FOR RNs (4)

Emphasizes nursing problems associated with complex health alterations. May be challenged by RN students.

NUR 440 LEADERSHIP/MANAGEMENT (6) (2-4)*

Focuses on the leadership/management role as a part of professional nursing practice. Skills essential for team building, delegation, and collaboration are included. Students exercise skills of critical thinking and decision-making in the care of individuals and groups of patients. Corequisites: NUR 441, 430 (must be taken semester of graduation for prelicensure students). Prerequisites: NUR 300, 301, 303, 320, 420

NUR 441 NURSING SYNTHESIS (4)

This capstone course demonstrates synthesis of major concepts of professionalism, care of adults, children and family, communication, research, environment, and the nurse as provider of care, manager of care, and member of the profession. This course emphasizes test-taking strategies and requires students to demonstrate mastery of nursing concepts in preparation for the national licensure exam for registered nurses (NCLEX-RN). Co-requisites: NU 430, NU 440 (must be taken semester of graduation for pre-licensure students).

NUR 442 LEADERSHIP/MANAGEMENT FOR THE REGISTERED NURSE (2)*

This course focuses on the leadership/management role as part of professional nursing practice. Skills essential for team building, delegation, and collaboration are included. Students exercise skills of critical thinking and decision-making in the care of individuals and groups of patients. RN prerequisites: NUR 301, 303, 405, 413, Corequisites: NUR 451 (OL) Leadership/Management Clinical Capstone.

NUR 443 NURSING SYNTHESIS FOR THE RN (4)

This course demonstrates synthesis of major concepts of professionalism, care of adults, children and family, communication, research, environment, and the nurse as provider of care, manager of care, and member of the profession. Another portion of this course, scholarly writing, requires students to demonstrate mastery of APA style guidelines, grammar, punctuation, and overall competency in basic writing mechanics. RN prerequisites: NUR 301, 303, 405, 413 and 416.

NUR 451 LEADERSHIP/MANAGEMENT CLINICAL CAPSTONE (RN) (3)*

This clinical capstone course for Registered Nurses is a 3-credit hour course focused on the integration and synthesis of the major concepts and skills acquired throughout the RN-BSN program. In this course students will develop and implement a clinical project. The preferred clinical setting for the RN-BSN Capstone is a non-acute or non-direct care setting. Activities may range from working with a clinical nurse specialist on patient safety/quality initiative, to developing an evidence-based practice presentation. Successful completion of this course is evaluated based on course objectives, clinical project, clinical evaluation, and reflective discussion board posting on clinical experiences. RN prerequisites: NUR 301, 303, 405, 413. Corequisites: NUR 442 (OL) Leadership/Management.

NUR 490r INDEPENDENT STUDY IN NURSING (1-4)

Individual project that includes library research, conferences with the instructor, and oral and written reports on independent work. Subject matter may complement, but not duplicate, material in regular courses. Arrangements must be made with a department member prior to registration. Prerequisite: Approval of the Department Chair and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

*One semester credit hour is equivalent to a minimum of 15 hours of classroom instruction or 45 hours of supervised laboratory/clinical experience. Most nursing courses include a theory and clinical component.

OCCUPATIONAL SCIENCE

OSC 100 INTRODUCTION TO OCCUPATIONAL SCIENCE (2)

This course is an introduction of occupational science concepts that will form a solid disciplinary foundation for the understanding of occupation, occupation-based practice, and the tenets of occupational therapy. Occupational science concepts explored will include description, relational, predictive, and prescriptive occupational science. (Fall)

OSC 201 HUMAN OCCUPATIONS (2)

This course further explores the concepts introduced in OS 100 related to the meaning and dynamics of occupation and daily activities, which will include an introduction to some of the domain areas of occupation, performance skills, performance patterns, activity demands, context(s) and environments, and client factors. Theories and models of occupational performance underlying the foundation of occupational therapy practice, the importance of balancing occupational activities, and the promotion of health and wellness will be integrated into a foundational understanding of the discipline of occupational therapy. Prerequisite: OSC 100 (Spring)

OSC 302 PRE-INTRODUCTION TO OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY (3)

The course is the pre-introduction to the profession of occupational therapy. Occupational therapy history and philosophical base will be explored. Occupational science, occupation-based practice, models of practice, roles and responsibilities will be explored to prepare students for formal training as occupational therapy professionals. Prerequisites: OSC 100 and OSC 201. (Fall)

OSC 403 OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY PRACTICE FRAMEWORK (3)

This course explores the official Occupational Therapy Practice Framework: Domain & Process, 3rd edition document. Domain areas, processes related to the delivery of occupational therapy practice, and terminology will be discussed and reviewed to prepare students for formal study in the discipline of occupational therapy. Prerequisites: OSC 100, OSC 201 and OSC 302. (Spring)

PHILOSOPHICAL STUDIES

PHI 100 INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY (3)

A study of the fundamental problems of philosophy and of the leading contemporary schools of philosophy. (Fall, Spring)

PHI 101 INTRODUCTION TO LOGIC AND RHETORIC (3)

An introduction to critical thinking as applied concretely to the everyday world of the student in such areas as ordinary conversations and the mass media. (Fall, alternate years)

PHI 200 INTRODUCTION TO ETHICS (3)

An introduction to the methods and language of ethics as applied specifically to major contemporary individual and social problems. (Spring)

PHI 209 CONTEMPORARY PHILOSOPHICAL ISSUES (3)

An examination of selected problems or movements of current interest, such as Existentialism, Phenomenology, Political Ethics, and Philosophy of Religion. (Fall, on demand)

PHI 319r DIRECTED STUDIES: HISTORICAL PHILOSOPHY (3)

A critical investigation of major philosophers in one of the following periods: Ancient and Medieval; Renaissance through Nineteenth Century; Twentieth Century. Prerequisite: 3 hours at the 100 or 200 level. (Spring, on demand)

PHI 482 CAPSTONE COURSE IN RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY (1)

This course serves as a capstone research experience for senior Religion and Philosophy majors. Students enrolled in this one hour course will work with a faculty member in the department to devise a research plan, including bibliography, production of a paper, and a public defense. The subject matter synthesizes methods and issues in dealing with a specific topic of interest. The capstone may be taken in conjunction with an upper division seminar in Religion or Philosophy. Also listed as REL 482.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

PED 100 PHYSICAL EDUCATION ACTIVITY COURSES (1)

Activity courses are designed to provide students with the basic rules and skills of various sports and games as well as to promote general fitness and healthy living. Offerings may include: Abs/Aerobics, Bowling (extra fee), Volleyball, Dodgeball, Sand Volleyball, Basketball, Jogging, Conditioning, Flag Football, Badminton, Golf, Spikeball, Pickleball, Ultimate Frisbee, Golf, Wiffleball, Martial Arts, Weight Lifting, Frisbee-Golf. Offerings vary by semester. (Fall, Spring)

PED 105 COACHING SOCCER (3)

This course is designed for prospective coaches that want to focus on development of the player both individually and as part of a team. Students will receive valuable knowledge of the game of soccer, but also receive the 'E' Certificate which will allow them to coach players 9-12 years old. There is a $25 fee for this course which must be paid to the Student Financial Services Office. (On Demand)

PED 303 LIFETIME AND TEAM SPORTS (3)

The history, rules, theory, and teaching methods for the lifetime sports of badminton, bowling, golf, and tennis and the team sports of basketball, flag football, softball, soccer, and volleyball. Included are appropriate lead-up activities and games for grade levels K-12. (Fall)

PED 307 MOVEMENT EDUCATION (3)

This course is designed to provide a general understanding of basic movement used in the physical education environment. Emphasis is placed upon awareness of space, balance, social/country dance and rudimentary tumbling. (Fall)

PED 308 ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN (3)

The knowledge of rules, equipment, safety, physical skills, and attitudes of fair play in fitness, rhythm movement, gymnastics, games, and sports appropriate to the developmental level of children 5-14 years of age. (Fall, Spring)

PED 365 ADAPTIVE PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION (3)

Designed to provide a basic understanding of handicapping conditions including perceptual and motor development while including evaluation, placement, and programming for physical education and recreation. (Spring)

PED 375 CAMPING AND OUTDOOR RECREATION (3)

Instruction in camping skills, philosophy, administration and organization, leadership, program development, and safety. Planning and participation in hikes, cookouts, and overnights. (Summer, on demand)

PED 441 METHODS OF TEACHING PHYSICAL EDUCATION & WELLNESS (3)

Instruction and application of the physical education and wellness teaching principles for grades K-12. Emphasis will be placed on methods and materials currently used in schools. Prerequisites: EDU 110, PED 308. (Fall)

PED 451 CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION (3)

Curriculum planning including program design, methods, selection of suitable materials by age levels, and lesson planning K-12. Prerequisites: EDU 110, PED 308, PED 441. (Spring)

PHYSICS AND PHYSICAL SCIENCES

PHY 110 PHYSICAL SCIENCE (3)

A survey course of physical sciences designed to provide students a conceptual understanding of the fundamental concepts of physics, chemistry, astronomy and geology, as well as how these concepts are applied to our life. The topics discussed in the course include: Newtonian mechanics, heat, electricity and magnetism, optics, periodic table, atomic nucleus and radioactivity, chemical bonds and reactions, the solar system, stars and the universe, earth's atmosphere and hydrosphere, rocks and minerals, plate tectonics. Three hours of lecture per week. (On demand)

PHY 111 PHYSICAL SCIENCE LABORATORY (1)

Laboratory study of the physical sciences of astronomy, physics, chemistry, and geology. One 2-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: PHY 110. (On demand)

PHY 232 GENERAL PHYSICS I (4)

An introduction to various topics of classical mechanics and thermal physics. The course will include motion, work and energy, momentum, conservation laws, statics, oscillation and wave, fluids, temperature and kinetic theory, heat and heat transfer, and the laws of thermodynamics. The course is designed for the general science and life science majors. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: MAT 142; corequisite: PHY 233 (Fall)

PHY 233 GENERAL PHYSICS I LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of motion, Newton's laws and forces, work and energy, momentum, conservation laws, statics, oscillation and wave, fluids, heat and temperature. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: PHY 232. (Fall)

PHY 234 GENERAL PHYSICS II (4)

The second course in the 2-semester General Physics sequence. The course will include electric charge and field, electric current and circuit, magnetism and electromagnetic induction, electromagnetic wave reflection and reflection of light, mirrors and lenses, interference and diffraction of light, photoelectric effect, models of the atom, atomic nucleus and nuclear energy. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: PHY 232; corequisite: PHY 235. (Spring)

PHY 235 GENERAL PHYSICS II LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of electrostatics, electric current and circuit, magnetism and electromagnetic induction, geometric and physical optics, and modern physics. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: PHY 234. (Spring)

PHY 262 UNIVERSITY PHYSICS I (4)

An introduction to various topics of classical mechanics and thermodynamics including motion, forces, work and energy, momentum, conservation laws, rigid objects, statics, oscillation and wave, fluids, brief introduction to special relativity, heat and transfer, and the laws of thermodynamics. The course is designed for mathematics, physical sciences and engineering majors. Three hours of lecture per week. Corequisite: MAT 182, PHY 263. (Spring)

PHY 263 UNIVERSITY PHYSICS I LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of classical mechanics and thermodynamics. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: PHY 262. (Spring)

PHY 264 UNIVERSITY PHYSICS II (4)

The second course in the 2-semester University Physics sequence. This course completes the study of classical physics (electromagnetism, geometric optics, physical optics) and is an introduction to modern physics (quantum theory and nuclear physics). The course will include electric charge and field, electric current and circuit, magnetism and electromagnetic induction, electromagnetic wave, reflection and reflection of light, mirrors and lenses, interference and diffraction of light, photoelectric effect, models of the atom, atomic nucleus and nuclear energy. The course is designed for mathematics, physical science and engineering majors. Three hours of lecture per week. Prerequisite: MAT 182, PHY 262; corequisite: PHY 265. (Fall)

PHY 265 UNIVERSITY PHYSICS II LABORATORY (0)

Laboratory study of electromagnetism, optics, quantum theory and nuclear physics. One 3-hour laboratory per week. Corequisite: PHY 264. (Fall)

PHY 362 MODERN PHYSICS (4)

This course expands students' knowledge beyond classical physics with an introduction to the fundamental underpinnings of physics in the 20th century. The course focuses on two major theories of 20th century physics: special relativity and quantum mechanics. Topics to be covered include theory of special relativity, quantum nature of light and matter, matter waves, quantum mechanics in 1D and 3D, tunneling effect, atomic structure and introduction to statistical physics. This course is designed for students who have completed the two-semester University Physics course sequence and are interested in physics. Three hours of lecture and one hours of recitation per week. Prerequisite: PHY 264 (On demand)

POLITICAL SCIENCE

POL 101 INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL SCIENCE (3)

The purpose of this course is to provide students with an introduction to political science as an academic discipline. It will primarily be taught from a comparative perspective. Topics of discussion will include modern ideologies and political philosophy, the development of the modern state, public policy, political economy, political institutions, constitutional design, and international relations. After successful completion of this course you should achieve a basic understanding of political science as a discipline and gain a larger perspective on what politics is and how it is practiced throughout the world.

POL 102 AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS (3)

A broad survey of the national, state, and local government of the United States and the role of American foreign policy, the development and interpretation of the constitution, the functions and operation of the organs of government, and party organization and politics. (Fall)

POL 360 INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (3)

This course is a study of the role of politics, law, science, and technology in the relations between nations. It includes an analysis of the problems of the Cold War, global strategic views, and the powers and limitations of the United Nations in the struggle for world peace. (On demand)

PSYCHOLOGY

PSY 101 INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY (3)

A comprehensive survey of the field of psychology, defined as the scientific study of behavior; topics include development, personality, social interaction, abnormal behavior, learning, and motivation. PSY 101 is a prerequisite for many PSY courses numbered 200 or higher. (Fall, Spring)

PSY 102 CAREERS IN PSYCHOLOGY (1)

This course is designed to expose the new psychology major to the course of study at TWU, explore careers, and begin planning the university experience. (Spring or as needed)

PSY 210 WRITING IN THE BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES (3)

Utilizing a hybrid course format, PSY 210 exposes psychology students to critical writing across many topics of psychological study. In-class activities include group topic discussions, peer review, library exposure, and lecture. Online and non-classroom activities include critical writing assignments, APA workbook and library research. This course extends critical writing skills beyond that of the general education courses and promotes the foundational skills required for successful completion of the psychology curriculum. Required for majors. Prerequisites: ENG 101 and ENG 102, no exceptions.

PSY 220 SPORT PSYCHOLOGY (3)

Students will be introduced to the psychological factors that influence sport and exercise participation and performance. Topics include personality characteristics, performance enhancement, competitive and exercise environments, group dynamics, health and well-being, and psychological growth.

PSY 221 PERFORMANCE ENHANCEMENT EXPERIENCE (1)

Students will be introduced to the most basic concepts of performance enhancement through an introspective approach. Using a personal example (i.e., academic performance during the semester, athletic performance during the semester, study skills, etc.), students will learn to assess their own skills and motivations, set appropriate goals, evaluate progress toward these goals, and revise their performance improvement plan.

PSY 231 HUMAN LIFESPAN AND THE SOCIAL ENVIRONMENT I (3)

This survey of human development follows the stages of life from conception to adolescence. Students will investigate the cognitive, psychosocial, biological and environmental factors which form foundations of human experience and behavior. Research, culture, diversity, and personal experiences are emphasized to promote learning and expand critical thinking skills.

PSY 251 HUMAN LIFESPAN AND THE SOCIAL ENVIRONMENT II (3)

This survey of human development follows the stages of adult life from young adulthood through late adulthood. Students will investigate the cognitive, psychosocial, biological and environmental factors which inform the human experience of aging and death. Research, culture, diversity, and personal experiences are emphasized to promote learning and expand critical thinking skills.

PSY 261 SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY (3)

An analysis of the behavior and experience of individuals in group settings, examining such topics as leadership, conformity, rumor, mass media, and intergroup intragroup relations. Prerequisite: PSY 101 or SOC 101. Also listed as SOC 261 (Spring)

PSY 270 SOCIAL RESEARCH METHODS (3)

An orientation to the principles and practices of social science methodology, examining the nature of the scientific method and basic techniques in social research design as applied to the collection, analysis, and interpretation of data. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Also listed as SOC 270. (Spring)

PSY 310 STATISTICS FOR SOCIAL SCIENCES (3)

The student will blend the previous mathematics experience with the conceptual, applicational, and interpretational requirements of statistics in behavioral research. Specifically, the student will learn to describe sample data through summarization of data distributions, to draw inferences from sample data about a related population, and will learn to interpret data based on basic parametric statistical analysis. Prerequisites: PSY 101 or PSY/SOC 270 and MAT 132 (Spring)

PSY 311 ABNORMAL PSYCHOLOGY (3)

A study of psychopathology, maladjustment, and abnormal behavior in human beings; their origins in personality development; their characteristic symptoms; and modern methods of treatment. Prerequisite: PSY 101 (Spring)

PSY 321 THEORIES OF PERSONALITY (3)

A study of the development, organization, and assessment of the normal personality; consideration of the personality theories coming out of the psychoanalytic, behavioristic, and humanistic traditions. Prerequisite: PSY 101 (Fall)

PSY 331 PHYSIOLOGICAL PSYCHOLOGY (3)

A study of the physical basis of behavior, including the functioning of the nervous system, drug and hormone effects, and sensory processes; principles pertaining to changes in behavior resulting from experience, including reinforcement, punishment, motivation, problem-solving, and social influences; exploring physical and learned origins of abnormal behavior. Prerequisite: PSY 101 (Spring)

PSY 341 GROUP DYNAMICS (3)

This course is intended to provide the Behavioral Science major generally, and the Psychology major specifically, with some basic understanding of the dynamics involved in all groups. Primarily a course wherein didactic (that is cognitive learning through reading, listening to lectures, discussing with others and thinking) and participative learning provide a shared experience base. Through participative assignments, written evaluations, and shared experiences, students will be able to demonstrate skills and knowledge of group dynamics. Prerequisite: PSY 101 (Spring, alternate years)

PSY 342 PEER COUNSELING PRACTICUM (1)

This provides students with training in peer counseling and an introduction to skills beneficial to those pursuing careers in the helping professions. Topics covered will include ethics, self-awareness, identifying biases, cultural awareness, and self-care. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Students may repeat the course up to 3 times for PSY elective credit.

PSY 351 COGNITIVE PSYCHOLOGY (3)

This course provides a survey of the historical and current theories of cognitive psychology, including related applications. The topic has relevance in all areas of human endeavor, including education, neuroscience, medicine, law, business and research. Special attention is given to topics of neuropsychology, perception, attention, memory, and language, as well as how those processes operate in practical situations (e.g., multitasking and expertise). Prerequisite: PSY 101

PSY 355 CONCEPTS OF ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR (3)

An examination of theory and research dealing with the behaviors of organizations, with emphasis on individual and group behavior. Topics covered include motivation, communication, group dynamics, leadership, stress, personality, perception, attitudes, and organizational development. Also listed as BUS 355. Prerequisite: BUS 321

PSY 361 NEUROPSYCHOLOGY (3)

This course provides a review of clinical and experimental evidence of human brain and behavior relationships. Overarching topics include functional neuroanatomy, cerebral organization, and brain disorders. Specific disorders discussed include childhood disorders, traumatic brain injury, normal aging, Alzheimer's dementia, and consciousness disorders. Student projects include investigations of recovery, rehabilitation and interventions. Offered in alternating years during the spring. Prerequisite: PSY 101

PSY 370 COACHING, LEADERSHIP, AND TEAM PSYCHOLOGY (3)

Students will learn the personal and social factors that impact the performance of teams and organized groups. Topics include planning, effectiveness, environments, roles, cohesion, motivation, emotional management, leadership, momentum, developing character, discipline, and handling both victory and defeat.

PSY 371 SPORT PSYCHOLOGY: CULTURE AND DIVERSITY (3)

Students will learn how cultures have influenced the development of sport, and how sport psychologists must consider the diverse cultures that influence athletes. Topics include sport in society, how sport influences society, race and sport, gender and sport, social class and sport, religion and sport, politics and sport, and deviance and sport.

PSY 372 APPLIED SPORT PSYCHOLOGY (3)

Students will discuss and apply methods to improve and correct performance. Topics covered include optimal levels of anxiety, intensity, and arousal, preperformance routines, mental imagery, self-talk, relaxation training, self-regulation, and self-confidence, performance anxiety, self-handicapping, perfectionism, learned helplessness, substance abuse, burnout, injuries, and eating disorders. Prerequisite course: PSY 220.

PSY 411 HISTORY AND SYSTEMS OF PSYCHOLOGY (3)

This course surveys philosophical and theoretical antecedents as well as current systems of the scientific discipline called Psychology. Advanced students and psychology majors review, evaluate, and integrate key areas of emphasis in the discipline; study is designed to enable students to identify strong and weak points in their knowledge of psychology and to allow a concentration of individual study in areas of need. Prerequisites: PSY 101 and 6 s.h. of upper division Psychology (Fall)

PSY 412 ADVANCED RESEARCH METHODS (3)

Detailed study of the application of the scientific method to the study of human behavior; interprets the nature and function of probability statistics and lays the foundation for the research experience. All students participate within the group research format and in the development of an individual project. Prerequisites: PSY 310, PSY/SOC 270 (Fall)

PSY 470r RESEARCH AND PRACTICUM IN PSYCHOLOGY (3)

This course gives senior psychology majors an opportunity to undertake independent research with faculty supervision. The student will learn to apply psychological theory and methodology to a real problem of the student's choice, utilizing skills acquired in previous course work in psychology. Open to senior psychology majors who have completed PSY 411, 412

RELIGION

REL 100 THE CHRISTIAN FAITH (3)

A study of the major elements of Christian theology and their historical development. Emphasis is placed on the basic issues involved in attaining a personal and mature Christian faith. (Fall, Spring)

REL 101 INTRODUCTION TO THE BIBLE (3)

The study of the history and faith of the Jewish and Christian communities as expressed in the Old and New Testaments. Selected writings will be studied, with special emphasis given to understanding the historical and cultural context of these writings and to problems of interpretation. (Fall, Spring)

REL 207 WORLD RELIGIONS (3)

A study of the great living religions of the world (Judaism and Christianity excepted), with their historical development and present trends. (Fall, Spring)

REL 209 RELIGION IN AMERICA (3)

This course will deal with the history, doctrine, and polity of (primarily) Christian religions in the United States. Denominational development will be given special consideration, but the study will not be limited to this; thus, historical and doctrinal models, apart from denominationalism, will also be studied. (Fall, alternate years)

REL 211r CHRISTIANITY AND THE SOCIAL ORDER (3)

A survey of the application of basic Christian principles to the social, economic, and international relations of the social order. (Spring, alternate years)

REL 218 HISTORY OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH (3)

A survey of the institutional and theological history of Christianity from the New Testament era to modernity. (Spring, alternate years)

REL 219r DIRECTED STUDIES IN RELIGION I (1, 2, or 3)

Inquiry into selected issues in the field of religion or problems of interdisciplinary scope, as pursued through special reading-research projects or seminars. The subject matter will vary from year to year. (Spring, alternate years)

REL 220 RELIGIOUS TOPICS IN CULTURAL DIVERSITY (3)

How do religious traditions outside Christianity find expression in literature, ethics, social arrangements, and other forms of culture? This course will explore questions topically with emphasis on class discussion, writing, and presentations. (Fall, Alternate years)

REL 300 JESUS IN THE GOSPELS (3)

A study of Jesus as depicted in the gospels, with an evaluation of his significance for our day. (Fall, alternate years)

REL 305r EXPLORATIONS IN BIBLICAL THEOLOGY (3)

A study of selected writings from across Hebrew and Christian scriptures, such as the Pentateuch, Prophets, Wisdom literature, Pauline letters, and Apocalyptic texts. Attention is given to the social and theological worlds of the text and its contemporary applications. (Spring, alternate years)

REL 310 UNITED METHODIST HISTORY AND BELIEFS (3)

An examination of the theological beliefs of the Reverend John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, and his influence upon the beliefs of the contemporary United Methodist Church. (Fall, alternate years)

REL 312 ISLAM (3)

This course is an introduction to the history, beliefs, and practices of Islam.

REL 314 ASIAN RELIGIONS (3)

This course surveys the beliefs, practices, and representative literature of selected Asian religions: Hinduism, Buddhism, Daoism, Confucianism, and Shinto. It involves careful reading of the primary and secondary texts, and critical oral and written reflection on conceptual and practical matters related to the religions of the East.

REL 315 EXPLORATIONS IN HISTORICAL THEOLOGY (3)

This course closely examines the thought of a particular period of church history: Patristic, Medieval, or Reformation. Special attention to theology's social and cultural context is featured, along with key personalities and texts. (Spring, alternate years)

REL 319r DIRECTED STUDIES IN RELIGION II (1, 2, or 3)

Inquiry into selected issues in the field of religion or problems of interdisciplinary scope, as pursued through special reading-research projects or seminars. The subject matter will vary from year to year. (Spring, alternate years)

REL 320r MODERN CHRISTIAN THOUGHT (3)

A comparison of several major systems of Christian theology and the exploration of some contemporary trends. The course is designed to show the broad divisions in theology and to introduce significant current issues. (Spring, on demand)

REL 335*, R 336* NEW TESTAMENT GREEK I, II (3, 3)

Elementary Hellenistic Greek grammar oriented toward the reading of the Greek New Testament. Prerequisites: the completion of six hours in the department and permission of the instructor. (On demand)

REL 445*, 446* READINGS IN NEW TESTAMENT GREEK I, II (1, 1)

Additional experience in translation and in using resources for philosophical study of the New Testament. Fulfillment of these two courses meets the language requirement for the Bachelor of Arts Degree. Prerequisites: REL 335, 336 (New Testament Greek I, II) and permission of the instructor. (On demand)

REL 482 CAPSTONE COURSE IN RELIGION AND PHILOSOPHY (1)

This course serves as a capstone research experience for senior Religion and Philosophy majors. Students enrolled in this one hour course will work with a faculty member in the department to devise a research plan, including bibliography, production of a paper, and a public defense. The subject matter synthesizes methods and issues in dealing with a specific topic of interest. The capstone may be taken in conjunction with an upper division seminar in Religion or Philosophy. Also listed as PHI 482.

SOCIAL WORK

SWK 231 INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL WORK (3)

A survey of the philosophy, history, and practice of social work profession in our society; an overview of the development, training, and ethics of social work professionals; develops a point of view (theory and practice) of social work related to the structure of our society and the worth of the individual. Includes a strong “growth in self-awareness” component which is crucial in the social work field. (Spring)

SWK 270 SOCIAL WORK RESEARCH METHODS (3)

A class specifically designed for social work students embedded with the CSWE Core Competencies. It illustrates the value of research within evidence-based agency practice, from the basics of research to practice evaluation. Students will learn to connect abstract theory with practical applications, providing them with the skills necessary to become effective practitioners. The course also introduces complex concepts such as qualitative, quantitative, and statistical methods; ethical issues in research; sampling and measurement in a manner students will find readily accessible. (Spring)

SWK 302 DIVERSITY AND CULTURAL COMPETENCY (3)

Exploring race, gender, class, ethnicity, sexual orientation, and culture from a social work perspective. Integrates local to international information about our diverse, multicultural society and promotes social and economic justice, human dignity, and a human rights perspective. Students will develop self-awareness of their own culture and the culture of others, as well as an understanding of the impact of oppression on groups.

SWK 321 SCHOOL SOCIAL WORK (3)

This course is required for the State of Tennessee School Social Work Licensure Program. This course is a concentration elective. The course covers the varied roles and functions of school social workers in their practice with diverse groups of students, families, school personnel, and diverse communities. It emphasizes best practices in assessing, intervening, and evaluating social work practice across all system level (i.e., students, families, teachers, classrooms, schools, neighborhoods, communities), and the importance of the political environment of the school and its impact on social work practice. It also covers best practices in school-based prevention programs as well as best practices in consultation and collaboration.

SWK 331 SOCIAL DYNAMICS OF INTERPERSONAL VIOLENCE (3)

This course explores interpersonal violence throughout the life course, from child abuse and neglect to intimate partner violence and elder abuse. The student will examine interpersonal violence as a social problem, as well as the costs and the myths that surround it. The course will use an intersectional approach that will pay special attention to the social character and institutional causes of interpersonal violence allowing students to consider how social inequality, especially gender inequality contributes to tensions and explosive tendencies in family and social settings. Students learn about individual preventative measures and question the justice of our current social structure, with implications for social policy and reorganization.

SWK332 DOMESTIC MINOR SEX TRAFFICKING (3)

This course looks at the issue of Human Trafficking with a special focus on Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking (DMST). Much attention has been focused on those who were trafficked over international borders for exploitation, and awareness has slowly increased on the issue of children being trafficked in the United States. This course will explore factors placing children at higher risk for being trafficked as well as the different methods of DMST. This course will primarily focus on US citizens and legal resident children who are trafficked for sexual exploitation. It will explore how human trafficking is defined in international and US law and then specifically how DMST fits within this broader category. Students will also be introduced to how survivors exit trafficking as well as explore services that a survivor may need in order to recover from the trauma.

SWK 333 INTERVIEWING SKILLS AND THE HELPING RELATIONSHIP (3)

An orientation to knowledge, values, and active listening and interviewing skills for entry level generalist practice in variety of settings. Provides student with a better understanding of self and others through role play and other interactional experiences. Includes a strong “growth in self-awareness” component. (Fall)

SWK 334 SOCIAL WELFARE POLICIES AND ISSUES (3)

This course examines the development, structure, and function of the social welfare institution. Analyzes social welfare programs and impact of the institution on society. Emphasizes a major function of social work practice, “contribution to the development and modification of social policy.” Policy has a profound impact on practice in terms of what and how much is available, who the recipients are, and the delivery of social welfare services. If ignored, decisions which impact practice and the social well-being of others can be rendered by those who are ill-informed. This course will place special emphasis on diversity issues in social work and social welfare, populations-at-risk, social and economic justice, and leadership development by social work students and social work practitioners. (Fall)

SWK 341 FAMILY SYSTEMS IN SOCIAL WORK (3)

Family Systems explores the systemic approach to family therapy. Students will explore the context and history of family therapy, family systems, and the theories and techniques of systemic therapy, as well as those pioneers who were theorists in each field. A segment on the ethical practice of marital and family therapy is included. Prerequisite: SWK 333 or permission of the instructor.

SWK 351 ISSUES IN AGING (3)

This course will explore the human and social meanings behind longevity and the demographic shift from a nation of youths to one of adults. Recent changes in the field of gerontology addressed; the dramatic effect of advances in science and technology on our story of human aging. Social Work students will explore the impact of these changes in regards to their career goals in the field of human services.

SWK 361 SUBSTANCE ABUSE AND ADDICTIVE BEHAVIORS (3)

A survey course that explores the range of behaviors that constitutes addiction. Topics will include use and abuse of psychoactive drugs, sports drugs, sexual addiction, addictive gambling behaviors, obsessive eating behaviors, along with internet, and other technology associated with obsessions. Overview will include historical and present social basis of addiction, the addictive process, screening & assessment, and current treatment perspectives. (Spring)

SWK 371 ETHICS AND CLIENT RIGHTS (3)

This course is designed to help develop knowledge and skills to be able to make ethical decisions by applying the standards of the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics, relevant laws and regulations, models for ethical decision making, ethical conduct of research, and additional codes of ethics as appropriate to context. Engage in reflection and self-regulation to manage personal values and maintain professionalism, analyze practice situations, role-playing social work-client interviews, and analyze challenging ethical issues. Prerequisite or Corequisite: SWK 333 (Fall)

SWK 391 FIELD PRACTICUM ORIENTATION (1)

Students will be introduced to the process and expectations of social work practicum. class discussions, self-reflections, activities, readings, evidence-based research of the "tentative" placement population, and guest speakers will provide background knowledge that will enable students to plan and evaluate their social work practicum experience. Through the course of the class, students will complete their application to be eligible for their field education practicum. Students will begin to practice professional communication and interaction with community agencies and learn the importance of field supervision. Students will be given a copy of the field education manual to become familiar with the learning plan and practicum expectations which include becoming a student member of the NASW and applying for professional liability insurance. The nine CSWE competencies will be reviewed in context of the learning plan, assignments, outcome evidence and evaluation. By the end of the course, students will be prepared to begin SWK 460, Field Practicum the following fall semester. Prerequisite: Acceptance into the TWU Social Work Program (Spring)

SWK 434 SOCIAL WORK PRACTICE I: INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES (3)

This course builds on knowledge and techniques introduced in SWK 333 Interviewing Skills and the Helping Relationship, in preparation for entry-level practice or graduate study in Social Work or other helping professions. Students engage in role-playing taped counseling sessions which they first self-critique and then critique with the instructor to identify strengths and areas for improvement. Students are evaluated on their improvement from their first role-play to their third. Students gain knowledge of their own personality and behavioral pre-dispositions and evaluate how these may influence engagement with clients, supervisors, colleagues, and contacts in the larger community. Another requirement of this class is a genogram of the student's family of origin including at least three generations. Students learn how to correctly diagram a genogram, how to apply the systems approach in analyzing the genogram, and then recognizing the cognitive and affective processes necessary to realize that understanding the history and patterns in his/her family does not define who he/she is an individual. It also helps students realize both the uniqueness and universality of family experiences as they present their genogram to the class. Often the presentation is another steppingstone to self-acceptance. For Social Work and Behavioral Science majors to better understand and gain empathy for future clients, the student will attend their three free counseling sessions provided by Tennessee Wesleyan University to increase their self-awareness. Prerequisites: SWK 231, SWK 333. (Spring)

SWK 435 SOCIAL WORK PRACTICE II: MENTAL HEALTH (3)

This course builds on knowledge and techniques first introduced in SWK 333 and SWK 434 and focuses on the mental health system and how it affects individuals and families. Even though bachelor's level social workers do not usually diagnosis clients, awareness of the terminology used in a Mental Status Evaluation and diagnostic categories of the DSM V will enable the student to be an active participant in a staffing situation. Students have the experience of completing a Social History and a case file on a mock client. Familiarity with these instruments will increase their readiness to be a contributing member of a treatment team. Students will be required to write a ten-page research paper using APA style on a mental health issue requiring intervention at an individual level, (micro); and family and group level, (mezzo), and possibly on a macro level as well. The student is required to present to the class making sure they provide a viable resource list and educational resources regarding the topic. It is a comprehensive presentation that allows them to gain confidence in an educational role. Prerequisites: SWK 231, SWK 333, SWK 434.

SWK 436 SOCIAL WORK PRACTICE III: COMMUNITY PRACTICE (3)

This course is the third of three (3) required practice courses. Community practice is presented from a generalist social work perspective. Emphasizing macro approaches to social work with groups and communities. Course work includes exploration into conducting needs assessments; planning for a group work; treatment and organization theories and intervention techniques for work with groups; group leadership, identification of group dynamics and community diversity; and ethical considerations. The dynamics of grassroots organizations will be examined, and a grant-writing component will be included. To help prepare students for entry-level social work practice the focus on working with groups and larger social systems will expand the foundation of students' knowledge and skills, enabling graduates to apply a broad range of practice interventions in social work settings. Students will engage in small groups to develop and propose a plan for a new social service program or social change project that addresses a community-based need for one or more populations-at-risk in the local region. This project gives students experience engaging in policy practice. Prerequisites: SWK 435, SWK 460, SWK 461

SWK 451 GROUP COUNSELING PROCESS (3)

This class will cover group work in a Multicultural perspective along with basic issues that includes ethical, legal, theories, and techniques of group counseling. Key concepts such as forming a group, initial stage, transitional stage, working stage and final stage of group will assist in working with a variety of groups. This will further be accomplished through class discussions, video presentations, guest speakers and group sessions “hands on” experiences: “What would you do?” scenarios. Students are also required to attend a group in the community in order to gain first-hand experience of how groups are conducted. A reflections paper of the group experience and the process observed while using ethical standards of confidentiality of all participants involved will enhance critical thinking and the ability to apply professional and personal insights in their observation. A compilation of concepts, theories, and techniques will be used in the final project. Each student will utilize the philosophical and practice skills learned during the semester and will engage the class in a 10 min group session, and complete a written report based on the group designed. (Spring)

SWK 460 FIELD PRACTICUM I (5)

Consists of a specialized, practical, service learning experience (200 hours) through field placement in a social service agency. Prerequisite: SWK 434. (Fall)

SWK 461 FIELD PRACTICUM SEMINAR I (1)

Field Practicum Seminar students will participate in frequent review and evaluation of the activities in the social work setting. Prerequisite: SWK 434. (Fall)

SWK 462 FIELD PRACTICUM II (5)

Social Work Field Practicum II and Seminar consists of a specialized, practical, learning experience through field placement in a social service agency. The Field Seminar class ties together the field practice experience with theoretical frameworks taught in the program curriculum. The practicum along with seminar allows the student to prepare for the transition to generalist practice social work while emphasizing on cognitive affective processes, knowledge, skills and values. Students meet weekly in seminar for the duration of the field placement semester. Students will keep learning journals and complete a variety of reflection assignments that reinforce the learning goals related to the field practicum. Students will participate in frequent review and evaluation of the activities in the work setting during the Field Practicum Seminar. Class lectures, activities, and readings provide the student the opportunity to share experiences, prepare for professional employment, increase competency in the field of social work, and received additional knowledge to supplement their academic and professional experience. Prerequisites: SWK 333, SWK 434, SWK 435, SWK 460, SWK 461 (Fall, Spring, Summer)

SWK 463 FIELD PRACTICUM SEMINAR II (1)

Social Work Field Practicum II and Seminar consists of a specialized, practical, learning experience through field placement in a social service agency. The Field Seminar class ties together the field practice experience with theoretical frameworks taught in the program curriculum. The practicum along with seminar allows the student to prepare for the transition to generalist practice social work while emphasizing on cognitive affective processes, knowledge, skills and values. Students meet weekly in seminar for the duration of the field placement semester. Students will keep learning journals and complete a variety of reflection assignments that reinforce the learning goals related to the field practicum. Students will participate in frequent review and devaluation of the activities in the work setting during the Field Practicum Seminar. Class lectures, activities, and readings provide the student the opportunity to share experiences, prepare for professional employment, increase competency in the field of social work, and receive additional knowledge to supplement their academic and professional experience. Prerequisite: SWK 333, SWK 434, SWK 435, SWK 460, SWK 461 (Fall, Spring Summer)

SWK 471 CHILD WELFARE I (3)

A study of the child welfare system that examines history, policies and programs, both state and federal, pertinent to child maltreatment and juvenile justice.

SWK 472 CHILD WELFARE II (3)

This course is designed to enhance the knowledge and skills of students interested in child welfare and subsequently improve the quality of services delivered by child welfare programs. Topics covered will include building trusting relationships with families; conducting family-centered assessments and planning; conducting family-centered CPS investigations; permanence; and juvenile justice.

SOCIOLOGY

SOC 101 INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY (3)

This course introduces students to the basic principles and concepts of the discipline of Sociology. It provides an introduction to sociological theories and methods. Emphasis is placed on social structure and process, including social groups, culture, social institutions, social stratification, social problems, and social change. (Fall, Spring)

SOC 201 INTRODUCTION TO GENDER AND SEXUALITY (3)

This course is designed as an introduction to the study of gender and sexuality. The pedagogical approach will be interdisciplinary. In other words, you will be introduced to the threshold concepts in gender and sexuality studies that are used by feminist scholars across academic disciplines. While sometimes cross-cultural comparisons are made, the primary aim is to critically understand the social construction of gender and sexuality hierarchies in American society. Students will deeply examine normative ways of thinking, knowing, and seeing gender and sexuality in various contexts. A variety of films are used to illustrate concepts and themes. Students will demonstrate their increasing knowledge of the course material through class discussions, exams, quizzes, and a final presentation. (Alternate even years)

SOC 204 SOCIAL PROBLEMS (3)

This course will provide a critical approach to the study of social problems. The goal is to encourage students to seriously and critically analyze the causes and implications of many of the most pressing social problems confronting people today. Potential solutions to these problems are also explored. (Fall)

SOC 205 SOCIOLOGY THROUGH FILM (3)

This course will provide an introduction to the exciting, emergent field of “cinematic sociology.” Students will critically explore various aspects of social life in film. A major purpose of this course is to enable students to “learn sociology through film” while encouraging students to “read” narrative films as text (Higginbotham, 2010). A related goal of the course is to enable students to develop media literacy using sociological perspectives. Writing response papers and enthusiastic participation in class discussions are crucial components of the course. (On demand)

SOC 261 SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY (3)

An analysis of the behavior and experience of individuals in group settings, examining such topics as leadership, conformity, rumor, mass media, and intergroup/intragroup relations. Prerequisite: PSY 101. Also listed as PSY 261 (Spring)

SOC 270 SOCIAL RESEARCH METHODS (3)

An orientation to the principles and practices of social science methodology, examining the nature of the scientific method and basic techniques in social research design as applied to the collection, analysis, and interpretation of data. Also listed as PSY 270. (Spring)

SOC 301 RACE AND ETHNICITY (3)

The social construction of racial and ethnic categories are explored. The course also surveys historical and contemporary patterns of prejudice and discrimination, especially as experienced by major racial and ethnic groups in America; the course provides an understanding of the ways in which race intersects with other identity categories and the sociology of race and ethnicity. (Fall)

SOC 312 GENDER AND SOCIETY (3)

This course analyzes the relationship between gender and society. The course explores gender as a dominant form of social organization. Gender is analyzed as one part of an interlocking system of oppression. Students are encouraged to consider ways in which systems of oppression can be dismantled to create social change. (Spring alternate/odd years)

SOC 321 SOCIAL MOVEMENTS AND CHANGE (3)

A focus on the complex relationship between social change and social movements. More specifically, the course explores the role social movements have played in shaping American society. The course consciously examines the ways in which groups and individuals actively participate in and shape movement origins and outcomes. Prerequisite: SOC 204 (Spring)

SOC 322 POPULAR CULTURE (3)

This course will provide a critical analysis of mass media and popular culture. The creators and consumers of popular culture are analyzed. A primary goal of this course is to provide students with the conceptual tools to intellectually understand popular culture and its components. (Spring, alternate/even years)

SOC 421 SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY (3)

A study of the historical development of social thought and of social theory, including classical and contemporary; social theory as an integrating and explanatory frame of reference for social phenomena; the reciprocal influence of theory and research. (Spring, alternate/odd years)

SOC 422 URBAN SOCIOLOGY (3)

This course is designed to introduce students to the field of urban sociology. The course examines migration from rural to urban areas, the rise of cities, and various urban processes such as urban renewal, gentrification, and the suburbanization of America. We will also examine the development of urban sociology as an academic subfield within the discipline of Sociology. (Spring, alternate/ even years)

SOC 423 SOCIAL JUSTICE AND COMMUNITY (3)

This course serves as a culminating experience for the major in sociology. As the capstone course for sociology majors, this seminar asks students to synthesize and build upon previous work in sociology, especially its central themes, theoretical perspectives, research methods, and substantive research findings by conducting an original research project on a topic related to a service-learning assignment. Prerequisites: Senior Status; Sociology majors only. Permission required.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

SED 356 ASSESSMENT (3)

This course will provide future teachers with the foundation and understanding of the assessment process. It will prepare teachers to be professionals and leaders in the field of special education. Students will focus on the educational assessment methods and procedures used in decision making and program planning for students with exceptional learning needs. Students will acquire the aspects of the assessment process that represent commitment, integrity, intellectual acuity, justice and stewardship for special needs students. The student will familiarize themselves with all current reliable, valid, formal, and informal assessment instruments. This course meets InTASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires ten (10) hours of field experience/observations in a public-school setting. Prerequisites: Must have completed EDU 110 and EDU 201. (Fall)

SED 360 BEHAVIOR INTERVENTION AND MANAGEMENT (3)

Behavior interventions are an integral part of the preventative strategies designed to support students through a three-tiered system of primary, secondary and tertiary plans of prevention. Tier I, or the primary prevention, utilizes school-wide procedures as a basic level of behavioral support for all students in all settings in the school. Tier II and III reveal additional support through a secondary prevention or targeted group support plan. This course will present practices for supporting students who require the highest most intensive level of individualized support within a school-wide system. This includes: a) describing the features of the intensive level of support for individual students; b) procedures currently used to provide comprehensive supports to high need students, and c) strategies for addressing challenges to the implementation of intensive individual supports. Additionally, preservice teachers will conduct a functional behavioral assessment and create and implement a behavior modification project. This course meets InTASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires 10 hours of field experience/observations in a public school setting. Prerequisites: EDU 110, EDU 201, PSY 231 (Spring)

SED 375 COLLABORATION/PLANNING (3)

This course is designed for educators who plan and implement academically sensitive educational programs for children and adolescents with disabilities. Opportunities for the comprehensive study of characteristics of such programs, assessment techniques, and strategies essential to meeting the needs of students with learning problems will be provided. The special and unique problems of students with learning problems will be provided. The special and unique problems will be aligned with models, materials, teaching strategies, and transition requirements for students with disabilities. A particular emphasis will be placed on planning strategies across all content areas. This course meets InTASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires ten (10) hours of field experience/observations in a public-school setting. Prerequisites: EDU 110 and EDU 201 (Spring)

SED 401 ADAPTIVE ENVIRONMENT (3)

This course is to provide program candidates with the knowledge necessary to utilize applications of technology that support Universal Design for the curriculum for students with disabilities. The goal is for the future teacher to understand all adaptive materials and technologies to support the classroom student. This course meets InTASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires ten (10) hours of field experience/observations in a public-school setting. Prerequisites: EDU 110, EDU 201, PSY 231 (Spring)

SED 414 GIFTED AND TALENTED (3)

This course provides program candidates with the knowledge necessary to identify the characteristics of gifted and talented students, offer instructional recommendations to regular education teachers, plan programming and curriculum based on state standards, and understand current legislation related to the development of gifted and talented students. This course meets InTASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires ten (10) hours of field experience/observations in a public-school setting. Prerequisites: EDU110, EDU201, PSY231 (Spring)

SED 415 SPECIAL EDUCATION METHODS AND PRACTICUM (3)

This course will examine teaching methodologies and approaches for making accommodations and modifications for students with mild to moderate learning differences. This class will explore classroom organization and management methods that will enhance student learning. The teacher candidate will understand methods for establishing a positive learning environment while implementing students' IEPs. There will be a strong emphasis on the mastery of the regular education curriculum, skills development, and planning for transition from school into the work environment. You will also be immersed in the special education edTPA® handbook and will teach and videotape four lessons. This course meets InASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires 20 hours of field experience/observations in a public-school setting. This course must be taken in the semester immediately prior to student teaching. Prerequisite: Admission to TEP (Fall)

SED 425 INCLUSIVE CLASSROOM (3)

This course is designed for educators that wish to work with and understand concepts and terms related to educating students concerning inclusion. The course helps teachers learn about the continuum of placement strategies school systems can use in providing special education services to students with disabilities. The course helps future teachers to understand the federal definition of students entitled to special education services, as well as the procedures used to determine whether the students can be educated in the regular classroom. The course also identifies and describes the roles and responsibilities of special and general educators in providing special education services to students placed in the least restrictive environment (LRE). This course meets InTASC Standards, TN EPP Literacy Standards, CEC Initial Practice-

Based Professional Preparation Standards for Special Educators. This course requires 10 hours of field experience/observations in a public-school setting. Prerequisites: Students enrolling in SED 425 must have completed PSY 231 and be admitted to TEP (Fall)

SPEECHSPE 101 INTRODUCTION TO SPEECH (3)

This course is for the undergraduate student who seeks to develop and improve his/her public communications skills. In order to achieve this goal, lectures will enhance the student's understanding of the human communication process; the student will present four or more speeches to demonstrate the level of skill mastery he/she has achieved; and exams will assess the knowledge of communication that the student has acquired. (Fall, Spring)

SPORT MANAGEMENT

SMG 220 HISTORY OF SPORT (3)

Purpose of this course is to examine the historic roots of sports and sport management and its evolution into the present-day business behind sports and sports activities, including amateur and professional competitions and recreational activities. (Fall)

SMG 230 DIVERSITY IN SPORTS (3)

This course will offer strategies for managing diversity and inclusion, focusing on non-western settings in global organizations and international work groups. We will reflect on cultural differences such as age, sexual orientation, mental and physical ability, religious beliefs, social class, and appearance in sport. This course includes using sport to promote inclusion, cultural diversity and social change. This course will fulfill a Wesleyan Essentials Cultural Diversity requirement.

SMG 325 LEGAL ISSUES AND RISK MANAGEMENT IN SPORTS AND RECREATION (3)

A comprehensive study of risk and liability for future professionals charged with the responsibility of providing for the safety of participants and spectators in a sport or recreation setting. (Spring)

SMG 420 ISSUES AND TRENDS IN SPORTS MANAGEMENT (3)

The purpose of this course is to examine the duties and responsibilities of a sports manager. This will be done through researching the field of sport management to identify and analyze factors affecting the field of sport management and the issues and trends occurring in the field of sport management. (Fall)

SMG 430 SPORTS MARKETING (3)

This course is designed to cover the marketing of sports and sport-related products. Topics will include community relationships, sponsorship, endorsement, licensing and venue naming rights, marketing strategies for amateur and professional sports, and the selling of sporting goods and apparel. (Fall)

SMG 431 SPORTS ADMINISTRATION (3)

This course is designed to cover a variety of administrative aspects of sport and recreation. Topics will include leadership, facility management, event management and planning, safety issues, legal issues, finance and budgeting, along with a look at the structural makeup of college and professional sports. (Spring)

SMG 440 SOCIAL CONTEXT OF SPORTS AND RECREATION (3)

This course is a comprehensive study of the social context of sport, and what its effects are on our past, present, and future. (Spring)

SMG 450 SPORTS GOVERNANCE (3)

Purpose of this course is to examine the foundations of governance and policy development in both amateur and professional sports and to understand how these have evolved with changes in sports. (Fall)

THEATRE

THR 100/200/300/400 THEATRE PRACTICUM (1)

This course is a practical, experiential class and is designed to give students practical experience as a member of a theatrical production team. Students are assigned a position on one or more of the following crews: set construction, props, costume, sound, lights, set design, acting, directing, or management. A time commitment of a minimum of three hours per week (or a total of 45 hours per semester) is required. It may be repeated twice each academic year for a total of 8 hours elective credit. Six of those hours can be applied to a minor in theatre. Students in acting or directing classes make a time commitment of 3 hours per night for a six-week period, with additional time required for line and blocking rehearsals and memorization. (Fall, Spring)

THR 101 BASIC THEATRE TECHNIQUE (3)

An introduction to the principles, theories, and skills of design; emphasis on script analysis, formation of concepts, and use of design elements and principles within a collaborative process in the areas of management, scene design, set construction, sound, makeup, and costuming. The student will learn theoretical and practical knowledge of the various technical aspects of a working theatrical production. Practical laboratory work is required on the play in production. This is a general overview course that covers the visual design and production elements of theatrical production. (Fall and Spring)

THR 104 INTRODUCTION TO THEATRE (3)

This course is designed to introduce the undergraduate student to the practice of the artists in the theatre; to heighten awareness of the theatre as a long established fine art form; to aid the student in developing an awareness of the aesthetic and intellectual values to be obtained through the study of the art of theatre (literature, form, style, artists); to encourage students to be both more eager and discriminating theatre goers; and to experience the art form in both a passive and active way. Attendance at two live performances is required. (Fall)

THR 201 INTRODUCTION TO ACTING (3)

The class will be an introduction to the fundamental concepts of the art of acting. It will explore the physical, emotional, and analytical process of creating character. Character objectives, motivations, and actions will be studied through script and practical interpretation. Preparation of scenes for class presentation is required.

THR 204 SCRIPT ANALYSIS (3)

This class discusses the fundamentals of reading a script for practical purposes...that is, to act in them, design them, and direct them. The course will introduce methods for analyzing how a script works in order to best determine what a script means, or can mean, to an audience. Students will come to understand the script as a blueprint for a finished product (production), and not as a finished product in itself (literature).

THR 209 WORLD THEATRE HISTORY I (3)

This course examines the history, social impact, criticism, and influence of theatre as a collaborative art form. In the course of the semester students will explore the nature of dramatic performance and literature since prehistory, develop a deeper understanding of theatre from prehistory to the present, learn the context and impact of historically significant plays, explore the fecundity and variety of theatre in world cultures, and develop and cogently express critical evaluation of theatre as history, literature, and art.

THR 301 DRAMATIC LITERATURE (3)

Analytical and critical study of dramatic literature, with attention paid to genre, literary movements, and historical context. Extensive reading of primary works, and a term paper will be required.

THR 304 ADVANCED ACTING (3)

This course is an introduction to a natural acting process. Students will do exercises in relaxation, concentration, sensory awareness, improvisation, and playing an action. There are six performances by each student to put theory into practice.

THR 309 WORLD THEATRE HISTORY II (3)

This course examines the history, social impact, criticism, and influence of theatre as a collaborative art form. In the course of the semester students will explore the nature of dramatic performance and literature since the Renaissance, develop a deeper understanding of theatre from the Renaissance to the present, learn the context and impact of historically significant plays, explore the fecundity and variety of theatre in world cultures, and develop and cogently express critical evaluation of theatre as history, literature, and art.

THR 401 DIRECTING THEATER (3)

Stage directing is designed to introduce a student to the process of selection, research, conception, casting, rehearsal, and staging of a play. This is a lecture-laboratory course designed to give the student theoretical knowledge and practical experience in theatre production and play directing. (With Instructor's Approval)

THR 402 PLAYWRITING (3)

This course is an introduction to the art and craft of playwriting. Primary emphasis will be given to writing for the stage, requiring the student to understand the unique facets of stage performance and the art of writing theatrically. Conflict, dialogue, and dramatic devices and structures will be investigated in order to give the student the tools to tell a story that will engage a theatre audience. Finally, using these tools to write in other related media will be explored to broaden the student's potential media for expression.

THR 404 THEATRE CAPSTONE PROJECT (3)

The Theatre emphasis capstone project is the culmination of four years work in the Department of Fine Arts' Theatre program. The capstone is a fusion of practice and theory, including the supporting research necessary in any area of emphasis. Seniors produce a portfolio that may include multimedia aspects, archiving the capstone project from inception, through research and development, to final production and/or presentation. The portfolio will be defended in a 20-minute presentation to Fine Arts faculty, in addition to any performance piece(s) that may be part of the capstone project.

TWU GENERAL STUDIESTWU 101 FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE (2)

This course is a two-credit course that serves as a foundational experience. The goals of the course are to promote a liberal arts education, while cultivating the habits of scholarship within a diverse society. The course also provides and orientation to the culture of Tennessee Wesleyan University. Co-requisite TWU 102.

TWU 102 FIRST YEAR SEMINAR (1)

This course is designed to provide a foundational experience that promotes critical thinking, service, and intellectual curiosity, and encourages and understanding of TWU's history and traditions. Co-requisite: TWU 101.

TWU 308r SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS (1)

The student enrolled in this course gains practical experience in writing, editing, and layout through work for one or more of the school publications. No prerequisite. Maximum credit: 3 hours. Does not fulfill a WE. (Fall, Spring)

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING

The Tennessee Wesleyan University (TWU) Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) degree provides initial practitioner teacher licensure through graduate-level study. The MAT is offered with a semester-long student teaching pathway and a job-embedded pathway. The MAT concentrations are Elementary Education (K-5), Secondary Biology (6-12), Secondary Chemistry (6-12), Secondary Mathematics (6-12), and Special Education (Interventionist K-8). Secondary Biology, Secondary Chemistry, Secondary Mathematics, and Special Education are currently recognized in the State of Tennessee as high needs areas.

TWU Department of Education Theoretical Framework

The Tennessee Wesleyan University Department of Education aims to promote and instill teaching as a mission, profession, and craft. Teaching is a mission of service and leadership with knowledge, skills, and dispositions. Teaching is a profession of collaboration with learning communities and reflection with systematic practice. Teaching is a craft of planning with a commitment to students and learning, of instruction with subject knowledge and subject skills, and assessment with management and monitoring of learning. The (MAT) program at TWU is consistent with the mission of the TWU Department of Education and the TWU institution.

The MAT follows the TWU Department of Education Program Learning Outcomes. The Program Learning Outcomes are aligned to the Five Core Propositions of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards. MAT graduates will be able to Plan, Instruct, Assess, Collaborate, and Reflect. The Five MAT Program Learning Outcomes are:

- I. Planning: Candidates Demonstrate a Commit to Students and Their Learning
- II. Instruction: Candidates Articulate Knowledge in the Subjects They Teach and Demonstrate How to Teach Those Subjects to Students
- III. Assessment: Candidates Demonstrate Responsibility for Managing and Monitoring Student Learning
- IV. Collaboration: Candidates Demonstrate Participation as Members of Learning Communities
- V. Reflection: Candidates Demonstrate Reflective Practices and Identify Learning from Experience.

Program Learning Outcomes are used to track candidate performance across three levels of MAT coursework.

Admission Requirements for all MAT Concentrations

MAT admission provides candidates with admission into Level I courses. Applicants for MAT admission must:

- complete an application for the graduate program.
- hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution as recognized by the TN State Dept. of Education.
- submit official transcripts of all previous college or university coursework for evidence of baccalaureate completion, including proof of attaining an overall Grade Point Average (GPA) of 2.75 on a 4.0 scale OR a GPA of 3.0 in the last 60 hours of the degree.

- provide two professional letters of recommendation (supporting academic and teaching qualifications from individuals knowledgeable of the applicant).
- provide proof of a successful background check with fingerprinting by submitting directly to the TWU Department of Education from the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation.
- provide a cover letter summarizing how the applicant meets all above requirements and states the applicant's reasons for desiring a career in teaching (no more than two pages in length).

For admission into Level II courses, candidates must:

Following the completion of 12 hours in the MAT program or 15 hours in the Job Embedded MAT program, the candidate must

- Attain a GPA of 3.0 for coursework with no grades below "C."
- Complete all field experiences with satisfactory feedback from both cooperating teachers and university supervisors.
- Complete key assessments for all five Departmental PLO's in a professional portfolio.
- Participate in an advising conference with a MAT advisor.
- Complete an application for Level II

For admission into Level III courses, candidates must:

- Attain a GPA of 3.0 for coursework with no grades below "C."
- Complete all field experiences with satisfactory feedback from both cooperating teachers and university supervisors.
- Complete key assessments for all five Departmental PLO's in a professional portfolio.
- Participate in an advising conference with a MAT advisor.
- Pass required PRAXIS examination(s) for the candidate's licensure area.
- Submit an Intent to Graduate to TWU Registrar's Office the semester prior to student teaching.
- Complete an application for Level III.

For graduation, candidates must:

- Complete 36 hours of coursework for Elementary, Secondary, and Special Education coursework in the Student Teaching pathway, or 30 hours of coursework in the Job-Embedded pathway
- Obtain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 with no grades below "C".
- Complete all clinical practice experiences with satisfactory feedback from both cooperating teachers and university supervisors.
- Complete key assessments for all five Departmental PLO's and present a professional portfolio.
- Obtain a passing score on the edTPA® assessment.

- Complete and present an Action Research project.
- Complete all requirements in the Clinical Practice Handbook.

Disposition Policy

Dispositions are positive attitudes, values, ethics, and behaviors which support student learning. Education course work, field experience and student teaching provide an important opportunity for the candidate to demonstrate their dispositions. Tennessee Wesleyan University education candidates will become aware of the expectations associated with the dispositions from the start of their initial education course (EDU500 Foundations and Current Issues of American Education) or through advising for transfer students to completion of the program. A deficiency disposition form should be completed if a situation or pattern of situations arise where a teacher candidate fails to meet one or more dispositions. This form may be completed by a TWU education instructor, mentoring teacher, a student teaching supervisor, principal, or school administrator.

A meeting will be held with the candidate in order to inform them of the deficiency. The deficiency will be documented along with a plan for remediation and follow-up. The reporting party and the candidate will sign and date this form. The candidate will receive a signed copy of this form. A copy of the dispositional deficiency form will be placed in the candidates' Teacher Education Program file. A student who receives three dispositions will be placed on probation for a semester or removed from Levels II and III.

Transfer Policies

Students will not be allowed to transfer credits into the master's Program at any time.

Course Loads

TWU graduate-level students are considered full-time if enrolled in nine or more graduate hours in one semester. A student enrolled in eight or less graduate hours in one semester will be considered part time. The maximum number of graduate hours permitted in any semester is 12 hours. The MAT utilizes online and blended learning formats with a traditional semester schedule.

MAT Curriculum

The MAT curriculum consists of cohort courses and concentration courses. Cohort courses are required for all MAT concentrations and concentration courses are specific to initial educator licensure. The cohort courses and concentration courses are offered within three levels of MAT coursework. Levels I and II consist of 12 semester hours each, totaling 24 semester hours of graduate-level study. Level III consists of 12 semester hours for the Student Teaching pathway and 6 semester hours for the Job-embedded pathway.

Master of Arts in Teaching Course Descriptions

EDU 500 FOUNDATION AND CURRENT ISSUES IN AMERICAN EDUCATION (2)

This course introduces MAT candidates to the teaching profession and explores the philosophical, historical, social, and legal foundations of education in America as well as current trends and issues in education. Professionalism, educational purposes, curriculum, methods, school systems, teacher ethics, expectations, and evaluations will be introduced. Through field experiences, candidates shall investigate teachers' work in relation to students, the curriculum, and the school, system, and policy settings in which they are situated. EDU 500 balances understanding of topics from a theoretical perspective as well as investigating teaching and learning from a practical hands-on approach in a local public school classroom. Candidates shall be introduced to edTPA® and TEAM and its processes. Field experience hours are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 502 HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND DIVERSITY IN EDUCATION (3)

This course in human development provides foundational knowledge of human life stages from conception through adolescence. Students will acquire knowledge of the cognitive, psychosocial, biological and environmental factors which form foundations of human experience and behavior. Culture, diversity, and educational environments are emphasized to promote self-reflection and applications knowledge. Students will acquire knowledge and skills needed to function well as educators in a changing and diverse society. (3 hours; online)

EDU 504 SURVEY OF EXCEPTIONALITIES IN CHILDREN (3)

This course enables candidates to identify psychological, physical, educational, medical, behavioral, learning characteristics and needs of individuals with various disabilities as well as students from diverse cultural, social, ethnic, and racial backgrounds. Inclusion of students with disabilities and techniques to adopt instruction to fit individual needs will be emphasized. An understanding of legislation, regulations, and litigation related to serving individuals with disabilities will enable the candidate to correlate the individualized education program (IEP) with least restrictive environment. Candidates will learn to apply appropriate strategies within the tiered method of RTI²: Tier I universal intervention; Tier 2 small group intervention, and Tier 3 individual interventions. Candidates gain knowledge of professional, ethical, and legal issues affecting educators, and candidates learn the human relations skills needed to work effectively with individuals with disabilities, school personnel, and families in both professional and community roles. Field experience required. (3 hours; blended learning)

EDU 506 MANAGEMENT, ENGAGEMENT AND MOTIVATION IN CLASSROOMS (3)

The course focuses on research-based strategies in elementary and secondary classrooms designed to create and maintain positive learning environments, to organize and manage classrooms, to establish daily routines and procedures, to respond effectively to disruptive behaviors, to improve instruction and accomplish effective assessment, increase prosocial behaviors, and increase student academic engagement and motivation. Both prevention and intervention methods will be emphasized to promote positive outcomes for students. This course also presents concepts of extrinsic and intrinsic motivation and self-motivation, and examines the relationships among classroom environment, classroom behavior, and learning. This course will also provide a study of the laws related to public K-12 education and special education that govern the operation and conduct of their organizations as they face a litigious society. Field experience required. (3 hours; blended learning)

EDU 508 EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING (3)

Comprehensive overview of the field of education technology aligns the principles of how students learn with current technological tools proven effective in achieving success across the disciplines. Includes strategies for enhancing learning and communication, student collaboration for project and problem-based learning, critical thinking, assessment, and digital citizenship. Candidates will be introduced to student-centered learning within learning spaces that support digital literacy. Candidates will identify and compare national and international standards and introduce the knowledge base of educational technology while surveying design and development tools. (3 hours; online)

SED 542 ASSESSMENT FOR SPECIAL EDUCATION (2)

This course will provide future teachers with the foundation and understanding of the assessment process. It will prepare teachers to be professionals and leaders in the field of special education. Students will focus on the educational assessment methods and procedures used in decision making and program planning for students with exceptional learning needs. Students will acquire the aspects of the assessment process that represent commitment, integrity, intellectual acuity, justice and stewardship for special needs students. The student will familiarize themselves with all current reliable, valid, formal, and informal assessment instruments. This course will examine data-driven and problem-solving methodologies and instructional strategies for making instructional interventions based on students' individualized needs. This class will explore research-based intervention strategies for Tier III, progress monitoring, literacy assessment, data analysis, assessment driven instruction, classroom organization and management methods that will enhance student learning. The teacher candidate will understand methods for establishing a positive learning environment while implementing students' IEPs. There will be a strong emphasis on differentiation of instruction to address individuals' identified needs, skills development, and planning for transition from school into the work environment. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

SED 544 BEHAVIOR INTERVENTION AND MANAGEMENT WITHIN THE ADAPTIVE ENVIRONMENT (2)

Behavior interventions are an integral part of the preventative strategies designed to support students through a three-tiered system of primary, secondary and tertiary plans of prevention. Tier I, or the primary prevention, utilizes school-wide procedures as a basic level of behavioral support for all students in all settings in the school. Tier II and III reveal additional support through a secondary prevention or targeted group support plan. This course will center its behavior interventions on the RTI or Response to Intervention plans the state of Tennessee now utilized in its classrooms. This course will present the practices for supporting students who require the highest most intensive level of individualized support within a school-wide system. The goal is for the future teacher to understand adaptive materials and technologies to support the classroom student. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

SED 546 COLLABORATION AND PLANNING WITHIN THE INCLUSIVE CLASSROOM (2)

This course is designed for educator who plan to implement academically sensitive educational programs for children and adolescents with disabilities. Opportunities for the comprehensive study of characteristics of such programs, assessment techniques, and strategies essential to meeting the needs of students with learning problems will be provided. The special and unique problems of students with learning problems will be provided. The special and unique problems will be aligned with models, materials, teaching strategies, and transition requirements for students with disabilities. A particular emphasis will be placed on planning strategies across all content areas. This course is designed for educators that wish to work with and understand concepts and terms related to educating students concerning inclusion. The course helps teachers learn about the continuum of placement strategies school systems can use in providing special education services to students with disabilities. The course helps future teacher to understand the federal definition of students entitled to special education services, as well as the procedures used to determine whether the students can be educated in the regular classroom. The course also identifies and describes the roles and responsibilities of special and general educators in providing special education services to students placed in the least restrictive environment (LRE). Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 550 LITERACY DEVELOPMENT AND INSTRUCTION, GRADES K-2 (2)

Literacy Development and Instruction for Grades K-2 provides opportunities for candidates to learn language development, literacy-rich environments, and effective instruction for students in lower elementary school. Candidates are introduced to the unique developmental processes for all students with the National Association for the Education of Young Children's developmentally appropriate practice considerations, the wide range of environmental contexts with research on exemplary teachers' classrooms, and to use this knowledge and understanding to guide and inform instruction with Teaching Literacy in Tennessee's instructional model. Literacy development is reinforced to candidates with practice with children's literature and media. Literacy-rich environments are reinforced to candidates with analysis of classrooms' literacy access and literacy interactions. Effective instruction is reinforced to candidates by observing foundational skills lessons. Candidates integrate language development, literacy-rich environments, and effective instruction with practice teaching of lessons plans for foundational skills with feedback based on edTPA® and TEAM components. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 552 LITERACY, LEARNING, AND INSTRUCTION FROM GRADES 3-5 (2)

Literacy, Learning, and Instruction from Grades 3-5 provides opportunities for candidates to learn literacy, learning, and effective instruction for students in upper elementary school. Candidates are introduced to literacy for all students with research of literacy motivation, learning with research of learning theory, and to use this knowledge and understanding to guide and inform instruction with Teaching Literacy in Tennessee's instructional model. Literacy is reinforced to candidates with practice with children's literature and media. Learning is reinforced to candidates with analysis of learning theories in practice. Effective instruction is reinforced to candidates by observing reading and writing lessons. Candidates integrate literacy, learning, and effective instruction with practice teaching of lessons plans for reading and writing with feedback based on edTPA® and TEAM components. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 554 PLANNING AND ASSESSMENT FOR GRADES K-5 (2)

In this course, candidates will learn how to effectively implement a comprehensive literacy assessment approach that includes action steps to link assessment results to instructional planning and day-to-day instruction in classrooms. Candidates will gain theoretical knowledge as well as experience in application, anchored in the study of a school and several profile students from that school. Students will learn how to create a comprehensive literacy assessment system and implement a Response to Instruction and Intervention (RTI2) model, a data-based process for preventing reading difficulties and providing timely intervention for those who struggle. Students will also learn how to establish strong links between literacy assessments-including those collected for accountability purposes-and planning and instructional practices. Six (6) hours of field experience in a public school are required, included observing a grade level team meeting analyzing and interpreting student assessment data. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 556 INSTRUCTION OF ELEMENTARY SOCIAL STUDIES AND SCIENCE FOR GRADES K-5 (2)

Instruction of Elementary Science, and Social Studies provides opportunities for candidates to learn effective instruction for all students. Candidates are introduced to instructional models of science and social studies for all students with the NSTA Next Generation Science Standards and the NCSS C3 Framework. Instruction of science is reinforced to candidates with observation of scientific inquiry lessons and analysis of curriculum and instruction for scientific inquiry. Instruction of social studies is reinforced to candidates with observation of skill-based lessons and analysis of curriculum and instruction for skill-based lessons. Candidates integrate instruction by utilizing a deep knowledge and understanding of language and literacy development to practice teaching of lessons plans for mathematics, science, and social studies with feedback based on edTPA® and TEAM components. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 558 INSTRUCTION OF MATHEMATICS FOR GRADES K-5 (2)

Instruction of Elementary Mathematics provides opportunities for candidates to learn effective instruction for all students. Candidates are introduced to instructional models of mathematics for all students with the About Teaching Mathematics by Marilyn Burns, Instruction of mathematics is reinforced to candidates with observation of problem-solving investigation lessons and analysis of curriculum and instruction for problem-solving investigation. Candidates integrate instruction by utilizing a deep knowledge and understanding of language and literacy development to practice teaching of lessons plans for mathematics with feedback based on edTPA® and TEAM components. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 562 ELEMENTARY EDUCATION K-5 STUDENT TEACHING (6)

This course is designed to functionally integrate the theory and practice of teaching and learning into the instructional program. (6 s.h., Two public school placements)

EDU 570 LITERACY IN THE CONTENT AREA (2)

This course provides the teaching candidate with the knowledge and skills to guide secondary students to becoming active, engaged, independent, grade-level readers within the content area of Biology, Chemistry, or Mathematics. The course emphasizes research based strategies for accessing prior knowledge, setting a purpose for reading, organizing and summarizing ideas, understand and apply content specific academic vocabulary, select appropriate strategies to make meaningful connections, taking notes, and reflecting on new understandings. Adaptations for culturally and linguistically diverse and exceptional learners embedded throughout the course. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 572 AREA METHODS: PLANNING, INSTRUCTION, AND MATERIALS (2)

Assists the student seeking secondary certification on developing a personal understanding of general and specific methods for teaching in a middle or secondary school emphasizing planning and instruction. This course will include a close study of teaching practices and procedures appropriate for each student's specific content area. ED 572 candidates will teach three lessons to middle or high school students in a public school. Emphases will include aligning lesson plans with national and state curriculum standards as well as meeting the needs of diverse learners in the middle or secondary classroom. Field experience required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 574 CONTENT AREA ASSESSMENT AND EVALUATION (2)

This course provides teaching of candidates with knowledge and skills of assessment to drive decision about the individual student, classroom, effectiveness of the classroom instructional program, and the teacher. Assessment development and design including formative and summative assessments; timely and effective student feedback; test construction within the context of validity, reliability and fairness, and analysis of assessment results and progress monitoring are emphasized. Candidates shall study achievement and growth targets as determined by state and local standards as well as assessment reform and district, state, and national assessments. Candidates will also apply descriptive and inferential statistical analysis in assessment and evaluation scenarios. Field experiences are required (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 576 PRACTICUM IN SECONDARY EDUCATION (2)

This course provides secondary candidates with knowledge and skills of lesson and unit planning, instruction, assessment, collaboration, and reflection by teaching three or more related lessons in a local secondary public school classroom. Candidates will prepare lessons in alignment with Tennessee Academic Standards and specialty area standards. Field experiences are required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 578 CURRICULUM AND MATERIALS IN SECONDARY EDUCATION (2)

This course is designed to provide students with an understanding and skills with curriculum and materials with licensure area 6-12 school standards. Students are presented with curriculum maps and pacing guides for 6-12 school standards. Students are presented with the text-based materials and non-text-based materials. Students demonstrate an understanding of 6-12 school standards with content area praxis information. Students demonstrate skills with adopted textbooks and mixed media. Field experience required. (2 hours; blended learning)

EDU 582 SPECIAL EDUCATION INTERVENTIONIST K-8 STUDENT TEACHING (6)

This course is designed to functionally integrate the theory and practice of teaching and learning into the instructional program. The goal of understanding the whole child, teacher, school, community, and the profession is more likely to be attained when the student teacher strives to: Develop a sound philosophy of teaching; understand the mental, emotional, social, and physical development of the individual pupil and his or her interactions as a member of various groups of pupils; assist in establishing a learning environment conducive to managing routine classroom activities in a manner that will promote desirable individual and group interaction and growth; Design and implement teaching plans effectively; Understand the need to promote and develop positive parent-teacher and home-school cooperation; Share the full responsibility for classroom instruction; Assist in the evaluation of the effectiveness of the teaching and learning dimensions of the school programs. (6 s.h., Two public school placements)

EDU 586 STUDENT TEACHING SEMINAR AND ACTION RESEARCH (6)

The capstone seminar is designed to accompany and enhance the student teaching experience. Seminar topics and discussions are directly related to the experiences the student teachers are having in the Pre-K, Elementary, Secondary and Special Education classrooms. The primary goal of the seminar and student teaching experience is to provide each student teacher with successful experiences in practicing the knowledge, strategies, skills, techniques, theories, attitudes, and dispositions necessary to become highly qualified, licensed teachers. In addition, the course provides fundamental principles of educational research and a practical application of research techniques. Candidates shall develop a research topic and a quantitative and/or qualitative research design, and then conduct the research project in a public school classroom. Candidates will present their action research projects to an audience of three TWU faculty members at the conclusion of the semester. (6 s.h., blended learning)

EDU 588 SECONDARY EDUCATION 6-12 STUDENT TEACHING (6)

This course is designed to functionally integrate the theory and practice of teaching and learning into the instructional program. The goal of understanding the whole child, teacher, school, community, and the profession is more likely to be attained when the student teacher strives to: Develop a sound philosophy of teaching; understand the mental, emotional, social, and physical development of the individual pupil and his or her interactions as a member of various groups of pupils; assist in establishing a learning environment conducive to managing routine classroom activities in a manner that will promote desirable individual and group interaction and growth; Design and implement teaching plans effectively; Understand the need to promote and develop positive parent-teacher and home-school cooperation; Share the full responsibility for classroom instruction; Assist in the evaluation of the effectiveness of the teaching and learning dimensions of the school programs. (6 s.h., Two public school placements)

MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION GRADUATE ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

To meet the growing demand of business professionals who are non-traditional students, TWU offers an online Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree with concentrations in Accounting, Management, Marketing, and a General concentration.

The mission of this program is as follows:

The Master of Business Administration provides businesses, government agencies, not-for-profit organizations, and educational institutions with leaders and managers who demonstrate proficiencies in ethical decision-making, critical analysis and problem-solving, strategic orientation, global perspectives, concern for sustainability and growth, and respect for people and communities. The degree seeks to serve the adult learner and to prepare students for personal and professional enrichment and service through advanced research and application.

Program Learning Outcomes:

- I. Apply advanced knowledge of management theories to organizational practices and settings;
- II. Interpret financial data to solve organizational issues;
- III. Apply ethical reasoning to business situations;
- IV. Apply research findings to develop an empirical basis for decision making;
- V. Determine strategies to maximize the acquisition, development and retention of human capital;
- VI. Apply a global perspective to managerial solutions;

Additionally, MBA graduates completing the Accounting concentration will be able to:

1. Judge financial statements and reports, and general accounting practices, used in the business environment.
2. Evaluate auditing requirements and tax regulations, and the effects of each on organizational practices.

Additionally, MBA graduates completing the Management concentration will be able to:

1. Advocate for effective use of limited resources that balance the needs of ecological, social, and economic systems;
2. Develop a strategic orientation for advanced managerial planning.

Additionally, MBA graduates completing the Marketing concentration will be able to:

1. Integrate theories of advertising, promotion, and branding with concepts and determinants of consumer behavior.
2. Assess the outcomes of international and cross-cultural marketing practices and evaluate the benefits of marketing analytics and eCommerce for society.

Additionally, MBA graduates completing the General concentration will be able to:

1. Demonstrate a broad understanding and field-specific knowledge in the disciplines of management, marketing, and/or accounting in order to make decisions that impact and influence organizations.

Admission Requirements for the MBA with a concentration in Accounting:

Applicants to the MBA program with a concentration in Accounting must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a major in Accounting. Applicants with a bachelor's degree in a non-Accounting related field must submit evidence of coursework within the domains of management (BUS 321 or equivalent), marketing (BUS 351 or equivalent), finance (BUS 335 or equivalent), and accounting (BUS 201 or equivalent), and satisfactory completion of the following coursework: Intermediate Accounting I, Intermediate Accounting II, Auditing, and Tax Accounting I.

Admission Requirements for the MBA with a concentration in Management:

Applicants to the MBA program with a concentration in Management must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a major in Business Administration or a business-related field. Applicants with a bachelor's degree in a non-business related field may apply for provisional admission upon submission of evidence of coursework within the four domains of management (BUS 321 or equivalent), marketing (BUS 351 or equivalent), finance (BUS 335 or equivalent), and accounting (BUS 201 or equivalent). Applicants taking any undergraduate coursework within these four domains would not be required to repeat the coursework at TWU for admission to the MBA program.

Admission Requirements for the MBA with a concentration in Marketing:

Applicants to the MBA program with a concentration in Marketing must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a major in Business Administration or a business-related field. Applicants with a bachelor's degree in a non-business related field may apply for provisional admission upon submission of evidence of coursework within the four domains of management (BUS 321 or equivalent), marketing (BUS 351 or equivalent), finance (BUS 335 or equivalent), and accounting (BUS 201 or equivalent). Applicants taking any undergraduate coursework within these four domains would not be required to repeat the coursework at TWU for admission to the MBA program.

Admission Requirements for the MBA with a General concentration:

Applicants to the MBA program with a General concentration must hold a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university with a major in Business Administration or a business-related field. Applicants with a bachelor's degree in a non-business related field may apply for provisional admission upon submission of evidence of coursework within the four domains of management (BUS 321 or equivalent), marketing (BUS 351 or equivalent), finance (BUS 335 or equivalent), and accounting (BUS 201 or equivalent). Applicants taking any undergraduate coursework within these four domains would not be required to repeat the coursework at TWU for admission to the MBA program. Applicants planning to enroll in the Accounting concentration courses must meet the admission requirements for the Accounting concentration.

Other admission criteria include the following (Accounting, Management, Marketing and General):

1. Completed application for the graduate program;
2. Official transcripts from all previous college work, undergraduate and graduate, with an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 2.75 or higher and a conferred baccalaureate degree;
3. Three letters of recommendation: Two references from prior university or college instructors who can address the applicant's abilities to complete graduate-level studies, and one reference from a current or past employer;
4. A current curriculum vitae or resume.

Specific Criteria for the 4+1 program

Current TWU students in the traditional day program are eligible to apply for the accelerated MBA 4+1 program. This program will allow eligible students to enroll in MBA coursework before completion of their TWU bachelor's degree. No MBA courses will apply to the 120 undergraduate hours needed for graduation with a bachelor's degree.

Applicants to the 4+1 program (Management, Marketing, or General concentrations) must have completed 102 undergraduate hours, including courses in the four domains of: management (BUS 321 or equivalent), marketing (BUS 351 or equivalent), finance (BUS 335 or equivalent), and accounting (BUS 201 or equivalent).

Applicants to the 4+1 program (Accounting concentration) must have completed 102 undergraduate hours, including courses in the four domains of: management (BUS 321 or equivalent), marketing (BUS 351 or equivalent), finance (BUS 335 or equivalent), and accounting (BUS 201 or equivalent). Additionally, applicants must have completed Intermediate Accounting I (BUS 301 or equivalent), Intermediate Accounting II (BUS 302 or equivalent), Auditing (BUS 380 or equivalent), and Tax Accounting I (BUS 404 or equivalent).

Prospective students should submit:

1. Completed application for the 4+1 program
2. Letters of recommendation from two faculty members and one personal recommendation

Successful applicants will have an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 3.0.

Conditional Admission

Students not meeting the stated admission requirements may be granted conditional admission status upon review by the MBA Admission Committee. The MBA Admission Committee is comprised of the Director of the MBA Program, Associate Dean of the Goodfriend School of Business, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Students granted conditional admission status may be required to complete additional coursework within the four domains of management, accounting, marketing, and finance. Students should consult with the Director of the MBA Program to correct any admission deficiencies.

Conditional admission status will be determined by the TWU Enrollment and Academic Status Committee should the MBA Admissions Committee be unable to reach a unanimous decision. Conditional admission is removed upon successful completion of six (6) graduate hours with a 3.0 GPA.

Reinstatement

Dismissed MBA students may apply for reinstatement. Requests for reinstatement will be reviewed by the MBA Admissions Committee for consideration and approval. After the first reinstatement, any subsequent grade below C will result in final dismissal from the MBA program.

Transfer Policies

Up to six hours of graduate-level credit from regionally-accredited universities and colleges may be accepted for credit in the MBA program. If approved by the MBA Admission Committee, credit awarded will be limited to courses in the MBA Core curriculum with the exception of BUS 560 Strategic Management. The previously-completed course for which transfer credit is requested must be equivalent to the TWU graduate course. Documentation of transfer credit is required and may include copies of syllabi for the previously-completed course.

Course Loads

A student in the MBA program will be considered full-time if enrolled in nine or more graduate hours in one semester. A student enrolled in eight or less graduate hours in one semester will be considered part time. The maximum number of graduate hours permitted in any semester is 12 hours.

Utilizing an online format with a traditional semester schedule, the MBA program could typically be completed in a 12-month period if a student enrolls on a full-time basis; otherwise, the student can complete the program in approximately 24 months if enrolled on a part-time basis.

MBA Curriculum

The MBA curriculum consists of 10 courses at three semester hours each, totaling 30 semester hours of graduate-level study. There are six MBA Core courses that comprise 18 semester hours of study, and four concentration courses that comprise 12 semester hours of study. The courses within the MBA program can be completed in any sequence with the exception of BUS 560 Strategic Management for which students must have completed all MBA Core courses and earned a minimum of 21 semester hours toward the 30 semester hour total. High-speed internet, a webcam, and a microphone are required. The six MBA Core courses are as follows:

MBA Core Courses (18 s.h.)

BUS 524 HUMAN CAPITAL MANAGEMENT (3)

An examination of the knowledge, abilities, outcomes, skills and tenure that people bring to the organization; the theories of managing the dynamics of individual, group and system relationships to achieve organizational goals; and the application of this human capital to strategic management. The concepts of employee engagement, talent management, return-on hiring, and strategic HR metrics are investigated.

BUS 531 ACCOUNTING BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT (3)

A study of business concepts and resources required to record accounting transactions related to various managerial decisions. Topics of investigation will include corporate governance and the accounting ramifications of different business combinations, along with information systems and communication. Economic concepts, process and project management, globalization, financial risks management, and valuation techniques will be examined. Satisfactory completion of the optional CPA Review content will assist the student in preparing for the Business Environment and Concepts (BEC) section of the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination.

BUS 532 CORPORATE FINANCIAL ACCOUNTING AND REPORTING (3)

An examination of the standards and practices related to corporate financial statements, including Income Statements, Balance Sheets, Statement of Changes in Financial Positions, and Cash Flow Statements. Proper accounting treatments for a number of concepts will be studied, including working capital, fixed assets, foreign currency translation, marketable securities, and differences between international and U.S. standards. Satisfactory completion of the optional CPA Review content will assist the student in preparing for the Financial Accounting and Reporting (FAR) section of the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination.

BUS 533 CORPORATE AND MANAGERIAL AUDITING (3)

A study of advanced auditing concepts from corporate and managerial viewpoints. Topics of inquiry include generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS) and requirements related to public companies associated with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOX) and the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB). Satisfactory completion of the optional CPA Review content will assist the student in preparing for the Auditing and Attestation (AUD) section of the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination.

BUS 534 CORPORATE AND INDIVIDUAL TAXATION AND REGULATIONS (3)

An investigation of federal taxation regulations for businesses and individuals. Students will examine the accounting profession's responsibilities related to identification of taxable events for various business combinations. Ethics, business law, and the relationship of each to the accounting profession will be studied. Satisfactory completion of the optional CPA Review content will assist the student in preparing for the Regulation (REG) section of the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination.

BUS 541 ADVERTISING AND PROMOTION (3)

An examination of advertising, promotion, public relations, and brand messaging concepts used to persuade market segments. Advertising research, the promotional mix, social media advertising, corporate communications, and media planning are investigated.

BUS 542 CONSUMER DECISION MAKING (3)

An investigation of the consumer decision making process and its relationship to marketing strategy. The influence of advertising, branding, communication, digital marketing, social media, and culture on consumer behavior will be studied.

BUS 543 GLOBAL MARKETING (3)

An integrated approach to global marketing for understanding the relevance of culture to marketing and the strategic opportunities and challenges arising in their application in organizations. The course provides students with competencies to identify the role of culture in marketing and adopt a cultural approach to marketing that takes into account the complexity of the culture concept.

BUS 544 MARKETING ANALYTICS AND eCOMMERCE (3)

A study of marketing analytics tools available to organizations and how data is collected, analyzed and interpreted for converting shoppers into consumers. This course will examine the eCommerce systems that digitally enable commercial transactions. The concepts of Big Data, social media marketing, and mobile commerce are investigated.

BUS 560 STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT (3)

In this capstone course, the MBA candidate will integrate previous coursework and management theories with current business practices through a graduate-level project.

MASTER OF OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

The TWU MOT Program is fully accredited with ACOTE: Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education, American Occupational Therapy Association 6116 Executive Boulevard, Suite 200, North Bethesda, MD 20852-4929. Phone: 301-652-6611x2042 www.acoteonline.org.

Occupational Therapy is a rehabilitation healthcare discipline that helps people with physical or mental issues affecting their daily activities. The Vision 2025 of the American Occupational Therapy Association states that “Occupational Therapy maximizes health, well-being, and quality of life for all people, populations, and communities through effective solutions that facilitate participation in everyday living” (AOTA, 2017). An entry-level masters or doctorate degree is required to become eligible to sit for the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy Examination, which is required for state licensure to practice. The Tennessee Wesleyan University Occupational Therapy curriculum is designed to enable a student to gain the requisite knowledge to successfully learn the necessary lessons needed to become a well-rounded, leadership-focused, and advocacy-minded generalist occupational therapy practitioner and to succeed at passing the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy Examination. The TWU Occupational Therapy Program intends to increase students’ skills in critical thinking, clinical thinking, problem solving, research, leadership, advocacy, communication, and entry-level knowledge of occupational therapy.

The Mission of this program is as follows:

The Master of Occupational Therapy Program at Tennessee Wesleyan University seeks for its students the highest quality of education with the spirit of the liberal arts and within the framework of the Judeo-Christian tradition. In keeping with the OT Program’s themes: Service & Spirituality, Creativity, Innovation, Leadership, Lifelong Learning & Scholarship, it will produce well-prepared and highly sought-after graduates that will continuously add value to the profession of occupational therapy while serving their clients’ and community’s needs.

Coursework will prepare the MOT graduate to be an entry-level, generalist occupational therapist. There are a number of key student learning outcomes for the MOT program.

Student Learning Outcomes

The overall Student Learning Outcomes of the MOT Program are met by meeting each course, lab, and fieldwork requirement set forth in the MOT Program Curriculum. Ultimately, and upon graduation, each student will demonstrate and/or show evidence of the following outcomes:

1. As adopted from the American Occupational Therapy Association’s Vision 2025, the TWU MOT Student will learn how to maximize health, well-being, and quality of life for all people and populations within the local and regional communities through effective solutions that facilitate participation in everyday living.

- II. The TWU MOT Student will become eligible to sit for the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy Examination, which is required for state licensure to practice as an Occupational Therapist.
- III. The TWU MOT Student will gain the requisite knowledge to successfully learn the necessary lessons needed to become a well-rounded, leadership-focused, and advocacy-minded generalist occupational therapy practitioner.
- IV. Graduates of the TWU MOT Program will demonstrate skills and competence in critical thinking, clinical thinking, and problem solving, judgment, safety, and risk awareness.
- V. Graduates of the TWU MOT Program will demonstrate skills and competence in research, leadership, advocacy, and communication.
- VI. Graduates of the TWU MOT Program will pass the National Board for Certification Examination in Occupational Therapy, thereby demonstrating entry-level knowledge of occupational therapy.
- VII. Graduates of the TWU MOT Program will be professional, prepared, dependable, and will communicate effectively in all formats.

In addition to the Student Learning Outcomes listed above, the following are Program Learning Objectives.

MOT Program Learning Objectives

The TWU MOT Program will yield occupational therapy graduates who are prepared to become licensed occupational therapists who:

1. Apply concepts of human occupations, client-centeredness, and occupational science to the practice of occupational therapy.
2. Incorporate the broad base of knowledge of the liberal arts and sciences into the practice of occupational therapy.
3. Apply knowledge of the basic tenets of occupational therapy's foundations, theoretical perspectives, philosophy, domains, and processes into the practice of occupational therapy.
4. Apply sound judgement and clinical knowledge of screening, evaluation, intervention planning, treatment, and referral into the practice of occupational therapy.
5. Demonstrate consideration of all factors affecting, or potentially affecting, the delivery of occupational therapy services, including context of service delivery, cultural and lifestyle differences, and bias.
6. Demonstrate leadership and advocacy throughout the process of OT service provision.
7. Use evidence-based resources, scholarly activities, and the application of sound research practices to contribute to the body of knowledge and practice of occupational therapy.

8. Demonstrate high standards of professionalism, ethics, values, and responsibilities as a generalist in the practice of occupational therapy.
9. Demonstrate clinical competency in the practice of occupational therapy and the therapeutic use of self while on fieldwork rotations and in lab courses.
10. Utilize reliable resources as guides to the practice of and documentation for occupational therapy services.

Conditional Admission

Students not meeting the stated admission requirements may be granted conditional admission status upon review by the MOT Admission Committee. Students granted conditional admission status may be required to complete additional coursework. Students should consult with the Director of the MOT Program to correct any admission deficiencies.

Reinstatement

Dismissed MOT students may apply for reinstatement. Requests for reinstatement will be reviewed by the MOT Enrollment and Academic Status Committee for consideration and approval. After the first reinstatement, any subsequent grade below C will result in final dismissal from the MOT program.

Transfer Policies

No occupational therapy courses will transfer into the MOT Program for credit towards program completion.

Course Loads

A student in the MOT program will be considered full-time if enrolled in nine or more graduate hours in one semester. A student in the MOT program is expected to take the full load of pre-scheduled MOT courses. The program is a block-step program and courses that are failed or unsatisfactory completed must be retaken when the course is offered again and the student will be withdrawn from the program until that time.

Student Organizations

Student Occupational Therapy Association (SOTA)

This is a program specific student led occupational therapy association recognized by AOTA. This provides MOT students the opportunity to become professionally involved in OT.

American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA)

This is the national professional organization for occupational therapy practitioners. All MOT students will be student members of this organization.

MOT Student Handbook

The MOT Department publishes a student handbook detailing policies and procedures for students within the MOT major. The regulations contained in the manual, as well as the University Catalog and Student Handbook, apply to each student enrolled in the MOT program. Please refer to the MOT Student Handbook for additional information pertaining to MOT academic policies.

MOT Curriculum

Tennessee Wesleyan's occupational therapy program delivers an unparalleled path to understanding how the therapeutic use of daily activities benefits individuals across the life-span. The occupational therapy curriculum is challenging and engaging, teaching you how to help people live healthier, happier, safer lives.

Graduate students in the MOT Program are required to have a working laptop with wifi/internet capabilities, a webcam and a microphone.

Graduation Requirements

Students must meet the following requirements in order to receive the Master of Occupational Therapy degree.

- I. A TWU Intent to Graduate form must be submitted at the beginning of the MOT program
- II. Completion of 76 credit hours in the MOT program
- III. Cumulative GPA in the TWU MOT program of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale
- IV. No more than two course grades of C
- V. Completion of the master's thesis
- VI. Completion of competency package
- VII. Completion of two Level-II fieldwork rotations
- VIII. Completion of the NBCOT and state licensure applications

Grading Policies:

The MOT Program currently uses the following grading scale:

A = 95-100 - Excellent

A- = 90-94

B+ = 87-89

B = 83-86 - Satisfactory, Above Average

B- = 80-82

C+ = 77-79

C = 73 - 76 - Average

C- = 70-72 - Below Average

D = 65-69 - Below Average

F = 0-64 - Failure, Not Competent

I- Incomplete

IP- In Progress

W- Withdrawal

The following policies will apply to the above letter grade designations:

1. Students may receive final course grades of C in no more than two MOT courses.
2. Students may repeat graduate courses earned at TWU once regardless of the prior grade in the course. The most recent grade earned will calculate into the cumulative grade point average and can only count once toward graduation requirements.
3. The final grade of Incomplete (I) is rarely issued and is granted solely at the discretion of the Director of the MOT Program for serious extenuating circumstances. The "I" grade cannot be used to enable a student to do additional work to raise a deficient grade. Any assigned grade of "I" must be removed within 3.0 weeks; otherwise, the grade becomes an "F."
4. Students withdrawing from a course or the MOT program must contact the MOT Program Director and initiate the official TWU withdrawal process and required documentation. Failure to do so will result in a grade of "F" (failure) in the classes in which the student is registered for the semester and the student will receive no refund of fees paid.
5. Students withdrawing from the MOT program may apply for re-admission 1 time; re-admission will follow the academic curriculum cycle (i.e., re-entry will occur when the course is offered again, which will be the re-entry point into the MOT Program unless it is a Level-II FW Course.
6. A student will be placed on academic probation when his or her cumulative GPA falls below 3.0 in the MOT program. While on academic probation, the student may continue his or her studies so long as each semester's GPA is 3.5 or greater. Upon achieving a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or greater, the student will be removed from probationary status.

Master of Occupational Therapy Course Descriptions

OCT 501 ACTIVITY - TASK ANALYSIS AND USE OF SELF (3)

In this course students will be trained to deeply analyze occupations, activities, and tasks using previously gained knowledge related to anatomy, physiology, kinesiology, psychology, and other program prerequisite courses. The OT Practice Framework: Domain and Process document, and other official guiding documents, will be studied as students demonstrate knowledge and skills required for therapeutic use of self, client screening and assessment, and intervention planning. Students will study concepts related to professional judgement, safety, risk-awareness, ergonomics, environmental modification, and teaching and learning strategies. Prerequisite: Acceptance to MOT Program.

OCT 502 Lifespan Series I: Pediatric & School-Based OT (2)

This course is the first set of three in the Lifespan Series of courses. Students will gain knowledge and review skill and technique requirements of pediatric and school-based occupational therapy practice. In this course, students will explore evidence-based assessment and evaluation tools, documentation requirements, reimbursement systems and mechanisms, inter and intra-professional collaboration, and practice skills in educating clients and related parties. Students will demonstrate knowledge of typical and atypical development of children less than 1-year-old through 18 years old and will focus on aspects of occupations related to development, remediation, and compensation for physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory skills and deficits. Prerequisite: Acceptance to MOT Program.

OCT 503 LIFESPAN SERIES I: PEDIATRIC & SCHOOL-BASED OT LAB (1)

This hands-on lab course is the first of three in the Lifespan Series of courses. Students will demonstrate learned skill and technique requirements of pediatric and school-based occupational therapy practice. In this course, students will utilize evidence-based assessment and evaluation tools, develop intervention plans, simulate the delivery of treatments, practice documentation requirements that are reflective of various reimbursement systems and mechanisms, incorporate inter and intra-professional collaboration, and practice skills in educating clients and related parties. Students will demonstrate knowledge of typical and atypical development of children less than 1-year-old through 18 years old and will focus on aspects of occupations related to development, remediation, and compensation for physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory skills and deficits. Prerequisite: Acceptance to MOT Program. Co-requisite: OCT 502.

OCT 504 OCCUPATIONAL SCIENCE & OCCUPATION-BASED PRACTICE (3)

This course will enlighten students to occupational science and occupation-based practice. Various aspects of the domains and processes used in occupational therapy intervention, including but not limited to, meaningful occupations, self-care, physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory functions will be viewed from a client-centered, occupational performance-based approach. Students will gain skills in assessing, grading, adapting, modifying, and educating clients for purposeful and meaningful participation in daily life occupations. Students will report on the importance of life balance, health, wellness, and the prevention of disease and dysfunction using evidence-based practice resources. Prerequisite: Acceptance to MOT Program.

OCT 505 CRAFTS, MEDIA, AND GROUP DYNAMICS IN OT LAB (2)

With consideration of previously gained knowledge and use of evidence-based resources, students will gain skills and knowledge in appropriately determining therapeutic activities using crafts, media, and group and individual therapy interventions to promote health, wellness, function, and participation in daily life activities. Various documentation requirements and rules, regulations, and guidelines will be explored. Students will practice needs assessments, justification of services, clinical reasoning, and communication of rationale for intervention plans while delivering OT services. Prerequisite: Acceptance to MOT Program.

OCT 506 PRACTICE IN OT I: INTRODUCTION & HISTORY (3)

This course is designed to provide students with in-depth knowledge of the history, theoretical, and philosophical base of occupational therapy. Students will learn about and verify knowledge about key official documents that guide OT practice, roles and responsibilities of an occupational therapist, and ethical dispute resolution strategies. Prerequisite: Acceptance to MOT Program.

OCT 601 ADVOCACY & LEADERSHIP IN OT PRACTICE (2)

This course will emphasize advocacy and leadership in the occupational therapy profession. Students will learn of the importance of advocating for those who are considered vulnerable, at risk, or who have experienced occupational injustice, deprivation of needed services, social hardships, and overall welfare difficulties in various contexts. Policy review, strategies for change, and opportunities for leadership for OTs span over social, economic, political, geographic, and demographic factors that impact OT practice. OT models of practice and frames of reference will be used to assess traditional and emerging practice areas for OTs and consider the roles of health promotion, prevention of disease and dysfunction, care coordination, case management, transition services, fieldwork, and more. Management and collaboration of OT and related healthcare services will be discussed. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses.

OCT 602 LIFESPAN SERIES II: WORKING-AGED ADULTS & COACHING IN OT (2)

This course is the second set of three in the Lifespan Series of courses. Students will gain knowledge and review skill and technique requirements of working-aged adults and coaching in occupational therapy practice. In this course, students will explore evidence-based assessment and evaluation tools, documentation requirements, reimbursement systems and mechanisms, inter and intra-professional collaboration, and practice skills in educating clients and related parties. Students will demonstrate knowledge of typical development and the impacts of disease and dysfunction on working-aged adults and will focus on aspects of occupations related to development, remediation, and compensation for physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory skills and deficits. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 603.

OCT 603 LIFESPAN SERIES II: WORKING-AGED ADULTS & COACHING IN OT LAB (1)

This course is in the second set of three in the Lifespan Series of courses. Students will apply knowledge, skill, and technique requirements of working-aged adults and coaching in occupational therapy practice. Students will explore and practice evidence-based assessment and evaluation tools, documentation requirements, reimbursement systems and mechanisms, inter and intra-professional collaboration, and practice skills in educating clients and related parties. Students will demonstrate knowledge of typical development and the impacts of disease and dysfunction on working-aged adults and will focus on aspects of occupations related to development, remediation, and compensation for physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory skills and deficits. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 602

OCT 604 TECHNOLOGIES OF OT (2)

Students will further incorporate co-requisite knowledge gained in the areas of universal design, accessibility, and ergonomics while assessing and performing task analyses for the need for additional assistive technologies to ensure optimal function in all domain areas as per the Occupational Therapy Practice Framework, 3rd edition. Students will create intervention plans based on assessments and task analyses and review payment options, documentation requirements, training and education requirements, and indications and contraindications for use. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 605.

OCT 605 TECHNOLOGIES OF OT LAB (1)

Students will incorporate co-requisite knowledge gained in the areas of universal design, accessibility, and ergonomics while assessing and performing task analyses for the need for additional assistive technologies to ensure optimal function in all domain areas as per the Occupational Therapy Practice Framework, 3rd edition. Students will follow through with intervention plans based on assessments and task analyses and review payment options, practice documentation requirements, provide training and education to mock-clients and related parties. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 604

OCT 606 PRACTICE IN OT II: EVALUATION, ASSESSMENT, & INTERVENTION (3)

This course takes an in-depth look and comparison of a wide variety of evaluation and assessment tools used in OT practice across the lifespan for a variety of settings. It links evaluation and assessment results with intervention planning and implementation within the domains of OT practice. Students will report on their comparisons of various evaluation and assessment tools and discuss how practice strategies within the intervention plan are used to therapeutically benefit client performance and participation in life tasks. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 607.

OCT 607 PRACTICE IN OT II LAB: EVALUATION, ASSESSMENT, AND INTERVENTION (2)

This course takes an in-depth look and comparison of a wide variety of evaluation and assessment tools used in OT practice across the lifespan for a variety of settings. It links evaluation and assessment results with intervention planning and implementation within the domains of OT practice. Students will practice evaluation and assessment administration using various evaluation and assessment tools and discuss and demonstrate specific practice strategies within their developed intervention plans for the therapeutic benefit of their clients as related to performance and participation in life tasks. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 606.

OCT 610 UNIVERSAL DESIGN, ACCESSIBILITY, AND ERGONOMICS (3)

Students will communicate key concepts, study, demonstrate, and practice exercises related to various facets of occupational therapy having to do with the design, fabrication, application, fitting, and training in assistive technologies and devices to enhance occupational performance and foster participation and well-being. Students will gain and use knowledge of universal design and ergonomics concepts, study accessibility guidelines, the Americans with Disabilities Act and related documents, and make propositions for their use in client care. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses.

OCT 611 ADVOCACY INITIATIVES (1)

This course will emphasize advocacy initiatives and leadership roles that can be taken within and outside of the profession of occupational therapy at the local, state, and national levels. Opportunities will be explored in various settings, such as in healthcare, private practice, community-based, school, higher education, work, and various professional associations. Students will use knowledge gained in this course to become an active participant and advocate of occupational therapy services in one of the roles explored. Prerequisites: All first semester MOT Program courses.

OCT 612 SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING & LEARNING (1)

This course is an optional course and if selected, must be taken with OCT 611. In this course, students will have the opportunity to take a deeper dive and gain a greater understanding into the pedagogical practices in occupational therapy. Students will incorporate their knowledge of OT pedagogical practices by developing an educational session for presentation to peers which specifically identifies and critiques teaching and learning practices selected. Prerequisite: All first semester MOT Program coursework. Co-requisite: OCT 611.

OCT 702 LIFESPAN SERIES III: OLDER ADULT & GERIATRIC OT (2)

This course is the third of the set of three in the Lifespan Series of courses. Students will gain knowledge and review skill and technique requirements for working with older adults and geriatric clients in occupational therapy practice. In this course, students will explore evidence-based assessment and evaluation tools, documentation requirements, reimbursement systems and mechanisms, inter and intra-professional collaboration, and practice skills in educating clients and related parties. Students will demonstrate knowledge of typical development and the impacts of disease and dysfunction on older adults and geriatric clients and will focus on aspects of occupations related to remediation, and compensation for physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory skills and deficits. Prerequisites: All first and second semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 703.

OCT 703 LIFESPAN SERIES III: OLDER ADULT & GERIATRIC OT LAB (1)

This course is the third of the set of three in the Lifespan Series of courses. Students will apply knowledge, skill, and technique requirements when working with older adults and geriatric clients in occupational therapy practice. Students will explore and practice evidence-based assessment and evaluation tools, documentation requirements, reimbursement systems and mechanisms, inter and intra-professional collaboration, and practice skills in educating clients and related parties. Students will demonstrate knowledge of typical development and the impacts of disease and dysfunction on older adults and geriatric clients and will focus on aspects of occupations related to remediation and compensation for physical, mental, cognitive, perceptual, neuromuscular, behavioral, and sensory skills and deficits. Prerequisites: All first and second semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 702.

OCT 706 PRACTICE IN OT III: OT CONTEXT & SERVICE DELIVERY (3)

This course is the third in the Practice in OT Series of courses and concentrates of occupational therapy contexts and environments and OT service delivery. Students will explore the differences between traditional and emerging practice settings, gain skills in modalities used in the various settings, identify benefits, pros and cons, and indications and contraindications for use of modalities most common in various settings, and provide educational presentations to those seeking or receiving OT services. Students will also learn of the various guiding principles, rules, laws, and/or regulations governing use of modalities and OT services in various settings and at the local, state, and national levels. Prerequisites: All first and second semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 707.

OCT 707 PRACTICE IN OT III LAB: OT CONTEXT & SERVICE DELIVERY LAB (1)

This course is the third of three in the Practice in OT Series of courses and concentrates on occupational therapy contexts and environments and OT service delivery. Students will explore the differences between traditional and emerging practice settings, practice skills in modalities used in the various settings, identify benefits, pros and cons, and indications and contraindications for use of modalities most common in various settings, and provide educational presentations to those seeking or receiving OT services. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the various guiding principles, rules, laws, and/or regulations governing use of modalities and OT services in various settings and at the local, state, and national levels. Prerequisites: All first and second semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 706.

OCT 708 MENTAL HEALTH & PSYCHOSOCIAL OT I: TRADITIONAL PRACTICE SETTINGS (3)

This course is designed to explore the mental health and psychosocial components of traditional practice settings in which occupational therapy practitioners' work. Students will analyze various traditional practice settings across the life span and identify appropriate evaluation and assessment tools, treatment planning, treatment implementation, documentation and reimbursement requirements, legal aspects and obligations, and more. Prerequisites: All first and second semester MOT program coursework. Co-requisites: OCT 709.

OCT 709 MENTAL HEALTH & PSYCHOSOCIAL OT I LAB + LEVEL I FW EXPERIENCE: TRADITIONAL PRACTICE SETTINGS (2)

This course is designed to further explore the mental health and psychosocial components of traditional practice settings in which occupational therapy practitioners' work. Students will analyze and practice, within various traditional practice settings across the life span, the identification of the need for OT services and the evaluation and intervention of clients. Under the supervision of MOT Program Faculty, students will practice skills with appropriate evaluation and assessment tools, treatment planning, treatment implementation, documentation as per facility and reimbursement requirements, and various other aspects of OT services. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the legal aspects and obligations of working with various clients across the lifespan with a focus on the mental and psychosocial health components. Students will interact with real clients under the supervision of MOT Program Faculty to practice their patient/client-practitioner interaction and therapeutic use-of-self skills. This course meets one of the two Level-I Fieldwork Hours Requirements of the MOT Program. Prerequisites: All first and second semester MOT program coursework. Co-requisites: OCT 708.

OCT 801 MODALITIES & UPPER EXTREMITIES (2)

This course is designed to deeply analyze the concepts of occupational therapy related to common upper body deformities, trauma, and injuries requiring surgeries or immobilization. Rehabilitation indications, with a review of commonly used surgical techniques, will be reviewed to build the base of knowledge needed to evaluate, assess, and treatment plan for the design, fabrication, application, fitting, and training for assistive technologies and devices used to enhance occupational performance in daily life tasks. Deep-thermal, electrotherapeutic, and other preparatory modalities will be reviewed. Students will provide educational sessions/presentation on proper techniques, indications, contraindications, safety and risk awareness and more. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 802.

OCT 802 MODALITIES & UPPER EXTREMITIES LAB (1)

This course is designed to provide basic competency and practice opportunities to students on the concepts of occupational therapy related to common upper body deformities, trauma, and injuries requiring surgeries or immobilization. Rehabilitation indications, with demonstrated knowledge of commonly used surgical techniques, will be used to evaluate, assess, and create treatment plan for the design, fabrication, application, fitting, and training for assistive technologies and devices used to enhance occupational performance in daily life tasks. Deep-thermal, electrotherapeutic, and other preparatory modalities will be practiced. Students will provide evaluations and assessments, treatment planning, and treatment implementation utilizing demonstrated proper techniques and knowledge of indications, contraindications, safety and risk awareness, and more. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 801.

OCT 803 SCIENCE-DRIVEN OT PRACTICE (2)

This course is the first of the formal research-related courses of the MOT Program. On a broad scale, students will practice and explore the various aspects of locating, critiquing, and determining the quality of evidence and research, including organizing, collecting, and analyzing data for use in the OT evaluation and the overall delivery of OT services process. Students will practice utilizing scholarly literature to make evidence-based decisions and evaluate techniques of research, such as use of descriptive, correlational, and inferential quantitative statistics and coding, analyzing, and synthesizing qualitative data. Students will critique the validity of research and the various methodologies used as they present argument presentations on various OT related topics of interest. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 804

OCT 804 RESEARCH & LEADERSHIP IN OT PRACTICE I: MASTER'S THESIS PLAN (3)

This course is the first of two Master's Thesis Courses of the MOT Program. In this course, students will create a Master's Thesis Plan while practicing and exploring the various aspects of locating, critiquing, and determining the quality of evidence and research, including organizing, collecting, and analyzing data for use in the OT evaluation and the overall delivery of OT services process. Leadership in healthcare concepts in occupational therapy practice will be linked to quality evidence-based research and practice. Students will practice utilizing scholarly literature to make evidence-based decisions and evaluate techniques of research, such as use of descriptive, correlational, and inferential quantitative statistics and coding, analyzing, and synthesizing qualitative data. Students will critique the validity of research and the various methodologies used as they prepare their topic of interest Master's Thesis Research Plan. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT Program courses. Co-requisite: OCT 803.

OCT 805 LEVEL II FIELDWORK EXPERIENCE ORIENTATION SEMINAR (2)

Students will learn of all processes related to the Fieldwork portion of the MOT program, including necessary paperwork, facility-specific orientations and paperwork, background checks, drug screens, policies and procedures, ethics, laws and rules, and more. Students will receive and work through the MOT Fieldwork Manual and practice completing paperwork and case scenarios related to the various sites they will be attending for Fieldwork. All components of the OTPF, 3rd edition, will be reviewed as it relates to Fieldwork. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT Program courses.

OCT 808 MENTAL HEALTH & PSYCHOSOCIAL OT II: COMMUNITY & EMERGING PRACTICE AREAS (3)

This course is designed to explore the mental health and psychosocial components of community and emerging practice settings in which occupational therapy practitioners' work. Students will analyze various community and emerging practice settings across the life span and identify appropriate evaluation and assessment tools, treatment planning, treatment implementation, documentation and reimbursement requirements, legal aspects and obligations, and more. Students will compare and contrast differences between traditional and community and emerging practice settings. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT program coursework. Co-requisites: OCT 809.

OCT 809 MENTAL HEALTH & PSYCHOSOCIAL OT II LAB + LEVEL I FW EXPERIENCE: COMMUNITY & EMERGING PRACTICE AREAS (2)

This course is designed to further explore the mental health and psychosocial components of community and emerging practice settings in which occupational therapy practitioners' work. Students will analyze and practice, within various community and emerging practice settings across the life span, the identification of the need for OT services and the evaluation and intervention of clients. Under the supervision of MOT Program Faculty, students will practice skills with appropriate evaluation and assessment tools, treatment planning, treatment implementation, documentation as per facility and reimbursement requirements, and various other aspects of OT services. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the legal aspects and obligations of working with various clients across the lifespan with a focus on the mental and psychosocial health components. Students will interact with live clients under the supervision of MOT Program Faculty to practice their patient/client-practitioner interaction and therapeutic use-of-self skills. This course meets the second of the two Level-I Fieldwork Hours Requirements of the MOT Program. Prerequisites: All first, second, and third semester MOT program coursework. Co-requisites: OCT 808.

OCT 812 SEXUALITY IN OT PRACTICE (1)

Students will choose two 1.0 credit on-line courses to take while completing the first 12-week FW rotation. Students are provided with the opportunity to choose special topics of interest so that they may interject their on-line course topics into their Level II FW experiences, regardless of setting or stage of life clients exist in. Sexuality in OT Practice enables students to take a deeper look into the role of OT regarding sexuality or related issues while resolving daily life concerns of clients. Students will analyze their FW setting through the lens of sexuality and OTs role in it. Students are to incorporate the learnings from this course into their final FW In-Service Project, as assigned by their Fieldwork Educator. Prerequisites: All previous MOT Program didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester courses). Co-Requisite: OCT 896.

OCT 814 RESEARCH IN OT PRACTICE II: MASTER'S THESIS COMPLETION & PRESENTATION (2)

This course is the second of two Master's Thesis Courses of the MOT Program. In this course, students will refine, complete, and formally present their Master's Thesis. Students will reflect on how they have explored the various aspects of locating, critiquing, and determining the quality of evidence and research, including organizing, collecting, and analyzing data for use in the OT evaluation and the overall delivery of OT services process. They will demonstrate how their Master's Thesis topic of interest captured and incorporated concepts of leadership in healthcare and in occupational therapy practice. Students will present how their research has built upon and was based on high quality, evidence-based research findings and sound therapy practices. Students will explain their processes and use of scholarly literature to make evidence-based decisions and evaluate techniques of research, such as use of descriptive, correlational, and inferential quantitative statistics and coding, analyzing, and synthesizing qualitative data. Students will explain how they have critiqued the validity of research and the various methodologies used as they prepared their topic of interest Master's Thesis Research Plan and implementation. Students will coordinate with their Master's Thesis Advisor all final and required paperwork for submission and presentation of their Master's Thesis. Prerequisites: All first, second, third, and fourth semester MOT Program courses.

OCT 815 RESEARCH IN OT PRACTICE CONTINUATION (1-2)

This course is the Master's Thesis continuation course. If students do not satisfactorily complete their Master's Thesis in the allotted timeframe, they will have to enroll in this course to complete the Master's Thesis requirement of the MOT Program. In this course, students will refine, complete, and formally present their Master's Thesis. Students will reflect on how they have explored the various aspects of locating, critiquing, and determining the quality of evidence and research, including organizing, collecting, and analyzing data for use in the OT evaluation and the overall delivery of OT services process. They will demonstrate how their Master's Thesis topic of interest captured and incorporated concepts of leadership in healthcare and in occupational therapy practice. Students will present how their research has built upon and was based on high quality, evidence-based research findings and sound therapy practices. Students will explain their processes and use of scholarly literature to make evidence-based decisions and evaluate techniques of research, such as use of descriptive, correlational, and inferential quantitative statistics and coding, analyzing, and synthesizing qualitative data. Students will explain how they have critiqued the validity of research and the various methodologies used as they prepared their topic of interest Master's Thesis Research Plan and implementation. Students will coordinate with their Master's Thesis Advisor all final and required paperwork for submission and presentation of their Master's Thesis. Prerequisites: All first, second, third, fourth, and fifth semester MOT Program courses.

OCT 816 SPIRITUALITY IN OT PRACTICE (1)

Students will choose two 1.0 credit on-line courses to take while completing the first 12-week FW rotation. Students are provided with the opportunity to choose special topics of interest so that they may interject their on-line course topics into their Level II FW experiences, regardless of setting or stage of life clients exist in. Spirituality in OT Practice enables students to take a deeper look into the role of OT regarding addressing spirituality or spirituality-related concerns of clients. As spirituality is a domain of OT, as per the OTPF, 3rd edition, students will analyze their FW setting through the lens of spirituality and OTs role in it. Students are to incorporate the learnings from this course into their final FW In-Service Project, as assigned by their Fieldwork Educator. Prerequisites: All previous MOT Program didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester courses). Co-Requisite: OCT 896.

OCT 817 CREATIVITY IN OT PRACTICE (1)

Students will choose two 1.0 credit on-line courses to take while completing the first 12-week FW rotation. Students are provided with the opportunity to choose special topics of interest so that they may interject their on-line course topics into their Level II FW experiences, regardless of setting or stage of life clients exist in. Creativity in OT Practice enables students to take a deeper look into the role of OT regarding being creative while resolving daily life concerns of clients. Students will analyze their FW setting through the lens of creativity and OTs role in it. Students are to incorporate the learnings from this course into their final FW In-Service Project, as assigned by their Fieldwork Educator. Prerequisites: All previous MOT Program didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester courses). Co-Requisite: OCT 896.

OCT 818 MANAGING CHANGE IN OT PRACTICE (1)

Students will choose two 1.0 credit on-line courses to take while completing the first 12-week FW rotation. Students are provided with the opportunity to choose special topics of interest so that they may interject their on-line course topics into their Level II FW experiences, regardless of setting or stage of life clients exist in. Managing Change in OT Practice enables students to take a deeper look into the role of OT regarding environments of constant change while resolving daily life concerns of clients. Students will analyze their FW setting through the lens of change management and OTs role in it. Students are to incorporate the learnings from this course into their final FW In-Service Project, as assigned by their Fieldwork Educator. Prerequisites: All previous MOT Program didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester courses). Co-Requisite: OCT 896.

OCT 819 OT LEADERSHIP AND HEALTHCARE ADMINISTRATION CAPSTONE (2)

This course is the Capstone Course of the MOT Program. Students will incorporate all prior knowledge of the didactic and FW portions of the MOT Program and create a career OT Leadership Plan. Within this plan, students will tie in a concept taken from their Master's Thesis and link it with a career path and/or practice setting of interest. Utilizing demonstrated research skills, students will support their OT Leadership Plan with evidence sufficient to make a positive difference within the profession and community in which they serve as OT practitioners. Prerequisites: All MOT Program courses and FW Rotations. Co-Requisite: OCT 899.

OCT 820 OT WELLNESS SEMINAR (1)

Students will choose two 1.0 credit on-line courses to take while completing the first 12-week FW rotation. Students are provided with the opportunity to choose special topics of interest so that they may interject their on-line course topics into their Level II FW experiences, regardless of setting or stage of life clients exist in. The OT Wellness Seminar enables students to take a deeper look into the role of OT regarding overall health and wellness while resolving daily life concerns of clients. Students will analyze their FW setting through the lens of wellness and OTs role in it. Students are to incorporate the learnings from this course into their final FW In-Service Project, as assigned by their Fieldwork Educator. Prerequisites: All previous MOT Program didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester courses). Co-Requisite: OCT 896.

OCT 896 LEVEL II FIELDWORK EXPERIENCE ROTATION I (6)

Students entering their first Level II Fieldwork (FW) Rotation will have successfully completed all previous didactic coursework from semesters 1-4. During Level II FW, students will reflect upon and utilize the skills, techniques, knowledge, clinical reasoning, and critical thinking skills. They will apply their knowledge of frames of references of OT practice, occupation-based practice, client-centered practice appropriate for the setting and developmental level of clients. Students will demonstrate sound clinical judgement, safety and risk awareness, and therapeutic use of self under the supervision of an experienced and licensed occupational therapist. Overall, students will demonstrate most, if not all skills expected of a pre-entry level occupational therapist. Students will complete 12 full-time weeks of Level II FW and receive, at minimum, a midterm and final evaluation using the Level II Fieldwork Performance Evaluation approved and provided by the American Occupational Therapy Association. Prerequisites: All previous didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester coursework). Co-Requisites: Two of the following on-line courses: OCT 816, OCT 817, OCT 818, OCT 812, or OCT 820.

OCT 897 LEVEL II FIELDWORK EXPERIENCE ROTATION II (6)

Students entering their second Level II Fieldwork (FW) Rotation will have successfully completed all previous didactic coursework from semesters 1-5 and their first Level II FW Rotation. During Level II FW, students will reflect upon and utilize the skills, techniques, knowledge, clinical reasoning, and critical thinking skills. They will apply their knowledge of frames of references of OT practice, occupation-based practice, client-centered practice appropriate for the setting and developmental level of clients. Students will demonstrate sound clinical judgement, safety and risk awareness, and therapeutic use of self under the supervision of an experienced and licensed occupational therapist. Overall, students will demonstrate all skills expected of a pre-entry level occupational therapist. Students will complete 12 full-time weeks of Level II FW and receive, at minimum, a midterm and final evaluation using the Level II Fieldwork Performance Evaluation approved and provided by the American Occupational Therapy Association. Prerequisites: All previous didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, and fourth semester coursework). Co-Requisites: OCT 819 & OCT 899.

OCT 898 LEVEL II FIELDWORK EXPERIENCE CONTINUATION (1-6)

Students missing hours from any of the Level II FW Rotations will have to make up the missing hours by enrolling in and successfully completing this OCT 898 course. Students will have successfully completed all previous didactic coursework from semesters 1-5. During Level II FW, students will reflect upon and utilize the skills, techniques, knowledge, clinical reasoning, and critical thinking skills. They will apply their knowledge of frames of references of OT practice, occupation-based practice, client-centered practice appropriate for the setting and developmental level of clients. Students will demonstrate sound clinical judgement, safety and risk awareness, and therapeutic use of self under the supervision of an experienced and licensed occupational therapist. Overall, students will demonstrate all skills expected of a pre-entry level occupational therapist. Students will complete 4 full-time weeks of Level II FW and receive, at minimum, a midterm and final evaluation using the Fieldwork Performance Evaluation approved and provided by the American Occupational Therapy Association. Prerequisites: All previous didactic coursework (i.e., first, second, third, fourth, and fifth semester coursework). Co-Requisites: Dependent on student situation and what is needed.

OCT 899 TRANSITIONING TO OT PRACTICE (1)

This is the final course of the MOT Program. Students will have completed all didactic coursework and fieldwork prior to taking this course. In this course, students will prepare for their transition from graduate student to OT practitioner. Students will formally take practice exams for successful passing of the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT) OT Examination, complete applications for the Official NBCOT OT Examination and State Licensure, prepare study plans for the NBCOT OT Examination, prepare professional resumes, complete mock/real job interviews, apply for graduation, and demonstrate knowledge of applicable national requirements for credentialing and requirements for licensure, certification, or registration under state laws. Prerequisites: All previous MOT Program didactic coursework and fieldwork rotations. Co-requisites: OCT 819.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING

The purpose of Tennessee Wesleyan University-Fort Sanders School of Nursing's (TWU-FSN) graduate-level curriculum is to inspire and develop the following actions: innovation, life-long learning, interprofessional collaboration, leadership for healthcare equality and change, and finally, to promote the translation and integration of evidence-based research into professional nursing practice (AACN, 2011).

Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs)

Graduates of the Master of Science in Nursing will:

Utilize core curriculum to assess, diagnosis, plan, implement, and evaluate the delivery of advanced nursing care.

Integrate advanced theory, organizational science, informatics, and health policy into the delivery of nursing care for diverse populations and settings.

Synthesize, translate, and integrate evidence-based research to promote the health and wellness for diverse individuals, families, and communities.

Create strategies that promote lifelong learning for self and peers, incorporating professional nursing standards, and accountability for ethical practice.

Assume responsibility for the role of educator, executive, or nurse leader to maximize learning and innovation across settings.

MSN Admission Information

TWU-FSN offers three pathways for completing graduate-level nursing education; these include: (1) BSN to MSN, (2) RN to MSN, and (3) Post-Master's Certification. Students may then select from two MSN degree concentrations (1) Nursing Education or (2) Nursing Administration.

General Admission Requirements

All applicants interested in completing graduate-level course work at TWU are required to complete the following steps:

1. Complete application for the graduate program.
2. Submit official transcripts from all previous college work, undergraduate and graduate, with an undergraduate cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher, and a conferred baccalaureate degree.
3. Provide proof of an active RN nursing license (RN Licensure Verification).
4. Provide proof of 1,000 hours of direct patient-care experience as an RN.

Admission Requirements for BSN Students

TWU-FSN's BSN to MSN admission requirements, applicants to the MSN program must hold a bachelor's degree in nursing from a regionally accredited college or university.

Admission Requirements for RN Students

TWU-FSN's RN to MSN Program is designed for the registered nurse who is committed to pursuing a Master of Science degree in Nursing. The program accelerates the student through the RN-BSN Program by permitting enrollment in selected graduate-level courses while completing the BSN. RN students may substitute MSN courses for the following BSN required courses NUR 303 Health Assessment and NUR 431 Advanced Nursing.

RN to MSN Prerequisite Requirements

- RN applicants will be required to take one religion course unless the requirement is met by an equivalent course at the transfer institution.
- RN applicants will be required to complete any prerequisites for upper-division major courses. (i.e., College Algebra or Statistics, Nutrition, Microbiology, Anatomy & Physiology I & II; Chemistry is waived)
- Documentation provided through the advising process and transcript evaluations will verify that applicants have completed a minimum of 30 hours of general education courses including a least one course from each of the following areas: humanities/fine arts, social/behavioral science, and natural sciences/mathematics. In the event of a deficiency, the students will be required to complete the necessary coursework.
- RN applicants will be required to complete one semester of RN to BSN course work and maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 before beginning graduate-level course work.
- RN applicants will be required to submit documentation of at least 1,000 hours of direct-patient care experience. Documentation is required at the completion of the BSN degree. Students will not be eligible to complete the remaining MSN curriculum without this documentation.

Admission Requirements for Post-Master's Certification

TWU-FSN's Post-Master's Certificate program is designed for the registered nurse who already holds a master's degree in nursing and is interested in pursuing additional specialization in either nursing education or nursing administration.

Post-Master's Certificate Admission Requirements:

1. An MSN degree from a regionally accredited university.
2. Current, unencumbered RN nursing license.

MSN Nursing Admission Appeals

Students who do not meet prescribed entrance requirements may be referred to the Nursing Admissions & Promotions Committee by the Nursing Admissions Coordinator. The committee reviews and may interview those students whose grade point average is less than 3.0. The Nursing Admissions and Promotions Committee has set forth the following requirements to assist with admission evaluations:

Appeal requirements for students who do not meet the entrance requirements:

- Required: Letter requesting admission addressing the following items:
 1. Any circumstances that contributed to poor achievement at previous institutions.
 2. Academic plan outlining how the student plans to correct mistakes made in the past.
- Recommended: Any documentation the student feels are pertinent to their case.

Graduate Course Repeat Policy

Dismissed MSN students may apply for reinstatement. Requests for reinstatement will be reviewed by the TWU-FSN Nursing Admission and Promotion Committee for consideration and approval. After the first reinstatement, any subsequent grade below C will result in final dismissal from the MSN program.

Graduation Requirements

Students must meet the following requirements in order to receive the Master of Science in Nursing degree with a concentration in either Nursing Education or Nursing Administration:

1. An Intent to Graduate form must be submitted at the beginning of the MSN program
2. Completion of 35 credit hours in the MSN program
3. Cumulative GPA in the TWU MSN program of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale
4. Completion of the MSN Internship and Capstone Project

Master of Science in Nursing Course Descriptions

NUR 501 ADVANCED PATHOPHYSIOLOGY/PHARMACOLOGY (4)

This course focuses on advanced concepts of nonpathological physiology by systems. Variations from normal and pathophysiologic processes across the life span are presented. In addition to the pathophysiology, classifications of pharmaceuticals are examined in relation to indication for use and evidence of efficacy. Elements of health promotion, quality/safety, evidence-based practice, and education are integrated throughout the course.

NUR 503 ADVANCED HEALTH ASSESSMENT WITH LAB (3)

Advanced health assessment builds upon the professional nurse's assessment and clinical reasoning skills. Emphasis is placed on advanced health assessment skills, risk assessment, integration of evidence-based practice guidelines, and patient education (health promotion) across the life span and health care setting. Virtual labs will be conducted each week via an online learning platform. A systematic approach will be used to aid knowledge acquisition.

NUR 505 RESEARCH FOR EVIDENCE BASED PRACTICE (3)

In this course students are introduced to evidence-based practice as it relates to the science of nursing. Students gain practical knowledge of research principles/methodologies through the initial development of a research-driven capstone project. At the completion of this course students will have determined an area of interest (research agenda), developed a clinical practice research question (PICOT question), and completed an integrated literature review (project prospectus).

NUR 506 ADVANCED NURSING THEORY (3)

In this nursing theory course students will examine the development and utilization of nursing theory, including its history, influencing factors, and future applications. At the completion of this course students will be able to connect the utility of nursing theory to clinical practice.

NUR 514 HEALTH INFORMATICS (3)

Health informatics is focused on the optimal use of data, information, and knowledge, to ensure delivery of quality healthcare across a variety of settings. Students will develop informatic skills by formulating plans to address data or information issues related to healthcare, research, and health education.

NUR 515 HEALTH POLICY & LEADERSHIP (3)

The purpose of this course is to explore the connection between healthy policy and patient care within a framework of nursing education and nursing leadership.

NUR 520 PRINCIPLES OF TEACHING & LEARNING IN NURSING EDUCATION (3)
Principles of teaching and learning explores key aspects of the learning process, educational theory, and its implementation throughout higher education and nursing education. Students will gain confidence in developing educational interventions applied in a variety of delivery settings within the context of nursing education. A total of 90 practicum hours are required for successful course completion.

NUR 521 FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT IN NURSING ADMINISTRATION (3)
In this practicum course students examine the economic and financial factors affecting nursing leadership and the daily operations of complex healthcare organizations. Principles of reimbursement, value-based purchasing, budgeting, and quality outcomes indicators are considered. Students apply new financial knowledge by creating, analyzing, and establishing on-going evaluation needs of a budget. A total of 90 practicum hours are required for successful course completion.

NUR 522 DESIGNING NURSING CURRICULUM (3)
In this practicum course students explore the essential structures, components, and factors of curriculum design within the framework of nursing education. Concentration will be on the curriculum development processes and methods for evaluating program/university outcomes. Students will use a systematic approach to curriculum design, creating an evidence-based teaching practice that is applicable across learning environments. A total of 90 practicum hours are required for successful course completion.

NUR 523 STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT FOR NURSES (3)
In this practicum course students examine the importance of strategic nursing knowledge and planning to facilitate change, manage collaborative projects, develop contingency plans, and apply methods for sustaining innovation within complex healthcare organizations. The application of knowledge will be through the development of a strategic plan and steps for successful implementation. A total of 90 practicum hours are required for successful course completion.

NUR 524 ASSESSMENT & EVALUATION OF LEARNING FOR NURSE EDUCATORS (3)
In this practicum course students will implement aspects of assessing and evaluating student learning throughout a variety of academic and healthcare settings. A total of 90 practicum hours are required for successful course completion.

NUR 525 HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT FOR NURSING LEADERSHIP (3)
Human resource management introduces students to the essential role of human resource management within complex healthcare organizations. Through the lens of nursing administration, students explore the dynamic interrelationships between organizational theories and a variety of operational topics. Topics include staffing, orientation, performance management, team dynamics, conflict resolution, talent retention, and professional development. A total of 90 practicum hours are required for successful course completion.

NUR 530 MSN INTERNSHIP (4)

This course serves to apply the strategies and knowledge developed throughout the MSN curriculum. Students complete 240 practical hours working with a faculty-approved preceptor. Focus is on bridging the gap between theory and practice by providing opportunities to apply program knowledge to common academic and/or healthcare issues.

NUR 531 MSN CAPSTONE PROJECT (3)

In this capstone course students will develop a timeline for project activities and completion, select measurable objectives, communicate with key stakeholders, identify project resources, develop a project budget, and implement proposed evidence-based nursing practice change project. At the completion of this course each student will complete a project evaluation, conduct a peer-critique session, and present an overview of the project via a professional presentation.

The University reserves the right to change the rules regarding admission to the institution and any other regulations affecting the student body or the granting of degrees. The University also reserves the right to withdraw courses, to change its calendar, and to alter charges and fees as conditions may require. Such changes shall go into force whenever the proper authorities may determine and shall apply not only to prospective students but also to those who may, at such time, be matriculated in the University. The University further reserves the right to refuse to release to any student a transcript, grade report, or degree for failure to return University property, pay any accounts due to the University, or for being in default on student loans.
